LLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

merican Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

RGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT.

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration, However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused in some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore, necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export necessities. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the beefless and porkless Tuesday.

The meatless meal and the porkless Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being attained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have effected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 203 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that these are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but [illegible] desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food supplies and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and assurance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will meet the same loyal response as in the past.

WHAT IS WORSE THAN WAR?

Consumption Four Times More Deadly Than Bombs and Machine Guns.

Pierre Hamp, a French medical authority, estimates that of the 38,000,000 people of all ages still living in France 4,000,000 must die of tuberculosis. The war will have killed about 1,000,000. This means that man with all of his inventiveness is far less efficient than Nature as a man killer. There have been over 400,000 new cases of consumption in France since the war began. This is why, despite the number of new hospitals, there is still not sufficient space available for tuberculosis cases.

The Question of Pensions.

Of course first consideration is accorded to the ever popular wounded men. Therein lies the tragedy of the consumptive soldier. With the new cases coming in daily from the trenches the consumptives are not as helpless as the wounded men. When discharged from the army the severely wounded are allowed a pension by the government. The consumptives, however, receive no allowance unless they can prove that their illness is entirely due to their service in the army. This is not an easy thing to do, and consequently comparatively few consumptives receive governmental assistance.

Until the American Red Cross began to extend its aid the plight of most of these men was often pitiful. When discharged from the hospital they are given certain instructions which would eventually bring them back to health. But conditions are hard. They are usually unable to earn much and so do not get proper or even sufficient nourishment. Very often they are in no condition to look after themselves, still less to safeguard the health of others. To meet this difficulty local committees have been formed to look after the discharged patients and see that they do not pass on their disease to members of their families. The task is well nigh hopeless. Even if proper living quarters are to be had sanitation and hygiene cannot be taught overnight. They sleep in air tight rooms, kiss their babies, drink out of the same cups and use the same towels as the rest of their families.

In spite of these appalling difficulties, however, the rapid spread of the disease must—simply must—be checked. Even to attempt this would be an impossibility without the tremendous facilities and aid of the American Red Cross. No other agency could conceivably face, much less hope to accomplish, such a task.

HOT DRINKS FOR TIRED FIGHTERS

The Red Cross Rolling Canteen.

In six months the American Red Cross supplied a million French poilus with hot coffee, tea, chocolate, bouillon, at the time they needed it most—just as they were entering the communication trenches for a tour of duty under boche fire or coming out, tired and worn, after their grueling vigil. If you were dragging the tiredest pair of feet in France through the mud, and if you were greeted by a cheery voice and a steaming pint of beef tea, wouldn't it be "a grand and glorious feelin'? Oh, boy!"

Now, this is the work of the "rolling canteen," and some day a Kipling will sing "the story of the tanks"—tanks of broth and bouillon that the Red Cross "Special Front Line Service" trundles up to the lines. The Military Sanitary Service supplies the wagons and utensils. The Red Cross unit does the work. It supplies these hot drinks at a cost of 50 francs ($10) per thousand men, a cent apiece!

Think of that—the penny your little girl sends the Red Cross can buy a big hot cheering drink, a good natured greeting, for a fighting man who desperately needs just that! One penny!

Red Cross Rolling Canteens to the number of 15 are now behind the lines in continuous service. Their crews are exposed to shell fire and often have to put on gas masks.

Eugene Hale, brother of United States Senator Hale, served six months with a rolling canteen in France, and he says:

"While the men are glad to have the hot drinks, their chief satisfaction consists in the sense this service gives them of a friend being there with a helping hand in a critical hour."

And now the American army has asked the Red Cross to maintain this front line service directly in touch with the medical relief stations nearest the Yankee front and this the Red Cross is eager to do.

Norman County Soldier Recommends Steenerson

Headquarters Detachment, Marine Barracks, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands of U. S., May 18, 1918.

It is with great pleasure to note in the columns of this paper that the Hon. Halvor Steenerson has filed for the re-nomination as representative in Congress from the Ninth district. There could be no greater benefit to the Soldiers and Sailors of this district, than to have him re-elected.

During my stay in the training camp in Philadelphia, Mr. Steenerson considered it his duty to do me a great favor. He went so far as to personally assist me. It is without a doubt that other men from this community have been similarly treated. You will do us an injustice, to fail to support him.

In this great crisis we cannot afford to make mistakes. Let experience leads us. One blunder may prolong this frightful war to an indefinate period. We are the fighters; you are the backers. If you are for us, if you are for Liberty, if you stand for Democracy, stand with us for Steenerson.

O. B. STRAND, Corporal,

A. H. Huseth, J. Fox and J. Rolt all of Greenbush started out for Holt Tuesday with an auto truck it broke down a few miles north of town and had to finish the journey afoot. It is needless to say they much enjoyed (?) the walk especially as it rained all of the time of the seven mile hike.

Sheriff Hanson has made good in his first term of office and he is entitled to another term. He asks for re-election on the record he has already made and not on promises for the future. Marshall county voters cannot make a mistake by re-electing him for a second term. Vote for Hans C. Hanson for Sheriff.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

SAW POINT OF RESEMBLANCE

Youngster's Comment, However, Could Hardly Be Called a Complimentary One.

A fond auntie was left to amuse her small niece and nephew while their mother went shopping. James became deeply interested in his toy engine and tiny Ruth was absorbed in watching auntie cut out beautiful paper dolls. One of these appealed to her particularly and she would scarcely wait for auntie to finish.

"Oh, auntie, isn't she pretty? She's blue."

"Yes, she is lovely. And see what a fancy dress she has on. Look at her long train."

The last word caught serious-minded James' attention.

"Auntie, show me the train."

Auntie pointed to the deep flounce which was set on with large plaits and which was long enough at the back for quite a sweep. James took it in his hands and examined it closely and silently for a few moments. Handing it back, he said solemnly:

"I suppose you could call it a train. It looks something like a cowcatcher."

SHIPS ARE SUNK OFF U. S. COAST

Fifteen Vessels Declared Sent Down By Foe Submarines Off Atlantic Seaboard.

DIVER REPORTED TAKEN

Enemy Seeks to Stop Transportation of Troops Overseas—Ports of New York and Newport News Ordered Closed.

New York, June 4.—A wireless S. O. S. call from the New York and Porto Rico line passenger steamship Carolina, saying that she was being attacked by a submarine was received here.

Washington, June 4.—Secretary Josephus Daniels ordered the port of New York closed to outgoing ships with certain restrictions until further orders. The nature of the restrictions was not made public.

New York, June 4.—Two more American vessels, the Hattie Dunn and the Samuel W. Hathaway, have been sunk by German submarines.

Norfolk, Va., June 4.—The port of Norfolk Newport News is closed to all outgoing vessels. Rumors were current that a U-boat was sighted off the Capes today.

New York, June 4.—One steamship, one schooner and two or three other vessels have been sunk off the Jersey coast by German submarines.

Another ship is reported to have been torpedoed off Nantucket.

The ships were attacked some time during the night, according to information which was received here. Details were not immediately available.

One of the ships sunk was the Edward H. Cole, a sailing vessel.

Information received at the Maritime Exchange here indicated that as many as 15 vessels have been sunk.

Diver Reported Captured.

A rumor has reached the office of the Third Naval district here that a submarine operating off the coast has been captured by a United States warship. It is said that the U-boat is being towed to this port. There is no confirmation of the rumor as yet.

The port authorities barred the departure of outgoing ships.

It is presumed here that the submarine or submarines are now being dealt with by American destroyers.

Rumors of the presence of German submarines off the American coast have been current for the past two weeks, the reports telling of one or more having been sighted in southern waters.

Carry Diver War Overseas.

The attack upon American shipping almost at the very entrance of New York is taken to mean that Germany has at last inaugurated a submarine campaign to break up transport of troops to France.

The submarines were looking for American transports. Having been checked by the American destroyer flotilla in the war zone, the German admiralty apparently has concluded to carry the submarine warfare to the doors of America in the hope of stopping the flow of troops which will turn the balance against the Central powers on the western battlefront.

The crew of the Edward H. Cole has been landed here.

Sunk Off Jersey Coast.

According to the survivors the Edward H. Cole was sunk 75 miles off the Highlands of New Jersey.

Two submarines attacked the Edward H. Cole, according to the commander of the vessel, Captain Newcomb

They appeared simultaneously one on each side of the vessel and signaled the captain to heave to. The commander of one of the submarines then boarded the schooner in a small boat and gave the crew 10 minutes to leave the ship.

The crew took their own boats immediately and the German sailors then planted bombs on the vessel and blew her up. After the explosion occurred an American steamship appeared in the offing and the U-boat immediately gave chase.

Paris, June 4.—Nearly 200,000 refugees, mostly women and children, have arrived from the Marne districts and have been sent into Normandy and Brittany.

Seek Advance In Three Valleys.

With the French Armies on the Marne, June 4.—The Germans progress having been checked to the eastward and southward, they are now concentrating their efforts southwestward on the front between Nopon and Chateau-Thierry, seeking to advance along the three great valleys of the Oise, Ourcq and Marne. But along every one of these routes, now that the intentions of the German high command are revealed, the resistance is increasing hourly. As a result the enemy's progress is decreasing.

WESTERN CANADA'S CROPS

Got an Excellent Start. Big Yields Now Assured.

Never in the history of Western Canada did the seed enter the ground under more favorable conditions. The weather during the month of April was perfect for seeding operations, and from early morning until late at night the seeders were at work, and every acre that could be profitably sown was placed under requisition. Farmers entered heart and soul into the campaign of greater production. There was the time and the opportunity for careful preparation, and as a consequence with favorable weather from now on there will be a vastly increased yield. They realized it was a duty they owed to humanity to produce all that they could on the land, not only this year but next as well. In addition to the patriotic aspect, they are aware that the more they produce the greater will be their own return in dollars and cents.

In many districts wheat seeding was completed by the 1st of May, after which date oats and barley on larger acreages than usual were planted.

As has been said, favorable weather conditions made possible excellent seed-bed preparation, and the seed has gone into the ground in unusually good shape. The available moisture in the soil has been added to by rains, which have not been so heavy, however, as to interfere long with the work in the fields. The grain is germinating readily, and on many fields the young green blades of the cereal are already showing.

An optimistic feeling prevails among farmers that Western Canada will reap a record harvest. If the season from now on is as favorable as it has begun, these hopes should be realized. Mr. J. D. McGregor of the Federal Food Board, who is also an old and successful farmer in Western Canada, asserted a few days ago at Calgary that crop conditions throughout the Prairie Provinces were excellent. "Speaking generally," he said, "the crops have never gone into the ground in better shape than this year, and with an even break of luck as far as the weather is concerned, there should be an enormous crop." His present duties in connection with the Food Control Board, taking him in all parts of the West, Mr. McGregor has exceptional opportunities of observing conditions all over the country.—Advertisement.

"But, doctor," objected his patient, I'm very careful of what I say. I never use harsh language or anything of that kind."

Stoker's Act of Bravery.

In these days of undersea warfare, when the blow is often struck without warning, a new danger is added to the already hazardous tasks of the ship's firemen. Speed is an essential in beating the U-boat, and this requires constant work. Recently the bottom blow valve of a boiler was carried away on a vessel of the United States navy. One of the crew was Aloysius Fawcett, a fireman, first class. With two others he made his way through a steam-filled fireroom and fought a passage through a hot cloud in the engine room. Here he helped haul the fires at a critical moment. The nerve and quickness of the act saved the boiler and the vessel from serious accident. Fawcett enlisted in the navy in 1911 at Cincinnati.

Certain-teed Roofing

Better than metal

Certain-teed is fast taking the place of metal roofs, not only because of the scarcity and high cost of metal, but because Certain-teed is superior in every important roofing quality.

Metal easily rusts and disintegrates from atmospheric gases. Certain-teed cannot rust and its asphalt base makes it practically immune to any form of corrosion.

Metal absorbs heat and transmits it to the interior of a building. Certain-teed insulates against heat and cold, and makes the building cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

Metal must be painted frequently. Certain-teed gives years of weatherproof service practically without any upkeep expense.

Metal is noisy in wind or storm. Certain-teed completely deadens sound from such sources.

Metal is not and cannot be safely guaranteed. Certain-teed is absolutely guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness, and actually gives longer service than its guarantee.

Metal is a direct drain on military materials. Certain-teed is made principally of waste rags and asphalt — materials which have no military use whatever.

Certain-teed has proved its efficiency and economy for every kind of roofing service—for factories, warehouses, hotels, stores, farm buildings, out-buildings, etc. Certain-teed is more economical and more efficient in service than metal or any other type of roof. Certain-teed is the best quality of roll roofing — it costs no more to lay than ordinary roll roofing and lasts much longer. For sale by good dealers everywhere.

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Under normal conditions, the farmer's share of retail prices of various farm products is approximately as follows:

Butter	71 per cent
CATTLE	66⅔ to 75 per cent
Eggs	65 per cent
Potatoes	55 per cent
Poultry	45 per cent
Fruits	35 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its well-equipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about ¼ of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.

LONG STRUGGLE IS PREDICTED

General Bridges Discusses Present Battle Situation on French Soil.

AMERICANS ARE IN LINE

British Military Authority in Washington Says the Yankees May Hold the Balance Between Victory and Defeat.

Washington, June 4.—General Bridges, head of a special military mission to the United States, said here in discussing the renewal of the German drive that American troops have become a vital factor in the great battle in France and may hold the balance between defeat and victory.

This statement followed news from the front that the American troops have already been shifted into position to defend Paris.

Foe's Three Objectives.

The objectives now before the Germans, the general said, appear to be three-fold—the capture of Paris, the division of the main Allied armies by an advance through Amiens, and the capture of the channel ports.

In concealing their preparations so as to make a surprise attack, General Bridges said, the Germans were aided probably by four factors—their preponderance of divisions, a good railway system, the proximity of woods to their first objectives where large numbers of troops could be concealed and the fact that this front line had been organized for attack.

While now on a narrow and dangerous salient the general said, the Germans will be in a favorable position for advance on Paris should they be successful in pushing out the west leg of the salient and joining it up with the Amiens salient. That, he said, appeared to be their intention, and they could be expected to call a halt at the Marne.

Battle to Continue Weeks.

The Allies must now be prepared either to see the offensive resumed in the north soon, or else to see German divisions from the north sent down to exploit the new successes.

The battle, he added, is likely to continue for weeks and will become a long drawn out struggle of man-power, with the first duty of the Allies to husband their resources by giving ground for men where possible.

"As the Germans began the attack with only 16 divisions," he said, "it would appear that it has been more successful than they anticipated. It is probable that it was at first intended either in the nature of a secondary operation in order to draw Allied reserves from the well protected Amiens salient, or to strike a heavy blow for the Marne—in order to cut the main communications between Paris and Chalons—and to widen the too narrow Amiens salient by a fresh operation.

"The German higher command probably considered in this case that the presence of large forces in front of such vital points as Ypres and Amiens had pinned the bulk of the Allied reserves to these positions."

NAVY NEEDS MANY NURSES

Skilled Attendants Are Required to Maintain Standard.

Washington, June 4.—Surgeon General Braisted in a letter to the American Red Cross regarding its campaign which begins this week to enroll nurses for militay and civilian service, said several thousand nurses are needed for the large naval hospitals in this country as well as several base hospitals in European waters.

"Unless the personnel of the navy receives adequate medical and nursing attention," Surgeon General Braisted said, "the control of the seas must suffer."

LYNCHERS ARE ACQUITTED

Defense Pleads War Has Developed New "Unwritten Law."

Edwardsville, Ill., June 4.—The 11 men who were charged with the murder in connection with the lynching of Robert Paul Prager, enemy alien, were acquitted by a jury which deliberated but 45 minutes before coming to a decision. Two ballots were taken.

In closing the argument for the defense, Thomas Williamson declared the present war situation had developed a new "unwritten law" which had been invoked by the men who hanged Prager because he was alleged to be a German spy.

Win Right to Organize.

New York, June 4.—The national war labor board by a vote of 7 to 5 decided that the employes of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have the right to organize. This is in accordance with the proclamation of President Wilson, which declares that "the right of workers to organize in trade unions and to bargain collectively through chosen representatives is recognized and affirmed," and "that this right shall not be denied, abridged or interferred with by employers in any manner."

PRESIDENT MAKES APPEAL FOR THRIFT

Citizens Asked to Buy Only Essentials.

Wilson Also Asks People for War Saving Investments by June 28.

Washington, D. C.—To save materials and labor for necessary war purposes, President Wilson appealed to Americans "to buy only those things which are essential to the individual health and efficiency," and to volunteer on or before June 28, National Thrift day, to invest systematically in War Savings and Thrift Stamps, or other government securities.

"This war is one of nations—not of armies," said the president, "and all of our 100,000,000 people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions if this nation is to play its full part in the conflict.

Pledge Is Sought.

"The problem before us is not primarily a financial problem, but rather a problem of increased production of war essentials and the saving of the materials and the labor necessary for the support and equipment of our army and navy. Thoughtless expenditure of money for nonessentials uses up the labor of men, the products of the farm, mines, and factories, and overburdens transportation, all of which must be used to the utmost and at their best for war purposes.

"The great results which we seek can be obtained only by the participation of young and old in a national thrift movement. I therefore urge that our people everywhere pledge themselves, as suggested by the secretary of the treasury, to the practice of thrift; to serve the government to their utmost in increasing production in all fields necessary to the winning of the war; to conserve food and fuel and useful materials of every kind; to devote their labor only to the most necessary tasks, and to buy only those things which are essential to individual health and efficiency.

"Buy More U. S. Securities."

"The securities issued by the treasury department are, so many of them, within the reach of every one that the door of opportunity in this matter is wide open to all of us.

"I appeal to all who now own either Liberty bonds or War Savings stamps to continue to practice economy and thrift and to appeal to all who do not own government securities to do likewise and purchase them to the extent of their means. The man who buys government securities transfers the purchasing power of his money to the United States government until after this war, and to that same degree does not buy in competition with the government.

"I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before June 28 to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the government.

"The 28th of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day."

FRANCE URGES POTATO BREAD

Food Dictator Tells How It Will Save Cereals and Use Up Big Stock of Tubers.

Paris.—M. Boret, the food dictator, has written to all local authorities explaining why the food-card system is necessary, and urging their full co-operation. Finally his communication says:

"I wish to call your attention to the importance of using potatoes in bread making. Recent experiments have shown that a paste of potatoes can be used with good results in the proportion of as much as 20 per cent. This practice, besides being an indispensable economy of cereals, will help use up the great stocks of potatoes, so great that the transportation actually has become difficult."

HEALTH OFFICER MAKES HIT

Raises "Dimples" Instead of Scars When He Vaccinates Young Ladies.

Spokane, Wash.—City Health Officer John B. Anderson is grinning these days over a recent bid he made to fame.

Doctor Anderson has been making punctures instead of scratches when he vaccinated folk, and as a result has been raising "dimples" instead of scars on Spokane arms.

A local newspaper discovered it and proclaimed him broadcast as "the dimple maker," and now the doctor is smiling because pretty girls no longer balk at being vaccinated, nor ask to have it done in a place where it can't be seen.

The Only Way.

"I saw lately where a member of a legislature drew a knife on another."

"Well, what of it? I suppose it was the only way he had of making a cutting retort."

Got Him Wrong.

She—What do you suppose I did when mother told me you were coming?

He—Oh; I suppose you colored up a little.

She—Sir! —Awgwan.

You Can Now Eat Your Favorite Food Without Any Fear

Kramer Says: "Eatonic" Rids Weak Stomachs of Acids, Gas, Heartburn, Food Repeating and Stomach Miseries

What miserable feelings are caused by an upset stomach! That dull, heavy, "bloated" sensation that follows a full meal, robs good living of half its pleasures. Is there any way out for you sufferers with stomach weakness?

Yes; H. L. Kramer, the man who originated Cascarets, has found a sure, quick, relief for indigestion, dyspepsia, "sour stomach," heart-burn, formation of painful gases, "bloating," etc., etc.

He calls his stomach relief EATONIC, and it certainly is making a wonderful record. Countless thousands of people who formerly approached their meals with dread, now eat their fill of their favorite foods without fear of the after-effects.

Mr. Kramer says: "My EATONIC tablets are the solution of the age-old problem of indigestion and all forms of stomach misery.

"EATONIC neutralizes the acids, that form the painful gases, "sweetens" the stomach, and gives the gastric juice a chance to do its work as it should.

"To promote appetite and aid digestion, take EATONIC tablets—one or two after each meal. They are perfectly harmless. Eat them just like candy.

"For distress after eating; sour, "gassy," acid stomach, vertigo, nausea and belching, and that wretched, puffed-up, "lumpy" feeling, after overeating; there is nothing to compare with EATONIC Tablets."

All druggists sell EATONIC — 50c for a large box. Watch out for imitations. The genuine bears the name EATONIC on each tablet—guaranteed to do all that is claimed; or if your druggists don't carry EATONIC—send to Eatonic Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill.

Militarist Logic.

"Militarism" said British Delegate Appleton at the recent trade union congress in New York, "militarism and war can't be defeated logically, and the man who tells you that the world couldn't get along without standing armies reminds me of the lecturer who said:

"'Ladies and gents, the world could never get along without water, for if we had no water, how could we learn to swim—and if nobody could swim, ladies and gents, just think how many of us would be drowned!'"

Showing Some Pep.

An officer was drilling some recruits who were slow in comprehending his orders. He was trying to teach one boy how to act as sentry, but the boy's "Halt! Who goes there?" sounded tame and lacking in force. The officer, trying to arouse some enthusiasm, clapped his hands together and cried sternly: "Halt! Who goes there? Show a little pep!" The recruit braced himself and clapped his hands together just as the officer had done, then said commandingly: "Halt! Who goes there? Show a little pep."

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

The thousands of U. S. farmers who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops of wheat and other grains.

Where you can buy good farm land at $15 to $30 per acre—get $2 a bushel for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre you are bound to make money—that's what you can do in Western Canada.

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta you can get a

and other land at very low prices.

During many years Canadian wheat fields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley, and Flax. Mixed Farming is as profitable an industry as grain raising. Good schools, churches; markets convenient, climate excellent. Sixteen Years of Faithful Service

To the Farmers of the Nation

It was Halvor Steenerson who first established the principle that the people can regulate railroad rates—by winning the Steenerson Grain Rate Case, in the Supreme Court.

It is Halvor Steenerson who has always defended the dairy industry against the oleomargarine interests attempts to sell their product as butter.

It was Halvor Steenerson, who was called on as spokesman for the grain growers in their fight for honest grades and better prices.

It is Halvor Steenerson who has been most active of all men in Congress in building up the rural mail delivery system

It is Halvor Steenerson who is now most active in trying to clear the toll gates from the channels of the grain trade, in order that the producer may get full value for his products. He will succeed in that, if you give him time.

A congressman, though he has the very best intentions, can be no good to you unless he has the experience and ability to carry through what he undertakes. For sixteen years Steenerson has been elected to congress by the farmer vote of the Ninth District. All those years, and before that, he has stood by the farmers on every issue in which they were interested, and the farmers have always stood by him.

He offers to renew the partership for another two years. It's up to you

Respectfully, STEENERSON COMMITTEE

Convinced that the German submarines which have been operating off the Jersey coast now are headed south into the lane taken by vessels from the West Indies and the Gulf of Mexico, the navy department at Washington has taken special precautions to protect shipping in that vicinity. It also has taken steps to prevent damage by mines which they think have been laid along the routes which the submarines now seem to have abandoned. Meanwhile movement of men and supplies overseas is proceeding exactly on schedule with every possible precaution taken to protect these transports.

Except for street lamps, not only Greater New York, but the near-by Jersey and sound coasts were dark Tuesday night, even lighthouses extinguishing their lamps. No reason was given for the order, but the presumption is that because of the presence of enemy submarines in American waters the authorities are taking precautions against the possibility of air raids by airplanes launched from U-boats.

Moorhead.—After drawing the fire department from its headquarters on a false alarm, an incendiary set fire to the city building. The city building, a three-story frame structure was destroyed. The Fargo fire department, across the river was called on a second alarm. Suspicious letters in German, some on letterheads of a german consulate which had been closed since war was declared in Germany, were found under a barn here.

St. Paul.—For the fifth successive month the Minnesota recruiting district has bettered its record for the previous month. Gradually climbing from an obscure position near the bottom of the list of sixty-four recruiting districts in the country in April, the Minnesota district bettered San Francisco district, which has been leading the country for the last two years. In April, 1,103 recruits were procured in the state, which is believed to be the highest record in the country. When the final count was mad for May, however, it was found that 1,240 recruits had entered the service. A rush of men during the last few days of the month netted 175 men May 31, which was the banner day for the month. The rush was largely of men 21 years of age, who would be compelled to register June 5.

Hibbing.—The latest draft call will not take many from the range as it affects only Class 1 men and there are very few left in either Hibbing or Chisholm. There will be special calls for men to induct themselves and this will probably afford an opportunity for men in lower classes to get into service before they are called.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist has issued a proclamation designating Tuesday, June 18, as Good roads day in Minnesota. People of the state are urged by the governor to contribute labor, material or money toward road improvements on that day.

LARGE GROWTH IN TRADE FLEET

Ten Million Gross Tons, Barring Army and Navy Craft, Sailing the Seas.

OUTPUT IS INCREASING

Tonnage Produced During the Month of May Three Times Greater Than in January—Merchant Marine Is Second Only to Great Britain.

Washington, June 11.—For the first time since the war began the steady growth of the American merchant marine in all classes of vessels was revealed in statistics from deaprtment of commerce, showing that in the first five months of this year there have been built in the United States and officially numbered by the bureau of navigation, a total of 639 vessels of 687,055 gross tons.

Ten Million Gross Tons.

The merchant fleet of the United States now amounts to approximately 10,000,000 gross tons, not including merchant craft under control of the army and navy as transports and supply ships.

At the beginning of January, 26,742 merchant vessels of 9,343,224 gross tons were flying the Stars and Stripes on trips across the Atlantic with food and munitions, into the Caribbean and Pacific with American products for foreign customers and on the lakes and rivers of this country as part of the nation's domestic transportation system.

This tremendous fleet is second only to the merchant tonnage of Great Britain.

It includes all the new vessels built under the direction of the shipping board and thousands of smaller craft.

Steady Increase in Ships.

There has been a steady increase in new ships this year, the May tonnage being three times as great as the January output.

In the first month of 1918 there were 57 ships of 64,795 tons given official numbers.

In February 84 ships of 117,601 gross tons were numbered.

March saw a notable jump in the production of small ships, numbers being awarded to 138, the tonnage being 147,145.

The record in April was 165 ships of 163,050 tons and in May 185 ships of 194,464 tons.

In a single month this year the American merchant fleet has grown almost as great as during the entire first year of the war.

With the American Army in France, June 11.—While the Americans in the Montdidier region were subjected to a heavy bombardment, no infantry attack against them developed during the first phase of the new battle.

The Americans are waiting and ready for whatever may happen. They will resist to the utmost any onslaught against the front they are defending.

Attacks by the Germans in the Marne sector have again been repulsed by the Americans, who inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

THEN HE STRAIGHTENED UP

General's Indignation Probably Made Him Forget His Aching Back for a Few Moments.

A newly arrived general stepped out of the staff car and was "taken over" by the guide who was to lead him to this particular part of his tour of inspection. The two went forward alone, and very soon the guide made a sign, and whispered to the general to leave the duck boards and come close in to the hedge. The general was tall, and he bent low to keep his head from showing above the hedge.

Now and again the general whispered a question and the guide whispered in reply. The former began to feel a pain in the back through so long maintaining a bent position.

"How far away is the nearest Boche?" whispered the general, thinking he might straighten his back and risk a sniper's bullet.

"About four miles," whispered the guide.

"Then what the deuce are you whispering for?" roared the general.

"Can't help it, sir. Been like it for three weeks. Worst cold I've ever had."

Proving the Contrary.

"He makes $5,000 a year as an aviator." "And yet people say you can't live on air."

EXPERT'S TRIBUTE TO WESTERN CANADA SOIL

That there is good reason for the wonderful crops of grain grown in Western Canada, which have made thousands of former residents of the United States wealthy, is not always given the thought that it deserves is quite apparent. But that there must be a reason is quite evident. Probably more than one—but the one that requires emphasis—is that the soil is of the nature that will produce good crops. It was not long since that the farmer selected his land in the most haphazard way. He need not do so today. He will select it on the soil analysis plan. Soil from Western Canada was submitted to Prof. Sievens, soil physicist of the State College of Washington, at Pullman, Wash. His report should no doubt further encourage settlement in Western Canada. It reads as follows:

"We have analyzed this sample and find that it runs high in lime, very high in potash, phosphorus and in nitrogen; that it has a splendid supply of organic matter and is in the best of physical condition. There is nothing wrong with this soil from the standpoint of crop production, and I am satisfied that it will give splendid results wherever put under cultivation."

It is soil like this properly worked, and on scientific lines, as is the rule today, that gives the opportunity to quote the experiences of farmers who have increased their incomes from $500 to $30,000 in two seasons, and whose story would read as follows:

"I have threshed altogether 7,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern wheat from 200 acres, which went from 24 to 56 per acre—sod breaking 24, spring plowing 36, back setting 56 bushels—the average being 35 bushels per acre."

The newspaper giving an account of this man's experience says: "When he disposed of his 1,600 acres from north of Brooks, Alta, to four Oak Harbor men, he was worth $30,000. Two years ago he came here with $500 and a few horses."

It is the soil of Western Canada, and the knowledge of what it will do that brings to Canada the hundreds of settlers that are daily arriving at the border. A growing enthusiasm for the fertile prairie lands of Western Canada is spreading all over the continent. This enthusiasm is the recognition of the fact that sufficient food could be produced on these prairie lands to feed the world. From the south, east and west, hundreds of men, too old for military service, are pouring into Western Canada to take up land or to work on the farms. A great many of the incoming settlers have arrived at such central points as Calgary, Edmonton, and Lethbridge, Alberta, and at Regina, Moose Jaw, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Judging from the bulk of their household effects, the number of their horses and cattle, and the quantity of implements they are bringing with them, most of the new arrivals also seem well blessed with the world's goods.

Reports from North Portal, Saskatchewan; Coutts, Alberta, and Kingsgate, British Columbia—the principal gateways into Western Canada from the United States—indicate that the present influx of farmers is in such volume as has not been witnessed for many years. From Vancouver, British Columbia, people are going to the prairies for summer farm work, many with the intention of taking up land themselves at the end of the summer.

The influence of this tide of farmer settlers on greater food production will be more readily appreciated when it is considered that the average settler takes up at least twice as much land as he has hitherto been farming—and land which, acre for acre, produces better and larger crops.—Advertisement.

QUEENSLAND LIKES LEAGUE PRINCIPLES

Labor Party Tries State Marketing Two Years and Is Returned to Power.

The principles upon which the Nonpartisan League platform is based have just received striking vindication on the other side of the world. The people of Queensland, Australia, recently returned the labor government to power by an overwhelming majority after it had established and operated for one and two years many state-owned marketing and other public utilities, such as are advocated by the League in America. Of the new members of the parliament elected, 48 are members of the Labor party and only 24 represent the profiteers.

As soon as the Laborites went into power two years ago they began to establish state-owned marketing facilities, such as elevators, packing plants, stock yards, slaughter houses, storage plants, ware houses, bank and a state insurance department. Every one of these things is demanded by the League platform.

People Indorse Policy.

After two years of trial, the people of Queensland have endorsed the conditions established by greatly increasing the Labor party vote. It is said that one of the principle benefits from these state owned facilities was a great reduction in the cost of living. For instances roast sirloin was cut from 24 to 13 cents a pound. fillet steak from 36 to 16 cents a pound; rump steak form 30 to 15 cents a pound; insurance rates from about $17.62 to $5.86. While these great reductions were enjoyed by the consumers, the farmers and stock growers received better prices than ever. It was because the government was acting as middleman in many instances and distributing farm produce at cost.

The campaign was fought to a conclusion on the straight out issue, "Shall the government enter the field of industry and help the people, or shall it confine itself to governing?" The Liberals made much of their slogan, "The Duty of Government is To Govern and Not To Trade." But the people had tasted the benefits of government "trading" and came back to its support in greater numbers than before.

Unreasonable Profits Shown

Charges that mineral producers are exacting exhorbitant prices were recently made before the Mining Committee by R. M. Rice, purchasing agent of the Labelle Iron Works, of Steubenville, Ohio. He said the price of fluorspar had been raised from $6 a ton to $35 a ton and that the entire product was controlled by two companies in lower Illinois. This increase in the cost of fluorspar, he said operated to put up the cost of steel. He also said the embargo placed upon manganese will produce a serious situation in this country in the steel industry unless steps are taken to produce manganese in the United States.

Soldier Insurance Is Success.

The Official Bulletin of the Washington administration announces that government insurance for soldiers and sailors which organized farmers and organized labor urged at their conference in St. Paul in September 1917 and which had since been enacted into law, is a great success. On April 6 it had been in operation six months and during that time it had insured soldiers, sailors and nurses to the number of over 1,700,000. The grand total of the insurance carried is approximately $14,000,000,000.

U. S. TO SHIP BY INLAND WATERWAYS

River and Lake Routes and Cheap Transportation Effects of Government Control.

Government operation of railroads has just led to one far-reaching effect in transportation that has been impossible under private operation; grain, coal and cotton—every product that is not perishable—will be shifted from rail to water, as soon as possible, over canals, rivers, lakes and coastwise routes.

An appropriation of $25,000,000 has been asked for to improve Gulf, Atlantic and Lake ports. That will be but a beginning. The first fifty power-barges and the first fifty tugs for river and canal haulage now being constructed, will be followed by others very quickly. The program covers the entire United States.

Waterways Were Abandoned.

This will work a revolution in economy in the transportation of freight. Water routes are the cheapest routes known for transportation. The wonder in the minds of many is that we ever abandoned our great inland waterways particularly on the Mississippi and its tributaries. The explanation lies in the fact that our railroads were in private hands that had become by virtue of their great industrial power able to prevent the use of these natural and cheap waterways and compel the nation to use its rail routes almost exclusively.

More than a generation ago water transportation by our river systems began to fall into decay through the exercise of this railroad influence. The truth is, these two methods of transportation naturally supplement each other and when they are used together the nation will benefit enormously in cheaper transportation.

This could never have been possible as long as private interests operated the railroads. It is a tremendous argument for government ownership of transportation.

See Other Side.

There are two sides to every question, but some of the great newspapers of the country seem to assume that there is only one side to the Nonpartisan League and that side is the one supplied by its enemies. An impartial investigator would at least try to get the opinion of the majority in North Dakota in regard to this organization and not depend wholly on the testimony of a hopeless, but vitally interested minority.

Wilson's Book Best Seller.

Every arrest of an official of the Nonpartisan League has been by local officials. The pamphlet on which indictments were brought against league officials in two counties have been in circulation for nine months and are still circulating with the full knowledge of the United States Department of Justice, the Post Office department and the Minnesota Public Safety Commission.

Federal Farm Loans Large.

The sum of $13,988,619 was paid out to farmers by the Federal Farm Loan Board during the month of April. The grand total of the loans made up to April 30 is $91,951,886. Of this amount the St. Paul district has taken more than any other, having a total of $15,424,000 and the Spokane district is next with $14,229,785.

The government's recent displacement of the railroad managers by men of its own is another sign of the times.

ALLIES HOLDING NEW FOE DRIVE

Big Teuton Force Started On Paris Advance Makes Less Than 3 Miles.

RESERVES ARE MASSED

French Artillery Inflicts Terrible Execution on Enemy—Flanking Moves Attempted But Wings Hold Firmly Against Onslaught.

London, June 11.—Comparatively slow progress, attended by losses described as enormous, is being made by the Germans in their latest effort to break the Allied front against the line from Noyon to the eastern suburbs of Montdidier, coming quickly after the force of the offensive on the Aisne had been spent, has encountered stern resistance and it is only over a comparatively short section of the line that the enemy has made appreciable gains. The deepest penetration reported so far is approximately 2¾ miles.

It has been believed since the drive toward Amiens stopped that General Ferdinand Foch had the greater bulk of his reserves in or near the area that is now being attacked. Not only are these troops within striking distance of the front, but there are natural obstacles which also militate against the entire success of the German assault.

High Hills Aid Defense.

The high hills, which now are the scene of heavy fighting, are outposts of the positions which are prepared along the Oise river, which bisetcs the field upon which the battle will be fought if the first lines of defense are overwhelmed.

The present assault on the line east of Montdidier may be considered as a complement of the offensive along the Aisne and when the map is studied it will be seen that the "pincer" system followed by Mackensen in Russia, Serbia and Rumania is again at work.

Flanking Moves Attempted.

If the thrust just west of Noyon succeeds in gaining extensive ground, it will approach the line from Soissons to Chateau Thierry and positions taken up by the Allies there would forced. On the other hand, if the drive gains ground further west, it will outflank the positions held by the French and Americans at Montdidier and compel their adjustment, with the resultant uncovering of Amiens.

The wings, however, seem to be holding firmly and the only gains so for made have been in almost the center of the line where they are least harmful to the security of the fronts on either side of the new battle area.

200,000 in Attack.

According to advices from the front the Germans have thrown more than 200,000 men against the line which measures a little more than 20 miles in length.

In the center the German attacking waves reached Ressons sur Matz and Mareuil, about three miles apart, marking an advance of 2¾ miles. Paris reports this advance as "murderous" for the Germans. On the left wing the most the enemy could gain was about one third of a mile while on the right he was checked after crossing the first or "covering line" of the French defense

YANKS HOLD 25 MILE FRONT

Germans Concentrate Troops Opposite Toul Sector.

With the American Army in Lorraine, June 11.—American observers report continuation of the German concentration of troops opposite the Toul sector and farther east, opposite Nancy. Boche aviators and aircraft guns are increasingly active in attacking American observation balloons. The Journal de Geneve, in a recent issue, announced that the Americans are holding about 25 miles front in Lorraine.

Alsace Is Estranged

Copenhagen, June 11.—In denouncing the arrests of thousands of peaceful citizens of Alsace-Lorraine by the German military authorities, Herr Wendel, Socialist deputy, declared in the Reichstag yesterday that the military had alienated the sympathies of the majority of the people of Alsace-Lorraine, with the result that today they favored France, "not because of any particular love for the Tri-Color, but because of resentment at the German military rule."

It's the Acid Test of Man and Eatonic They Both Win!

It takes a big man to stand up and say "I am wrong and willing to do right"; and it is needless to say that this poor sufferer will not want for EATONIC as long as he lives.

To stomach sufferers and those not getting full strength out of their food, suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, bloaty, gassy feeling after eating, stomach distress of any kind, we say, Go, get a box of EATONIC today, use it according to the directions and you will know what real stomach comfort means. Tens of thousands all over the land are using EATONIC and testify to its powers to heal. If you suffer another day it is your own fault.

EATONIC costs little—a cent or two a day. Buy EATONIC from your druggist.

Most Startling Endorsement Ever Published

Mr. A. W. Cramer, Registered Pharmacist and Druggist of Plano, Illinois, writes under date of December 12, 1916:

"Eatonic Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:—The following incident which happened in my place of business I know will be of great interest to you, and, I hope, of great benefit to humanity, morally and physically.

I keep a quantity of EATONIC piled on my show case. I recently missed a box, and knowing neither myself nor clerk had sold it, I could not account for its disappearance. Yesterday morning a man walked into my store and said: "Mr. Cramer, I owe you fifty cents for a box of EATONIC which I stole from your show case. I am bothered with stomach trouble and, not having the money to spare to get a box, I took it. EATONIC has done me so much good my conscience bothered me until I had to come back and pay for it."

This is the most wonderful testimonial statement in all my experience in the interest of any preparation. It is positive proof, to my mind, that EATONIC is all that is claimed for it. If it had not helped this man his conscience would have left him unmolested. Very truly yours,

A. W. Cramer."

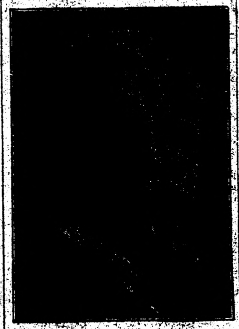
Help the Red Cross We Need Money

To Decide Next Monday.

It is time for sticking to tried and true servants. Those who have proven their worth should be retained. The biggest job in the history of the country confronts us as a nation. The retention of the men who have from the beginning been a part and a parcel of the war congress is not only good ordinary business sense, but also a patriotic duty.



For this reason Congressman Steenerson should be re-elected. He should be re-elected for the further reason that in him the farmers of the 9th district have a man representing them in congress who has proven his concern for their welfare on every occasion where anything pertaining to their interests that has come up. He has fought valiantly to secure a reasonable price for their wheat. He has demanded the adjustment of the grading laws so that the farmer shall receive in full what he is entitled to for his crop.

Steenerson has never failed in his duty toward soldier, sailor or settler. He is lending all his support and influence to the administration in the prosecution of the war. He refuses to come home for the purpose of making a campaign, believing that the people have the first call upon his time and that their interests demand that he shall stay on the job. To fail to give him an endorsement at the primaries would be like penalizing him for doing his duty too well.—Thief River Falls Times.

To The Voters of Marshall County

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the nomination for the office of Register of Deeds.

Having served one term as your Register of Deeds, my past record will vouch for my qualifications.

Thanking you for the generous support received at the last election, and hoping that I may again receive your support and vote at the Primary Election on June 17th, 1918, I beg to remain your servant for another term.

A Rousing Rally at Golden Valley

Tuesday May 28th the members with their wives, children and friends gathered at the home of Edwin C. Johnson to attend a picnic for the Non-partisan League. As the crowd neared the picnic grounds they were greeted by "Old Glory" floating to and fro by the gentle breezes of the day.

The program was opened by an address by Mr. Frank M. Barton, Republican candidate for congress ninth Minnesota Dist., leaving the impression with the audience that he is a man well qualified for the office he is seeking. Then last but not least Mr. S. R. Maxwell was introduced to the crowd by Mr. Larson of Golden Valley. Mr. Maxwell spoke in behalf of the Non-Partisan League and the welfare of its members (The farmers and laborers) and what it will mean, not only for the farmers and laborers but to their wives and children and generations hereafter. It will mean better homes, better and more contented farmers and laborers, better farm improvements, smaller taxes happier homes better rural schools, so necessary for the benefit of our country.

It will mean more of the pleasures so denied the farmer's wife and children that some Profiteer cant rob them of their hard earned dollars. When the time comes in Nov. for election, I hope the League members will gain the rights they are seeking then it will be dollars instead of doughnuts. The program concluded by two League solos sung by Mr. Maxwell, after which a confectionery stand was run, which makes the finishing touches of a farmers picnic complete. Then the wagons, buggies and autos, which had come from far and near to attend the picnic, began to depart with the banners waving "Vote for Governor Lindberg," as the crowd was leaving.

War Savings Stamps

THE difference between a five dollar bill and a War Savings Stamp is that while they are both promises to pay, backed by all of the resources of the richest government in the world, a five dollar bill never gets any bigger than $5.00 and War Savings Stamps are worth a penny more each month for 5 years. War Savings Stamps are United States $5.00 bills which the Government is offering in February for $4.13 and in March for $4.14 and so on adding a penny each month until January 1st, 1923, when they will reach $5.00.

Thrift Stamps.

Thrift Stamps cost 25 cents each. The Government furnishes Thrift Cards with spaces on them for 16 Thrift Stamps. Thrift Stamps bear no interest but are as good as cash. When the 16 spaces are filled, making $4.00 worth of Thrift Stamps, the owner takes the card to any bank or post office, pays the additional 13 cents or whatever it may be that month, and receives a War Savings Certificate and one War Savings Stamp.

There is room for twenty $5.00 War Savings Stamps on each War Savings Certificate card. You can buy $100 worth for $82.40 in January, $82.60 in February, and 20 cents more each month you wait.

BURNQUIST LEADS ON EARLY REPORT

522 Precincts Outside Twin Cities Give Governor 42,443; Lindbergh 19,258.

NELSON ALSO MAY WIN

Senator Establishes Wide Margin Over J. A. Peterson, His Nonpartisan Opponent—Comstock Named for Governor by Democrats

St. Paul, June 18.—Returns for governor from 522 precincts out of 2,746 in the state outside of Hennepin and Ramsey counties give:

Burnquist, 42,443; Lindbergh, 19,258.

Fifty-eight precincts out of 225 in Hennepin county give Burnquist 8,437; Lindbergh 5,998.

One hundred and thirty-three precincts out of 148 in Ramsey county give Burnquist 11,071; Lindbergh 9,167. Total of 713 precincts out of 3,119 in the state give Burnquist 61,951; Lindbergh 34,423.

St. Paul, June 18.—With partial returns on yesterday's primary received early today from fifty-two of the eighty-six counties in Minnesota, practical observers declared it seemed certain that the outcome of the three principal contests had been determined.

The available returns forecast the renomination of Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist over Chas. A. Lindberg and the renomination of Knute Nelson for U. S. Senator over Jas. A. Peterson, both on the Republican ticket and the selection of W. L. Comstock as the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

Returns from 400 precincts out of 3,119 in the state gave Burnquist 37,567 votes and Lindbergh 19,757; Senator Nelson had a three to one lead over his opponent and his renomination was conceded, while the same ratio was being maintained by Comstock.

When returns had been received from 272 precincts out of 3,119 in the state, scattered through 42 counties, the vote stood:

Burnquist 27,351; Lindbergh 15,255.

While the earlier lead established by the governor was not fully held proportionally in returns available shortly before midnight he did maintain his ratio in the reported districts outside Hennepin and Ramsey counties.

Ramsey vote in 101 precincts out of 148 was Burnquist 8,839 and Lindbergh 6,633 while 28 out of 225 precincts in Hennepin county showed Burnquist 3,752 and Lindbergh 3,359.

While only a few precincts had reported in any of the 42 counties, excepting Hennepin and Ramsey, supporters of Governor Burnquist were confident that the complete returns would give him a majority in proportion to the ratio he had at midnight.

Lindbergh's friends claim the later country returns will heavily decrease Burnquist's present lead even if it is not entirely overcome.

Senator Nelson seeking renomination on the Republican ticket and bearing the endorsement of the Democrats had a big lead over James A. Peterson when 51 precincts had reported.

Burnquist polled a two to one vote over Lindbergh in the first precinct which reported primary election returns tonight. The first 22 precincts of the state to report gave Burnquist 2,159 and Lindbergh 1,082.

The first precinct to show strong Lindbergh strength was in Kandiyohi county where the vote was Burnquist 5, Lindbergh 127.

Kandiyohi county was the only county showing a Lindbergh majority at midnight. Nine precincts out of 33 in the county gave him 778 votes and the governor 265.

Other counties joined Kandiyohi in returns early today in giving Lindbergh a majority over Burnquist.

Isanti county, with two precincts reported gave Lindbergh 227 and Burnquist 136; seven precincts in Sibley county gave Lindbergh 655 and Burnquist 327. Five precincts in Lake county gave Lindbergh 421 and Burnquist 320.

Comstock Far in Lead

Returns on the Democratic contest for governor from 174 precincts out of 3,119 in the state give Wheaton 2,174, Comstock 5,116. This includes 133 precincts of Ramsey county.

One hundred and one precincts out of 148 in the fourth congressional district, St. Paul, Ramsey county, gives Burnquist 8,839, Lindbergh 6,633. Thirty-seven precincts out of 145 in the fifth congressional district, Minneapolis, Hennepin county, gives Burnquist 5,428, Lindbergh 4,079.

Twelve precincts out of 457 in the sixth congressional district Lindbergh's home district, gives Burnquist 1,339, Lindbergh 539.

Lundeen in Lead

Minneapolis, June 18.—Nineteen out of 124 precincts in fifth congressional district give on Republican ticket Campbell 933, Lundeen 1,879, Newton 1,143, Washburn 550, Youngdahl 595. For governor 35 precincts out of 281 in the first congressional district gives Burnquist 3,315, Lindbergh 710.

Fifty-one precincts out of 357 in the second congressional district gives Burnquist 3,920, Lindbergh 2,001. Forty-four precincts out of 227 in the third congressional district give Burnquist 4,652, Lindbergh 1,445.

ITALIANS PRESS AUSTRIANS BACK

Hold Foe Without Gain at Many Points on 100 Mile Line Above Venice.

GREAT BATTLE COMING

Rome Advices Say Struggle Is About To Assume Gigantic Proportions and Will Last For Several Days—Foe Pushed Back at Piave.

Washington, June 18.—An official dispatch from Rome says the battle on the Italian front will assume gigantic proportions, the Austrians attempting to break down the Italian defense by a great pincer movement. It adds that the battle will last several days before a decision is reached.

London, June 18.—Although the situation along the great crescent shaped battleline in northern Italy remains somewhat obscure, it seems that the Austrians have accomplished little at the inception of their drive against the Italian and Allied armies.

From the lower Piave river and northward along that stream reports tell of the enemy being checked and at some points being hurled back across the stream. From the Piave to the Brenta, where the Teutons advanced through mountain ravines in their attempt to break through the Allied lines the situations seems to be well in hand.

Piave Crossed in Three Places.

It now appears that the Austrians made three successful attempts to cross the Piave. One was south of Montello, into the Alps. One was between Candelu and Zenson loop, where the Austrians effected a crossing last November, and held a bridgehead for some time. The other was at Dona di Piave, about eleven miles from the mouth of the river. At least some of these forces have been driven back across the river, while the others have not been able to develop any advantage from their early success.

Infiltration Plan Fails.

Reports of the battle show that the tactics followed by the Austrians were similar to those which brought success to the Germans in the Somme and Aisne offensives. The enemy advanced under cover of a smoke barrage from bombs and smoke apparatus in comparatively small parties. These were directed against portions of the line believed to be lightly held.

In France the Germans succeeded by this method in gaining the rear of strongly held portions of the line which had to be evacuated quickly by the Allies. Along the Italian front, however, the foe was not able to penetrate far into the Allied positions and conterattacks soon drive him back to his lines.

Italian Morale Sustained.

The result is as yet in the balance. So far German troops are reported in only one sector in the mountain front, but it is not improbable that they will be dispatched to aid the Austrians if they can be spared along the French front. Furious fighting is said to be continuing and it is probable that harder blows will be launched by the enemy.

The fact, however, that the first onset did not result in a virtual debacle, such as ensued when the Germans and Austrians attacked along the Isonzo last October, speaks volumes for the Italian morale And late reports give reason for belief that the blow at Italy is not being launched with the force that has characterized the offensives of the Germans in France during the last three months.

4 NORTH DAKOTANS NAMED

Names Appear on Last U. S. Casualty List.

Washington, June 18.—The last army casualty list contained 39 names divided as follows:

Killed in action, 6; died of wounds 2; died of airplane accident, 1; died of disease, 4; wounded severely, 24; wounded, degree undetermined, 1; missing in action, 1.

The only northwest names appearing on the list are those of four North Dakotans, as follows: Private John M. Peterson, Rutland, died of wounds; Private Gustav C. Gunderson, Maddock, Private Levi D Johnson Eyr, Private Fred A. Lawyer, Bismarck, severely wounded.

In the previous list the following northwest soldiers are named Private Richmond Hall, Grand Forks, N. D., killed in action; Corp W D. Fink, Grand Forks, N. D., died of wounds.

War Profiteers to be Listed

Washington, June 17.—To furnish the Senate with evidence of profits made by corporations last year, several hundred clerks are at work in the internal revenue bureau, compiling a list of probably 10,000 companies which made more than 15 per cent profit. A report will be made in about a month and will require an executive order of the President, since the war revenue law forbids the divulging of information contained in income tax returns without special permission from the White House.

SAYS AGE LIMIT MUST BE RAISED

General Crowder Says Class 1 Will Be Exhausted Soon After Jan. 1.

ARMY GROWS STEADILY

Three Million Men Will Be Under Arms By Aug. 1—First Six Months of 1919 Are Expected to Witness Heavy Draft Calls.

Washington, June 18.—Provost Marshal General Crowder told the Senate military committee that 3,000,000 Americans will be under arms Aug. 1st next.

Extension of the age limits in the army draft will be necessary, General Crowder said, if the present rate of draft calls continued. He estimated that all the men in Class 1 would be exhausted soon after next January.

General Crowder said that 1,347,000 of the 2,428,000 men placed in Class 1 already had been called to the colors. He estimated that some 400,000 additional men for the first class will be obtained from the men who registered June 5, and that another 200,000 will be added by the reclassification of men in the re-examination of the questionnaires now being made.

Heavy Calls in 1919 Intimated.

Requisitions from the draft to complete the 3,000,000 total by Aug. 1, General Crowder said, have been made. Of these 2,000,000 will be draft registrants and the other volunteers and national guardsmen.

"Everybody things there will be heavy calls during the first six months of 1919," was a significant statement made by General Crowder.

General Crowder approved the general principle of the bill introduced by Senator France of Maryland, extending the registration ages to from 18 to 45 years, thereby providing additional men for military and industrial service.

Objects to Limits.

He did not, however, approve the age limits fixed in the bill.

After outlining the plans of the war department for additional calls, General Crowder said that at the present rate class one will be exhausted by the end of the present year, and that unless the age limits are extended and another registration held, it will be necessary early next year to call men in class two and probably soon thereafter in class three.

General Crowder submitted figures showing the progress of the draft this year. A total of 1,347,512 men, all from class 1, will have been called by the end of July divided by months as follows:

January, 23,288; February, 83,779; March, 132,484; April, 174,377; May 360,230; June, 283,354; July, 290,000.

BURGLARY ON THE INCREASE

Crime Shows Enormous Growth in German Empire.

London, June 18.—"Public security in Germany is declining from one month to another and thefts in the post office and on the railways have become of daily occurrence," says the Frankfurter Zeitung.

"The growth in burglaries, the newspaper adds, can be estimated by the amount that one insurance company, the Frankfort General Insurance company, has had to pay out in settlement of burglary claims. In 1914 the amount was 87,405 marks. By 1917 the amount had risen to the extraordinary figure of 2,125,809 marks while in the first three months of 1918 the claims already have amounted to more than 1,000,000 marks."

LULL IN IRISH POLITICS

Agitation Against Conscription Has Somewhat Relaxed.

Dublin, June 18.—At present there is somewhat of a lull in the political situation in Ireland. Agitation against conscription has relaxed in the face of the government proclamation calling for voluntary recruits and no attempt to apply the draft is expected before October and then only in the event of conspicuous failure to obtain the necessary number by enlistment.

OCCUPY SECTOR IN ALSACE

Prison Parley Deadlocked.

London, June 18.—Because the German delegates to the British-German war prisoners conference at The Hague are pressing for the return of all prisoners in Canada and Africa as well as those in Great Britain, a hitch has occurred in the negotiations, telegraphs the correspondent at the Dutch capital of the Times. The difficulties of such a course, it is contended by the British delegates, particularly in respect to shipping transport make it impracticable.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

MANY INDIAN PEACE EMBLEMS

Wisconsin Braves Still Retain Numerous Medals Given to Them by Various Governments.

Wisconsin Indians still retain many peace medals that were given to them or their ancestors by various governments, and some of the medals date back in 1720, according to an article on Wisconsin Indian medals in The Wisconsin Archeologist.

The earliest medals owned by Indian families today include one of brass issued at the time of George I, four of silver bearing the bust of George III, an old Spanish medal and four American medals.

A Washington medal is in the possession of an aged Ottawa Indian on the Menomonie reservation near Shawano. Philip Nacootee, a Menomonie Indian of the South Branch settlement, has a Lincoln medal. A silver medal with the bust of President Polk, dated 1845, was owned by the Menomonie chief, Shunien.

Arthur Gerth, Milwaukee collector, once owned a silver medal issued by President Jefferson. An Andrew Johnson medal is in the collection of A. T. Newman of Bloomer. Dr. Alphonse Gerend is the owner of a silver George III medal, formerly the property of the Wisconsin chief, Waumegesako.

Grooving Machine Building Ships.

Revival of the wooden shipbuilding industry has brought into the limelight a number of labor-saving appliances, among which is a grooving and planing machine, capable, it is claimed, of doing as much work as 15 or 20 men equipped with manual tools. The device, which is illustrated in the Popular Mechanics Magazine, weighs about 56 pounds and may be driven either by compressed air or electricity.

A Discouraging Precedent.

There is nothing original about Marshal Von Hindenburg's boast that he would drive the English into the sea. In the Peninsular war Soult made the same remark about the British under Wellington that Von Hindenburg has now uttered about the British under Haig. Wellington did retire perilously near to the sea, just as Haig has. But Soult looked at the position and changed his mind. Is Von Hindenburg, in apparently still planning to give battle, going to show less sense than his renowned French predecessor?—Christian Science Monitor.

WIN BY OFFENSIVE

Such Must Be Plan of Victorious Army, Says Foch.

Allied Generalissimo Declares Well Organized Reserves, Delivering Bludgeon Blow at Proper Time and Place Will Destroy the Enemy.

London.—Victory can be won in the end only by the army that takes the offensive, and success in this depends on husbanding and instructing the reserves. So declares General Foch in the weekly journal, the Field.

"Modern warfare, to arrive at its end and to impose its will on the enemy," General Foch says, "recognizes only one means—destruction of the enemy's organized forces.

"War undertakes and prepares this destruction by battle, which brings about the overthrow of the adversary, disorganizes his command, destroys his discipline, and nullifies his units as far as their fighting power is concerned.

No Victory in Defense.

"Our first axiom must be that to achieve its object a battle must not be purely defensive. A purely defensive battle, even well conducted, does not result in a victor and a vanquished. It is simply a game that must be begun over again.

"From this it is an obvious corollary that an offensive, whether started at the beginning of an action or whether it follows the defensive, can only give results, and, in consequence, must always be adopted at the finish.

"To maintain our position is not synonymous with being victorious and even prepares for a defeat. If we remain where we are and do not pass to the offensive to fix the direction of attack, to guard against the plans of the enemy, and prevent him from carrying out the same maneuver, we must undertake to carry on and sustain numerous combats, each with determined aim.

All Depends on Reserve.

"But since there remains no doubt that decisive attack is the very keystone of a battle, all other actions which make up a battle must be envisaged, considered, organized, provided with forces in the measure in which they will prepare, facilitate, and guarantee development of a decisive attack characterized by its mass, its surprise, its speed, and for which, in consequence, it is essential that there shall be the maximum reserve force possible of troops of maneuver.

"The reserve—that is to say, the prepared bludgeon—is organized and kept carefully instructed to execute the single act of battle from which results are expected—namely, the decisive attack.

Surprise, Mass and Speed.

"Reserves must be husbanded with the most extreme parsimony so that the bludgeon may be strong enough to make the blow as violent as possible. Let loose at the finish, without any lurking idea of saving them, with a well thought out plan for winning the battle at a point chosen and determined, reserves are thrown in all together in an action surpassing in violence and energy all other phases of battle, an action with proper characteristics—surprise, mass, and speed. All our forces really participate, either by preparing it or by carrying it out.

"In this, our supreme aim, we must not be deceived by appearances. Although theory fails when applied by feeble hands and when accessories obscure the main principle, history and reason show us that in battle there is a single argument which is worth while—namely, decisive attack, which is alone capable of assuring the desired result—the overthrow of the adversary."

Inverted Point of View.

There was a rush of wind, a cloud of dust, and the car rushed on, leaving the old gentleman sprawling in the roadway. He picked himself up and dashed up to a policeman, yelling excitedly:

"That motorcar knocked me down!"

The policeman took out a businesslike notebook and said:

"Did you notice the number, sir?"

"Yes," said the injured one. "It was number 66."

Just then another policeman who had seen the accident came hurrying up and said:

"No, no! The number's 99. This gentleman was standing on his head when he noticed it!"

Work That Will Pass.

Some young people are satisfied if they are doing work that will "pass." They are conscious of its defects, but if these are passed over without a challenge, they feel that they have done well enough. That is a mistake. The Old Man's Call to Duty.

J. H. Snowden, a retired farmer and capitalist, told a Seattle reporter that he is on his way back from southern California to his old home at Calgary, Can., to go back to the fields. He supposed that he had earned a rest for the remainder of his days, but now sees that he was mistaken. "I am now fifty-five years of age," he said, "and have not done any manual labor for eight years, but I am going to hire out this summer and fall to help my former neighbors to harvest their crops. I figure that as long as I am too old for military duty, I can help win the war by helping produce crops." Thousands of Americans as well as Canadians will see their patriotic duty and take similar action before the war is over. The call to the colors is by no means confined to men and youths under thirty-two.—Nebraska State Journal.

"Well, in this story it says 'the ship weighed anchor.' Why does a ship have to weigh its anchor before it starts out?"

"Ah, yes. To be sure. You've always noticed, that in your reading haven't you? Yes. Well, this is the reason. You see, when a ship stays a long time in a harbor it accumulates a lot of—er—binnacles. And these binnacles cling to the anchor in such numbers that they increase its weight. So they have to weight it. Do you see?"

What Exporters Should Know.

A needle factory had sent to Aleppo, Turkey, needles that were tied up with green twine. The Mohammedan merchant who had ordered them returned the package, for the reason that the use of the green, the color consecrated to the prophet, for such a purpose was a derision of religion. Another consignment of the same factory to China wrapped up in white paper was returned because the Chinese recipient would not accept goods packed in "paper of mourning." White is the mourning color of the Chinese.

New Compact Fire Escape.

One of the boys aboard our navy's fleet has invented a fire escape which is similar to the rope ladders used aboard ships. His principal object was to provide a collapsible fire escape which could be compacted and conveniently arranged at the window of a dwelling. It consists of a container hinged to the sill in such a manner that by opening the window and folding the container on its hinges the metal ladder may be unfolded and dropped. When this operation is gone through, a means is automatically provided whereby the ladder is held at a distance from the walls of the building. The advantage of such precaution is obvious.

Doan's Kidney Pills Effected Wonderful Recovery After Other Medicines Had Failed.

"I don't believe I would be alive to give this testimony if it weren't for Doan's Kidney Pills," says Mrs. Julia A. Thomas, 1125-A Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, Ill. "I was in a serious condition with kidney trouble; my feet and ankles were terribly swollen and the kidney secretions caused agony in passage. I had terrible rheumatic pains and often got so dizzy I dared not walk for fear of falling. I felt as if I would go frantic. I grew weak as a baby and often had to grasp something to keep from falling. My nerves were all unstrung and the least noise startled me. Nothing benefited me and I was discouraged. A neighbor happened to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I began using them. The swellings and pains were soon eased up and it was but a short time before my kidneys were in good shape again. They have never bothered me since nor have I had any backache or other kidney trouble. I have gained 55 pounds since I was cured and can do all my own work without suffering."

CORN WILL WIN DEMOCRACY'S WAR

America's Greatest Cereal Crop Is Now Moving to Market.

MAINSTAY IN NATION'S CRISIS.

Surplus Wheat of the United States Has Been Sent to Famine Threatened Europe.

America's great corn crop, exceeding 3,000,000,000 bushels, will save the world's food situation, officials of the United States food administration believe.

Corn is the nation's best food cereal, housewives are beginning to realize. It contains all the elements needed to keep the body in a state of health and when used according to the scores of tried recipes, especially when combined with an added portion of oil or fat, will sustain life indefinitely. Indian warriors in colonial days lived on parched corn alone for many days at a time, and at Valley Forge parched corn was at times the sole ration of the Continental soldiers.

Owing to transportation difficulties caused by the war the corn crop moved more slowly to market this year than ever before. Now, however, the cereal is reaching the millers and consumers. In the meantime the nation's surplus wheat has been sent to Europe.

Today there are approximately 30 bushels of corn for every American. This quantity is greater by five bushels than in former years.

Corn has become the nation's mainstay in the crisis of war.

Just as this cereal saved the first American colonists from famine on many occasions, just as it served as a staple food during the War of the Revolution and during the Civil War, King Corn has again come to the front in the nation's battle with autocracy.

Corn meal is finding greatly increased use in the making of ordinary white bread. Hundreds of housewives and many of the larger bakers are mixing 20 per cent corn meal with wheat flour to make leavened bread. This kind of a mixture is worked and baked in the same recipes and with the same methods that apply to straight wheat bread.

Corn bread—using corn meal entirely—is gaining a greater popularity than ever before. Housewives are coming to realize that every pound of wheat saved in America means a pound of wheat released for shipment to the nations with which America is associated in the war.

There are a score of corn products that today possess unusual importance for Americans. Corn syrup for sweetening corn cakes and buckwheat cakes and for use in the kitchen instead of granulated sugar is one of the leading products made from corn.

Corn oil, excellent for frying and for every other purpose filled by salad oils, is appearing on the market in large quantities. It comes from the germ of the corn.

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies calculated to hinder Canadian food conservation according to an official statement received from the Canadian food controller by the United States food administration.

The stories bothering Canada are of the same general character as those the United States food administrator recently denounced in this country, such as the ridiculous salt and blueing famine fakes and the report that the government would seize housewives' stocks of home canned goods.

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen to and pass on such stories, each one has the power of destruction that lies in a battalion of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige of foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement. "Nor have they come to life casually. They have started simultaneously in different parts of the country and in each instance have been calculated to arouse public indignation.

"They are insidious, subtle, persistent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control.

"It lies with every individual to forbear from criticism; to refrain from passing on the vagrant and harmful story, and thus the more effectively to co-operate in work which is going to mean more than the majority of people yet realize."

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS:

There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only accomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its means. It is a matter of equality of burden; a matter of minute saving and substitution at every point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the 20,000,000 dinner tables, and in the 2,000,000 manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments of the country.

Letter from Andrew Sorum

Somewhere on the Atlantic
May 30 1818

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to let you know I am feeling fine. Suppose you will be surprised to know I am on a ship bound for across the sea, as I never wrote and told you we were leaving so soon.

But dont worry. Are having nice weather most of the time and am enjoying the trip fine so far. But I guess we will all be glad to see land once more which I hope will be before long. I don't know just where we will be going yet. Would like to get some food that is fried again as everything that we get on the ship here is canned and we are getting tired of it. Have not heard any thing from Willie for some time, but we have been moving quite a bit lately, so I suppose his letters might be delayed some place. Had a letter from Oscar Knutson just before we left, and he and Eddie Davidson are in the same camp, not very far from Camp Gordon, and he says he likes it there. I know I was glad to get away from there. Will have to close for this time, with best regards to all.

AUSTRIANS ARE IN UTTER ROUT

Italy's Victory Likely to Assume Proportion of Veritable Triumph for Diaz Army.

45,000 ARE CAPTURED

Vast Quantities of War Supplies and Other Spoils Taken.—Montello Plateau and Towns Are Recaptured by Storm.

Washington, June 25.—Confidence at home that the war may be brought to a victorious close this year, if the Allies give the Italians a full measure of support in the offensive which has been launched against the Austrians, is reflected in official wireless dispatches received from the Italian capital.

Information from secret sources shows that many divisions of German troops have been detached from the front in France and are being rushed to the aid of the Austrian army.

Veritable Triumph.

London, June 25.—Italy's victory over the Austrians on the Piave front appears likely to assume the proportions of a veritable triumph for the Italians and a disaster of great magnitude for the defeated enemy.

Already, it is announced in official dispatches from Rome, the Austrians have lost 45,000 men in prisoners and great quantities of material, while the extent of their other casualties may be indicated by the thousands of bodies floating in the waters of the swollen river.

Cannon Abandoned.

Unable to force his way further than the immediate vicinity of the west bank of the river, and with bridges thrown across the stream swept away, by the swirling waters of the flood pouring down from the mountains, the enemy began a precipitate retreat. So hasty was his withdrawal that he left a great many cannon on the west bank of the Piave, while his retreating infantry columns, according to news dispatches, already are being pressed by Italian detachments thrown over to the easterly side of the stream.

Invaders Pursued.

From the Montello plateau southward to the Adriatic comes the same story of the Austrian retreat. T' Piave river formerly emptied into the sea quite near Venice, but in recent years its course has changed to its present location. In the first rush of the Austrian offensive the enemy succeeded in crossing the old river bed, which now is a canal. From their positions there the foe has been driven and the Italians are relentlessly pressing the pursuit.

Bombers Cross Piave.

The latest news dispatches from the Piave river front tell of Italian bombing units being thrown across the main stream of the Piave, which seems to indicate that the Austrian retreat was not stayed at the eastern bank of the river. There is every indication that the Austrian "hunger offensive" has been a forlorn hope for several days. The effect of the defeat on the internal conditions of Austria-Hungary can only be conjectured, but it may be that the Italians have dealt the enemy a harder blow than that merely involved in the military feat of pushing him back across the Piave.

Italians Win In West.

Coincident with the Italian victory of the Piave comes the news of the Italian units on the Marne-Rheims sector repulsing a second heavy German attack on the heights of Bligny just to the west of the city of Rheims. The German failure was as complete as was the original blow.

A German attack on the French at Antheuil, west of the Oise, was beaten off.

British troops have taken prisoners and inflicted casualties in local operations along their sectors of the front in France.

MAY RAISE PRICE ON WHEAT

Authority Given For Increase To Absorb Higher Freight Change.

Washington, June 25.—The food administration's grain corporation in New York has blanket authority to government price of $2.20 a bushel, subject to the approval of the food administrator.

It also was authorized to increase its capital stock from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000, the increased issue to be taken by the government.

It was assumed that the primary purpose was to absorb the increased freight rates, and thus insure to growers at least as great a margin of profit as they now make.

Aviator Chases Duluth Man.

New York, June 25.—The escape of Edward D. Ranck, of Duluth, Minn., a Y. M. C. A. worker, chased by a German aviator while he was driving a motor supply wagon in the rear of the Americans being hastened to the French front, was described in a cable message from Paris, received by the National War Work Council. Flying at an altitude of only 150 feet the German turned his machine gun on the motor car, riddling the body. The driver escaped without a scratch.

SEEK FLIGHT IN AIRPLANES

Four Germans Weary of War Conditions in Berlin.

Copenhagen, June 24.—Four residents of Berlin attempted to escape from Germany in two airplanes. One succeeded in landing in Denmarck, but the other was brought down in the Baltic sea by German guardships. The machines which landed in Denmark had two occupants, one of whom, a reserve officer, is a professor in the University of Berlin. They say they fled from Berlin because of conditions there.

Desires Aid for Russia.

Paris, June 24.—Basil Maklakoff the Russian ambassador to France, reiterates in an interview printed in the Petit Journal his appeal to the Allies for intervention in Russia, saying that such action is absolutely necessary. "The future of Russia," says M. Maklakoff, "depends on victory for the Allies, which will be the salvation of humanity. Allied intervention is necessary to allow disarmed and betrayed Russia to resist the Germans. To help the Bolsheviki, would be to play Germany's propaganda game."

BORAH BILL WOULD HIT PROFITEERING

Senate Acts on President's Plea for Higher Taxes on War Profits.

That President Wilson's last message denouncing the profiteers and recommending much higher taxes on war profits, will lead to Congressional action, was indicated a few days ago when a resolution by Senator Borah asking for all information on profiteering now in the possession of the Treasury Department, was passed.

The cause of Senator Borah's resolution was the following passage from the president's message.

"There is abundant fuel for the light in the records of the Treasury with regards to profits of every sort. The profiteering that cannot be got at by the restraints of conscience and love of country can be got at by taxation. There is much profiteering now and the information with regard to it is available and indisputable."

The Borah resolution calls for "Any and all facts, figures, data, or information now in possession of the Treasury Department relative to profiteering which would in any way enable Congress to deal with the matter either through the present proposed revenue legislation or through enactment of more effective criminal statutes."

In speaking for the resolution, Senator Borah defined the profiteer as "the man who takes advantage of his country's condition, of its perilous situation, to gather extraordinary profits; who is taking advantage of the country's stress and trial to increase enormous and unjustly and unfairly his individual and private gain."

Continuing, the Idaho senator sad, "To my mind, and I presume I express the view of every patriot, the man who does that is on a lower moral level than the foreign spy. The man who claims the protection of the flag, and at the same time takes advantage of the government's dire necessities to increase his private gain, demoralizes the efforts of the people, impedes the progress of the war and works for its ultimate failure. There should be no talk of adjournment until this bill has passed. The profiteer should not be permitted to escape beyond the time which we can act intelligently and effectively."

Referring to the recent conviction of Rose Pastor Stokes for alleged seditious utterances, Mr. Borah said, "Here is the statement upon which that conviction was founded, or at least, one of the counts of the indictment:

"'No government which is for the profiteers can be for the people'.

"Nothing is truer than that statement. No government which is for the profiteers can be for the people. If the government of the United States possesses the facts as to the existence of these profiteers and fails to deal with them by taxation or otherwise, the government is derelict and justly subject to the criticism of everybody who is for the people."

"Now, it is up to Congress to justify the conviction of Rose Pastor Stokes in that court. It is up to us to demonstrate beyond question that the government of the United States is not with the profiteer."

This belated action of the Senate has been urged by the Nonpartisan League ever since the United States entered the war. The Senate, however, did not pass the Borah resolution until after it had inserted an amendment confining the information asked for to cases of profits of more than 15 per cent.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IS WINNING LABOR

Government Will Retain Railroads After War If Farmers Do Their Part.

An evidence of how the idea of government ownership of the railroads is taking hold of the American people and what a tussle the railroad interests are likely to have after the war to get back their properties, was furnished recently by the Labor Review Washington Bureau.

To quote, "Six months ago the railroad brotherhoods were overwhelmingly anti-public ownership. Today, according to some of the most experienced national officers, they are almost unanimous in favor of public ownership and operation of transportation lines.

"They are working for the government, and although they were disappointed in the small increase in wages given them by the recent award covering all railroad employes, they know that their chances are better under the government than under private operation. Their influence, then, is likely to rapidly increase the pressure from the labor movement to bring Congress to a public ownership policy."

The organized workers are doing their part to the end that the railroads shall be owned and operated by the people in the interest of the people and at the cost of the service. If the organized farmers do as much, there will be enough people behind the government ownership idea after the war to force it through.

ACCORDING TO PROFITEERS

"Copper authorities lay stress on the fact that the continuation of the 23½ cent a pound price from June 1 to August 15 virtually means that the average profit will be in the neighborhood of 6½ cents a pound, or a full cent under what is considered a normal profit in the industry."—Wall Street Journal.

TO CONTROL FARM MACHINERY

The president has adopted another League principle of government control of industries closely associated with war production. He has established a licensing system for the production and sale of farm machinery. Under this system the government will fix prices. It was the best the Administration could do under existing laws to aid farm production.

Now is the time for a man to keep his head, provided he originally had one to keep.

Isn't it strange that no one has suggested conservation by dressing the banker and business man in blue overalls?

There is more genuine patriotism in doubling production than there is in doubling talk.

JUDGE DECIDES STOMACH REMEDY A GREAT SUCCESS

Commissioner of Mediation and Conciliation Board Tries EATONIC, the Wonderful Stomach Remedy, and Endorses It.

Judge, William L. Chambers, who uses EATONIC as a remedy for loss of appetite and indigestion, is a Commissioner of the U. S. Board of Mediation and Conciliation. It is natural for him to express himself in guarded language, yet there is no hesitation in his pronouncement regarding the value of EATONIC. Writing from Washington, D. C., to the Eatonic Remedy Co., he says:

"EATONIC promotes appetite and aids digestion. I have used it with beneficial results."

Office workers and others who sit much are martyrs to dyspepsia, belching, bad breath, heartburn, poor appetite, bloat, and impairment of general health. Are you, yourself, a sufferer? EATONIC will relieve you just as surely as it has benefited Judge Chambers and thousands of others.

Here's the secret: EATONIC drives the gas out of the body—and the Bloat Goes With It! It is guaranteed to bring relief or you get your money back! Costs only a cent or two a day to use it. Get a box today from your druggist.

To Cure Sore Throat.

So many people have been troubled with sore throats this spring. It is most unwise to allow this condition to progress, since many serious forms of sickness start with "just a sore throat." When the throat feels raw, half-hour gargling periods, using warm salt water, are advised. This is an antiseptic and removes the irritation. Again equal parts of listerine, water and peroxide is even more effective. For an annoying tickling in the throat an application of hot glycerin rubbed thoroughly into the pores and covered with warm flannel gives relief.

Cuticura for Sore Hands.

Soak hands on retiring in the hot suds of Cuticura Soap, dry and rub in Cuticura Ointment. Remove surplus Ointment with soft tissue paper. For free samples address, "Cuticura, Dept. X, Boston." At druggists and by mail. Soap 25, Ointment 25 and 50.—Adv.

HUMORS OF RENT COLLECTING

Seeming Proof That Stern Gatherer of Landlord's Tribute May Be Human, After All.

A Bostonian, owning houses in a neighboring city, received the following stately letter from the collector of rents. We publish it to show that a collector may be inexorable, yet have a vein of humor in his iron constitution. The letter was written in January:

"The soil-pipe, water pipes and other apparatus in the cellar of the old homestead are in their usual hibernal state—frozen stiff; so Lemuel reports, and adds that he offered to contribute to Bill a ton of coal for the furnace to generate a little warmth and partially overcome the deadly, gravelike chill of that subterraneous space; and Bill tells me that Lemuel is a cheerful liar, and made no such offer, and so I tell both what the other says, and leave them to fight it out, impressing on them, however, that the rent must be forthcoming just the same."

Pennsylvania Women in Business.

More than 100 firms, partnerships and individuals doing business in Pennsylvania under assumed names have registered the real names of their owners, and in many cases it has been found that women were not only managers but owners of stores, factories and other industries.

The Japanese government has established a factory for the production of carbolic acid from coal tar.

From Our Soldiers' Graves.

At present, in the case of American soldiers who die in France, a cross marks the grave. At the transverse of the cross stands a metal shield with a design in low relief revealing a youth with broken sword, his face lifted to heaven. Round the shield runs the inscription: "He died to keep men free." Underneath are his name and regimental status. It is the intention of the Red Cross to remit this shield of glory to his relatives after the war, when some permanent form of remembrance shall have been devised by the war department.—Elizabeth Frazer, in the Saturday Evening Post.

No Eats in Heaven.

Eugene, aged five, having been on a strict diet for a week, asked one night after getting in bed: "Mother, do they have places where you can get things to eat in heaven?"

She shook her head. "No, Eugene, there are no restaurants in heaven; people do not have to eat there."

"Not even milk toast?"

"No," she answered.

Drawing a long sigh, Eugene said: "I hope I don't have to die tonight—I'd hate to go to heaven as hungry as I am."

KIND TO PRISONERS—GUILTY

German Women Warned That They Will Be Punished for "Lack of Self-Respect."

Women, even the miraculous German superwomen, are incorrigible, observes a writer in the Literary Digest. The German government has just discovered to its horror that Gretchen, in common with all the daughters of Eve, is not insensible to the charms of a well favored man, and, if given the opportunity, even she is disposed to flirt. The Frankenfurter Zietung indignantly writes:

"Female inhabitants of houses adjacent to camps of officer prisoners of war have communication with the imprisoned officers, and even throw them things. Thanks, however, to the sharp lookout kept by the authorities, the attempts in each case were frustrated. The guilty persons, who belong to all classes of society and are of various ages, were discovered.

"While the police authorities have hitherto considered sharp reprimands as sufficient warnings, in the belief that such unconsidered acts were due to a foolish desire for sensation, in future such conduct will be visited by very severe legal penalties and public exposure. These penalties will furthermore be imposed without discrimination on all who may render themselves guilty of such lack of self-respect."

Planting Trees.

Pennsylvania is creating a forestry reserve. The planting of trees is progressing in a way that has proved most gratifying to those taking a special interest in the work. Some years ago it was said that there was danger of Pennsylvania becoming a treeless state. Recent developments show that such a deplorable state of affairs will never come to pass.

Please Answer This?

Will someone please send us an answer to the following questions:

1st. Who will a farmer expect to call on for help in case of sickness of himself or family, a neighbor who is a shareholder in the farmers creamery or on some big firm in Duluth or Crookston?

2nd. You know just how many bonds and stamps your neighbor bot, how much he gave to the Red Cross, how many sweaters and other garments his family made and are now making for the soldier and sailor boys and how hard they have worked at Red Cross socials, now please tell us how much the big firms have helped on your quota for the bond and stamp sales, Red Cross drives and making of garments?

3rd. Now please tell us how much the big firms would pay the farmer for his cream, if, for any reason, our creamery should be closed?

4th. Did you ever hear of one of these firms helping to develop a new section of country?

5th. What is the difference between these big firms or centralizers, and Big Business?

FRENCH ATTACK SOUTH OF AISNE

Advance Is Made When Foch's Forces Strike Enemy at Two Separate Points.

TAKE IMPORTANT RIDGE

German Counterattacks Fought Off North of American Position Near Marne—British and Italians Push Enemy Back.

Both the French and the British continued their recently adopted program of striking the Germans at various points along the Franco-Belgian line, capturing a vantage point here and there and harassing the enemy while the preparations for the resumption of his offensive are under way.

The French hit the line in local attacks at two separate points, but both on the western side of the German salient which projects down to the Marne from the Aisne. They gained ground in each attack and took prisoners and machine guns.

The most pronounced gain was effected by General Petain's troops just above the point where their line joins the American sector northwest of Belleau wood.

Britons Under Heavy Fire.

Tension is increasing along the British front in France as the crescendo of the German artillery fire mounts higher and higher. From Ypres to Rheims the big guns are busier than they have been for some days.

The German command is known to have large forces in readiness on the main battlefields of France. They may strike anywhere on the 200 mile main front as their communications give them much elasticity of movement. It is expected also that the blow, when and where it does come, will be the mightiest the enemy can make.

Concentrate Opposite Americans.

Along the line northwest of Chateau Thierry, where the Americans hold a sector, the Germans are reported concentrating troops and supplies. Aerial fighting has been very severe near the American lines. It is not unlikely the Germans may plan to give the Americans a hard blow in payment for the recent American successes on this front.

German air raids against Paris continue, but in three attempts last week and two since, the enemy caused no great damage and few casualties.

Italians Take Two Heights.

Attacking the Austro-Hungarian lines on the Asiago plateau, the Italians have wrested Monte di Valbella from the enemy, capturing 800 prisoners, and have held their new positions against repeated counterblows.

Further east, on the Brenta river, they captured the height of Sasso Rosso, just orth nof Valtagna.

It is hardly to be believed General Diaz plans to go further than local objectives, but if he should make much progress on the Asiago plateau he would be able to take under his artillery fire the railroad paralleling the battleline and running along the Brenta river east of Lake Caloniazzo. This line is the connecting link and if the Italians could dominate it the Austrian system of communications would be impaired seriously.

MAKE IT HOT FOR U-BOATS

U. S. Patrols Push Divers Farther Out From Atlantic Coast.

Washington, July 2.—That German submarines are still lurking off the American coast is indicated by recent navy department messages.

These tend to show that operations on a wide circle, farther out than the original attacks on coastwise vessels. Apparently the German intention still is to make a desperate try for troopships.

The U-boats evidently are playing a crafty waiting game, as no ships have been bagged since the British Dwinsk was torpedoed nearly two weeks ago.

The reason for operations far out from the coast is the American patrol was getting too hot on the trail. Navy men say it is part of the submarine strategy to move about keeping the defenders guessing.

GERMAN FOOD RATIONS CUT

Reduction Caused by Promise of Supplies to Austria.

Amsterdam, July 2.—Official announcement was made in Berlin of a reduction of from seven to three pounds weekly in the potato ration. Oatmeal or other cereals will be distributed instead. Complete accord has been reached for joint utilization of common grain stocks until the new harvest, say Vienna dispatches.

To Distribute President's Spech.

New York, July 2.—President Wilson's Fourth of July speech, to be delivered at the Tomb of Washington, at Mount Vernon, will be delivered in printed form in the grand stands on Fifth avenue during the monster Independence Day parade, it is announced. The copies are to be given out shortly after the President Begins the delivery of his address. The people watching the parade here will thus be enabled to read what is expected to prove a world message as it is being spoken by the President.

RUSSIAN LEGION IS AUTHORIZED

Army Bill Carrying Over Twelve Billion Dollars Is Passed By Senate.

ACTION IS UNANIMOUS

Measure Gives President Wilson Unlimited Authority to Increase the Army by Further Draft Calls So As to Insure Success.

Woshington, July 2.—The Senate has passed the army appropriation bill, carrying more than $12,000,000,000 for the prosecution of the war and conferring authority on the president to raise as large an army as may be necessary to insure final victory.

There was not an opposing vote. The bill had been before the Senate almost continuously for five days.

Russian Legion Authorized.

An important amendment added to the bill authorized the President to raise a Russian legion in the United States to be composed of friendly aliens of that nationality.

As the amendment was originally presented by Senator King of Utah, it proposed the raising of this legion for service only in Russia, either independently or with any American troops that might be sent there. But the provision limiting the field of service of this proposed mission to Russia was withdrawn by its author after objection by Senator McCumber of North Dakota.

Specific Draft Defeated.

None of the appropriations for the army's part in the war for the fiscal year, beginning July 1, was reduced by the Senate. Instead it increased many items, approved without change the House clause clothing the President with unlimited authority to increase the army by further draft calls and added scores of important legislative riders.

A futile effort was made by Senators desirous of specifically ordering an army increase. An amendment by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, proposing to "direct" the President to enlarge the army to 5,000,000 enlisted men as speedily as equipment and clothing could be obtained, was rejected, 45 to 19, and an amendment by Senator Fall of New Mexico, proposing an increase of 3,000,000 men went out viva voce.

Many senators, however, fearing this action, and the rejection of the Fall amendment to extend the draft age limits to 20 and 40 years, would be misinterpreted, declared in voting they were only temporarily postponing action in accord with the War department's request for two or three months time to submit the enlarged program.

FIGHT EIGHT GERMAN BOATS

Four British Destroyers Retire When Foe Is Reinforced.

London, July 2.—Four British torpedo boat destroyers fought a long range engagement with a German destroyer force off the Belgian coast. The action was broken off before any decisive results were attained.

An official statement issued by the British admiralty recounting the affair, says:

"Four of our destroyers while patroling off the Belgian coast sighted eight enemy torpedo boat destroyers. Our destroyers proceeded on an easterly course at full speed, engaged the enemy at long range.

"After the action had lasted a quarter of an hour the enemy was joined by three more torpedo boat destroyers whereupon our force fell back on their supports. The enemy did not follow and the action was broken off. No damage was sustained by any of our vessels."

TAKE THIRTY-SIX TEUTONS

General Pershing Reports American Raiding Parties Active.

Washington, July 2.—Marked raiding and patrolling at several points held by the American troops were reported in General Pershing's communique, which was received at the War department.

In Picardy a small detachment of Americans captured 36 prisoners, including one officer, and inflicted severe losses on the enemy, while in the Vosges a German raiding party was repulsed.

Increased activity by the enemy artillery and airplanes in the Marne sector on June 26 and 27, and the heavy shelling of the American positions in the Chateau-Thierry region on the same days when the American troops advanced their line a third of a mile also were reported.

Mexicans Fear Selective Draft.

Laredo, Tex., July 2.—As a result of war conditions and especially the selective draft striking terror to many of the Mexican residents of Laredo and causing them to flee with their families from this country, or "hiding out" their children to prevent enrollment on the scholastic census, the number of school children of the Laredo Independent school district, according to the scholastic census recently completed, has been reduced by 763. The scholastic census shows a total of 5,569.

Spent Yeast Put to Many Uses.

The spent yeast which collects in breweries and distilleries is put through a process which turns it out in the form of buttons, doorbell plates and knife handles. Formerly this leftover material was considered to be a bothersome waste; now it is utilized, every bit of it. As it is gathered from the vats the yeast is of a dirty, gray-brown color. The first operation is to dye it and then to work it over until it assumes the form of powder and can be hot pressed into any form. In this stage it is called "ernolith." It may be sawed, scraped, filed, drilled, engraved, turned to an edge and polished.—Popular Science Monthly.

WHY BALL CAN BE CURVED

Presence of Irregularities on the Sphere Alone Makes the Feat a Possibility.

If it were not for "mountains" on a baseball much larger in proportion than any mountains on earth the clever pitcher could not get so much as a sixteenth of an inch curve in it.

If a baseball were a perfect sphere the best pitcher in the world could not make it curve a hair's breadth other than the natural curve produced by gravity. The reason the baseball curves, says the American Boy, is because it is covered with "mountains." There are great peaks and ridges, valleys and cliffs, gullies and craters all over it. Magnified 10,000 diameters, all these things may be seen, and they present a far more rugged landscape than any mountainous region in the world. It looks like an exaggerated combination of the Grand Canyon, Bad Lands, Alps and Rockies.

It is these irregularities that make it possible for a pitcher to curve his baseball. Of course he knows how to hold and throw it, but in passing through the air the friction strikes upon these ragged edges, even though they have to be magnified 10,000 diameters to be seen with the naked eye, and cause such a pressure as to make the ball leave its natural course.

HOOVER DENOUNCES MARKETING SYSTEM

Says New System Must Soon Arise Based on Interests of the Producers and Consumers.

A no less important person than Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, has come out against the present market system of the middlemen monopolists and for a best system of marketing farm products.

"I had also long held the view," declared Mr. Hoover in a speech at the National Milk and Dairy Farm Exposition in New York City, May 23, "that various associations among producers were the foundations upon which a better marketing system must arise in the United States in the interest of both producer and consumer."

One of the strongest indictments Mr. Hoover brought against our present marketing system is that it is prodigally wasteful. He said, using dairy marketing as an illustration: "One difficulty to both our producers and consumers of dairy products is that our marketing is inherently a wasteful and expensive system. The enormous duplication and waste in the present chaotic distribution methods need no detailed description from me. There is a commodity (whole milk) in which, in New York, from 40 to 60 per cent of the price is absorbed in distribution. I can see but one remedy that will save the position between all these vital interests, and that is complete re-organization of distribution methods."

Mr. Hoover's ideas about marketing coincide strikingly with the principles of the Nonpartisan League platform. The League has advocated from the first co-operation among farmers where co-operation is the natural thing, and public ownership of those big marketing facilities it is practically impossible for the farmers to co-operatively own, such as railroads, warehouses and cold storage plants. But a democratic administration of these great utilities under a system of public ownership would constitute essential co-operation of the highest kind with whole people co-operating.

The Nonpartisan League asked its members to stay away from the polls recent primary election day. League candidates are to be put on the ballot by petition. The South Dakota vote fell off more than one-half. One of the leading papers of Sioux Falls announced that not many people voted on account of the war and the heavy rains.

North Dakota, the only state controlled by the Nonpartisan League, oversubscribed the last Red Cross subscription 160 per cent and was still climbing when last reported. It was leading all other states. North Dakota led also in the Second and Third Liberty Loans. This is not bad for a "disloyal" state.

WHY MIDDLEMAN FEARS LEAGUE

Arthur Evans, Chicago Tribune correspondent, in his recent investigation of the Nonpartisan League, disclosed facts through his paper showing that the middlemen throughout Minnesota are not concerned much about the fake disloyalty charges against the League, but that their opposition is based solely on the fact that the League program proposes through state ownership to eliminate nonproducers and unnecessary middlemen

LAND SPECULATORS RESIST WAR ORDER

Absentees Show Real Disloyalty When N. D. Council Would Use Idle Acres.

The real disloyalty of the land profiteers is being revealed in a striking manner by the resistance of some of the absentee land speculators to the recent order of the North Dakota Council of Defense conscripting slacker acres to help win the war.

A North Dakota land speculator named Davis who lives in Wisconsin has filed an injunction suit against the State Defense Council challenging the right of that body to throw these idle lands open to cultivation. Arguments will be heard before Judge Allen of the district court of Richland county.

On June 3, F. M. Johnson of Richland county wired the state council for permission to enter upon and crop certain idle land owned by Mr. Davis. The legal advisor for the council wired authority to crop the land the following day and Mr. Johnson proceeded to break the land and plant it to flax.

Later the owner of the land got out a restraining order to prevent Mr. Johnson continuing with the seeding, claiming the land had been leased for hay and grass purposes. The suit raises the question of the jurisdiction of the State Council of Defense to assist the state and federal government in their effort to increase the production of food. The resolution adopted by the council May 24 gives the farmers of North Dakota the right to enter upon and crop any idle lands not growing food or cereal crops and does not except lands leased for hay and grass crops.

This North Dakota order is one of the most timely aids to the administration that has come since the war began. So many people throughout the world have been taken off the farms to fight that supplying themselves with food has become the big problem with the United States and the Allies. It has been stated that this problem will actually be the deciding factor in the war. In view of the fact that the Central Powers are worse situated than the Allies regarding the food supply, the Allied peoples are confronted with the rare opportunity of winning a victory largely by raising big crops.

One would think that absentee landlords who are either merely holding their colossal estates as speculators in land values, or have leased them as forage lands, would eagerly embrace this splendid opportunity to do something really vital for their country. In vew of the fact that the order is only temporary to help win the war, one would think that they at least would refrain from resisting it. But it appears that these profiteers are likely to go the limit to have this order set aside and are willing in this crisis to see their thousands of acres idle rather than to lose an opportunity to coin profits.

The Loyalty That Counts.

The North Dakota Nonpartisan League government, charged by the henchmen of Big Business with disloyalty, has turned 300,000 slacker acres belonging to absentee landlord speculators to the farmers of the state to raise crops on to help win the war. The farmers will pay only one-tenth of the crop on land that has not been previously cultivated. The League is called disloyal because it hits profiteers and makes them do their part in winning war.

FRAZIER MARGIN MAY BE 17,000

Compiled Total Leads Steen Vote About 14,000--Returns Not Yet Complete.

CLEAN SWEEP FOR N.P.'S

Baer, Young and Sinclair Share in Victory of Nonpartisan League—School and Judicial Nominees Also Win

Fargo, N. D., July 1.—With North Dakota primary election returns still several thousand votes short of completion Governor Frazier's renomination is assured by a majority of from 14,000 to 17,000 over his opponent John Steen. The former figure, approximately, is shown on the face of returns already reported, while precincts yet to be heard from are predicted in certain quarters as likely to bring the governor's final margin close to the latter figure.

All other Nonpartisan endorsees on the Republican ticket have been nominated with him, including the three congressional candidates, Baer, Young and Sinclair.

N. C. Macdonald has a comfortable lead over Miss Nielson on the educational ballot for state superintendent of public instruction and Harry Bronson of Grand Forks leads Charles Fisk of Minot for the supreme bench. All four names will, however, appear upon the nonpartisan school or judicial ballots in the fall.

Actual Figures to Date

The actual footings to date in the contest for governor are: Frazier, 51,060, and Steen 36,283, according to reports published in the morning paper here. These returns are of course unofficial and incomplete in some of the counties shown. The total already presented, however, represents a Republican vote of upward of eighty-seven thousand, which must be near the total vote polled.

Attorney General Langer and Secretary of State Hall are both credited with a vote nearly as heavy as that of Governor Frazier.

How about your county council, asks the North Dakota Council of Defense? Is it on the job, doing its bit to harmonize your community and to promote patriotic efficiency? If not, who is to blame? Think it over—it might possibly be yourself. Anyway, the council urges that you write in to Secretary Box of the state council at Bismarck if you have no county council or if your county council is inactive and suggest some way of doing something.

Old Grist Mill to Norristown.

The Montgomery County (Pa.) Historical society has appointed a committee to arrange for the removal of an ancient grist and sawmill in Horsham, built in 1734, to Elmwood park, Norristown. The old mill, not operated for many years, has been offered to the society by Miss Mary Iredell. It was an old relic and the town council of Norristown has signified that if it is accepted by the historical society and placed in Elmwood park along Stony creek, it would be taken care of by the borough in order that future generations may see how flour was ground and lumber sawed in pioneer days. It is the intention to bring to Norristown, if possible, the large driving wheel, turbine wheel and cob crusher.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Red-Hot Weather! Stomach Off?

No Appetite? Mouth Dry? Tongue Stiff and a Fierce Thirst? Here's Relief!!

Hot, heavy foods and iced drinks often play havoc with bad stomachs in hot weather. The weak ones haven't got a chance. A quickly chilled or overworked stomach is a starter of untold misery for its owner.

When you have that dull, depressed feeling after eating—stomach pains, bowel disorders, heartburn or nausea, belching, food repeating—it is the danger point. You want to look out—and be quick about it in this hot weather.

A way has been discovered to make sick stomachs well and to keep them cool and sweet. It is a commonsense way. No starvation plan of diet is needed. Make this test and see how quickly you get a good appetite in hot weather and enjoy the things you like without misery to follow.

EATONIC Tablets have amazed people everywhere with the marvelous benefits they have produced for thousands of stomach sufferers. Start the test today and let your own stomach tell you the truth.

EATONIC works quick—it absorbs and neutralizes hurtful, poisonous acids, juices and stomach gases caused from undigested foods. Thousands testify that it quickly puts the stomach in a clean, sweet condition—recreates—builds up the lost appetite and makes life worth living for the man who likes good things but who suffers every time he eats them.

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed to do all this and you are to be the judge. If it doesn't rid you of stomach and bowel miseries most common in hot weather—you get your money back at once, right from your own druggist whom you know and can trust. No need of your taking a chance of suffering. Start EATONIC today. You will see.

Canada made me Prosperous

—that's what thousands of farmers say, who have gone from the U. S. to settle on homesteads or buy land in Western Canada. Canada's invitation to every industrious worker to settle in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta is especially attractive. She wants farmers to make money and happy, prosperous homes for themselves by helping her raise immense wheat crops to feed the world.

You Can Get a Homestead of 160 Acres Free or other lands at very low prices. Where you can buy good farm land at $15 to $30 per acre that will raise 20 to 45 bushels of $2 wheat to the acre—it's easy to become prosperous. Canadian farmers also grow wonderful crops of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools and churches; markets convenient; climate excellent. AMERICAN NAVY ELIMINATES WASTE

SLICING BACON ON BATTLESHIP

JACKIES in the American navy are classed as the best fed body of men in the world. In the ship's galleys every effort is made to eliminate waste.

In the upper photo one of the cooks on the North Dakota is operating a meat slicer that cuts bacon with the least possible wastage. Fat is fuel for fighters. Bacon is badly needed in the allied armies and navies. The allied needs in pork products are 150,000,000 pounds monthly, three times as much as before the war.

Another waste eliminator on the North Dakota is the potato peeler, shown in the lower photo. Nothing is lost except the actual potato skin.

There is a sufficient quantity of potatoes in America for greater use in every home and for all needs of army and navy. Eat more potatoes, eat less wheat.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION

EVERYONE MUST HELP.

Wars cannot be fought without money, and upon the Treasury centers every financial demand upon the Nation.

The rich of this country cannot alone meet the needs of the Nation; the men of the country cannot do it alone; the women of the country cannot do it alone; but all of us, the people of the United States, disregarding partizanship, forgetting selfish interests, thinking only of the supremacy of right and determining to vindicate the majesty of American ideals and secure the safety of America and civilization, can do the great and splendid work which God has called upon us to do.

W. G. McADOO,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Plan Your War Garden Now; Save Time and Money.

HELP INCREASE OUR EXPORT FOOD STOCKS

IN CITY and country more war gardens are needed this year than ever before. Patriotism prompted 2,000,000 Americans to plant gardens last year, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. Transportation facilities of the nation will be strained this year hauling munitions of war and foods for the Allies. The surplus food created by home gardens will help in the railroad problem. And the nation will eat less of the goods we must export—wheat, meat, fats and sugar. Every boy and girl that helps with the garden is helping win the war. Leaflets of instruction in garden making may be secured from the Department of Agriculture at Washington, upon request, without charge.

AUSTRALIANS IN FURTHER GAINS

Make Successful Forward Plunge In Somme Sector Northeast of Amiens.

ITALIANS ALSO GAIN

Tension Along Entire West Front In Anticipation of Inauguration at Any Moment of New German Offensive.

London, July 9.—Again the Australians made a successful forward plunge in the Somme sector northeast of Amiens, where, with some American help, they carried out their brilliant operation of last week.

The latest drive by the rangy men from the antipodes resulted in what is described by the British official statement as a slight advance.

The aggregate of the ground gained recently in this area has been considerable, however, and the slow progress made has apparently affected a considerable movement in the British position along a front of well toward two miles on both sides of the river Somme.

French Have Artillery Duel.

While the British are thus fortifying themselves against the expected renewal of the German offensive in one of the sectors where it is considered quite likely to be launched, the French are finding themselves actively engaged in an artillery duel on the westerly side of the Marne salient.

With the help of the Americans, northwest of Chateau Thierry, the Allied line as a whole on this front has already been strengthened and improved in anticipation of another enemy offensive.

The French are replying spiritedly to the German bombardment, which is marked in the sector defending the Villers Cotterets forest. This extensive wooded area offers one of the most important obstacles to a renewed German advance, should it be attempted in this region.

American Sectors Quiet.

Other artillery actions were reported southward along the front to the Marne, but these seem not to have affected the American sector notably, as the news dispatches from the American front report a comparatively quiet night and similar easy condition today.

There is tension all along the front, however, in expectation of the Germans breaking loose at any moment with their new drive, and the air scouts on the American side are increasingly busy in efforts to spot important enemy movements.

SAYS LUDENDORFF TO LEAD

Report That He Will Direct New Drive On Italian Front.

Paris, July 9.—A new offensive is impending on the Trentino front. General Ludendorff, says a dispatch to the Matin from reliable sources in Switzerland, personally has visited the Austrian headquarters there and has hastened preparations for another blow against the Italians. Considerable reinforcements, it is added, are being concentrated at Innsbruck and Trent.

Germany will send three army corps to aid Austria, according to a Rome dispatch to the Temps. These will be put under the direct orders of General Otto von Below, the commander-in-chief of the Italian front, and will be assigned to the Alps sector, it is stated.

The Trentino railways have been put under German control and will be used exclusively for German troops. It is said also that German regiments will be detailed to other points on the front to support the Austrian troops.

YANKS IN SUCCESSFUL RAID

Heavy Losses Inflicted on Enemy In Vosges.

Washington, July 9.—General John J. Pershing's last communique reported a successful raid on the Vosges in which losses in killed, wounded and prisoners were inflicted upon the enemy.

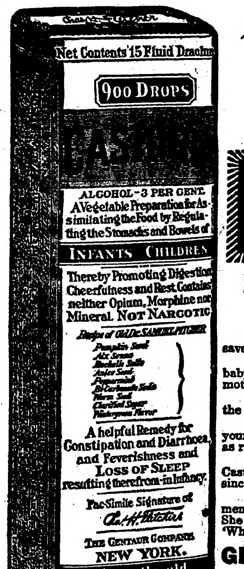
U. S. OFFICERS ARE KILLED

Lose Lives In Automobile Collision In France.

Paris, July 9.—Several American officers were killed and many injured when two automobiles collided near Fontainbleau, it is announced. Fontainbleau is 37 miles southeast of Paris.

Alien Property to Be Sold.

Washington, July 9.—Alien-owned property valued at millions of dollars soon is to be put on the market at a series of public sales being arranged by officials in the office of the alien property custodian. The first sale will be that of the property of the Orenstein-Arthur Koppel company, of Kopple, Pa., August 15. This company, with offices in Pittsburgh is the only German corporation in this country which never has been incorporated in the United States.



A Great Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Mrs. Mary McGinnis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "We have given our baby your Castoria ever since she was born, and we reccommend it to all mothers."

N. E. Calmes, of Marion, Ky., says: "You have the best medicine in the world, as I have given your Castoria to my babies from first to last."

Mrs. Albert Ugusky, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., says: "As I have had your Castoria in use for nearly three years, I am pleased to say it is just as represented. My children are both well and happy—thanks to Castoria."

R. P. Stockton, of New Orleans, La., says: "We began giving your Castoria to our baby when he was eight days old and have kept it up ever since, never having had to give any other medicine."

Mrs. Dolph Hornbuckle, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We commenced giving your Castoria to our baby when she was four weeks old. She is now seven months and weighs 19½ pounds. Everyone remarks, 'What a healthy looking baby.' We give Castoria credit for it."

INSTANT ACTION CALLED FOR

Wrangell, Alaska, Said to Be Without a Resident Physician, and That Won't Do.

Members of the medical profession, alert to its interests, should go out of their way to see that the doctorless town of Wrangell, Alaska, is supplied with a physician forthwith, that is, if the void has not been filled within recent days. Wrangell has been without a doctor for some time, and is announcing that a horse doctor will do if the regular kind cannot be supplied.

Every day that Wrangell enjoys robust health without a physician in its midst is a potential menace to the business of all the brethren of the profession. Some man with a nose for news is likely to bore into comparative death rates any day. How would the brethren like to read a calm statement to the effect that Wrangell's death rate has decreased 8 per cent in the last four months? And it might easily happen, Alaska being so blooming healthful, anyway.

How is anybody in Wrangell to know that he has appendicitis, or gallstones, or impossible tonsils, or adenoids, or arteriosclerosis, unless a resident pill sharp is there to tell him?

There are a lot of people who will fret and lose flesh if they are not quite sure what they have to worry about. The reported void at Wrangell should be filled, and forthwith.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

How to Keep Your Stomach Strong, Cool and Sweet

Hot weather always starts those quick chemical changes which produce poisons in meats, fish, fruits, vegetables, milk and food products.

Such summer poisons in foods not only make well stomachs sick but develop with dangerous rapidity in sensative, sick or ailing stomachs and bowels.

The Piano at the Front.

Lieut. Reginald B. Jones, formerly organist at the Commercial Street Baptist Church, Newport (Mont.), writing from France, says:

"The padre came along on Sunday evening, and our battalion had an open-air service while the shells were whistling over and the German planes hovering. We salved an old piano from a ruined cottage. It had seven notes missing and three holes from shells in it, but we mended the wires with telephone wire and string. I played it for the service, the fitter having 'tuned' it. In spite of the great discords we had fine, hearty singing."

"Yes," replied the Count von Schrecklich. "But he was a very amateur incendiary. He made no special arrangements for demolishing cathedrals and hospitals."

Are the Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

* * *

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of the five large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit [illegible] manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

* * *

The aggregate three-year profits [illegible] earn[illegible] on sales of over [illegible] and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar [illegible] or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers profits are a negligible factor [illegible] stock and meats. No other large business [illegible] conducted upon such small margins of profit.

* * *

[illegible] and this is very important [illegible] portion of this profit has been paid [illegible]. The balance has been put back into the business [illegible] to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve and solve quickly during these war years.

[illegible] this [illegible] and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the allies.

* * *

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

* * *

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

[illegible] that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They [illegible] interest you in the details of their business. How, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land as well as in other countries.

[illegible] packers mentioned [illegible] with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been [illegible] in its time of need, they have met all war time demands promptly and completely, and they are willing to trust their case to the fairmindedness of the American people with the facts before them.

This Is Our Winter of Test

SERVING food is a local problem for each community. Prices and definite rules for every one cannot be formulated. It is a duty for each one to eat only so much as is necessary to maintain the human body healthy and strong. This winter of 1918 is the period when is to be tested here in America whether our people are capable of voluntary individual sacrifice to save the world. That is the purpose of the organization of the United States Food Administration—by voluntary effort to provide the food that the world needs.

U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION

NEED BIG HERDS

Europe's Meat Supply Must Come From America.

Warring Nations Have Depleted Live Stock at Enormous Rate, Even Killing Dairy Cattle For Food.

American stock breeders are being asked to conserve their flocks and herds in order to meet Europe's tremendous demands for meats during the war and probably for many years afterward.

The United States food administration reports that American stock raisers have shown a disposition to co-operate with the government in increasing the nation's supply of live stock.

Germany today is probably better supplied with live stock than any other European nation. When the German armies made their big advance into France and then retreated virtually all the cattle in the invaded territory — approximately 1,800,000 head—were driven behind the German lines.

But in England—where 2,400,000 acres of pasture lands have been turned into grain fields—the cattle herds are decreasing rapidly. One of the reasons apparently is the declining maximum price scale adopted by the English, as follows: For September, [illegible] $17.30; November and December, $16.08; January, $14.40. The effect of these prices was to drive beef animals on the market as soon as possible.

In France the number of cattle as well as the quality have shown an enormous decline during the war. Where France had 14,807,000 head of cattle in 1913, she now has only 12,341,000, a decrease of 16.6 per cent. And France is today producing only one gallon of milk compared to two and one-half gallons before the war.

Denmark and Holland have been forced to sacrifice dairy herds for beef because of the lack of necessary feed.

Close study of the European meat situation has convinced the Food Administration that the future problem of America lies largely in the production of meat producing animals and dairy products rather than in the production of cereals for export when the war will have ceased.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HELPS PAY FOR BREAD

There has been much misunderstanding about the bread program in England. It is true that the Englishman buys a loaf of bread for less than the American can, but it is poorer bread, and the British government is paying $300,000,000 a year toward the cost of it.

All the grain grown in Great Britain is taken over by the government at an arbitrary price and the imported grain is purchased on the markets at the prevailing market price. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the adulterated war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 18 cents, the two pound loaf at 9 cents and the one pound loaf at 5 cents.

In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger extraction, the four pound loaf sells for [illegible] cents.

MAKING MEATLESS DAYS PERMANENT.

In the meatless menu there is a fertile field for developing new and nourishing dishes, according to E. H. Niles, writing in the Hotel Gazette, who believes that the present shortage of meats and fats will not end with the coming of peace, but may grow more serious and continue for five or six years, thus making it worth while to develop menus of grain, vegetables and fish on a more or less permanent basis. Meat can be replaced by cereals and other protein foods, or may be used in very small portions as a flavor for other food. In making up meatless menus this author finds our American Creole and southern cuisine a fertile field for investigation.

FRENCH INDUSTRY IS RECOVERING

Natural Thrift and Economy Promise Rapid Progress

EXPORT BUSINESS GROWING

Our Great Ally Possesses Recuperative Powers Which Justify Belief That She Will Meet and Solve Triumphantly the Problems Which Confront Her After the War.

With Paris boulevards echoing with "vives" for American troops our interest in the welfare of our ally vastly increases, and the facts are not lacking to encourage the belief that she is already on the road to recovery from the blow of invasion by a ruthless enemy.

One of the most important developments is the announcement that one of the largest banking institutions in America concerned with foreign trade, the Guaranty Trust company of New York, has opened a Paris branch to handle the rapidly increasing volume of French business.

This action may surprise many persons who had thought of France as bowed under a calamitous invasion. The bank, however, gives figures indicating that France is not only meeting her military and civilian problems with a stout heart and never failing courage, but is re-establishing her export business with this country.

In 1914, the year of the outbreak of the war, imports from France to this country totaled $141,446,252. This total was reduced to $77,158,740 in 1915, but last year the value of French imports to the United States rose to $102,077,080.

"A nation that can achieve such a commercial recovery while her territory is being ravished by the invader," says the Trust company's statement, "possesses recuperative powers which justify the belief that she will emerge from the present conflict prepared to meet and solve triumphantly the problems which confront her."

The commercial and industrial record of France, following past wars, indicates that she should recover quickly from the actual physical destruction inflicted in the present conflict. The reconstruction of railroads, the erection of factories to replace those destroyed and the replacement of the mechanism of industrial activity that will be required and that is in part already planned, offer a peculiarly inviting field to American capital and enterprise. Tentative steps have already been taken by representatives of American engineers and business men in this work.

Aside from its attractive business aspect, the enlistment of American money and effort in the great task of reconstruction that will remain at the end of the war will tend to cement still more closely the ties that bind the two great republics together, and will enable Americans to discharge in part the debt they owe to France for her friendly interest in the welfare and progress of the United States from the beginning of its life as a nation.

In judging the industrial status of any nation, its production and consumption of coal, iron, and steel and the growth of its transportation systems are highly significant factors.

In 1869, French industries consumed 21 million tons of coal, of which 13.5 millions were taken from home mines. In 1912, the consumption was 61 millions, of which 41 million tons were taken from home mines.

In 1869, the French output of cast iron was 1,380,000 tons, and of steel, 1,089,000 tons. In 1914, France produced 5,311,000 tons of cast iron and 4,635,000 tons of steel.

The increasing activity of her railway system is similarly demonstrable. In 1869, there were in France 10,743 miles of railway track; in 1912, there were 31,546 miles.

Between 1869 and 1912, inland navigation increased 150 per cent; while the traffic of her mercantile marine has amazingly expanded. The tonnage entering French ports in 1869 is set down as 11,000,000 tons. In 1912 this had been increased to 53,000,000 tons.

Leaders in American finance ascribe this solidarity of the French republic to three influences: first, a thoroughly sound banking system, centralized in one of the greatest banking institutions of the world, the Bank of France; second, the ingrained thrift and frugality of the French people as a whole, together with a national economic vigor not elsewhere surpassed; third, wise supervision, and patriotic co-operation by the government with banking and business interests.

The government does its part to warrant and retain the confidence of the holders of its securities. One of its wise policies is to impose new taxes to defray the interest charges on new security issues. It began this practice after the Franco-Prussian war, and is today following the same rule in regard to securities issued to finance the present conflict. This continuity of purpose, doubtless, will prove reassuring to all holders of French government securities.

The Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871 taught the French people the meaning of thrift and economy. So well did they learn this lesson, that the whole sum of the indemnity demanded by Germany, $1,000,000,000, was raised within the republic's confines by its own inhabitants and paid off more than one year before the time stipulated by the Germans.

The habit thus acquired has never been forgotten by the French, and today the aggregate number of investors purchasing the French war loans has reached the amazing total of [illegible] individual subscribers. Perhaps no other country, in proportion to its population, can make so good a showing.

France is particularly fortunate in that her small investors prefer "safe" investments, rather than offerings which promise high returns. Government rentes, in France, are perpetual, and this characteristic seems to obtain for these government bonds increasing favor in the eyes of the French people.

The points of sympathy between France and America are too many to enumerate, but the spirit of liberty and its resultant democracy are, today as always, the major ideals of both nations. Seeking no victories but those of peace, no territory except their own, no sovereignty except sovereignty over themselves — the independence and equal rights of the weakest member of the family of nations are to the people of the United States and of France entitled to as much respect as those of the mightiest empire. In defense of these principles, France is engaged in a death struggle with militant autocracy and ruthless aggression, and it is not surprising to learn that she has loaned to her allies and to other friendly states 7,000,000,000 francs with which to further the cause of democracy. It is in keeping with America's traditions that since the date on which we formally aligned ourselves with France and her allies in the great struggle, our government has lent to France $970,000,000.

It is eminently fitting that America should now be fighting on French soil to make the world safe for democracy. The liberty that America has enjoyed for 140 years France helped her to achieve. The swords of Lafayette and Rochambeau, aided by the guns of De Grasse upon the high seas, assisted in cutting the foreign ties that bound the American colonies prior to the War for Independence, and from the private purse of King Louis himself came the first loan to America—unsecured and unconditional—to finance that historic undertaking. It was with entire justice that Washington wrote to Rochambeau, "To the generous aid of your nation and to the bravery of its sons is to be ascribed in a very great degree that independence for which we have fought."

Invented In 1589.

The knitting frame was invented in 1589 by William Lee, a graduate of Cambridge university and a native of Woodborough, near Nottingham, England. So perfect was the invention in every detail that to this day the essential features of the machine continue in use for the class of work to which Lee applied it.

GERMANS NOW ON GREAT NEW DRIVE FOR PARIS

Thrust Covers Front of About Fifty Miles, from Chateau-Thierry to Bligny.

AMERICANS IN THE FRAY

Heavy Artillery Being Used Indicates That Foe Has Prepared for a Long and Severe Struggle

London, July 15.—The Germans have crossed the Marne at several places in their offensive begun this morning, according to advices received here.

The attack began on a front of 80 miles between Chateau-Thierry and Bligny, southwest of Rheims. The Germans also attacks east of Rheims, between Prunay and Maison de Champagne, on a front of 25 miles.

Paris, July 15.—A new offensive by the Germans was begun last night in the region between Rheims and the Argonne.

The struggle is proceeding on a front of about 80 kilometers (approximately 50 miles).

On the front between Chateau-Thierry and the Main de Massiges, the Germans attacked this morning, the war office announces. The French are meeting the shock of the enemy with energy and the battle continues.

The Road to Paris

Washington, July 15.—The Germans have selected the road to Paris for renewal of their drive, officers here believe today, judging from early reports on the violent movement, which began at dawn.

Whether the effort is designed actually to be pressed against the French capital or to pave the way for a later assault north of Amiens, on the road to the channel ports, believed to be the main objective of the whole German plan, was the subject of interested speculation.

The new battle line runs clear around Rheims in its 50-mile sweep from Chateau-Thierry, where the first and second American divisions are known to be in line. American troops in the Jaulgonne sector of the Marne east of Chateau-Thierry also are involved.

Heavy Artillery Used

Employment of heavy artillery to batter towns and communication lines indicates that the delayed grand offensive has been opened. The object of the bombardment is to harass the movement of supplies and reinforcements to the danger point and the careful preparations of the enemy may mean that he is ready to keep up the assault for days or weeks in the effort to drive through.

Just where the main force of the attack will fall is not clear. The apex of the German advance on the Aisne front is at Chateau-Thierry where the American first corps now holds the left flank of the new battle line. Presumably the main objective in this assault is some place to the east of that point which lies on the direct road to Paris. It is regarded as possible that the purpose of the attack is to widen still further the Aisne salient by the reduction of Rheims and the forcing back of the whole southern extremity of the 1918 battle area. A previous attack on Rheims was halted in its tracks by French and Italian troops and that place is now the center of a greatly increased assault. In some quarters this was taken to mean that reduction of the Rheims salient is regarded as vital to the success of the German enterprise as a whole.

Naval Guns Used

Extensive employment of naval guns for long range bombardment of the allied rear positions suggests that it was the time required to bring up and place these weapons that held up the German drive.

FOUR KILLED, 15 HURT

An Atlantic Port, July 15.—The interurban electric car, laden with shipbuilders, overturned early today near South San Francisco. Four persons were reported killed and 15 seriously injured.

HAS BOUT WITH SUBMARINE

An Atlantic Port, July 15.—An engagement with a German submarine in mid-ocean on July 6 was reported by a British armed merchantman arriving heer today. The Britisher was attacked by gunfire when about half way between the Irish coast and Cape Race. The submarine emerged two miles astern and pursued, opening fire but ineffectively. The steamship returned the fire.

FAVORABLE TO THE ALLIES

Paris, July 16.—The first day of the present German offensive clearly is favorable to the Allies, says a semi-official statement issued late Monday night. The French defensive system has been in no way affected and is still intact.

"While in previous attacks, the statement says, "the enemy, thanks to surprise, carried important positions like the Chemin-Des-Dames and advanced several miles, this time the battle has entailed only fluctuations of a few hundred yards."

AMERICANS TAKE 1000 PRISONERS

Enemy Brigade Staff Included in Capture of Germans by U. S. Troops.

HUN GAINS ARE SMALL

Advance Everywhere Held East of Rheims—Germans Make Some Gains Further West on 22-Mile Front

London, July 16.—Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the House of Commons last night that the Americans had captured a thousand or more prisoners south of the Marne after having driven back the enemy.

The German prisoners captured in the counter attack by the Americans at the bend of the Marne number between 1,000 and 1,500. They include a complete brigade staff.

Mr. Bonar Law read the following communication to the House:

"The enemy attacked early this morning on a front of 90 kilometers, pretty evenly divided east and west of Rheims. The city itself was not attacked.

"West of Rheims the Germans penetrated on a front of 36 kilometers (22.37 miles) to an average depth of from four to five kilometers.

"South of the Marne, by a brilliant counter attack, the American troops drove the enemy back and took a thousand or more prisoners.

"East of Rheims the enemy has been heavily repulsed and has suffered a complete check."

With the American Army on the Marne, July 15.—A strong American counter attack south of the river bend completely upset the Germans, who broke in retreat. The American troops drove the enemy back all the way to the railway skirting the Marne in the region southwest of Jaulgonne. This position now is being held.

In the counter attack many prisoners were taken. They included a major, two captains and 400 men, so far counted.

The French general commanding the group of armies on this sector sent a congratulatory message this afternoon to the American general commanding the forces which beat back the enemy.

At 5 o'clock this evening the Germans were heavily shelling the American forces, but were getting shell for shell in return, and their fire seemed to be diminishing.

The Vaux district is compartively calm now. On the American right heavy fighting is in progress.

American machine gunners along the river assisted materially in breaking up the early Boche plans for they stuck to their posts and poured deadly streams of bullets into the enemy and only withdrew when their guns were so hot they could not be fired. One group of machine gunners happened to be in a place where the Germans were anxious to erect a bridge, but their efforts were fruitless. The American bullets piled up the German dead on the opposite side of the river every time the enemy started to cross.

The German prisoners captured in the counter attack by the Americans at the bend of the Marne number between 1,000 and 1,500. They include a complete brigade staff.

The fighting continues with fierce intensity in this district while the battle rages with equal ferocity on the right, where the French are reported to have delivered a smashing blow against the enemy. For this section of the battle front it appears that the German offensive, at least for the time being, has been badly shattered.

Americans Command River Front

The Americans now command the river front at the bend. At the left of the bend the famous German tenth division has made repeated attempts all day to cross, but all assaults have been smashed by the well directed fire of the American gunners, and not a single German had succeeded in getting over at this point up to 9 o'clock tonight.

South of Jaulgonne the enemy crossed the Marne this morning on six pontoon bridges hurriedly thrown over the stream and masses of infantry swarmed forward. The artillery constantly had the bridges under the heaviest fire and at least two direct hits were made, two of the bridges being blown up.

Foe Advanced Behind Smoke Screen

After sharp artillery work, German troops advanced behind a great smoke cloud which completely obscured them for a time from view. The low visibility also aided the enemy in his operations.

Allies Are Confident

A correspondent talked with some American soldiers now in hospitals, who were in the thick of the fighting yesterday. They were in complete agreement that the German infantry was no match for the Americans.

This is evidenced by the reports from all the American hospitals, there being only a few cases of wounds from rifle and machine gun fire, while most of the men are suffering from shrapnel wounds.

The allied staffs are absolutely confident of their ability to hold their line.

CAN TAKE OVER ALL WIRE LINES

Senate Passes House Resolution Giving the President That Authority.

ACTION IS UNCERTAIN

Cabinet Officers Intimate That Government May Soon Take Advantage of the Powers Just Granted.

Washington, July 16.—President Wilson's request for authority to take over and operate telegraph, telephone, cable and radio lines has been granted by congress.

By a vote of 46 to 16—the minority all Republicans—the Senate adopted, without amendment, the House resolution granting such power for the period of the war.

All Amendments Defeated.

All attempts to amend or modify the administration measure which passed the House July 5 by a vote of 221 to 4 were defeated. Amendments by Senator Watson of Indiana to except telephones and press wires from the resolution were defeated respectively, 41 to 20 and 39 to 21.

An amendment by Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Democrat, to limit action regarding telephones to long distance wires was voted down, while an amendment by Senator Reed of Missouri, designed to secure unrestricted use of public facilities was twice rejected.

Although the statements of the cabinet officers indicated that the powers might be used as soon as granted, there has been no announcements as to just what the President intends to do or when.

During debate on the resolution it was said the government would take over only trunk lines and connecting systems, leaving to their own managements the thousands of rural and small independent systems throughout the country.

BRITISH FORCES TAKE KEM

Important Port on White Sea Falls to Allies.

Rotterdam, July 16.—British forces have occupied Kem, on the Murman coast, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung.

Kem is an important port on the White sea, 275 miles south of Kola and 375 miles north of Petrograd, on the railroad connecting those two cities.

Recent dispatches reported that a combined force of Germans and Finns had reached Kem in their march against the Allies and anti-Bolsheviki forces in the Murman region.

It would appear that this enemy force either retired before the British or was driven back in fighting.

CHINA WILL BUILD VESSELS

Shanghai Yard to Construct Four Ships for United States.

Washington, July 16. — China has been added to the list of nations building merchant ships to help defeat Germany.

The Shipping board has awarded to the Chinese government yard at Shanghai contracts for four cargo vessels of 10,00 tons each and took options for the building of 80,000 more tons.

The entire program will involve the expenditure of perhaps $30,000,000. Approximately 35,000 tons of steel will be shipped from this country, but the engines and other equipment will be built in China.

AMERICANS GO TO LONDON

Wounded Soldiers Are Said to Be Given Best of Care.

London, July 16.—American wounded are now arriving in London in considerable numbers from the sections of France where the Americans are brigaded with the British. They reach the various main line stations on British hospital trains together with hundreds of British wounded with which the trains are laden.

The American soldiers already are receiving the best of care and are being visited by American women members of a committee formed to look after them as soon as the hospital authorities give their permission.

DESTROY 3,856 FOE PLANES

British Army Fliers on Western Front Drop 3,233.

London, July 16.—In one year on the British Western front the royal air force has accounted for 3,233 enemy airplanes.

In the same period the naval airmen shot down 623, a total of 3,856.

During this period, 1,904 British machines were missing. Ninety-two of these were working with the navy.

Flood Causes Much Damage.

Boulder, Colo., July 16.—Serious property damage and possibly loss of life resulted from a cloudburst in Left Hand canyon, three miles west of Ward, Colo. A torrent of water rushed down the canyon, carrying off cabins and other buildings, tearing out a mile of track of the Denver, Boulder & Western railroad, and obliterating great stretches of highway between Boulder and Ward, according to word received from the Ward station agent.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

HOW SNAKES HELP FARMER

Man Who Knows Points Out How Valuable to the Tiller of the Soil Are His Services.

Snakes are a valuable asset and there should be a campaign against killing them, writes Gayne T. K. Norton, in the American Forestry Magazine. The article goes on to show what the snake does for food conservation by ways of killing rodents and insects, the greatest enemies to grain that man knows. The public has become acquainted with snakes as never before, writes Mr. Norton, because of the thousands who have been engaged in the campaign for war gardens that has been conducted by the national emergency food garden commission.

"With this summer the millions of war gardens have given the snake popular interest. Tremendously increased tillage has brought people and snakes together.

"Unless much education work is done the number of snakes that will be killed next year by the well-meaning but misinformed gardeners will be very large. Our snakes are a national asset worth many millions of dollars and should be conserved. The relation they bear to successful crops is important—more important than even the average farmer realizes."

The work-or-fight order should also be followed with the slogan "give or go."

WOMEN FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA

Success Has Followed All Their Efforts.

On the train from Edmonton to Winnipeg the writer took a seat beside a soldier who had returned from the front. On his breast he wore the beautiful distinguished service medal. One coat sleeve was armless, and on his left cheek he bore a scar that he would carry to his grave. He had served his country faithfully and well. At the first call for soldiers in August, 1914, he hastened to the recruiting office, leaving his 320-acre farm, with its crop ready for harvest, a full equipment of farm implements, plenty of horses, and a wife. The wife should not be last on the list for she proved the master of the situation, and loyally took hold of the question of production, while her husband was on his way to fight the Hun. And she succeeded. In 1915 she succeeded, and again in 1916, and when her husband returned in 1917 she was able to show some contemplated farm buildings completed, the indebtedness of the farm paid off, a considerable addition to the stock, and the land ready for a 1917 crop. This was the story told by the soldier, and wasn't he a proud man! He was now ready to do what he could to keep up the period of prosperity and provide food for the allies. The women of Canada have done nobly during the struggle.

Among the most successful farmers of the Oak Lake district, Manitoba, are the Misses Clara and Beatrice Forward, who, for the past fourteen years, have farmed their own land, doing all the regular work on the farm, such as plowing, seeding, summer fallowing and reaping. They have been especially successful with stock, and have a splendid herd of shorthorns, both purebred and grade. At the recent Brandon sale they purchased a new purebred stock bull for $700. Their herd was last year increased by 23 calves.

Miss R. M. Hillman of Keeler, Saskatchewan, is another successful woman farmer. She has gone in extensively for grain growing, and farms 1,120 acres. She also owns some of the finest Percheron horses in Saskatchewan.

The prairie now boasts of many women who have had more or less success, though few are farming on the same large scale as Miss Hillman and the Misses Forward. These women have demonstrated, and are still demonstrating, that a versatile woman may be just as good and successful a farmer as her brother.

There are other women, too, on the Canadian prairies, who, though they have not had thrown upon them the responsibilities of "running a farm," have been decided factors in making the farm a success. They assist their husbands by keeping the farm accounts, reducing the grocer's bills by their management of the poultry and butter, taking care of the house, and, very often, proving good advisers in the economic management of the men and general conduct of the farm work. The man who moves to Canada carries with him a wonderful asset in a good managing wife.—Advertisement.

Through an opening in a burnt-cork face and a similar gash in another dusky makeup this dialogue is propelled:

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.—Adv.

Farmerettes Rallied in 1776.

They had farmerettes during the revolution, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger. Nothing new under the sun, it seems. Here is a paragraph which appeared in the New England Chronicle September 5, 1776:

"Philadelphia. — Since the departure of the able-bodied men from the forks of the Brandywine in Chester county in the service of their country the patriotic young women, to prevent the evil that would follow the neglect of putting in the fall crop in season, have joined the plows and are preparing the fallows for the seed, and should their fathers, brothers and lovers be detained abroad in defense of the liberties of these states, they are determined to put in the crop themselves—a very laudable example, and highly worthy of imitation."

"That means that there will be icemen there. Hoo-ray!"

Near Relations.

It may be news to many people that there can be a nearer family relation than that of brother and sister, but a little miss gave this information to the world on the first day of her attendance at the school.

Accompanied by a small boy, she appeared in the schoolroom, and the teacher proceeded to take down the new pupils' names, which were given as Ralph and Edith Johnson.

"Brother and sister, I suppose," said the teacher pleasantly.

"Oh, no, ma'am, we're twins," was the little girl's reply.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Meat Must Be Sold

Fresh meat is perishable. It must be sold within about two weeks for whatever it will bring.

A certain amount of beef is frozen for foreign shipment, but domestic markets demand fresh, chilled, unfrozen beef.

Swift & Company cannot increase prices by withholding meat, because it will not keep fresh and salable for more than a few days after it reaches the market.

Swift & Company cannot tell at the time of purchasing cattle, what price fresh meat will bring when put on sale. If between purchase and sale, market conditions change, the price of meat must also change.

The Food Administration limits our profit to 9 per cent on capital invested in the meat departments. This is about 2 cents per dollar of sales. No profit is guaranteed, and the risk of loss is not eliminated.

As a matter of fact, meat is often sold at a loss because of the need of selling it before it spoils.

Imagination, Not Romance.

He—I don't know about the romantic part of it, but if they are going to try to explain everything they've got to be more imaginative.

One thing that has saved many a man from hanging is the fact that the jury did.

Not Equal to Three.

They had not been married very long, but she had grown cold and listless; so one evening, after she had yawned about seventeen times, he said:

"You seem to be so cold and indifferent, Matilda. Have you forgotten those happy days when I was paying you my addresses?"

"I should think I haven't! I should think I haven't forgotten those happy days. I never had less than three fellows every evening calling on me."

"But, dear, haven't you got me to pay you attention now?"

"Yes, I suppose I have. You are doing the best you know how; but you don't flatter yourself that you are equal to three, do you?"

The eyes of a South American fish are divided into two parts, the upper being adapted for vision in the air, the lower for use under the water.

Easy to figure the Profits

Where in Western Canada you can buy at from $15 to $30 per acre good farm land that will raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre of $2 wheat — its easy to figure the profits. Many Western Canadian farmers (scores of them from the U. S.) have paid for their land from a single crop. Such an opportunity for 100% profit on labor and investment is worth investigation.

Canada extends to you a hearty invitation to settle on her or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Think what you can make with wheat at $2 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming and cattle raising.

COMBINATION MUFFINS.

(Using no Wheat)

METHOD OF MIXING

Add to the cup of milk the melted fat, sirup, and slightly beaten egg; sift the salt, baking powder, and flour together. Use a coarse sieve so that no part of the flour is wasted. Combine the two mixtures, stirring lightly without beating. Bake in a hot oven (437 degrees F. or 225 degrees C.) for 20 to 30 minutes, depending upon the size of the muffins.

These recipes make 24 small muffins (3 of which make a 2 ounce serving) or 8 very large muffins.

The ground rolled oats are the same as rolled oats ground in a food chopper. When using oats, mix them with the other sifted dry ingredients.

When corn meal is used, mix—do not sift—the ingredients.

Suggestions: The wheat substitute recipes given below show that a wide variety of combinations is possible even when limited to the use of a few substitutes.

All of the combinations are good. In nearly all cases a combination of substitutes makes a better product than the use of only one substitute. Muffins containing oats have a particularly pleasant flavor.

Other substitutes used with buckwheat will modify the color and improve the flavor of the product. The use of molasses will also do this.

ALLIED FOOD SHIPMENTS REACH LARGE TOTAL.

A general idea of the quantity of food sent to European allies by the United States from July 1, 1914, to January 1, 1918, is given by figures just announced by the U. S. Food Administration. In that period the United States has furnished complete yearly rations for 57,100,983 people. In addition there was enough extra protein to supply this portion of the diet for 22,194,570 additional men.

The total export of wheat and wheat flour to the three principal allies is equivalent to about 884,000,000 bushels. Pork exports for the 3½ years amounted to almost 2,000,000,000 pounds. Exports of fresh beef totaled 443,484,490 pounds. The amount of food exported to Russia is negligible compared with that sent to the western allies.

Accident at Steiner

Mrs. Anne Moe was seriously injured, below the knee and badly stunned, by alighting from a moving passenger train at Steiner Monday forenoon.

Just exactly how the accident happened is hard to tell as the train crew did'nt stop to see but came on to Holt where they were notified of the accident over the telephone by G. L. Leisner, the Steiner merchant. The conductor wired the Crookston officials who sent Dr. Froehlich to treat Mrs. Moe's injuries.

Mr. Leisner also sent word to B. J. Bakke that the lady was on the way to visit at his home in Holt, when the accident occured. Upon investigation Mr. Bakke learned that Mrs. Moe was an aunt of Mrs. Bakke and a sister of Mrs. Oswald Hoel and Mrs. Isaac Garfe. Mr. Bakke immediately went to Steiner after Mrs. Moe and brot her home, in the meantime telephoning Dr. Mellby to come to Holt to treat the injured lady's wounds, which are serious, but the doctors were unable to tell at the time whether any of the bones were broken or not.

Mrs. Moe's home is at Granville, N. Dak., and she was coming to Holt to visit relatives. She purchased a ticket at Thief River Falls for Holt and just why the brakeman should let her get off at Steiner, and off a moving train at that, and not stop to see whether she was hurt, we are unable to explain.

Any statment to the effect that barley flour and other barley products are unhealthful and that their continued use will cause serious illness is without foundation and not substantiated by the medical authorities of national reputation connected with the food administion and whose work it is to investigate those foods and the result of their use. Barley flour may not agree with certain individuals, just as potatoes do not agree with certain individuals, but for general uses, barley is as agreeable and nutritious as any cereal.

CROWN PRINCE CALLS FOR HELP

Foe Troops Rushed From North to Rescue Forces Facing Annihilation on Marne.

FAIL TO CHECK ADVANCE

Petain's Men Chase Foe Across River Despite Frantic Efforts to Prevent Them—Yankees Gain Nearly Mile an Hour.

With the French Army in France, July 23.—Frederick William, the German crown prince, has called for help from his cousin, Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. German divisions from the army in the north have been hurried down to protect the western flank of the defeated army which has been driven back over the Marne and ejected from Chateau Thierry by Franco-American troops.

Yanks Continue Advance.

With the American Army in France, July 23.—The Americans continue to advance from the Marne and are beyond Bezu St. Germain, five miles northeast of Chateau Thierry. Both ends of the Soissons-Rheims salient are being pinched in by combined French, American and British attacks. After crossing the Marne the Americans have advanced five-eighths of a mile an hour. In the region of Grisolles and Bezu St. Germain, the Americans repulsed strong counterattacks. (Grisolles is five miles northwest of Bezu St. Germain.) Northeast of Chateau Thierry the Americans are having difficulty in maintaining contact with the boches, owing to the latter's speedy withdrawal. In and about Grisolles and Bezu St. Germain there is heavy fighting. Artillery and machine guns are aiding the infantry in the street fighting and in clearing the woods.

Americans Cross Marne.

London, July 23.—American troops have crossed the river Marne between Charteves and Gland, east of Chateau Thierry, and captured the wood of Barbillon, according to authoritative announcement made here.

The Germans are stubbornly resisting the French crossing of the Marne but the French have succeeded in getting two elements over at Mezy and Courcelles which are constructing food bridges under heavy fire. The Germans are using gas shells in large numbers.

The capture of Barbillon wood by the Americans means that the overseas men have advanced between three and four miles from their old position on the Marne.

Armed bands, completely organized, are said to be operating in some districts.

Yankees Inspire Correspondent.

Paris, July 23.—"The finest thing of the combat was the dash of the Americans," writes Lieutenant Entraygues, special correspondent at the front for the Temps. In describing the opening of the great counter offensive: "It was a fine thing to see those grand fellows, with their tunics thrown off and their shirt sleeves rolled up above their elbows, wading the rivers with the water to their shoulders and throwing themselves on the Boche like bulldogs."

ADVANCEMENT IN WESTERN CANADA FARM LAND PRICES

Stories of phenomenal advancement and prosperity in Western Canada have been told the reading public for some years past. The stories were told when there were hundreds of thousands of acres of splendid land adjacent to railways and projected lines, which could be had on the payment of a mere $10 entry fee, and under cultivation and living conditions. As was prophesied then, the day has come when these are few. There are still available thousands of these; they are some distance now from the railways. The land is as good as ever, but pioneering conditions will have changed. A great many are still taking advantage of this free offer from the government. The story was told when good lands near lines of railway could be bought for from $8 to $10 per acre and the prophecy made that these prices would double in a few years, for the intrinsic value was far more than that. That day has come more quickly than expected. The immense crops of grain that could be raised has brought about the change, and the demand for low priced lands with maximum returns has prompted the keen purchaser as well as the owner of higher priced land from which no greater return could be looked for. Prices of land in Western Canada are still advancing, and will continue to advance until, of course, the limit is reached—when returns will warrant no further increase. That day is not far distant. But, in the meantime, there are large tracts of land owned by land companies and private individuals that have not felt the advance that has been shown in other districts. The opportunity to purchase these should not be lost sight of, and if there are those amongst the readers of this article, which is authorized by the Canadian government, who wish cheap land, such lands as produce from 25 to 40 bushels per acre, and will pay for themselves out of one year's crop, advantage should be taken of the present opportunity.

Coming to Alberta with his family thirteen years ago, his assets consisting of a small outfit and $20 in cash, Mr. O. F. Malmberg has accumulated by farming and live stock raising assets to the value of more than $300,000, and has a personal credit, worth on demand, $100,000. He has not speculated in land, but bought only to farm. Near Blackie, Alberta, he operates 3,100 acres of wheat land. He has just purchased an additional 11,500 acres near Cardston, in Southern Alberta. His personal credit enabled him to finance this deal in Calgary in a little over three hours. The ranch just purchased is a fully equipped stock and grain ranch. At the present time it carries a thousand head of cattle and several hundred horses, and is fully equipped with buildings, machinery, corrals, sheep sheds, dipping vats, etc. That is a story from one district. Let us select one from a district some hundred or more miles from that.

"Peter A. Klassen, who recently moved to Herbert, Sask., from Kansas, has purchased a section of prairie land in the Hillsboro district, about 24 miles northwest of Herbert, for which he paid $12,000 cash. He is erecting temporary buildings to live in while putting the place in cultivation, and, this summer plans to erect good buildings on the farm and equip it for a home. Mr. Klassen recently sold his 80-acre farm in Kansas for $15,000 and is investing the proceeds in Canada."

With the proceeds of the sale of his land in Kansas, this farmer purchased in Saskatchewan a piece eight times as large as he had previously been farming, and had a balance with which to purchase equipment, stock, etc., of $3,000. Moreover as land in Saskatchewan may be expected to yield twice as much grain per acre, he will be able to produce sixteen times as much as formerly.

The average value of farm land for the whole of Canada, including land improved and unimproved, together with dwelling houses, barns, stables and other farm buildings, is approximately $44 per acre as compared with $41 in 1916, according to the latest report of the Census and Statistics branch at Ottawa. The average value of land in the Prairie Provinces is as follows:

Manitoba	$31.00
Saskatchewan	28.00
Alberta	26.70

It is the low prices at which land can be obtained in Western Canada which is rendering this country such an important factor in the production of foodstuffs at the present time. It is enabling men who have been farming small areas in older districts to take up and farm with the same capital areas not only many times as great, but which are also capable of producing considerably larger crops to the acre.—Advertisement.

Save the Babies

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Hot Weather Hits Us Hardest in Stomach

Keep a close watch on your stomach this summer. We need all our fighting strength. War work—change of diet—will make us all easier prey to stomach and bowel trouble than ever before. It is so easy to become overheated on a blazing hot day, especially after eating a hearty meal. And then the excessive heat makes us flood our stomachs with all kinds of cold drinks. That's bad at any time; much worse—even dangerous—when there is the slightest feeling of stomach trouble.

Keep the stomach sweet and cool and free from too much acid—that's about all that is necessary. It's not so much the diet as to keep the poison from starting trouble. You can easily do this if you will just take a tablet or two of EATONIC after your meals.

EATONIC is the wonderful new compound that absorbs the harmful gases and juices and almost instantly drives away stomach misery.

Instead of sudden and painful attacks of indigestion, after you begin using EATONIC you'll forget you have a stomach. And there will be no more heartburn, food repeating, sour stomach, gas pains, or that lumpy, bloated feeling you have so often experienced after eating. Then your appetite—you know how hard it is to satisfy in hot weather—eat one or two EATONIC Tablets a half hour before meals—and you will enjoy the results and feel better in every way.

These are a few reasons why you should start using EATONIC today and fortify your stomach against the chance trouble this summer. It costs only 50c for a big package. Your druggist whom you know and can trust, will promptly refund your money if you are not more than satisfied.

Spurred to Activity.

"You say you owe your success in life to the man you just snubbed?"

"Yes," replied the eminent capitalist, "to a large extent."

"Isn't it—er—rather ungrateful to treat him like that, considering what he did for you?"

HAD SEEN THEM "AT WORK"

Tommy Had Little Need to Puzzle His Brains Over Question Propounded by Teacher.

Here is a little story that was told at a social session by Representative Hubert D. Stephens of Mississippi, as an illustration that the best industrial results cannot always be obtained through team work:

Some time since, the teacher of a public school in a country town was instructing a juvenile class in mathematics when she turned to a small boy named Tommy.

"Tommy," said she, "if your father can do a piece of work in six days and your uncle Jim can do it in seven days, how long would it take them to do it together?"

"About ten thousand years," was the rather startling rejoinder of Tommy.

"Ten thousand years!' exclaimed the teacher. "Why, Tommy, what do you mean?"

"I mean," was the prompt response of Tommy, "that if you put them to work together they would sit on the fence, smoke and swap fish stories."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

SHELLS COAST NEAR CAPE COD

German Diver Also Sinks Three Barges and Sets Fire to Fourth and Tug.

PLANES ATTACK DIVER

Two Fliers From Chatham Aviation Station Engage Foe Submarine Without Result—Several Members of Barge Crew Injured.

Orleans, Mass., July 23.—A barge tow off the easternmost point of Cape Cod was attacked by a German submarine, three of the barges sunk, a fourth and the tug set on fire and four shells dropped on the mainland.

The action lasted an hour and was unchallenged, except for two hydroairplanes from the Chatham aviation station, which circled over the U-boat, causing her to submerge for only a moment. Then the submarine reappeared and resumed firing.

The crews of the tow, numbering 41 and including three women and five children, escaped amid the shell fire in lifeboats. Several were wounded, but only one seriously. This happened to be John Botovich, an Austrian, of the crew of the tug. His right arm near the shoulder was torn away by a fragment of shell. The minor injuries of the others were from shell splinters.

Thousands See Encounter.

The barges were in tow of the tug Perth Amboy, owned by the Lehigh Valley railroad, and were bound from Gloucester for New York. One was loaded with stone, but the others were light, being on their return trip after bringing coal to New England. The attack was without warning and only the poor marksmanship of the German gunners permitted the escape of the crews.

The one-sided fight took place three miles south of the Orleans coast guard station, which is located midway between Chatham, at Elbow, and Highland Light, at the extreme tip of the cape.

The firing was heard for miles and brought thousands to the beach, from which the flashes of the guns and the outline of the U-boat were plainly visible. Possible danger to the onlookers was not thought of until a shell whizzed over their heads and splashed in a pond a mile inland. Three other shells buried themselves in the sands of the beach.

Survivors Lost Their Clothes.

The survivors of the tow, with the exception of two injured, were taken to the Orleans coast guard station, communication with which by telephone was not permitted under navy regulations. No information could be obtained from official sources on the cape.

Botovich and another man from one of the barges, both of whose arms had been injured, were removed to the private hospital of Dr. James McHugh. Later Botovich was taken to a hospital in Boston.

The survivors lost all their personal effects and some of them who were having their turn in their bunks when the U-boat appeared came ashore in their night clothing.

NAVY CONTROLS TRANSPORTS

Prepares to Handle All Shipments to War Zone.

Washington, July 23. — The Navy department is preparing to take over control of the remaining steamers now being used as transports and supply ships, according to information received here from official sources. Naval reserve officers and crews are being organized to man the ships in this service which are yet under civilian crews.

An interdepartmental agreement between the War and Navy departments soon after the United States entered the war provided the navy should have control of all military shipping. The crews coming from naval personnel as far as possible.

Reports now are this control is to be extended to all American transports handling Atlantic tonnage.

SEVENTEEN PERSONS KILLED

Passenger and Freight Cars Collide Near Chelsea, Mich.

Jackson, Mich., July 23.—Seventeen persons were killed and a score or more injured as a result of a head-on collision between a west bound interurban freight car and a limited passenger car bound for Detroit, three miles west of Chelsea.

Six of the dead were Detroit soldiers en route to Detroit from Camp Custer.

The collision occurred on a straight stretch of the line and was due, according to unofficial statements, to a confusion of signals.

"Tell me about it."

The Broken Heart.

"I suppose," said the pretty young matron who was inclined to flirt when the flirting was safe, "you've broken many a woman's heart?"

"No," replied the handsome captain. "I don't think I ever broke the heart of more than one woman in my life."

"Then you did break the heart of one! Tell me about it."

"It was several year ago—before the beginning of the war. I was traveling in Europe, and rode in one of the compartment cars they have over there. A woman got in. We were alone together. She was young—about your age—and pretty. I saw at once that she was an American. For hours we rode on, and no one else entered our compartment."

"Yes?"

"I never said a word to her or gave her a chance to say anything to me."—Dayton News.

It's Mighty Poor Policy to Worry Along Thus Handicapped When Health and Strength Is So Needed

THE man or woman handicapped with a bad back in these times when physical fitness is so necessary, is indeed crippled. It's mighty poor policy to worry along with an aching back day after day; work is neglected and the simplest duties are a burden. Plowing, planting, harvesting, churning, the daily housework all throw a heavy strain on the kidneys and kidney ills, with attendant backache, are a common result. Don't wait! Neglect may mean gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills today. They have helped thousands. They should help you.

Personal Reports of Real Cases

A NORTH DAKOTA CASE.
Mrs. I. F. Arion, Cando, N. D., says: "I am always ready to recommend such a good remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. Before I used Doan's I was troubled with my back; it was weak and lame. There was a steady, dull ache in my back all the time and when I stooped over I could hardly straighten up. I suffered severely with headaches and dizziness and my kidneys acted very irregularly, causing me a great deal of annoyance. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and one box relieved me of the trouble. I continued using them and they greatly helped me." (Statement given April 25, 1913.)
On December 5, 1917, Mrs. Arion said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills at times when I have need for a kidney remedy. Doan's always give the same good results."

ANOTHER NORTH DAKOTA CASE.
John Challey, prop. furniture store, Lisbon, N. D., gave the following account of his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills on February 7, 1913: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I know they are all right. Whenever I have any kidney trouble I get Doan's and use them. They have always cured me of the attack."
On November 9, 1917, Mr. Challey said: "I am always ready to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills. By using them occasionally I keep my kidneys in good condition."

Tired Nervous Mothers
Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my housework."—Mrs. B. B. Zielinska, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. Josephine Kimble, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

SUGAR

How can we save sugar?

By using substitutes and giving up candy and soft drinks.

Is it wise to use brown sugar instead of granulated?

If there is any saving it is too small to be of value.

How much sugar may we eat?

Not more than 3 pounds a month per person.

Does this amount include candy and soft drinks?

Yes. We should reduce our consumption of candy and soft drinks as much as possible.

Does this amount include the sugar used in canning fruits and vegetables?

No.

What could we accomplish by cutting out the use of candy alone?

We could thereby release enough sugar to meet England's shortage, or to more than meet the shortage of France.

What was one factor that probably helped bring about the sugar shortage last year?

Canning and preserving. In August, 1917, there was an increase of [illegible] per cent and in September, 1917, an increase of 44 per cent of sugar consumption over the corresponding months of 1916.

Was this good conservation?

Yes; it will be justified in the long run.

Will there be another sugar famine?

If the American people use not more than 3 pounds per month per person allowed and refrain from hoarding, there will be enough sugar this year.

How is sugar used commercially?

In foodstuffs, condensed milk, flavoring extracts, chewing gum, certain medicines, confectionery, canned fruits and vegetables, cocoa, chocolate, syrups, beverages, and in a number of nonedible products, such as paste, leather, explosives, etc.

When did the beet sugar industry begin in the United States?

About 1838.

What has its increase been since then?

From [illegible] tons to [illegible] tons, or over 90,000 per cent increase.

Does the United States get most of its sugar from this country?

No. Most of it is imported, and refined here.

Why should we not compare our total consumption of sugar with the sugar rations of the Allies?

Because total consumption means household use and commercial use, while the rations are amounts allotted to individuals, and do not even include the allowance for canning and preserving.

What was the total per capita consumption in the United States for 1917?

[illegible] pounds.

How much of this was for household use?

[illegible] pounds per person.

What was the total per capita consumption in England and in France in 1916?

66.23 pounds in England.

37.43 pounds in France.

What is the individual ration now in England, France, Italy, and Germany?

England, 26 pounds a year.

France, 13.2 pounds a year.

Italy, 13.2 pounds a year.

Germany, 21 pounds a year.

These rations are not guaranteed. They represent the maximum portion possible if the government can get the sugar.

What is the total amount obtainable from our present sources of sugar?

[illegible] short tons.

What are the requirements of the United States and the Allies?

[illegible] short tons.

What is the deficit to be made good?

[illegible] short tons.

What possible amelioration of this condition could we expect?

Sugar from Java and the Philippines, and larger crops from Cuba and the United States.

Would it be wise to depend on all these favorable conditions?

Decidedly not.

Why can we not get sugar from Java and the Philippines?

Because the journey is so long that it is an extravagant use of ships.

What, then, is required of us?

That we reduce our sugar consumption by 15.33 per cent.

Why is this more than our Home Card asks for?

Because the Home Card was issued before the sugar situation was known to be so serious.

BEEF ONCE A DAY IN PUBLIC EATING PLACES UNDER NEW RULE.

Favorable developments in the beef situation have made it possible for the food administration to ease up somewhat on the rather complicated and stringent rule regarding the use of beef in public eating places and these are now permitted to use beef for the mid-day meal every day in the week. The mid-day meal hours are set at from 11 o'clock a. m. to 2:30 [illegible]

Householders are permitted to purchase no more than 1½ pounds of clear beef, or 1½ pounds including bone per week per person.

HOW TO PRESERVE WITHOUT SUGAR

FRUITS SHOULD BE SAVED IN SPITE OF THE SUGAR SHORTAGE.

Preserves Needed for Future Food Supply—Sugar Not Necessary to Preservation.

The Federal Food Administration for Minnesota emphatically denies the report that housewives should not put up any fruit this year because of the scarcity of sugar. If Uncle Sam is going to have sufficient supplies for his fighters and enough to spare to the Allies, every housewife in America who possibly can, must "put up" enough for her family's needs this winter.

The problem of saving fruit without the use of sugar may be solved in several ways:

Canning fruit in water.
Canning fruit juices without sugar.
Canning fruit in fruit juice.
Canning fruit butters without sugar.
Drying fruit.

Canning in Water.

(a) Open kettle: Gently simmer the fruit in very little water, allowing the water to evaporate as much as possible. Fill sterilized cans with the boiling hot fruit and seal. Do not expect the fruit to keep its shape. This will make excellent pie filling.

(b) Cold pack: Pack the fruit very closely in the cans. Fill with water, cover and steam from twenty to thirty minutes, according to the hardness of the fruit and the degree of ripeness. The skins will burst, and peeled fruit will drop shreds to the bottom of the can, but the shape will be kept.

(c) Hot pack for small sour fruits such as cherries: Pack the fruit quickly in a hot jar. Fill the jar at once with boiling water. Clamp and set quickly into a boiler or large pail containing boiling water enough to cover. Remove the boiler at once from the stove and let the jar cool in it. Success in this method depends on promptness. The fruit will remain unbroken.

Canning Fruit Juices Without Sugar.

Any fruit juice extracted for jelly may be canned without sugar by reheating to the boiling point, filling sterilized jars and sealing. This juice may be used for flavoring sauces, for beverages or for jelly making. If space must be saved, the juice may be evaporated to one-half its volume before canning.

Fruit juices may be canned without sugar now. There may be sugar later for jelly making. If not, the juices will keep till next season.

Canning Fruit in Fruit Juice.

Any fruit sweet enough to be eaten without sugar may be canned in its own juices. This gives a product of finer flavor than can be produced by the use of sugar syrups. Divide the fruit into two equal parts, selecting the best for the canning, and leaving the poorer for making the juice. Extract the juice as for jelly making and can the fruit in it, using the cold pack or open kettle method. The fruit will stay whole and keep its shape. If fruit is expensive, this juice may be poured off for jelly making before using and the fruit recooked in syrup.

Canning Fruit Butter Without Sugar.

Fruit which is small or imperfect, though in good condition, may be poor in appearance but of excellent flavor. Such fruits, boiled till soft, rubbed through a puree sieve make a good foundation for relishes and for cake and pie fillings. Pick the fruit over carefully; cut large fruits, such as apples, in pieces. Add as much water as would be used in extracting juice for jelly and simmer till fruit is tender. Rub through a sieve to remove skins and seeds. Simmer the pulp in a shallow pan over hot water or directly over the stove, until it is as thick as cake dough. If direct heat is used constant stirring will be necessary.

Adjust rubbers to the preserving can, fill it with the fruit butter, adjust the cover but do not clamp. Boil 15 minutes in a closely covered steamer. Clamp cover and invert jar.

RECIPES.

Cherries Canned in Cherry Juice.

4 quarts cherries, ½ pint water.

Pick out 4 quarts of the best cherries. Simmer the remaining cherries with the water till they are thoroughly soft (about one-half hour). Drain through a jelly bag. Return juice to the kettle, place the remaining cherries in it. Simmer until soft (about 10 minutes). Adjust rubbers on sterilized jars, fill with fruit, seal and invert.

Raspberries Canned in Raspberry Juice.

4 quarts raspberries, ½ cup currant juice or 1 pint currants.

Select 2 quarts of the best raspberries. Simmer the rest with the currant juice or currants until soft. Drain through a jelly bag. Simmer the whole fruit in this juice about five minutes. Adjust rubbers on sterilized jars, fill with fruit, seal and invert.

Plums Canned in Plum Juice.

4 quarts sweet plums, ½ pint water.

Select 3 quarts of the best plums and prick each one with a fork or fruit pricker. Cook the remaining plums and water together till the pits separate. Drain through a jelly bag. Adjust rubbers on clean cans, pack with plums, fill the can to within ¼ inch of the top with the juice, cover, and steam 16 minutes. Seal at once.

A Narrow Escape.

Last Tuesday evening while returning home from the Gospel meeting held at the Mission church, Mrs. Erick Johnson and her four daughters experienced what may be termed a miraculous escape from death. The State road which runs north and south, in the west end of town, has been re-graded by the county on contract. Right near the depot where the old wagon road formerly joined the State road, the ditch had been excavated to a dept of 3 1-2 feet. There were a few dead bushes thrown across the old road not far from this high bank, no other danger signal was in evidence. The auto which was run by Miss Tina, was running about 10 miles an hour and unaware that she was on the wrong road, the auto went over the bank landing on its side. Miss Tina sprang out and immediately stopped the engine and held the auto, to prevent it turning turtle, while the rest got out. No one was hurt out side of a few cratches. It was purely providential that these friends escaped a sad experience. The auto was righted and run up to the garage for an over hauling, and Ole Backlund with his car safely took the family home.

TURKS REPORTED OUT OF THE WAR

Copenhagen Claims Direct Advices That Relations Are Severed With Huns.

U. S. IS NOT SURPRISED

Report Unconfirmed But Has Color of Probability, Washington Thinks—Jealousy Is Supposed to Be Cause.

London, July 30.—"The relations between Germany and Turkey have been severed, according to direct information from Constantinople."

This announcement is made by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Co.

The excitement against Germany, the advices further say, has been growing particularly after last week's events.

The Germans recently demanded the cruiser Hamidieh, the only large ship then in possession of the Turks, as compensation for the Breslau, the German cruiser which was destroyed in the Dardanelles while under the Turkish flag.

Despite Turkey's protest, the Hamidieh has departed for Sabastopol with the German flag flying.

Washington Not Surprised.

Washington, July 30.—While no official notice of the breach of relations between Turkey and German—(or rather the central powers, for without doubt Austria is involved with Germany in the dispute with the Ottoman government)—has reached Washington, officials expressed little surprise at the dispatch saying Germany and Turkey have severed relations.

In official circles here it has been realized that in her efforts to serve both Turkey and Bulgaria in the division of spoils resulting from the treaty with Rumania, Germany had incurred the ill will of both her allies.

Following the conclusion of the peace treaty with Rumania at Jassy, both Turkey and Bulgaria laid claim to much of the territory Rumania had been forced to cede to her enemies. Included in these claims was the title to the railway running from Adrianople to Dedeagatch, and this became the source of the greatest contention between the two allied nations.

Germany for some time endeavored to induce the two countries to settle the dispute amicably by suggesting the nation which failed to obtain the railroad should receive other compensation.

Jealousy a Probable Cause.

Belief in Turkey that favoritism was being shown in Bulgaria by Germany in the negotiations, according to recent dispatches received here, caused a rapid growth of anti-German feeling in Constantinople. A shortage of food, weariness of the war and dissatisfaction with the Young Turk party because of its submission to German control recently found expression in Constantinople in food riots and munition uprisings which have been sternly suppressed by the military authorities.

Turks Failed on Big Loan

That Turkey has become more and more weary of the war was indicated in the latest Turkish loan in June. According to Swiss dispatches only 12,000,000 pounds was obtained out of 32,000,000 pounds sought. It is believed Germany, calling upon Bulgaria and Austria to assist her, will undertake to deal sternly with Turkey, and through thousands of German agents situated throughout the country, will seek to displace the Young Turk party and install some faction which can be depended upon to obey the mandates of the central powers.

YANKS TAKE GERMAN STORES

Immense Quantities of Munitions in Wake of Retreating Foe.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 30.—The tremendous stores of German munitions found by Franco-American troops in the forests of Fere and [illegible] leads officers to believe the allied offensive nipped in the bud German plans for a momentous drive upon Epernay.

The forests and the surrounding country north of the Marne were virtually one great arsenal for German ammunition of all kinds, big gun shells being particularly numerous. At places on the edges of the woods there were shells stacked like cord wood over large areas.

Thousands of these shells were intended for the German 210 millimeter guns, only a few of which were captured.

The allies are planning a systematic assembly of the shells for use later against the enemy.

King George Sues for Million.

Newark, N. J., July 30.—King George of England is plaintiff in a suit filed in the state supreme court here asking $1,022,000 damages against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company in connection with the destruction of British owned munitions in the disastrous Black Tom Island explosion at Jersey City in July, 1916. The French republic entered claims for $520,000. The damage asked in these and other actions which have been begun here aggregate nearly $2,000,000.

ENEMY UNABLE TO STOP YANKS

Franco-American Artillery Breaks Up Terrific Counterblow Launched by Germans.

SHOCK TROOPS USED

Flung Into Line Against Americans as Foe Makes Determined Resistance in Neighborhood of Fere-en-Tardenois.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 30.—Reinforced by two crack divisions of Bavarian guards, the Teutons settled down to the hardest resistance they have yet displayed against the American forces north of the river Ourcq.

Although heavily hammered, the Americans replied in like along the river, and the fighting shifted back and forth through Sergy, three miles southeast of Fere en Tardenois. Up to midday the Germans had been unable to force a recrossing of the Ourcq.

Retreat Is General.

London, July 30.—North of the Marne the tide of German invasion is fast ebbing. The fact that a general retreat in this region is going on is not questioned, and the only question of moment to be cleared up is the location of the position at which the enemy will turn at bay. Since Saturday there have been important changes in the battleline between Soissons and Rheims. Today it runs almost directly east from Oulchy le Chateau to Fere en Tardenois, then across the Ourcq and continues eastward until it reaches the Dormans-Rheims road northwest of Rheims mountain.

Burning Villages in Retreat.

It had been contended by military experts that the Germans might elect to stand on the line of the Ourcq river from which their heavy cannon might dominate the Paris-Chalons railway along the Marne. This idea is now proved erroneous. It appears that there is no defensive position south of the Vesle river to which the Germans can retire and organize their resistance to allied pressure.

The only other defensive position seemingly possible is the one that follows the Aisne and Vesle from Soissons to Fismes, and from that point follows the course of the Arvre river toward Rheims. Burning villages along the Aisne and Vesle from Soissons to Bazoches are reported and tend to confirm the impression that the Germans do not contemplate organized resistance south of that line.

Succeeds in Eluding Trap.

There is every indication that the German high command has succeeded in extricating its forces from the trap sprung by General Foch. The resistance of the Germans for a week after the beginning of the Allied counteroffensive probably gave them time to withdraw their heavier guns and a large portion of their supplies from the salient. This resistance was strong along the line south of Soissons as far as Oulchy-le-Ville and west and southwest of Rheims, which were the vital sectors of the battle line.

The advance of the Allies east of Oulchy le Chateau must soon compel the enemy to evacuate the line from the Ourcq river toward Soissons for a considerable distance. Nearer Rheims, however, the Germans seem to hold positions that will prove a pivot for their retreat toward the Vesle river.

Foe Dooms Woman to Death.

Zurich, July 30.—Miss Milado Jamschek, a teacher of languages, has been sentenced to death by the Vienna military tribunal on a charge of espionage. Miss Jamschek sailed from New York on the steamer on which Count Bernstorff, the former German ambassador to the United States, took passage after the declaration of war by the United States. She was charged with making the trip under the instructions of Czech organisations in the United States.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Fresh Beef Travels on a Rapid Schedule

Fresh beef for domestic markets goes from stockyards to retail stores within a period of about two weeks. Although chilled, this meat is not frozen; hence it cannot be stored for a rise in price.

A steer is dressed usually within twenty-four hours after purchase by the packer. The beef is held in a cooler at the packing house, at a temperature a little above freezing, for about three days.

It is then loaded into a refrigerator car where a similar temperature is maintained, and is in transit to market on an average of about six days.

Upon arrival at the branch distributing house, it is unloaded into a "cooler", and placed on sale.

Swift & Company requires all beef to be sold during the week of arrival, and the average of sales is within five days.

Any delay along the above journey means deterioration in the meat and loss to the packer.

SOLDIERS "ADOPTED" BY PIG

Odd Mascot That History Records as Attaching Itself to Company of Kentucky Volunteers.

There is in the history of the state of Kentucky an odd incident in connection with the invasion of Canada by the Kentucky troops in 1812. A company of volunteers, destined for Selby's army, assembled at Harrodsburg and formed a nucleus around which the military recruits of the country gathered on the march to the Ohio.

On the outskirts of the town named, so the story runs, the company saw two pigs fighting and delayed the march to watch the combat. When the march recommenced it was observed that the victorious pig was following the company; and when the men encamped at night, the animal lay down near at hand. Of course the soldiers fed their plump recruit. The next day the pig followed them, and this it did daily on the march to the river.

MILLERS FEAR LOSS OF GRAIN MONOPOLY

Request for Freight Advantage Reveals Position of Minneapolis.

That Minneapolis owes its monarchical position in the grain world to favorable freight rates as well as to other circumstances, was indicated last week, when grain dealers of that city joined in a protest to the Interstate Commerce Commission against an increase in freight rates, and also in a demand that they be given a "milling-in-transit" privilege.

The Minneapolis men claimed that if the new proposed grain schedules are put in effect, grain that heretofore went to Minneapolis because the growers had no other market available, can be shipped straight through to Chicago as cheaply as to Minneapolis.

Proves Farmer's Contention.

This bears out a contention that grain growers of North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana have long made, that Minneapolis was able to get a monopoly on the grain business because of discriminating rates in its favor. This has been recognized as the basic reason why there is virtually no flour milling business in North Dakota, and why $55,000,000 a year is lost to that state alone that would be retained there if grain were milled within its borders.

Most of the flour consumed in the Dakotas and eastern Montana is ground in Minneapolis and bears a freight burden from the Dakota and Montana fields to the Mill City and back to consumers. Some milling is done in those states by big Minneapolis millers operating small local mills, but the freight rate is added so that flour made locally is sold at as high a rate as though it had actually been ground in Minneapolis and shipped back.

Coupled with the grain men's demand that the rate be suspended, is the alternative demand, that in case the rate is not suspended, grain be granted a "milling in transit" privilege.

This means that grain grown in the Dakotas or Montana and consigned to Chicago, for instance, could be stopped in Minneapolis, ground into flour, resacked, and shipped on its way to Chicago at the same rate as though it had gone straight through in the original car.

The difference in a freight rate of this kind and a rate comprised of a local rate from point of origin to Minneapolis and again a local rate from Minneapolis to Chicago, would be vast in the aggregate.

Minneapolis grain interests feel that under new schedules their special privilege of low freight rates may be endangered and are making a vigorous fight to retain their hold on monopolizing the grain trade of the Northwest.

Every pound of sugar means cargo space, and cargo space is precious now.

In the fiscal year ending June 1, 1918, the United States exported to the allied countries 844,600,000 more pounds of meats, dairy products, vegetable oils, etc., than in the preceding year. The increase in the shipments of grain and grain products amounted to 80,900,000 bushels.

EXPECT HOSTILITY TIDE TO RECEDE

League Officials in St. Paul Base Belief on Supreme Court Decision.

A firm conviction that the hostility against the Non-partisan League that has been shown in Minnesota for the past several months, will weaken in view of the recent supreme court decision dismissing cases in Martin county against League leaders, was expressed at headquarters of the National Non-partisan League in St. Paul last week.

This conviction is based on the fact that County Attorney A. R. Allen dismissed of his own motion a case against Charles A. Lindbergh, League candidate for governor before the June primaries, and based his dismissal on the supreme court decision.

Announcement was also made that a similar case against Myer Brandvig, recent senatorial candidate of the League in the ninth senatorial district would be dismissed on motion of the prosecutor.

Court Kills Charges.

In these cases, as in those of President A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, thrown out by the supreme court, the general charge was that "disloyalty" was being preached and advocated as a League doctrine. The supreme court demolished this flimsy pretext for prosecutions by declaring that there was no taint of disloyalty in the League platform or in the resolutions adopted at St. Paul in September, 1917, where Senator LaFollette spoke.

Mr. Lindbergh was arrested June 8 by Sheriff W. S. Carver while shaking hands with friends at a picnic near Monterey, Martin county, and before he had begun to speak. Farmers, indignant at the proceeding, followed the sheriff and his victim to Fairmont, and put up $1,000 bail for his immediate release. People of Fairmont also emphatically told Mr. Lindbergh they did not approve of this method of fighting the farmers. Anger was increased by the fact that Sheriff Carver had only a few days before the picnic, telegraphed that he would guarantee Mr. Lindbergh protection, and had given official assurance that his meeting would be permitted.

Warrant on Slim Basis.

The case against Mr. Lindbergh also included President A. C. Townley of the League and George Griffith. Mr. Griffith had written a letter making arrangements for the picnic, and his signature at the bottom of the page was the excuse for including him. President Townley was included in the warrant because the letter on which Mr. Griffith wrote was a regular printed letterhead carrying Mr. Townley's name at the top.

The dropping of these cases because the charges can not be sustained, it is believed at League headquarters, will be the signal for a general letting up of antagonism to the farmers, and the recent charges of "disloyalty."

U. S. CLEARS UP CAR TANGLE

Grain Movement Assured by Government and Three Years' Inefficiency Is Removed.

The United States railroad administration has been successful in untangling the box car mess of three years standing so that the movement of wheat from the grain country will take place with dispatch.

Army Makes Record Meat Purchase.

Chicago.—The largest single order for bacon and canned meats in the history of the world—99,560,000 pounds of bacon and 134,000,000 pounds of canned meat—has just been placed by the Quartermaster's Department, U. S. A., for the American Army overseas.

Louis F. Swift, in commenting on this today, said the order will take the bacon from approximately 1,900,000 hogs and if other work were dropped to produce it, would be equivalent to the total bacon production of the five largest Chicago packers for nearly five weeks. However, six months will elapse before delivery is to be completed. Mr. Swift said:

"At the current prices on the day last week, when the purchase was made, the packers would pay the live stock producers about $80,000,000 for the necessary hogs and over $50,000,000 for about 900,000 cattle required. The cattle will cost us twice as much, and the hogs two and one-half times as much as in the pre-war period.

The whole order will be made up before the first of the year, despite the fact that, even before this purchase, one-fourth of the packers' facilities have been devoted to filling military demands. In order to get out the canned goods the packers will find it necessary to employ night and day shifts of canners. Notwithstanding the fact that the products are being rushed forward thus hurriedly, not a single complaint has been received on meats delivered to the armies abroad.

The five packers are now killing about 360,000 hogs weekly to keep abreast of martial and domestic needs."

Love's Estrangement.

The cruel wind tore at the waves as if to whirl them away.

The man and the maid sat close together on the beach and watched the storm.

"How the wind howls, darling," said she, yelling to make herself heard.

"Yes," shrieked her lover.

"Why does it howl?" she screamed.

"Dunno. Perhaps it's got the toothache," he bellowed.

"The toothache?" she howled. "However—"

"Yes," he roared. "Haven't you heard of the teeth of the gale?"

Then the wind howled worse than ever, as she handed him back the engagement ring.—Stray Stories.

Decidedly an Improvement.

Mrs. Flannagan was doubtful about the new patent carpet sweeper, but the traveler was expert in singing its praises, and the result was that she invested in one. Some time later the traveler was passing that way again, and he called on Mrs. Flannagan and asked:

"How do you find the new carpet sweeper working, madam? Far better than the old-fashioned broom, isn't it?"

"Shure," she replied, "it bates the ould broom into fits. Why, I can knock ould Flannagan three toimes as fur with it."

Might Try It.

"Egypt? Ah, that is a dreamy, romantic land, the land of lotus eaters."

"I never ate any lotus," declared Mrs. Wombat, briskly. "How is it served?"

"What a high color Miss Pringle has!"

"Well, it's gone up like everything else."

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant symptoms show themselves. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel, "brick dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules cleanse the kidneys and purify the blood. They frequently ward off attacks of the dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys. They have a beneficial effect, and often completely cure the diseases of the bodily organs, allied with the bladder and kidneys.

If you are troubled with soreness across the loins or with "simple" aches and pains in the back take warning, it may be the preliminary indications of some dreadful malady which can be warded off or cured if taken in time.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil Capsules. Accept No Substitutes.—Adv.

Watch Your Stomach In the Summer Time

Hot summer days upset the strong stomachs as well as weak ones.

Your vital forces reach their lowest level when the weather is the hottest. Then the danger is the greatest.

You can't guard your stomach and bowels too carefully through the long, hot season. Don't take any chance. Indigestion, sour stomach, that wretched, bloated feeling, belching, food repeating, pains that claw at stomach and bowels and an endless train of stomach ills that make life miserable are greatly aggravated in the hot weather.

This year of all others—it is vital that we keep our strength and full power at work. The extra war work, change of diet—all must be looked after because they hit us in the stomach. And now it is good news to tell you that tens of thousands are now using EATONIC—for all stomach and bowel ailments caused by too much acidity with such truly wonderful results that every one should always have it in the house.

EATONIC Tablets stop the cause of indigestive and dyspeptic ailments by neutralizing the poisonous fluids, acids and gases largely the result of superacidity. This makes the stomach pain-free and ready to perform its proper work.

You can have a good appetite in hot weather to eat the things you like when you want them if you take one or two EATONIC Tablets after each meal. Such quick, wonderful relief would seem unbelievable but for the fact that thousands of sufferers everywhere have received marvelous results from EATONIC. Obtain a large box of EATONIC Tablets from your own druggist who you know and can trust. If they fail, go back to him and he will gladly refund your money. Do this today. You will then know what real stomach comfort means in hot weather.

Will See It Through.

They had been married three months, and they were having their first quarrel—which shows that they were a remarkable couple.

"Evidently," she said icily, "you regret that you have married me. The step is not irrevocable, however. If you care to be released from your bonds—"

"Naw," he interrupted, impatiently. "I'm no 90-day recruit. I enlisted for the term of the war."

She couldn't think of any retort, so she maintained a scornful silence.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"All Out."

One day a rent collector knocked three times at a certain house, without even once getting a reply. Becoming enraged, he went back a fourth time, and in response to his knock an urchin opened the door. "Where were you all day?" demanded the collector. "I was out," replied the boy. "Where is your father?" "He's out." "Where is your mother?" "She's out." "Well," said the collector, "I will just go in and sit at the fire until some one of them returns." "But the fire's out, too," quickly responded the boy.

Cut Off the List.

"Do you know any pro-Germans?"

"No, and what's more, if I did, I'd cease knowing them."

How He Made His Money.

"Success," said the fat man, "comes to the industrious and to those who can take chances."

"Ah," said the other. "I, too, have done well these last few years! But I made my pile by sitting down and letting the other fellows do the sweating."

"Really? Well, if I were you, I should be ashamed to talk about it like that."

"Oh, would you? I'm not. I don't see any reason for being ashamed of owning a turkish bath!"

Sign of Intelligence.

"And is your dog intelligent?" asked the lady.

"I consider him so," replied the mere man.

"And does he do tricks?"

"Oh, no; he's too intelligent for that."

"Why do you consider him intelligent, then?"

"Why, madam, when the women folks are around that dog never opens his mouth!"

Overheard.

"Margaret irritates me dreadfully."

"Why?"

"She is so effeminate."

And a married woman's ideal man is one who thinks he has an ideal wife.

SUGAR PRICES

[illegible] sugar prices here compare [illegible] those in other countries?

[illegible] wholesale prices of refined [illegible] per pound in chief cities of [illegible] countries since sugar control [illegible] established in the United States [illegible] Food Administration:

	Montreal	London	Paris	Rome
October 1, 1917.	$0.0907	$0.0998	$0.1228	$0.263
May 1, 1918.	$0.0807	$0.1259	$0.1228	$0.263

[illegible] is the average retail price of [illegible]ar in the United States?

[illegible]rom 8½ to 10 cents a pound, [illegible] slightly in different locali[illegible]. During the Civil war sugar [illegible] at retail for 35 cents a pound, [illegible] there was no real shortage. [illegible] then was rampant; now [illegible] has been checked by Food Ad[illegible]istration regulation.

[illegible] have prices been regulated?

[illegible] voluntary agreement with pro[illegible] and refiners, with regard to [illegible] price of the raw sugar and re[illegible] margins, and by establishing [illegible]aximum margins for wholesalers [illegible] retailers.

[illegible] our prices be higher if there [illegible] no control of sugar?

The price would, in the face of [illegible] world shortage, have mounted [illegible], as it has in countries where [illegible] control exists. As the American [illegible] consume upward of 8 billion [illegible] annually, each cent per [illegible] increase would cost the peo[illegible] more than $80,000,000 a year.

[illegible] can I know whether my grocer [illegible] charging excessive prices for [illegible]?

Consult the list of "fair prices" [illegible] in the newspapers or [illegible] directly to the State Food Ad[illegible] or his representative in [illegible] vicinity.

[illegible] penalty is there for the small [illegible] grocer who is found guilty of [illegible] excessive prices?

[illegible] Wholesalers, all of whom operate [illegible] Federal licenses issued by [illegible] Food Administration, may cut [illegible] supplies.

Hoarding.

[illegible] sugar hoarding?

[illegible] on hand more than is [illegible] for a reasonable length of [illegible]. You should not fail to return [illegible] balance of sugar pur[illegible] for canning purposes.

[illegible] household have a month's sup[illegible] of sugar on hand?

[illegible] is not justifiable except in [illegible] cases where there are no [illegible] available for purchase, and it [illegible] be done only upon advice of [illegible] Federal Food Administrator or [illegible] deputy.

[illegible] are some of the evil effects of [illegible]?

[illegible] throws the distribution system [illegible] of joint; it raises prices; it im[illegible] a heavier burden upon those [illegible] doing their utmost; it re[illegible] in waste where there are no [illegible] facilities for storage; it dis[illegible] the honest.

[illegible] is the moral wrong of hoarding?

[illegible] is selfish, cowardly, unpatriotic. [illegible] is, in effect, taking unto one's [illegible] special privileges at a time [illegible] all Americans should be on [illegible] same footing, share and share [illegible].

[illegible] there any punishment for hoarders?

Yes. The Food Control Act pro[illegible] fines of not more than $5,000 [illegible] imprisonment for hoarding by [illegible], manufacturers or house[illegible].

General Sugar Conservation.

[illegible] sugar necessary in the diet?

[illegible] cane nor beet sugar is [illegible]. In the average Ameri[illegible] all the bodily needs may [illegible] be supplied by using [illegible] syrups, fresh, preserved and [illegible] fruits.

[illegible] are the general sugar saving [illegible]?

[illegible] all sugar sparingly and wher[illegible] possible use substitutes. Be [illegible] of confections and sweet [illegible]. The American people last [illegible] spent enough money for candy [illegible] feed all Belgium for two years. [illegible] sugar with honey, ma[illegible] syrup and corn syrup. Cultivate [illegible] taste for fruit in its natural sweet[illegible]. Sugar is a fuel-food. Get [illegible] from potatoes and other starchy [illegible] rather than from sugar. It [illegible] them as an energy-food only [illegible] it produces energy more [illegible].

[illegible] recipe calls for 1 cup of sugar, [illegible] amount of substitute may be [illegible]?

[illegible] recipe calls for 1 cup of sugar, [illegible] in its place 1 cup of strained [illegible] or 1½ to 2 cups of corn [illegible]. If honey or syrup is used, [illegible] amount of liquid called for in [illegible] recipe must be reduced ¼ cup [illegible] every cup of honey or syrup.

Canning.

[illegible] good conservation policy to [illegible] sugar for home canning and [illegible] of fruits?

Surplus perishable fruits would be [illegible] if not canned. Sugar used in [illegible] way goes farther than it does [illegible]. Every can put up by a [illegible] means a can released [illegible] commercial stocks for export [illegible] feed our armed forces and the [illegible].

[illegible] does the Food Administration at [illegible] encourage canning without [illegible]?

Because sugar may be added later [illegible] it is more plentiful.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

Great Wheat Stocks Isolated.

It's the shortage in ships that is putting the Allies and the United States on wheat rations. Great stocks of wheat are isolated in India and Australia. At great sacrifice in ship space and use the Allies are forced to secure some wheat from Argentina.

On January 1, Australia had stored 100,000,000 bushels of wheat that was ready for export—but there were no ships. Then came the new crop with an exportable surplus of 80,000,000 bushels. Now Australia has approximately 180,000,000 bushels waiting for ships.

India at the same time, had 70,000,000 bushels of wheat stored for export. During April 50,000,000 bushels more out of the new crop will be added to the pile.

Argentina closed the last shipping season with 11,000,000 bushels of wheat left in the stock available for export. The new crop will add 135,000,000 to the left over.

It is not a problem that the wheat does not exist in the world—it is entirely a problem of shipping, which has thrown on America the obligation of dividing our stock with the Allies

While we'er canning the Kaiser.

Chorus

Oh Bill! Oh Bill! We're on the job to day.
Oh Bill! Oh Bill! We'el seal
you so you'll stay,
We'll put you up with ginger in the good old Yankee way,
While we are canning the Kaiser.

Hear the song we'er singing on the

Hear the Tommies cheering and see the Poilus prance,
Africans, Kennucks and Scots

While we are canning the Kaiser.

Bring the guns from Bethlehem

Bring the beans from Boston and

Bring a load of soda pop, and pull

While we are canning the Kaiser.

Come you men from Dixieland you

Come you Texas cowboys and you

From Florida to Oregon, we boast

While we are canning the Kaiser.

Now we're started on the job, we

While we are canning the Kaiser.

The Peat Farm Visiting Day

The first annual visiting day at the Golden Valley experimental peat farm was a decided success. The experiments proved that nearly all kinds of crops can be raised on peat soil under varying conditions and in almost any kind of a season. Potash seems to be the best commercial fertilizer and also the cheapest. Common manure gives about the same results. Burning the top soil is cheapest and best for the average farmer. This meeting was attended by representative men and women from a large portion of the state. Among them were State Fire Warden Cox and the Forest Ranger. They met with the farmers and a meeting was arranged to form an association for mutual protection while burning the peat. Prof. Selvig presided and the program commenced with a patriotic song. Sen. D. P. O'Neil was next introduced as the father of the bill that made the experimental peat farm possible. Mr. O'Neil's speech was greatly enjoyed by his fellow farmers. Several others gave short talks and then Prof. Alway the state soil expert was introduced and gave a short history, both ancient and modern, of peat farming. He urged all interested to send for the results of this years experiments to the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, Minn.

The experimental plots this year are on the farm of Mrs. Carl Dahl near Golden Valley postoffice. Mrs. Dahl has a beautiful and well improved farm and home and their crops are good, which shows what the peat soil will raise when it has been burned. In fact the crops are good almost every where and a plentiful harvest is assured.

This first visiting day was a big advertisement for our neighbors to the east and we rejoice with them over the success of the event.

Save all the waste and help win the war for humanity.

He told his folks not to worry about him and added that they could be proud that they had a boy to fight in defense of their country.

Take Notice

Recently a concern has come into existence known as the "Federal Farm Bureau" with several branch offices throughout the country, one of which is located in the city of St. Paul.

The Executive Committee of the Marshall County Farm Bureau wishes to announce that this concern has no connection whatsoever with the County Farm Bureau movement either in Marshall County or elsewhere.

The County Farm Bureau movement is organized to cooperate with State and Government in conducting food production campaign and in promoting permanent improvement of agriculture and farm life.

As near as can be learned the principal business of the "Federal Farm Bureau" is to sell a so-called Farm Accounting System being quoted at $5.00. It is well to state that certain testimonials have been secured by this concern from Government officials advocating farm accounting, particularly in connection with income tax reporting by which it appears the concern may be attempting to represent to the farmers that its system has been especially endorsed by the Federal Government.

The Farm Bureau Executive Committee does not want to be understood to desire to do any injury to the concern issuing this account book or to discourage anyone from keeping farm accounts. It simply desires to make it clear that it has no relationship with the concern.

It is well to state that a simple and practical farm account book was recently prepared by the Agricultural Extension Division, University Farm, St. Paul, Minnesota, and distributed at a cost of ten cents each. Many of the bankers of the state have been cooperating in distributing these books. More information may be obtained concerning such at the Farm Bureau headquarters.

Read to the Children.

When children read a book to themselves the words do not leave the same impression upon their minds as when they hear them read aloud. When some one reads a book to them they learn how to pronounce those words which puzzled them; and if they do not know the meaning, it is easy to ask.

HOW NAMES BECOME CHANGED

Sometimes Intentionally, but More Often Due to the "Wear and Tear of Time."

"Who Was Who?" is the suggested title for a new book to contain the names of all persons who have changed their names. A new publication will do that in England. If the work is carried back far enough it will be found that scarcely a name has survived the wear and tear of time. Some of the changes are intentional, like our daily applications in court, but most of them are due to bad spellers or poor pronunciation and phonetic spelling to express the errors of pronunciation. Our Dutch ancestors had a habit of cutting off everything that went down to and including the "Van." The name "Burch" was originally "Birch" and meant a man who lived by the birch tree. It is a curious comment on this new book that the London newspaper editor who is putting it out has juggled his own name after the English custom, when taking a title. Good names are a misfortune when they are used like family portraits to make snobs.—Exchange.

VESLE CLEARED OF ENEMY FORCE

Germans Extend Their Extensive Retreat to Third Region, Evacuating River Defenses.

RESISTANCE STIFFENS

Teutons Assume Defensive From Rheims to Ypres and Withdrawal Over Aisne River Is Forecast—Wide Area Threatened.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Allied pursuit of the offensive continues and latest reports are that only a few enemy troops remain south of the Vesle, says the Havas agency. Allied troops hold the entire southern bank of the Vesle between Fismes and Rheims. Stubborn resistance was made by Prussian and Bavarian guards between Muizon and Champigny, but they were forced back, suffering heavy losses.

London, Aug. 6.—Weakened by the defeat suffered on the Soissons-Rheims front, the Germans apparently are preparing to assume the defensive on the front from Ypres to Rheims.

Southeast of Amiens on the old Montdidier sector the Germans have fallen back across the Avre river over a wide front, while northeast of Amiens, in the region of Albert, a similar retrograde movement has been made across the Ancre. The German official communication in admitting the withdrawal near Albert, declares the maneuver was carried out without interference by the British.

Yanks Take Fismes by Storm.

Between Soissons and Rheims the Vesle virtually has been cleared of enemy troops and Fismes is in the hands of the Americans, having been carried by storm. Fismes was Germany's great ammunition and supply depot, midway on the railway between Soissons and Rheims.

French Cross Aisne.

West of Rheims the French have made important gains and in the region of Soissons the French are north of the Aisne. The enemy resistance apparently has been growing stronger from Fismes east to Rheims. However, the Vesle is in flood and as large swamps line its course west of Rheims it is possible the resistance may be due to the inability of the Germans to move to the north bank.

Allied troops, having flattened out the Marne pocket, have not advanced so rapidly during the last 48 hours. The leading units keep in close touch with the Germans, but it is probable that heavy artillery will have to be brought up if the Germans persist in trying to hold at various points along the Vesle.

Further German Retreat Seen.

There is little doubt in Allied capitals that the German crown prince will retire to the north of the Aisne. His resistance to French pressure in the Rheims region not unlikely is for the purpose of holding the Allies from breaking through and also to prevent them from getting between the Vesle and the Aisne before he can get his troops to the northern stream.

Foe Abandons Two Rivers.

British troops now hold Hamel and Dernacourt on the west bank of the Ancre and the Germans are to the east of the river. At Albert, where the Ancre divides the town, the situation is not clear.

From Mesnil St. Georges, west of Montdidier, to Braches, the Germans are retiring across the Avre. Their retrograde movement already has averaged two miles on a seven mile front. The French hold Braches. They have penetrated into Hargicourt and are on the outskirts of Courtemarche.

FEW WOUNDED YANKS TO DIE

Estimates Show That All But One in 20 Will Live.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Of the American soldiers wounded in the Marne-Aisne offensive, probably fewer than one in 20 will die from their wounds, more than four-fifths will be returned to service and only 14 per cent will be discharged for disability, according to a statement of the chief of staff, based on the officially attested experience of the Allies during the four years of war.

CONFERENCE ON WHEAT CROP

Government Price Among Matters to Be Considered.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The joint agricultural advisory committee of the agricultural department and the food administration have begun a series of conferences here to consider questions related to the 1919 wheat crop. The government price for 1919 will be among the matters discussed and recommendations probably will be made to President Wilson.

Fast Railroad Work.

London, Aug. 6.—"Over English railroads in a country strange to them and under unfamiliar conditions, American officers directing the transportation of troops to the front are making records today surpassing the best that has been done in the states," says the Weekly Dispatch in describing the feeding and rail transport of the American armies arriving in Europe. "On July 7, 19 trains with a total of 220 coaches, carried 10,320 men from an American camp in six hours."

BAKER EXPLAINS DRAFT CHANGES

Wants Congress to Amend Law Making Men From 18 to 45 Years Eligible.

TO CALL YOUTHS LAST

Secretary of War Asserts Department Has in Mind Simply to Secure a Large Enough Army to Conquer Germany.

Washington, Aug. 6.—In discussing the war department's recommendations to Congress of draft ages from 18 to 45 years, Secretary Baker said there was no intention of calling to the colors youths between 18 and 19 until the other classes have become exhausted.

This policy was decided on, he said, in order to give the youths an opportunity to mature before they join the army.

After formally announcing the new draft ages, Secretary Baker said all the possible combinations of age limits were carefully studied and it was found that to get the men into class 1 for the program proposed, 18 to 45 was necessary.

To Hold Young Men.

He said, however, that the bill as read to Congress, will contain a provision authorizing the president to call men out of class 1 by classes according to age, so that if it is found possible the men between 18 and 19 will be called out later than the older men found eligible to class 1.

The War department program, the war secretary said, is purely a military one and cannot be called a conscription of labor, although it naturally will have the effect of putting at useful labor or in the army all able-bodied men within the age limit as they finally will be fixed by Congress.

In recommending this extension of the age limits, Mr. Baker continued, the department had it in mind simply to get for the army the number of men believed necessary to defeat Germany.

Mr. Baker gave it as his opinion that so far, about 1,600,000 had been drafted out of class 1 from the existing list.

PEOPLE NOW FEAR DEFEAT

German Writer Assails Public for Lack of Confidence.

Amsterdam, Aug. 6.—Count Reventlow, writing in the Tages Zeitung of Berlin on the anniversary of the fourth year of the war, says:

"The beginning of the fifth year of the war is marked in a large part of the German press by reflections which are overflowing with resignation, melancholy and whining."

The writer continues:

"The tearful defeatism which runs through the German public life these days, has a perniciously damning effect, and, more so, because with some people the underlying view may be perceived or is extremely stated by them that if one would end the war it would, after all be an easy thing to do, as one need only join Grey and Wilson in the league of nations."

FAVORS RETAIL SALES TAX

House Subcommittee Plans to Raise Money On Luxuries.

Washington, Aug. 6.—A 10 per cent tax on retail sales of a wide variety of commonly classified luxuries from jewelry to meerschaum pipes and from smoking jackets to silk hosiery, will be recommended to the full House Ways and Means committee as the result of deliberations of the subcommittee on luxuries.

The semi-luxuries, goods which are in the class where it is difficult to distinguish between the real necessity and the real luxury, such as clothing, will be left to a more searching inquiry.

SENT 300,000 DURING JULY

War Department Makes Record Shipment of Troops.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Gen. March, chief of staff, has issued the following statement:

"The number of men embarked during the month of July, just closed, was over 300,000. That breaks the record. The previous high record was in the preceding month, when we reached 276,000. The number of men embarked to France is now over 1,300,000."

GEN. PERSHING IS HONORED

Paris, Aug. 6.—General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American expeditionary forces in France, has been awarded the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, by the French government.

Plans to Ease Sailors' Life.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Appointment of a special committee to make a study of the manpower for the merchant marine and future trade requirements was announced by the Shipping board. It includes George Nichols, a cotton goods manufacturer of Boston and New York; A. S. Hebble of New York, who is connected with the Southern Pacific shipping service, and Dr. E. M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college. Headquarters of the committee will be in New York.

Chaplain Was in the Way.

Sergt. Jimmy Wilde, flyweight boxing champion of the world, tells this war story:

An army chaplain came across a baggage column with a wagon stuck fast.

"Men, I see you're in difficulties," he said. "Can I be of any assistance?"

"Yes, sir," exclaimed one of the drivers, "by making yourself scarce. You see, we can't very well say to the horses what they'd understand while you're about."

Lives 200 Years!

For more than 200 years, Haarlem Oil, the famous national remedy of Holland, has been recognized as an infallible relief from all forms of kidney and bladder disorders. Its very age is proof that it must have unusual merit.

This is the good old remedy that has stood the test for hundreds of years, prepared in the proper quantity and convenient form to take. But be sure to get the genuine GOLD MEDAL brand. In boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

Her Ambition Not High.

Mother had changed the style of her young daughter's hair dressing and Betty was remonstrating.

"Why, Betty," explained mother, "you should like this way of wearing your hair. It makes you resemble your grandmother, and she was a splendid character."

"But, mother," objected Betty, "I don't want to be a splendid character when I grow up. I want to be a teacher."

Moorhead.—Rev. Martin Anderson, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church of Moorhead, will enter the war service as an army chaplain. Rev. Anderson has been nominated for a chaplaincy by the Lutheran church council.

Winona.—Mrs. Adelia B. Comfort of Milwaukee, former resident of Winona, is the originator of the "comfort kits" now being provided by the Red Cross for the soldiers and sailors. Mrs. Comfort lived in Winona during the '80s.

Two Harbors.—Mrs. Lee McFarlane, daughter of Mrs. William Newell of Two Harbors, who was one of those injured in an automobile accident near the city limits, gave birth to a son within a few hours after arriving at a local hospital.

St. Charles.—Lieut. Herbert Chamberlain, 23 years old, was drowned at Camp Lee, Va., while on pontoon drill, according to a message received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain of this village. The body has not been recovered.

Deerwood.—The county commissioners have decided to open the Crow Wing-Aitkin county sanatorium early in August. The new institution will accommodate twenty-six tuberculosis patients and is located one mile south of this village and about twenty-five miles from Brainerd, the county seat.

Crookston.—After a race for miles through Minnesota and North Dakota, often at a rate of forty miles an hour, authorities have apprehended an alleged auto thief, giving his name as Ed Highland, who is charged with having taken a car from the Ramstad Auto company at Greenbush, Minn. He is now in the Crookston jail awaiting trial.

Minneapolis.—The Dan Patch line, a shortline railroad, went under the hammer here yesterday in accordance with a Federal court order. A group of local and Southern Minnesota business men made the only bid. They obtained the property for $350,000 and hereafter will operate it under the name of the Minneapolis, Northfield & Southern railway.

St. James.—Bernard Remple, president of the People's bank at Butterfield, was ordered held to the Watonwan county grand jury on a charge of disloyalty. Remple, who is thought to be worth $250,000, is alleged to have said the German troops would get the Americans into the pocket on the French front and kill them off, as they had no business in France.

Mankato.—Photographer J. R. Snow of this city has been appointed chairman of Minnesota by the Photographers' Association of America to superintend the war work drive of the association in this state. Each state chairman is to name a chairman in each city, and each city chairman is to organize and develop the present organization as sections of the Photographers' Association of America.

Fairmont.—Mrs. R. S. Cross, wife of Rev. R. S. Cross and mother of Mrs. J. A. A. Burnquist, was seriously injured when an automobile in which she was riding with Mrs. Robert Livingston overturned on the state road about eight miles south of Fairmont. Mrs. Cross was pinned beneath one of the running boards, which lay across her head, and a rib was broken. Her recovery is practically certain.

Breckenridge. — Herbert A. Hard, state drainage engineer for North Dakota, was in the city last week and appeared before the board of county commissioners in an effort to induce them to appropriate the sum of $300 as Wilkin county's share of the expense in an adequate flood survey of the territory drained by the Otter Tail, Bois de Sioux and Red Rivers. Mr. Hard's efforts were successful and Wilkin county is now a member of the Tri-State Flood Control association.

St. Paul.—Minnesota ended a fiscal year of record-breaking prosperity, despite the war, July 31, with $8,250,000 of cash in the treasury, the largest year-end balance in the annals of the state, according to State Treasurer Henry Rines. State business for the year made up a grand total of $56,000,000, an increase of $6,000,000 over the preceding fiscal year. Receipts were $28,394,000 and disbursements $22,725,974 for the year just ended, compared with $23,983,440 in receipts and $26,109,568 disbursements during the 1916-17 fiscal period.

Brainerd.—An important meeting of the Commercial club secretaries of the state is to be called soon by Fred T. Lincoln, president of the League of Minnesota Community clubs, established at the state university in September, 1916. It is possible that Brainerd will be the city to entertain these men.

Red Lake Falls.—Fred Baltisberger, a selective draft man, was killed instantly two miles south of here when the automobile in which he was riding overturned. Baltisberger was pinned under the machine and his chest crushed.

Morris.—John Shanley, son of Mrs. M. Shanley, St. Paul, was drowned a mile from here while bathing at Olson's lake.

Albert Lea.—Elmer Lebeck, 24 years old, a farmer living near Manchester, was instantly killed when he was struck by a freight train on the M. & St. L. railroad about a mile north of the village.

St. Peter.—A large enrollment of students is expected this year at Gustavus Adolphus college. It is expected that girls will far outnumber the boys, but it is believed that the membership will be as large as last year.

Little Falls. — The annual exhibition of the Morrison County Fair society will be held here Sept. 14 to 17. Two thousand dollars will be offered in prizes. Agriculture and the school departments have the largest allotments.

St. Paul.—The congested condition of the Fergus Falls state hospital will be relieved by arrangements for the transfer of 175 patients to the institution at Willmar, which until a year ago was used exclusively for treatment of liquor and drug addicts.

Camp Dodge.—Private Andrew G. Prince of Hopkins, Minn., found guilty by general court-martial for refusing to sign enlistment, assignment and qualification cards, was sentenced to 15 years in the Leavenworth disciplinary barracks.

Minneapolis.—Local mills have virtually ceased grinding barley flour because of government regulations that the product shall not contain more than 1½ per cent of fat. Millers contend that 2½ per cent is a fair proportion and they are expecting a modification of the ruling.

Tower.—At a special meeting of the city council, Joseph Stonich, tailor, and G. Lee Fleming, superintendent of schools of District No. 9, were named as aldermen to succeed Charles Roland and O. C. Sovde, who resigned some weeks ago. Mr. Stonich has had previous experience on the council and was a candidate for alderman at the last election.

St. Paul.—Governor Burnquist will appoint a board of inquiry to investigate charges of irregularities in the Fourth infantry, now the First infantry of the new Minnesota National Guard, filed recently by J. C. Melville, Minneapolis, who resigned as captain of Company A. The personnel of the board, the governor indicated, may be made public today.

Ironton. — Messrs. McAlpine and Proctor and Supt. Warren of the Inland Steel corporation were in Minneapolis looking after the coal situation for the coming winter. They were promised by the fuel administration that the Cuyuna range would not suffer for want of coal since the district was producing material necessary for the continuance of the war.

St. Paul.—That ten carloads of eggs shipped from Newburg, N. D., have been seized by Minnesota authorities after they crossed the Dakota line was revealed when James Sorenson, state dairy and food commissioner, opened a campaign to prevent interstate shipment of bad eggs. He said that in the last year $1,500,000 had been lost by Minnesota dealers because of decomposed eggs having been shipped to this state.

Canby.—A big Studebaker six, driven by Charlie Fickbohm, in attempting to avoid a collision with a Ford car, nearly caused the death of several members of the Herman Fickbohm family, who were sitting on the front porch of their home. Young Fickbohm lost control of the car and it leaped the curbing at high speed, crashed through the posts supporting the porch and pinned Mrs. Marvin Ostensoe, Mrs. Allen and little Lucille Fickbohm against the house.

Pipestone. — A thousand dollars worth of whisky, evidently intended for the bootleggers at Sioux City, will be used for medicinal purposes at the army hospitals, as the result of the arrest of C. F. Denkman of Sioux City, just outside of Trotsky. In the municipal court Denkman was fined $100. The whisky was ordered confiscated by the court and will be shipped from Pipestone to St. Paul, where Adjutant General Rhinow will take it in charge for distribution to army hospitals.

Red Lake Falls.—Business men in the towns of Red Lake county have come forward as a unit in agreeing to assist the farmers of the county in harvesting their crops if needed. At the request of County Agent Charles C. Lake they have signed pledge cards binding themselves to work four days a week for two weeks, Saturdays excepted, on whatever farms they might be sent by the local labor agents. Business men of Plummer, Oklee and Brooks had already taken similar action.

Wells. — Whistles blow daily in Wells at 4 p. m. and again at 5 p. m., when stores, offices and other business places close and business and professional men and other townspeople gather at the city hall and hike for the harvest fields to help the farmers gather the crop. Hundreds of harvest helpers turn out every day except Saturdays and Sundays, and there is no serious farm labor shortage. Fred B. Stubs, Faribault, director of the State Public Safety commission, effected the Wells plan.

Red Wing.—Lightning played another one of its freakish tricks when the home of Bert Rand was struck by a bolt, which evidently entered through the chimney and went out the kitchen door without leaving so much as a mark. Mrs. Rand, who was sitting in the kitchen of her home, heard the crash and saw a ball of fire go through the doorway, but no damage of any kind resulted.

Alexandria.—Vernon Mohawk, 15 year-old son of Joshua Mohawk of this city, was drowned in Lake Louise as the result of an attempt to save his companion.

HOW FARM FOLKS HELP IN THE WAR

Little Stories From Real Life Illustrating How They Back Up Uncle Sam.

LIBERTY BONDS TEACH THRIFT

Encourage Saving Habit in Those Who Never Saved Before—Great Crisis Demands the Best From All of Us.

By HERBERT MYRICK.

President of the National Farm Power Group of Agricultural Papers.

Did you read that item in the newspapers the other day, of a one-time distinguished and prosperous citizen of Chicago who died suddenly in the hospital, unknown, alone, unloved? He was an old man, a victim of adversity, forgotten by the acquaintances of his prosperity. The authorities were about to consign the body to the potters' field when they found in his pocket a Liberty bond for $50 and a certificate of a fraternal lodge to which he had once belonged. That society was notified and gave him a Christian burial, the undertaker and cemetery accepting the bond in payment for coffin and lot.

Jamie, We Salute You!

A good man and true is Jamie Bliss, age five years, who lives with mamma and papa on a farm near Eau Claire, Wis. Jamie had heard all the discussion about Liberty bonds and Thrift stamps, and, not yet being established in business for himself, was puzzled a little to know how such a little boy could have a part in this great undertaking. At the same time he learned how sorely our fighting men need wool and the great idea came to him. Without consulting anyone, Jamie started about the farm harvesting from hedges and wire fences the little wisps of wool left there as his father's sheep pastured. As a result of his expedition Jamie came into the house with his pockets and inside of his waist bulging with wool. Mamma Bliss was somewhat astonished when he explained that he was gathering wool to sell so he could buy Thrift stamps, but being a wise mother, she saw the point quickly.

Since then Honorable Jamie, wool gatherer to Uncle Sam, makes daily excursions into the sheep pasture. Already his wool has purchased two $5 War Savings stamps and a good start toward another one. This, folks, is something which was not taught out of a book, but it is a sample of the patriotic citizenship now growing up, ready to stand at the helm a few decades hence.

Becoming a Bondholder.

Among my friends for years is a hard-working farmer with wife and several children. He never seemed to quite "get there." Though he worked hard, he just lacked the knack of getting a bit ahead. During the past year he seemed to have prospered. When I saw him last week he said:

"It's this way: I subscribed $50 for a Liberty bond last year, and simply had to pay for it. I did so by paying in every dollar I could spare, instead of spending money for things we could just as well do without. It is curious how one accumulates if they go at it that way.

"I see now that one reason why I never saved any money was because I didn't have anything like this to take my cash a little at a time. I used to think that I would begin saving when I had my bills paid and $25 to the good, but I have discovered at this late date that the way to do it is to save a little at a time and put it by as you get it. I have been surprised to find that the same is true of so many other farmers, especially renters. What they have put into the Liberty bond is money that would have slipped through their fingers. They would have nothing to show for it, whereas now they have got a bond earning good interest, while their money is helping to lick the kaiser. My first bond is now paid in full and I am beginning to save up my subscription to the fourth Liberty bond."

This reminds me of still another case where the boys and girls have earned and saved along with their parents until their subscription for each of the three Liberty loans are now paid up. They did not see how they could raise the money for their first subscription, but their second was double that, and the third was still larger. The oldest boy was taken by the draft, which made the family all the more determined. The mother is saving her egg money, each of the children has a bit of a garden from which they are selling stuff, one of the girls is a member of the pig club and the oldest boy still at home has quarter of an acre of onions that promises a splendid crop. The father is harvesting a heavy crop of wheat, and last spring made up his mind to devote not less than one third of the proceeds to the war. This one family is planning to subscribe $1,000 for the fourth Liberty loan, and if all goes well, will be able to pay down nearly half the amount.

A Horde of Huns at Your Door.

You know what they would do to you and your women—a fate far worse than death. You know how Huns have laid bare the countryside they have conquered—no animal or plant allowed to survive, even trees and vines cut off close to the ground. Rural homes demolished, barns burned.

You know how the Boches enslave the farmers of Belgium, Poland, the Ukraine. Words cannot depict the horror of it.

To prevent the same thing happening right here to you and your family, to your own community, state and nation—that is what our boys are fighting for "over there."

It is a question of right over might! Shall liberty be destroyed by slavery? This is the question the war is to answer for you and me and for generations yet unborn.

This final struggle for the survival of the fittest among humans demands every ounce of our energy, every cent of our money. Noble men and women are patriotically devoting some or all of their time, without money and without price, to help Uncle Sam win a victory. Others are giving produce or money to the good cause. Millions of our healthiest young men, the very seed of the race, are sacrificing their lives that you and I and others may live in peace.

The very least that each of us can do now is to lend our money to Uncle Sam so that he will have the funds with which to fight. The war is costing billions. The only way the government can get the money is to borrow it from the people or tax it out of them. The more the public lends to the government, the less taxes it will have to pay.

You can help in this crisis by subscribing to the fourth Liberty loan. These government bonds are the safest investment on earth. They are absolutely good. They yield good interest. You can get your interest money twice a year. If you have to use your principal, you can sell your bond any minute, or you can use it as security at the bank to borrow for temporary wants. The latter is the better way, because it doesn't help the government any for you to sell your bond or for somebody else to buy your bond. Get your bond direct from the government; then your money goes direct to the government and will be used by it to pay the wages of soldiers and sailors and to furnish the ships and munitions with which they shall win the victory.

Must Do Our Best.

It is up to each of us to do not our bit but our best. It's a question of life or death. Simplify, economize, go without things, so that the effort, time, thought and money thus saved may be transmuted into the things that shall enable the American flag to fly over Berlin—a symbol of the new civilization which is to insure peace through victory

In our rural homes, on our farms, in the trenches, in other branches of service, in subscriptions to the Liberty bonds and War stamps, our American farmers have repeatedly gone over the top. Their efforts, their patriotism, their loyalty, have been universally recognized. Now in this fourth Liberty loan our rural folks will show the same generous confidence in the eternal principles of human liberty and of self government that were championed by those Middlesex farmers:

"Their flags to April breeze unfurled,
Who fired the shot heard 'round the world."

GOES WOOING IN AN AIRSHIP

Maiden's Neighbors in London Suburb Have Fears for Their Roofs.

London. A pretty bit of chivalry was seen in a London suburb the other day. Early in the morning the knight-errant was out on his airplane and was flying low—so low as to make the tenants of the terrace anxious about their roofs.

On the miniature lawn in the center of the 30-foot garden the maiden waited until there fluttered down through the morning mist a little streamer of white material. It missed the garden and fell into the roadway.

The maiden rushed out and picked up her love letter.

The neighbors' curtains resumed their stillness, and the little episode of these grim days was closed.

Discard Hun Music Books.

San Francisco. Because several songs in the music books used in California public schools savored of German origin, with perhaps a trace of the well-known German propaganda in them, the state board of education has decreed that the books must go into the discard. A new series has been prepared for the pupils, which, it is announced, is "free from all German taint."

LIBERTY BOND IN FIRE

Mixed With Newspapers It Was Used for Kindling.

Mrs. Charles Stoeckel of Georgetown, Del., found it rather cool and damp one day recently and decided to kindle a little wood fire in one of her stoves. She used an old newspaper or two picked up from the center table, to start the wood. Among the papers was a $50 Liberty bond, which her husband had just purchased at the bank for his daughter Nellie, and had laid on the table until he could present it. The bond was burned to ashes, but Stoeckel is trying to get a new one, as he has the number and the bank officials distinctly remember him buying it.

PHTHISIS AS DEADLY AS WAR

Expert Says That in Four Years It Has Killed as Many as Have Died in Battle.

The war has served effectually to disclose that during the four years of hostilities mortality from tuberculosis in the civilian population and in the armies of all the countries engaged has at least approximated the total number of soldiers killed in battle, according to Dr. Livingstone Farrand. As director of the American commission for the prevention of tuberculosis in France Doctor Farrand will resume his work overseas within a few days. He returned to the United States for graduation exercises of the University of Colorado, of which he is president.

"To make our country really safe for democracy we must first make it healthy," is the slogan Doctor Farrand suggests.

Of the men called to the colors in this country's first draft summons 50,000 were found to be tubercular, his appeal states. This, it declares, is one of the striking indications of the prevalence to the disease in the United States.

Short and Pointed Message.

Few women have been so hard worked since the war as Mrs. Bramwell Booth, wife of the Salvation Army chief. But in her scant leisure Mrs. Bramwell Booth can tell a good story. One of them concerns a certain drunkard who fell into the hands of the Salvation Army.

"He had been drunk for so long," said Mrs. Bramwell Booth, "that he was able to give us very little information about himself. Eventually, however, we discovered that he was married and that his deserted wife lived in a town in the Midlands. We immediately telegraphed to her: 'We have found your husband.' In a very short time we got the reply: 'You can keep him!'"

Do This After You Eat

Hot Weather "Out of Fix" Stomachs Easily Put Right

When hot weather comes, stomach and bowel miseries begin. Strong, sound stomachs as well as weak ones are easily affected by the harmful gases and acids so often produced in the things we eat and drink during hot weather. Winter—Nature's icebox, is gone—hot weather breeds the poisonous germs that cause ptomaine poison in all its many forms.

Every one knows that the after-eating nausea, belching, that wretched, bloated, "lumpy" feeling, sour stomach, heartburn, food repeating, and other forms of indigestion and dyspepsia are far more frequent during hot weather. It is the time when you have to guard constantly against an upset stomach and the many ills that are always apt to follow. Then again—we have the world's war to win—with the change of diet and extra work which means we must all carefully guard our stomachs this year—keep ourselves fit and fine.

A marvelous relief and prevention has been found for stomach sufferers, which makes it possible for you to eat the things you like best without a single unpleasant thought of what may follow. EATONIC Tablets, good tasting, quick acting, and absolutely harmless, have already proven an untold blessing to thousands of people.

One or two EATONIC Tablets after meals work wonders. They sweeten and purify the stomach by neutralizing the trouble-making acids and gases and stop the griping pains of indigestion and other stomach and bowel disturbances.

And the best part of it is—you can be your own judge. Just try EATONIC. Let your own stomach tell you the truth. If you are not pleased then they don't cost you one penny.

Druggists are amazed at the astonishing reports from EATONIC users, who have found EATONIC a quick, wonderful relief for stomach ailments.

So we tell you to get a large box of EATONIC from your druggist, whom you know and can trust, and then if EATONIC is not suited to your case, return it to your druggist at once and get back your money. That's a fair, square offer. Every person is urged to make the test. Let your own stomach tell you the truth. So start using EATONIC today.

Three times each day every American has opportunity to be of direct, practical help to the men on the battle front.

NATIONAL PROGRAM.

SAVE SUGAR. Two pounds per person per month is the American honor-ration. Try to eat less, and add to the National surplus for canning. Do this that the fighting forces may be kept fully supplied, and that England, France and Italy may receive their greatly restricted requirements.

SAVE BEEF. Food for fighting men. Save the large carcasses for them by restricting yourself to small cuts, by-products and trimmings—hearts, tongues, livers. We have enough increase supply of pork this summer to permit economical expansion in its use, to relieve the pressure on beef.

SAVE WHEAT. Keep on saving, though the harvest is large. Build up war reserves by persistent conservation. Without American wheat saved from the last harvest the Allied cause would have been lost. The margin next year must not be so narrow.

USE FRUITS. Take advantage of the natural sugar in fruits. Can without sugar, or with little sugar. Add sugar later when it will be more plentiful. Dried fruits, such as raisins, dates and figs, have much sugar in them. Use honey, maple products and sirups when available.

USE VEGETABLES. Make local vegetables fill as large a place as possible in your diet, thus conserving not only meat and wheat, but transportation and labor. Don't use canned goods now, while the fresh are available.

USE DAIRY PRODUCTS. Always give the children plenty of milk, milk products and eggs. Use them yourselves freely now, and thus conserve meat for export.

USE FISH. New species are being popularized and supplies increased. Eat this nutritious but perishable food several times a week and let the non-perishables go abroad.

RESULTS: OUR EFFORTS DURING THE FISCAL YEAR 1917-18 SENT THE ALLIES 18,844,600,000 POUNDS MORE MEAT AND FATS AND 80,900,000 BUSHELS MORE CEREALS THAN DURING 1916-1917. FROM AMERICAN SOURCES OF SUPPLY ALSO 1,956,400,000 POUNDS MORE SUGAR WAS SHIPPED THAN THE PRE-WAR ANNUAL AVERAGE.

How Many Pounds Will You Save For Them In 1918-1919?

Profits and Prices
Profits may be considered from two angles:
1st—Their effect on prices;
2nd—As a return to investors.
When profits are small as compared with sales, they have little effect on prices.
Swift & Company's profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound on all products sold, and if eliminated entirely would have practically no effect on prices.
Swift & Company paid 10 per cent dividends to over 20,000 stockholders out of its 1917 profits. It also had to build extensions and improvements out of profits; to finance large stocks of goods made necessary by unprecedented requirements of the United States and Allied Governments; and to provide protection against the day of declining markets.
Is it fair to call this profiteering?

First Community War Bride

On Saturday evening Aug. 10th at Thief River Falls before Judge Tarrant occurred the marriage of Olga Saastad to Audley H. Ahlborn of the Marine Corps, stationed at Annapolis, Maryland.

The marriage came as a complete surprise to the relatives and many friends of the bride.

The bride is well known in this community, having lived here practically all her life.

The groom, formally of Thief River Falls but employed at the Freight Account Department at the Union depot at Minneapolis until sixteen months ago when he enlisted in the marine corps. He was originally in that detachment that has done such wonderful work in France but he was transferred to guard duty at the Radio Station near Annapolis.

He obtained a ten day furlough and arrived at Holt Friday with his bride-to-be, returning to T. R. Falls Saturday afternoon. As Mr. Ahlborn had to leave Sunday evening for Maryland, they returned to the Saastad home for a few hours visit on Sunday.

Mrs. Ahlborn will remain at her parental home as it is not yet certain whether Mr. Ahlborn will remain stationed at Annapolis very long.

The following prices were agreed upon which seemed to be very agreeable to the farmers in the western part of the county, viz: for threshing flax 15cents a bushel, wheat and rye 7c, barley 5c and oats 4c. If for any reason the crop on any farm should be very poor the price of threshing will be set at a certain price per hour according to circumstances.

The women of America are playing a mighty important part in our serious obligation to furnish war-torn peoples overseas with more food and clothing.

If it were not for the cooking and sewing economies practiced by millions of women, and their eager readiness to use food substitutes, it would be impossible for us to keep so many persons in Europe from dying of cold and hunger.

The women of this community can accomplish even more by studying the food and clothing efficiency exhibits at the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 7.

YANKS BATTLE ON OFFENSIVE

Engaged With French and Occupy Outskirts of Important City of Bray.

ADVANCE CONTINUES

Enemy Reported to Have Evacuated Roye—Germans Fight Fiercely to Protect Chaulnes—Resistance to British Becomes Stronger.

London, Aug. 13.—American troops are in the suburbs of Bray, fighting a continuous battle for the outskirts of the little French city. A ding dong battle is raging all up and down the northern section of the present battle line.

London, Aug. 13.—German casualties on the Picardy battlefront including killed, wounded and missing, are estimated at 100,000.

London, Aug. 13.—Mighty efforts are being made by the German high command to check the Allies' advance through Picardy toward Peronne, Roye and Noyon. On the northern end of the battleline the British have not been able to progress rapidly, although London reports unofficially that the village of Bray has been entered.

In the center, strong German counterattacks seem to have held up the advance against vital points along the line. There is an unconfirmed report, however, that Roye has been abandoned by the enemy.

French Continue Gaining.

On the right the French are still gaining ground steadily. They have reached the crest of the hills west of the Oise and have virtually cleared the Matz valley of the enemy.

The battle is still confined within the limits fixed when the French extended the fighting area to the Oise. It has been expected that the combat might spread all along the line, especially northward, but this development has not yet been reported.

Teuton Right Flank Holds.

There has been an enemy effort, which has met with a measure of success, to hold the northern flank of the line firmly while the Allies have pushed eastward in the direction of Peronne and Ham. On the southern end of the front the Germans have been unable so far to do more than slow down the progress of the French.

In this sector an important advance is reported in the fact that the French have reached Antoval, on the crest of the hills west of Ribecourt. In the German drive early in June the fall of Antoval proved fatal to French hopes to hold the valley of the Oise as well as the forest of Carelpont, on the east bank.

Fierce Fighting Expected.

The coming day or two probably will be marked by savage fighting, especially on the south, where the continued progress of the French would weaken the whole German position, if it does not turn the flank of the Noyon-Nesle line, which, it appears, may be the first defensive upon which the enemy may elect to stand.

EXPECT FALL OF LASSIGNY

Capture of Important City Predicted by Papers.

Paris, Aug. 13.—Military commentators in the Paris newspapers express confidence that the Allied advance, while slowed up, is bound to be continued. It is certain that the German retreat is not over, says L'Homme Libre, while the Petit Parisien declares that the capture of Lassigny by the French is only a question of hours. The entire group of hills between Lassigny and the Oise is being encircled, the Petit Journal declares, and must inevitably be evacuated.

With the French Armies in the Field, Aug. 13.—French troops, closing in upon the important base of Lassigny, have advanced to within two miles of that place.

SUNDAY'S WORK UNESSENTIAL

Evangelist's Efforts Not War Essential, Says Board.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 13.—Billy Sunday's work is not a war essential, says the priority committee of the war industries board. Special Agent Howick, department of justice, has made public a letter from the board in Washington stating it will not consider priority as to material entering into construction of the Billy Sunday tabernacle now being built here, unless such materials are in abundant supply. The priorities committee holds the building of the tabernacle will not lend itself to winning the war but will have an effect after the war is won.

Ready for Embarking.

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Aug. 13—In preparation for what is evidently an early movement overseas officers and men of the Black-hawk Division, the Eighty-sixth, at Camp Grant, are undergoing careful scrutiny by examining officers, both with respect to personal fitness and individual equipment. The commanding officers are determined that the division shall go to the port of embarkation in the best of condition. Some divisions have lost as high as 5,000 men at detraining ports, it is said.

MEASURE IS ONE BILLION SHORT

Ways and Means Committee of House Strike Snags in Framing Revenue Bill.

MAY INCREASE TARIFF

Higher Customs Duties to Produce $400,000,000 Is Advocated by Several Members as One Solution of Problem.

Washington, Aug. 13.—In the framing of the tentative draft of the revenue bill the house ways and means committee is an even $1,000,000,000 short of its $8,000,000,000 goal after including all schedules so far tentatively adopted and the whisky and beer taxes, and the luxury schedule, which falls very far short of the $2,000,000,000 allotted it, and held until the last.

The committee, in what it plans to be its final week of framing the measure, will be forced to devise means to make up the $1,000,000,000.

Committee Asks Rise.

Chairman Kitchin of the committee expects to confer with Secretary McAdoo before the bill is given its final approval, and differences between the treasury and the committee regarding the excess profits tax are expected to be straightened out. The treasury desires excess profits rates in the present law to stand, while the committee has tentaively raised them.

Sugar Tax Proposed.

There was renewed talk among committee members of the feasibility of a gross sales tax. There also was talk of an excise tax on tea, coffee and sugar. A tax of 3 cents a pound on coffee and sugar and 10 or 15 cents a pound on tea, it was stated, would produce between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000.

Some members urged a resort to the tariff, saying an increase in customs duties to produce $400,000,000 should be adopted.

Liquor Tax Urged.

The whisky and beer tax practically has been agreed on, but the rates are being withheld by the committee until the last moment. These taxes probably will raise $810,000,000 and the soft drinks $30,000,000. There is still, however, hovering over the schedule the possibility of prohibition legislation that would wipe out revenue from liquors.

FIELD ARMY IS ORGANIZED

First Unit Is Under Direct Command of Gen. Pershing.

With the American Army in France, Aug. 13.—The First American Field army has been organized. It is under the direct command of General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American forces. The corps commanders thus far announced are Major Generals Liggett, Bullard, Bundy, Reed and Wright.

The creation of the first field army is the first step toward the co-ordination of all the American forces in France.

This does not mean the immediate withdrawal from the British and French of all American units, and it is probable that divisions will be used on the French and British fronts for weeks yet.

It is understood, however, that the policy of organising other armies will be carried out steadily.

APPRECIATE AMERICAN AID

Decision to Send Food Supplies Creates Joy in Siberia.

Washington, Aug. 13.—An expression of Russia's gratitude for America's decision to send food supplies to that country, appearing in the Vechernay Gazette, is quoted in a cablegram received by the Committee on Public Information from Harbin.

Contrasting the position of America before the war as a competitor of Russia in supplying wheat to Western Europe with her readiness now to "literally feed her recent rival," the newspaper says only feelings of the deepest gratitude are entertained toward the liberty-loving Americans."

NOW USING MORE RAILWAYS

Pushing Germans Back From Amiens Is Important to Allies.

London, Aug. 13.—Speaking at a luncheon at Newport, Monmouthshire, Premier Lloyd George emphasized the importance of the pushing back of the Germans from within gun range of the Amiens railway.

"Hundreds of trains used to pass through Amiens daily," the premier said, "but we were temporarily deprived of its use until recently, when we were able to employ twenty trains daily."

Blames Socialists for War.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—William D. Haywood, general secretary and treasurer of the I. W. W., declared on the witness stand in the conspiracy trial that German Socialists were "more responsible for the war than any other body," because they refused to vote for a general strike against war in August, 1914. He said that on his European trip he visited Denmark, Norway, Sweden, England, Wales and Scotland. "I have learned to despise autocracies of all kinds, including governmental autocracies," he said.

WORKING IN UNITY

Japan and the United States Exchange Ideas.

Island Empire Owes Its Systems of Technical Education to an American, and in Return Has Taught Us Much.

The arrival here sometime ago of a mission of eight officers of rank and distinguished record from Japan is proof of at least two things. It witnesses to the steadfastness of the national character, in seeking progressiveness as well as progress; and to Japan's purpose to keep in the foreground of invention and achievement, remarks New York Sun. No other nation realizes more keenly that in the rivalry of civilization the old must perpetually be renewed. There can be no standing still.

From the dawn of history Japan has excelled in fine and dainty work. Her museums illustrate the fact that her craftsmen invented and adapted. A little more than a real, not a poetical, "cycle of Cathay," that is, sixty years ago, according to oriental reckoning, the hermit nation suddenly found herself in the market place of the world. Though at first dazed, resources of mind and material were not lacking.

Age-old taste, skill, experience and reserve armies of trained craftsmen were at hand. Foreign teachers conferred no gift of brains or secrets of cunning. They simply pointed out the new paths and taught the modern methods of meeting the nation's needs. As early as 1861-63, after three years' labor, our own Raphael Pumpelly, still among us in vigor, revolutionized mining methods in Japan. When, in 1868, the intense inward political struggles between the old and the new were over, and Japan had a truly national government, the alertness of her people to the new situation supplied a striking feature in the history of modern education.

At a date when in Europe manual and technical training was still new, and among us the Rensselaer Polytechnic school at Troy was a lonely veteran, Yale and Harvard were at beginnings in this form of education, and even the Massachusetts Institute of Technology a baby, Japan had started in the race. Even before the department of education had been created, the necessity of Japan's training her own engineers, chemists and masters of applied science was pointed out to the important government. The newly elaborated scheme dividing the empire into eight great educational districts was, with the curricula, submitted to an American for criticism. He noted the serious defect of no provision for technical education. A long letter outlining courses of technical education and addressed to the Dai Jo Kuan, the supreme council, fell as spark upon powder. The department of education was created and a technological school started simultaneously in Tokyo. The system has ever since that time had a healthful development.

In addition to the eight universities and 37,810 lower schools of all sorts, there are now in operation under the government eighteen technical schools of the higher order, requiring a four years' course after graduation from the middle schools, while those under local or private auspices number many more. It was settled at court, by the United States minister in Yeddo, in the case of Raphael Pumpelly, that an engineer, civil, mining, or mechanical, was a gentleman and eligible to audience of both the president of the United States and the emperor of Japan. Ever since, the official and social status of a man trained to use his hands and brain in unity has been secure in the mikado's empire. At least two score of Americans have received imperial decorations for promoting technical science in Japan.

Nothing but good can come of mutual exchange of ideas. What the Japanese have borrowed from us is in the limelight, and we boast of it; what hundreds of American inventors and seekers for knowledge have found in Japan and taken as loan is cryptic and untrumpeted. Yet our debt is none the less real. It is well for the two civilizations to enrich each other. If, in admiring legend, King Solomon set the mechanic on the throne to signify the basis of his realm's wealth, none the less should both republic and empire honor the technician who unites power of brain and the discipline of education to dexterity of manipulation. Honor to the technical workers of Japan and America!

Finland's Aristocracy.

One of the anomalies of Finland, now struggling for its independence, is that it has inherited a foreign aristocracy, speaking Swedish. How foreign it remains to the true interests of Finland may be seen from the fact that it has all along worked for German intervention in Finland, and even helped to send thousands of young Finns to join the German army. With the importation of German rulers into Finland, the Finnish language will have one more competitor to cut it from the linguistic field, unless Swedish is entirely driven out by the language of the newly arrived supermen.

HAD LAUGH ON GERMAN SPY

How Charles M. Schwab Made a Monkey Out of Emissary of of Kaiser.

"Charles M. Schwab had an adventure with a German spy," said a Philadelphia editor, "a short time before we entered the war.

"Mr. Schwab went out to Chicago on some munitions business, and the spy dogged him like a shadow all the way—dogged him all over the Windy city, too.

"One evening, to fool the fellow, Mr. Schwab wrote some fake telegrams in the hotel library, and then he tore a couple of the telegrams up, scattered them on the floor and hurried from the room.

"The spy, who was, of course, right on the job, didn't follow him out right away. That was what he had expected, and so after a bit he stole back on tiptoe to take Mr. Spy by surprise.

"What he saw made him smile. The spy was down on his hands and knees gathering up and putting together the torn bits of fake telegram.

"Mr. Schwab, standing in the doorway, gave a loud laugh. Then he said:

"'Boy Ed, or Von Papen, or whatever your name is, I'm pleased to see that you Germans care more about scraps of paper now than you used to.'"

His Disappointment.

"I found a letter lying on the sidewalk this morning," grumbled old Riley Rezzidew of Petunia. "It was signed 'Lucile,' and at first looked as if it might be worth reading. But when I had read the first line or two, which said, 'John and I went to Bethel to the big singing last Sunday,' I just throwed it down again. What kind of a letter was that to lose on the public street?"—Kansas City Star.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Watch Your Stomach In Hot Weather

A Cool, Sweet, Strong Stomach Your Best Safeguard Against Summer Sickness

"Keep your stomach in good working order during the hot summer months and you will have little to fear in the way of sickness" the advice many physicians give as hot weather approaches.

Good, sound, common sense advice, too. For very frequently, and especially in hot weather, these common stomach disorders which so many people seem to regard as of minor importance, do open the way for serious illness.

So keep your stomach sweet, cool and comfortable all summer long. The extra war work—change of diet—poisons that come with hot weather—all hit us in the stomach. The strongest stomach will need help this summer as never before.

The one easy way if you have the right remedy is to rid the stomach of too much acid. Because it's superacidity that interferes with digestion and assimilation, and this causes about all those stomach miseries you are so familiar with—heartburn, food repeating, indigestion, sour, gassy stomach and that miserable, bloated, puffed-up condition after eating.

Now here is good news. An easy, sure relief has been found to get rid of the harmful acidity and gases in the stomach. It is called EATONIC, a good tasting compound that you eat just like candy. A tablet or two of EATONIC after meals will work wonders. You can have no idea of what sure, quick comfort EATONIC brings until you do try it. Use EATONIC after your meals, enjoy a good appetite and get full strength from the food you eat. At the same time protect yourself from summer stomach and bowel miseries.

Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. He will tell you that people who have used EATONIC say that they never dreamed that anything could give such quick and wonderful results. It costs only 50c a box and if it fails in any way, your druggist, who you know and trust, will return your money.

News of the State

Condensed for Busy Folks

Fairmont. — Volunteer harvesters have closed a week of service to Martin county farmers, having shocked hundreds of acres of grain.

Winona. — Approximately seventy Winona manufacturers and jobbers will be obliged to furnish a comprehensive inventory of their business through a questionnaire plan.

St. Cloud.—Leo Schmidt, an employe of a garage here, was cut about the face and shoulders when the rim of an automobile wheel he was blowing up burst. He was taken to a hospital.

Virginia.—Although six weeks have elapsed since the disaster at the Silver mine, where 17 miners were buried when several tons of dynamite accidentally exploded, but 11 bodies have been removed.

St. Cloud.—The St. Cloud postoffice broke all records in July for any one month in the history of the office. The receipts total $21,512.67. Ten or fifteen years ago this sum would have been considered a big year's business.

Eveleth.—The shortage of coal and general belief the conditions this winter will be severe have influenced Eveleth citizens to put in municipal woodyards, where twelve-inch cord wood is available at $2.50 and sixteen-inch at $2.75 a cord.

Barnesville.—Business men of this town have adopted 4 o'clock closing of stores daily to permit all city men possible to go on to the farms. Between 150 and 200 men will do daily field work for five to eight hours each afternoon and evening.

Fairmont.—John Wolf, living near Welcome, whose three months' term in the county jail for beating his wife expired, was immediately rearrested on a charge of assault against his son. It is charged that he had hung his son and daughter by the neck with a rope.

Winona.—Committees have been named for a consignment cattle sale of Guernsey and Holstein breeds at the St. Charles fair grounds late in September or early in October. It will be a unique sale in Winona county and the prime object is to induce breeders to breed up their stock.

Winona.—Equipped with all the paraphernalia necessary for turning worthless paper into money, W. L. Latten, alias Welly Royce, Richard Harding and James Kelly, was arrested by Chief George Huck and Assistant Chief Al. Winkels within half an hour after he had passed a check for $26.75.

Brainerd.—Mildred S. Edling, said to be demented, was found in the attic of her home here where she had been hiding several day. When she was reported missing it was believed by some that she had jumped into the river, and blood hounds, brought here from Duluth, followed a trail to the water's edge, where they lost it. As a result the river was dragged without result.

Minneapolis.—Snuggled among a fringe of trees, Minnesota's first regular army flying field, located about one mile north of Minneapolis, is already alive with activity and aviators are daily soaring over the broad stretch of farm land through which the Mississippi winds. The field comprises 540 acres and was donated to the government during the war by Earl Brown, son of a former Minneapolis miller.

Bemidji.—Bemidji set a record in recruiting during July, leading every station in the state including St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, in recruits for the regular army in percentage per quota of population. Bemidji made the remarkable record of 80.5 while the next highest was Duluth, headquarters for this portion of the state, with a large recruiting staff. During the month, Bemidji station, Sergeant Foucault in charge, sent thirty-one men to the colors and of these only two were rejected.

Bemidji.—Proceedings were filed here against the M. & I. railroad, a petition being presented to the state railroad and warehouse commission asking that the rates on shipments of fuel wood be reduced to at least as cheap as wood for manufacturing purposes. Freight rates on fuel wood and the other varieties mentioned, show, according to the petition, that the rate on fuel wood is far above that of the other woods mentioned for distances from five to 210 miles. It is believed the state forestry department will also become interested in securing a lower freight rate in view of the coal shortage.

Minneapolis.—A minimum wage of $8 a week for women employed in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth at occupations not classified in previous schedules was fixed by the Minnesota Minimum Wage commission in a blanket order adopted yesterday. The new order will become effective September 6 and applies to all women employes other than those working in mercantile, manufacturing, mechanical, dyeing and dry cleaning establishments, offices, laundries, hotels and restaurants.

Minneapolis.—That the Twin City Rapid Transit company will not be able to operate street cars in St. Paul and Minneapolis unless a 7-cent fare is granted, was told to a joint meeting of the St. Paul and Minneapolis city councils in Minneapolis by Horace Lowry, president of the company.

Crookston.—The matter of adding iron range territory to the Minnesota Scenic highway is now in the hands of a committee which will pass on the condition of the roads, following the annual meeting of the association here. If the roads are good enough, it is believed the territory will be admitted.

Stillwater.—More than 19,500,000 pounds of binder twine have been shipped this season from the state prison plant.

Pine City.—Farmers of the Pine City region have organized a stock shipping association to handle shipments from this region direct to the markets and at actual cost.

Moorhead.—The army worm, disastrous to grain crops, has been found in a Clay county township. This is the first time the army worm has been seen in this territory since 1910.

Blue Earth.—F. W. Watkin of Albia, Iowa, 30 years old, a freight brakeman, was killed about half a mile south of here when he was run over by a train. His body was brought to Blue Earth.

Winona.—Albert Schultz, aged 54, was killed and David Wilsie, aged 45, probably fatally injured, when the hand car on which they were riding was struck by a Milwaukee passenger train. Four other occupants of the hand car escaped without injury when they jumped as they saw the speeding passenger train approaching.

Mankato.—Ray Everts, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everts of Bay City, Wis., had a narrow escape when one of the large leopards with the Al. G. Barnes shows reached through the cage and grabbed him. He tore a big gash in the boy's arm with one paw and reaching the other around the lad pierced four holes in his back.

St. Paul.—Mere possession of intoxicating liquor within the Indian territory declared dry under the Indian treaty of 1855, will be considered a violation of the law after September 1, according to advices received by Alfred Jaques, United States district attorney. The new ruling is in accordance with recent legislation passed by congress.

Rochester.—Thomas and Mike Kennedy, prominent Rochester horsemen, were trampled to death by a mad horse. Thomas heard his brother's call for help from the barn and on reaching there found Mike helpless under the raging animal. In trying to save his brother, Thomas was bitten and kicked into insensibility. John Hennick, a driver for Kennedy, was severely injured when he tried to rescue Thomas. His condition is serious.

Mankato.—A big weed burner, sent here from St. Paul has been operating on the Milwaukee road between Mankato and Rapidan. The big machine is run in front as an ordinary engine and throws out four streams of fire, fed by crude oil. After one of the burners passes along the track, the weeds inside the rails and for several feet to either side are scorched and killed and will not start growing again this year.

St. Paul.—A year ago, approximately 15,000 students were studying German in the public schools of Minnesota. Official statistics indicate that less than 1,500 will be taught this language when the schools open in the fall. In many schools, Spanish and French have supplanted German, but it is pointed out today by P. C. Tonning, assistant superintendent of education, that scarcity of efficient teachers will probably make it impossible to introduce these languages in all of the high schools of the state this fall.

St. Paul.—Minnesota will not appoint commissioners to carry the ballot to Gopher soldiers in France. If the soldiers want to vote, and the Federal government is willing that ballots should be provided them, the Public Safety commission will try to provide a way, but some plan of voting by mail will be adopted, Secretary Libby of the commission said. The commission has no information that the Federal authorities will approve of a campaign in the trenches. There will be no difficulty in providing ballots for the boys in the training camps at home.

Moorhead.—Moorhead will have a $16,000 armory for a company of the state militia if the plans outlined at a meeting of the Moorhead Commercial club, the Merchants association, and the officers of the Home Guard mature. The directors of the armory committee commence today to raise $1,000 among the citizens of Moorhead to start the erection of the building. The site will be donated to the city by the Great Northern railroad upon the completion of the stipulations that the company is formed and $1,000 has been secured from the citizens. The $15,000 will thus be automatically appropriated by the Minnesota legislature if the company is placed in Moorhead.

Minneapolis.—Judge Page Morris, in federal court refused to grant J. O. Bentall, former Socialist party nominee for governor, a new trial on a charge of "attempting to cause insubordination, discontent, mutiny and refusal of duty in the military and naval forces of the United States," on which he already has been convicted and sentenced to serve five years in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. His attorneys are appealing to the United States circuit court of appeals to get a writ of error. James A. Peterson, former candidate for the United States Senate, also under sentence of four years for violation of the espionage act, was given a hearing on his petition for a new trial.

St. Paul.—Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow has received a telegram from Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder instructing him to arrange for the registration early next month of men between 18 and 45 years of age. Preliminaries will be disposed of pending congressional action on the draft bill.

Sturgeon Lake.—Three sons of William Cunningham have been accepted by the St. Paul marine recruiting station. William, Jr., and Monroe Cunningham left for Paris Island a few days ago. George already is in the service stationed at Camp Donovan, Okla.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. OUR SAVED FOOD FED THE ALLIES

Food Administrator Writes President America Conserved 141,000,000 Bushels Wheat.

CREDIT DUE TO WOMEN.

Meat and Fat Shipments Increased by 844,600,000 Pounds.

Conservation measures applied by the American people enabled the United States to ship to the Allied peoples and to our own forces overseas 141,000,000 bushels of wheat and 844,600,000 pounds of meat during the past year, valued in all at $1,400,000,000. This was accomplished in the face of a serious food shortage in this country, bespeaking the wholeheartedness and patriotism with which the American people have met the food crisis abroad.

Food Administrator Hoover, in a letter to President Wilson, explains how the situation was met. The voluntary conservation program fostered by the Food Administration enabled the piling up of the millions of bushels of wheat during 1917-18 and the shipment of meat during 1917-18.

The total value of all food shipments to Allied destinations amounted to $1,400,000,000, all this food being bought through or in collaboration with the Food Administration. These figures are all based on official reports and represent food exports for the harvest year that closed June 30, 1918.

The shipments of meats and fats (including meat products, dairy products, vegetable oils, etc.) to Allied destinations were as follows:

Fiscal year 1916-17....2,166,500,000 lbs.
Fiscal year 1917-18....3,011,100,000 lbs.

Increase .... 844,600,000 lbs.

Our slaughterable animals at the beginning of the last fiscal year were not appreciably larger than the year before and particularly in hogs; they were probably less. The increase in shipments is due to conservation and the extra weight of animals added by our farmers.

The full effect of these efforts began to bear their best results in the last half of the fiscal year, when the exports to the Allies were 2,133,100,000 pounds, as against 1,266,500,000 pounds in the same period of the year before. This compares with an average of 801,000,000 pounds of total exports for the same half years in the three-year pre-war period.

In cereals and cereal products reduced to terms of cereal bushels our shipments to Allied destinations have been:

Fiscal year 1916-17..259,900,000 bushels
Fiscal year 1917-18..340,800,000 bushels

Increase .... 80,900,000 bushels

Of these cereals our shipments of the prime breadstuffs in the fiscal year 1917-18 to Allied destinations were: wheat 131,000,000 bushels and of rye 13,900,000 bushels, a total of 144,900,000 bushels.

The exports to Allied destinations during the fiscal year 1916-17 were: wheat 135,100,000 bushels and rye 2,300,000 bushels, a total of 137,400,000 bushels. In addition some 10,000,000 bushels of 1917 wheat are now in port for Allied destinations or en route thereto. The total shipments to Allied countries from our last harvest of wheat will be therefore, about 141,000,000 bushels, or a total of 154,900,000 bushels of prime breadstuffs. In addition to this we have shipped some 10,000,000 bushels to neutrals dependent upon us, and we have received some imports from other quarters.

"This accomplishment of our people in this matter stands out even more clearly if we bear in mind that we had available in the fiscal year 1916-17 from net carryover and as surplus over our normal consumption about 200,000,000 bushels of wheat which we were able to export that year without trenching on our home loaf," Mr. Hoover said. "This last year, however, owing to the large failure of the 1917 wheat crop, we had available from net carry-over and production and imports only just about our normal consumption. Therefore our wheat shipments to Allied destinations represent approximately savings from our own wheat bread.

"These figures, however, do not fully convey the volume of the effort and sacrifice made during the past year by the whole American people. Despite the magnificent effort of our agricultural population in planting a much increased acreage in 1917, not only was there a very large failure in wheat, but also the corn failed to mature properly, and our corn is our dominant crop.

"I am sure," Mr. Hoover wrote in concluding his report, "that all the millions of our people, agricultural as well as urban, who have contributed to these results should feel a very definite satisfaction that in a year of universal food shortages in the northern hemisphere all of those people joined together against Germany have come through into sight of the coming harvest not only with wealth and strength fully maintained, but with only temporary periods of hardship.

"It is difficult to distinguish between various sections of our people—the homes, public eating places, food trades, urban or agricultural populations—in assessing credit for these results, but no one will deny the dominant part of the American women."

Big Grain Crop Show's Aim

Wheat Needed to Feed World

There is desperate need for more wheat and other grains with which to keep the world from starvation. So urgent is the need and so necessary is it for America to encourage the raising of more cereals that liberal premiums are to be given to owners of the best exhibits of grain at the coming Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 7.

More wheat must be raised not only for home consumption but for shipment abroad to be mixed with the coarse flours of Europe in the making of bread. It is necessary for America to raise more barley, rye, and corn, not only to meet an unprecedented foreign demand, but to serve as substitutes for wheat flour at home. Only in this way can the wheat of the world be made to go around.

The high prices for grain will induce big crops of grain for several years. Yet the scarcity of farm labor, the shortage of heavy work horses and the high prices of seed grains are three factors which must be contended against in our efforts to increase the grain crop. The fair is assisting in this work. —Copyrighted.

Saving Sugar Saves Shipping

UNLOADING HAWAIIAN SUGAR AT A CALIFORNIA PORT.
LOADING CARS WITH [illegible] FROM [illegible] AMERICA GETS NEARLY A MILLION TONS OF SUGAR A YEAR.

AMERICAN families would have less sugar than the people of war torn France, if we depended entirely on our home-grown sugar stocks.

Approximately 75 per cent. of our sugar is shipped to our shores. We produce about 1,000,000 tons of sugar a year. Our imports from abroad amount to over 3,000,000 tons a year in normal times.

The United States Food Administration asks each family to limit its use of sugar to two pounds per month per person for household use. The military situation demands that every available ship be placed at the disposal of the Army or Navy. When we save sugar, we save shipping.

Loyal citizens will win this war.

Letter From Willie Bakke

U. S. S. Melville
July 26, 1918

Dear Father:-

Rec'd your two letters of July 1st and 4th, also Agnes' and Minnie's.

I've been to London on a seven days leave, so haven't been able to write before. I certainly enjoyed the sights there and so far haven't forgotten what I saw. They keep the city as dark as possible and restaurants, and the like, close at 10:30 so the place is quite dull at eleven.

I saw some good shows, and had tea at a swell residence one afternoon. It sure was fine.

They've got a dandy hut at London for the allied forces and its lodgings and restaurants come in handy and they are so reasonable too. On the wall there's a big map of the U. S. and we can get little flags at the desk to place on the town we come from. I placed one on T. R. Falls, just one up there and in fact that part of the country. Then a few days later a fellow from Stephens stuck a flag on his town so now there is two quite close to each other, with our names and whole address.

I had a tooth that was bothering me so had a gold crown "Made in London" put in. It is a little sore yet tho if I chew anything hard.

We can't go to Norway, will have to wait until we get out I guess as there is not much chance now.

Love to all,
Your son
Willie

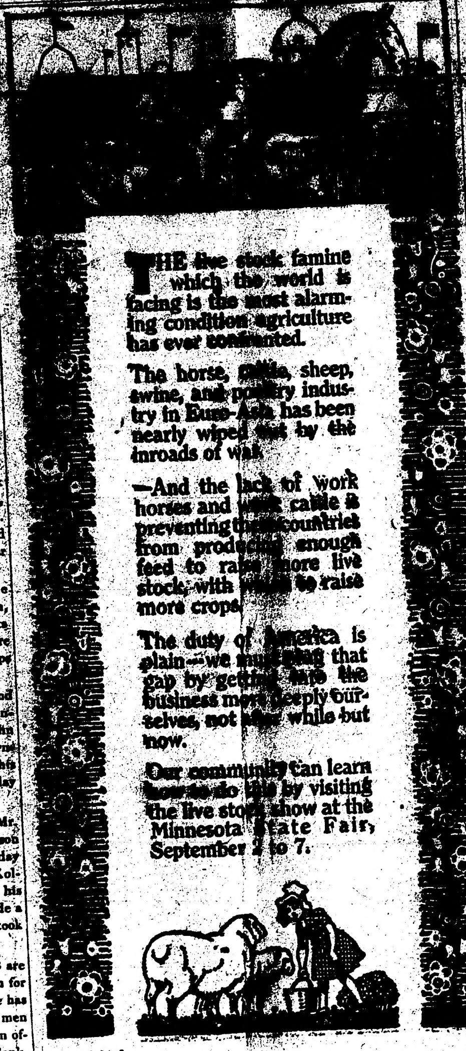
The Holt Shock Troops

The Holt Shock Battalion has been training in actual warfare the past week. This battalion is composed of several men and women of Holt. They go out about 6 o'clock evenings and tackle the first grain field they come to that needs shocking. Sometimes the farmers know they are coming, and sometimes not, but that doesn't make any difference to these patriotic men and women. Wednesday evening these troops shocked between 50 and 60 acres of grain and their work was timely too, as we had a real hard rain that night.

It Pays To Advertise.

A soldier at Camp Beauregard wrote the editor of a paper at Pine Bluff, Ark., saying he would like to correspond with a Pine Bluff girl with a view to matrimony. The editor published the letter. The following day the soldier received ten proposals from as many girls.—X



THE live stock famine which the world is facing is the most alarming condition agriculture has ever confronted.

The horse, cattle, sheep, swine, and poultry industry in Euro-Asia has been nearly wiped out by the inroads of war.

—And the lack of work horses and work cattle is preventing these countries from producing enough feed to raise more live stock, with which to raise more crops.

The duty of America is plain—we must bridge that gap by getting into the business more deeply ourselves, not after while but now.

Our community can learn how to do this by visiting the live stock show at the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 7.

ALLIES REACH ROYE SUBURBS

Enemy Rushes New Divisions in Effort to Save City From Capture.

TWO VILLAGES TAKEN

Battlefronts in Picardy and Champagne Linked by Foch by Attack Between Carlepont and Fontenoy for Nearly Two Miles.

Paris, Aug. 20.—The French are in the suburbs of Roye. The British are carrying out a flanking movement north of the town. Extraordinary artillery fighting is under way in the whole Roye sector. The Germans, in a desperate effort to hold the town, are pouring in fresh divisions which have been withdrawn from other parts of the front within the last 24 hours.

London, Aug. 20.—Launching what may be described as an extensive attack, the French have broken through the German positions along the vital sector connecting the Marne and Picardy battlefields.

This attack was over a front of approximately nine miles from near Carlepont, east of the Oise, to Fontenoy on the Aisne, about six miles west of Soissons. It is officially reported that an advance to an average depth of 1.3 miles was made all along the front of attack. It is reported from London that an extreme penetration of two miles has been made.

Two Villages Captured.

The villages of Nampcel and Nouvron-Vingre have been captured and the French have reached the southern edge of the ravine at Audignicourt, which is between Nampcel and Nouvron-Vingre.

Since the situation along the Aisne and Vesle and in Picardy has seemed to be approaching a deadlock, indicating a return to the old trench warfare of the first two years of the war, an attack in the sector between the Aisne and the Oise has been expected. This line is vital to the German positions on each side of it. If it should be broken the whole German defensive scheme would be thrown out of joint.

Two Flank Moves Indicated.

While the front over which the assault was launched is short compared with those of the Marne and Picardy drives, the success attained by the French appears to point to a possibility of Marshal Foch breaking the enemy's resistance by a flank attack instead of a direct assault against the strong positions now held by the Germans between Soissons and Rheims and between the Oise and the Ancre.

Americans Gain in Vosges.

The situation along the Aisne-Vesle sector is unchanged. The enemy continues his harassing attacks, using artillery and gas, but the French and Americans manage to cling to their bridgeheads north of the Vesle. In the Vosges American troops have advanced slightly near Frapelle, which was captured Saturday. The Germans have been shelling the village heavily.

Austrian efforts to regain the islet in the lower Piave taken last week by the Italians have failed. In a counterattack the Italians drove the enemy back and took 30 prisoners. In the mountain region the artillery has been active at isolated points.

185 TEUTON PLANES DOWNED

Work of British Aviators For Six-Day Period.

London, Aug. 20.—Some of the heaviest air fighting of the war took place last week between Albert and Amiens and the Roye road, where the enemy's air forces were considerably augmented. Shortly after the opening of the battle 48 enemy machines were destroyed and 17 others were driven down out of control. Fifty British machines failed to return. A marked weakening of the enemy's resistance in the air was speedily noted.

During the six following days, 185 enemy machines were destroyed and 89 driven down out of control and 13 British machines were reported missing.

FRAPELLE SHELLED BY FOE

Town Taken by Americans Object of Attack.

With the American Armies in France, Aug. 20.—American troops advanced slightly beyond Frapelle and consolidated the ground won in the previous attack. The Germans in retaliation dropped 2,500 shells in Frapelle, but failed to drive out the Americans.

Frapelle is five miles east of St. Die, and only four miles from the German border. It was captured in a surprise attack.

Soft Coal Production Slumps.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Bituminous coal production of 12,274,000 net tons ending August 10 was greater than that of the corresponding week of last year by about 2,000,000 tons, but was less than in recent previous weeks, according to reports today to the fuel administration by the geological survey.

An output of 14,500,000 net tons a week during the rest of the summer will be necessary to make up the deficit for the coal year to date, the fuel administration stated.

LYS SALIENT IS BEING WIPED OUT

Germans Gradually Retiring Before Pressure of British Arms.

YANKS TAKE FRAPELLE

Activity in Various Sectors Shows Enemy Is Being Given No Rest—Americans Gain on "Quiet" Front.

London, Aug. 19.—Gradually the famous Lys salient in the region west of Armentieres is giving way under pressure of the British troops. Again Field Marshal Haig's forces have compelled the enemy to seek ground to the eastward where he will be more secure from the shells of the big guns that for several weeks have been firing crisscross over the entire salient, working havoc among the defenders of the insecure line.

Likewise the Germans are being given no rest by the Franco-British forces north and south of the Somme, and the French and Americans along the Vesle and the Americans in Lorraine also are harrassing them by artillery fire and local attacks. No where has the enemy had the better of any encounter.

Over a front of four miles between Bailleul and Vieux Berquin on the Lys sector, the British have forced back the Germans to a depth ranging from 1,000 to 2,000 yards, taking in the maneuver the village of Outtersteen with 400 prisoners. A little to the south along the Lys river near Merville the British also have advanced their line and still further south, between Arras and Albert, the Germans have been relieved under pressure of further terrain near Burquoy.

With the American Army in Lorraine, Aug. 19.—The Americans early Saturday captured the village of Frapelle and eradicated a considerable German salient in the allied lines. Prisoners were taken by the Americans and the Germans evidently suffered heavy casualties in killed and wounded.

This sector has been regarded as a quiet one, and Saturday's action began merely as a raid into the enemy's positions.

1,450,000 YANKS OVERSEAS

Transport Service Now Greatly Improved.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Of more than 3,000,000 men now under arms, the American army has sent nearly one half or more than 1,450,000 overseas for service in France, Italy and Siberia.

These figures were revealed Saturday by General March, chief of staff, in his Saturday talks with newspaper men and members of the senate military committee. The senators were told that some transports are making the trip to Europe and back in 19 days, and that the average has been reduced to 28 days, which with additional shipping becoming available, makes the great job of getting 80 divisions of American troops to France by June 30, 1919, certain of success.

100 I. W. W.'S CONVICTED

Long Trial at Chicago Reaches Sudden End.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—One hundred leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World were found "guilty as charged," after one hour's deliberation, to disrupt the war program, late Saturday. Arguments for a new trial will be heard this week.

The defendants, including William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, general secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., the highest position in the organization, face a maximum penalty of twenty-seven years in prison and a $10,000 fine each.

The case closed suddenly after a protracted run of 138 days.

FOOD RIOTS OCCUR IN JAPAN

Tokio and Other Cities Show Great Unrest.

Tokio, Aug. 19.—There was serious rioting in Tokio Sunday night, mobs attacking and damaging property in the business and theatre districts of the city. Rioters also entered and pillaged houses in Asakusa, the great recreation resort of the middle and lower classes. A number of the disturbers were wounded by the police.

Troops have been called out in nearly every important city in Japan, even the naval station at Maizuru being affected by unrest. Two thousand workmen there are rioting in conjunction with the populace.

Food disturbances keep increasing in violence.

Senator Gallinger Is Dead.

Concord, N. H., Aug. 19.—United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire died at a hospital here Saturday. Senator Gallinger was the oldest member of the United States Senate both in years and in point of service. Ever since 1891 he had been a conspicuous figure in the senate, taking not only a leading part in its discussions, but ranking as a dominating figure in its leadership and in the councils of the republican party. As a minority leader the senator has been active until quite recently

SOLDIERS' SWORD ARM OF NATION

If We Fail in Our Duty Boys in France Cannot Achieve Victory.

LOAN MONEY TO UNCLE SAM

Buying Liberty Bonds an Investment in Lives of Americans "Over There" and an Insurance for Safety of Our Country.

By CORRA HARRIS,
(Author of "A Circuit Rider's Wife," "Eve's Second Husband," Etc.)

During the Thrift Stamp campaign in July, 1918, a prominent citizen was sent into a backwoods farming community to arouse the people, and if possible sell Thrift Stamps. He was not expected to have much success with the sale of stamps because the people were very poor and illiterate. The effort was to be chiefly educational.

The speaker found a dingy company of farmers and their wives waiting for him in an old field schoolhouse.

He began his address with arguments for the support of the government reduced to the simplest forms. No one seemed to listen. The men stared straight ahead as if they had something else on their minds. The women fanned themselves and looked out of the windows. He changed his manner of speech to an impassioned appeal; no one was moved. He paused perspiring before making a last despairing effort. But before he could go on a tall, gaunt farmer stood up in the back of the house and waved his hand beseechingly:

"Mister," he said, "if you are done talking, give us a chance at them Thrift Stamps so we kin sign up and get back to the field."

He gave them the "chance." They bought nineteen hundred and fifty dollars' worth of stamps, although there was not a man among them who owned property to the amount of two thousand dollars.

"We own this land," the farmer said, addressing the prominent citizen grimly as he passed up the last pledge card, "we own all this country. The government at Washington belongs to us; we made it and it is ours. The army in France is ours, too; they are our sons. We sent sixty-two boys there from this district, and I reckon we know it is our duty to work for them and take care of them while they are busy whipping them Germans."

This is the best, most serviceable and intelligent definition of patriotism I have heard since this war began.

Victory at Any Cost.

This is the most expensive war ever known, still beyond our imagination to conceive of. The enormous destruction wrought by the submarines, the terrific sums spent for war materials, the loans to our allies, none of these things account for the incredible expense. The real explanation is that civilization demands that it shall cost everything. Never before has any nation spent so much to insure the health of its soldiers, never before have such provisions been made to safeguard a great army morally. More is being spent to equip hospitals, provide ambulances, nurses and doctors to care for the wounded than whole campaigns cost in former wars. Never in the history of man has such provision been made to insure widows and orphans and soldiers from the after effects of wounds and poverty. Formerly when a man entered the army to fight for his country, his country took his life, and that was the end of it if he was killed. Now the government pays, and pays enormously, for every man who lives or dies in this struggle. All this is so because as a nation we have developed a sense of justice and honor that regards any and every expense as secondary to the one tremendous obligation to its citizens.

Our allies were compelled to fight Germany to preserve their very existence, but we chose to fight her when we might have made a shameful treaty with her that would have insured a shameful peace, because we are not a craven grasping nation, but a nation built upon ideals, and it costs more to preserve an ideal than it ever costs to preserve peace, because you cannot buy them—you must achieve them.

Nothing stands between the world and this catastrophe but the American people, their honor, their energy, their fidelity and their wealth. Our troops in France are only the sword arm of the nation. We, the people at home, are the body and life of that army. If we fail at all, they must fail entirely.

We are about to make another loan of six billion dollars for war expenses. It is not a gift, but an investment we make in the lives of American soldiers and an insurance we take out for the safety of our country.

To Put Out Fire.

If a lamp is accidentally upset and the burning oil spreads, do not dash water on it, but throw upon it flour, meal, sand, salt or ashes.

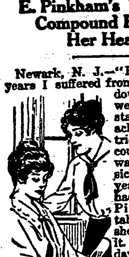
The Real Trouble.

They talk about people's "biting off more than they can chew"—but the trouble often is, that they do not chew fast enough.

Words are daughters of earth, but ideas are sons of heaven.—Samuel Johnson.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.



Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss Flo Kelly, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

REACHED END OF PATIENCE

Rookie Felt He Hadn't Enlisted in Army to Be Made Permanent Bird-Tender.

A western bishop, just back from France, where he spent some time at the front, tells the following anecdote as illustrative of the fighting spirit of the American soldier:

"Again and again, whenever his regiment had any orders for activity, it fell to the lot of one 'Yank' to take charge of a crate of carrier pigeons for one of the officers. Always the same private was selected for the monotonous, unexciting task. It became a standing joke in the regiment, and the pigeon tender became more and more disgruntled. At last, on the eve of a battle, he again received orders to take charge of the pigeons. He could contain himself no longer. With an air of absolute resolve he walked boldly to the tent of the commanding officer and very firmly placed the crate of pigeons at the door. On the crate was a note:

"'Here! take your d—— birds—I am going to fight.'"

That Pot of Beans.

We were talking with some of the boys who shortly before had served in the trenches with the first detachment assigned to the firing line. They told us of the fighting and the raids and how young Enright and Hay had met their death.

"But how do you like life in the trenches?"

"Oh, not so bad! Gee! You ought to have seen those beans. It was this way. The cook had just cooked a pot of beans for supper and had put it on the edge of the trench to cool, when along came a German shell and hit it square. Gee! I guess it must have rained beans for an hour and we didn't have any supper. It was great!"—Francis Rogers in the Vigilantes.

"I'm not going to make any speeches during the next week or so," replied Senator Sorghum. "There's so much regular work to be done that if I was to get a crowd together to stand around and listen to talk I wouldn't have any respect for my audience and my audience wouldn't have any respect for me."

Help That Weak Back!

IN THESE trying times the utmost effort of every man and every woman is necessary. But the man or woman who is handicapped with weak kidneys finds a good day's work impossible, and any work a burden. Lame, achy back; daily headaches, dizzy spells, urinary irregularities and that "all-worn-out" feeling are constant sources of distress and should have prompt attention.

Don't delay! Neglected kidney weakness too often leads to gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. They have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back to health. They should help you.

Personal Reports of Real Cases

A MONTANA CASE.

J. H. Jones, retired stationary engineer, 346 Lupfer Ave., Whitefish, Mont., says: "A few years ago my kidneys were out of order. I think the trouble was caused by a general weakness of my system, as anyone is likely to suffer that way when well up in years. My worst suffering was with lumbago. My back was always weak and often sharp, cutting pains darted across my kidneys. The kidney secretions passed entirely too freely. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and a few boxes completely cured me. I haven't been bothered since."

A NORTH DAKOTA CASE.

Mrs. A. F. Gillespie, Park River, N. D., says: "It was several years ago that I was troubled so severely with my kidneys. My back was always aching and was so lame, sore and stiff, I could hardly straighten when I bent over. My kidneys acted irregularly, I was all run down and just moped around all the time. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured. I haven't had the slightest kidney trouble since and I surely place a lot of faith in Doan's."

A rookie just sent in to Fort Riley from the Ozark country was put on duty as barrack guard. The officer of the day chanced to pass him late at night and was permitted to pass unchallenged. He turned and asked the guard if he was on post there and received an affirmative reply.

The officer, thinking him to be a member of the guard, said: "Do you know general orders?"

Rookie gave him this reply: "Say, mister, I hain't seen nary a general since I come here."

The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. The speaker was Gen. Walter Schuyler of Pike, Cal. He went on:

"'Yes,' the other man answered, 'and he's sifting the ashes now.'"

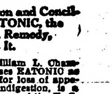
JUDGE DECIDES STOMACH REMEDY A GREAT SUCCESS

Commissioner of Mediation and Conciliation Board Tries EATONIC, the Wonderful Stomach Remedy, and Endorses It.



Judge William L. Chambers, who uses EATONIC as a remedy for loss of appetite and indigestion, is a Commissioner of the U. S. Board of Mediation and Conciliation. It is natural for him to express himself in guarded language, yet there is no hesitation in his pronouncement regarding the value of EATONIC. Writing from Washington, D. C., to the Eatonic Remedy Co., he says,

"EATONIC promotes appetite and aids digestion. I have used it with beneficial results."

Office workers and others who sit much are martyrs to dyspepsia, belching, bad breath, heartburn, poor appetite, bloat, and impairment of general health. Are you, yourself, a sufferer? EATONIC will relieve you just as surely as it has benefited Judge Chambers and thousands of others.

Here's the secret: EATONIC drives the gas out of the body—and the Bloat Goes With It! It is guaranteed to bring relief or you get your money back! Costs only a cent or two a day to use it. Get a box today from your druggist.

[illegible] the leading American crop, is needed so badly for the production of meat, that every [illegible] to encourage the raising of record crops this year and next year. This is the reason why such generous premiums are offered for good exhibits of corn at the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 7.

America produces more than three-fourths of the world's crop of corn. Four-fifths of all the farmers in America grow corn. One-third of all the land in cultivation is in corn. In 1917 the corn crop amounted to over three billion bushels, and was valued at more than four billion dollars.

Corn is not only good for live stock but for human beings too. For many years the American people have been accustomed to eating cornmeal mush, hominy, grits, breakfast flakes, canned corn, popcorn, and corn bread. Still, until the entrance of the United States in the Great War, corn did not constitute as much of the human diet as might be imagined.

Corn Popular.

Since it has become necessary to substitute corn for wheat, that shipments of wheat may be sent to Europe to feed the wheat-hungry people there, corn has become more popular than ever as a part of our diet. Until now only one bushel of every thirty bushels has been used for human food.

The local corn show will emphasize the necessity of using none but the very best varieties and types of corn, that our output per acre may be increased tremendously.—Copyrighted.

Sept. 3, Opening Day of Holt Consolidated School

As we are in greater need of educated people than ever before, it is the desire of the faculty as well as all live community members to urge every child to attend school during the entire school year.

Those who have completed the eighth grade, will be given the opportunity to pursue four High School subjects and thus complete one year of High School work. Such subjects will be offered as will accommodate second year pupils, especially those who have not yet completed all the first year subjects. All who wish to take up second year work, better bring credits and call on me any day at school house for more detailed information. All pupils in the district should be on hand the opening day, Tuesday Sept. 3rd and thus insure a good start, which is very essential in doing good work thru out the year. Special emphasis will be placed this year upon Agriculture and Foods and Cookery, and the rooms have been so altered so as to allow ample space.

Parents are hereby reminded that the Compulsory Education Law requires that every child between ages of eight and sixteen must attend school every day during the entire year unless they have already completed the eighth grade.

No one is permited to be absent unless they can get a written excuse from school board. If for some good reason pupils must be absent, it is best to see school board first and get excuse. One of the duties of the principal is to report names of pupils who are absent without getting [illegible] parents will take notice of this warning, and thus escape punishment.

The War Department is at present carrying on a vigorous campaign to urge all young men who are high school graduates, to enter College, thus this war helps us to see more clearly the need for a better education.

Hoping that the school and faculty will get the co-operation of all parents and members of the school district, so we can all make this the best school year possible.

Martha M. Peterson,
Principal.

BRITISH TROOPS IN NEW ATTACK

Big Smash by Haig's Men Lands Them on Old Hindenburg Line.

COUNTERDRIVE FAILURE

Bapaume Enveloped on Three Sides by British—French Bomb Roye Front and Repel Foe Attack—Gain on New Offensive.

London, Aug. 27.—Extending the Picardy battle line far to the north into the Artois sector, the British launched an attack in the Scarpe region east of Arras. This attack may be considered as a new development of the terrific battle east of the Ancre river which has been going on for the past few days.

The British war office says that good progress is being made in the new attack which was begun in an area where the Germans hold strongly fortified lines which have been held by them for the last two years.

Hindenburg Line Attacked.

Progress on each side of the Somme river is officially reported and it is said that the British are advancing toward Maricourt four miles northeast of Bray.

As the battle stands the British appear to be quite near the old Hindenburg line south of Arras, while they are making an attack directly against it along the Scarpe river. If the attack is successful, it may have a determining effect on the course of the battle further south, for a German retreat over a wide section might be forced. It also will affect the Flanders sector to the north, from which the Germans are said to be retiring.

Heavy Rain Hampers Battling.

Heavy rain is falling over the battle area, it is reported. This will tend to slow down the movement of troops.

Relentlessly the British are pushing the Germans back to the Hindenburg line. Fresh enemy troops thrown into the desperate battles along the 36 mile front have failed to stop the men of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig's command.

Bapaume is surrounded except on the east, and the fall of this strategic road center apparently is close at hand.

The enemy has been driven from the high ground between the Ancre and the Somme and the British are moving eastward toward Peronne.

French Continue Pressure.

French pressure continues all along the southern wing to Soissons. Between the Oise and the Aisne, General Mangin is pressing steadily toward the western extremity of the Chemin des Dames. Unconfirmed reports have been received in the American lines along the Vesle that the enemy is withdrawing north of that river toward the Aisne.

Enemy forces are putting up a violent resistance against the British, but to no avail. They moved eastward an average of more than four miles on a 36-mile front. The greatest Allied gain has been six miles toward Bapaume, one of the most important points in the salient. The British momentum apparently increases in spite of the strong efforts of the Germans to stay the oncoming rush of tanks, cavalry and infantry. More than 17,000 German prisoners already have been counted and the enemy losses in prisoners are said to be in excess of the British casualties. Unofficially, the number of prisoners is placed at 20,000.

396 ON U. S. CASUALTY LIST

98 Are Killed and 193 Wounded in Action.

Washington, Aug. 27.—General J. J. Pershing has cabled 396 casualties among the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

The list issued by the war department shows 98 Americans killed in action, 193 wounded, 57 missing in action, 39 dead of wounds, 6 dead from accident and other causes, and 3 dead of disease.

The American casualties to date total 21,009.

Northwest names appear as follows: Corp. John Repsdorf, New Salem, N. D., Privates Raymond V. Kirkey, Burlington, N. D., David Schoch, Dawson, N. D., killed in action; Private Severt Johnson, Bottineau, N. D., died of wounds; Private Wm. A. Pratt, Alexandria, Minn., severely wounded; Privates Forest T. Hume, Drake, N. D., John C. Kenney, Minot, N. D., killed in action; Privates Wm. J. Gravell, Little Falls, Minn., Earl A. Lemont, De Smet, S. D., died of wounds; Private C. A. Goudie, Lisbon, N. D., died of disease; Private Frank H. Fredrickson, Portland, N. D., severely wounded.

Died Fighting Superior Force.

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Aug. 27.—An account of the aerial operations carried out by an American squadron over the German lines, from which Lieut. John McArthur failed to return, shows that McArthur and his formation met superior German formations while 30 miles north of the American lines. They encountered heavy anti-aircraft firing. The engagement took place north of the Aisne. McArthur and one other airman failed to return to their lines.

PLAN CALLS FOR 350 SQUADRONS

Immense American Aircraft Program to Help Win War Is Made Public.

3,000 PILOTS TRAINED

About Seven Thousand Experienced Aerial Navigators Will Be Required—Only Thirteen Squadrons Are in France.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The aircraft program for the great American army that is counted upon to win the war next year calls for 350 complete squadrons of planes. This will require about 7,000 pilots. The man part of the program already is ahead of schedule, about 3,000 pilots having been trained.

This information, given by Major General Kenly, chief of the division of military aeronautics, and many other facts hitherto held secret, were disclosed when the Senate Military committee made public testimony taken behind closed doors during three months of investigation by the Aviation sub-committee headed by Senator Thomas of Colorado.

General Kenly told the committee there are 13 American airplane squadrons, making a total of 273 machines, now in France, whereas there should be 175 squadrons.

William C. Potter, assistant director of airplane production, said General Pershing had called for 25,000 planes by July 1, 1919, and had been told it was hoped to deliver 18,000 to 20,000. This would meet replacement demands of squadrons in the field.

C. G. Nash, former president of the Nash Motor Company, and now assistant to Mr. Ryan, in engineering and production, gave it as his opinion that nothing but De Haviland machines could be delivered before next January, and if 10,000 airplanes were delivered by next July it would be "almost a miracle."

Orders for Planes Don't Stay Put.

General Kenly said other officers—in fact, all of the witnesses—apparently gave their statements with what Senator Reed characterized at one stage as "brutal frankness."

All were examined secretly and apparently without considering the possibility of the publicity now given. Personal criticisms were voiced with freedom.

SUMMONS 186,772 DRAFTEES

Provost Marshal General Issues Four Separate Calls.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Four separate selective draft calls, constituting the first of the September calls and requiring 186,773 men to entrain for training camps between Aug. 30 and Sept. 6, were issued by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Every state and the District of Columbia is called on to furnish men for training to augment the forces abroad. For general military service 125,000 white men and 21,270 negroes are called; for limited service 40,503 white man are called.

The calls to Northwest states, with the camps to which the men are to be sent, follow:

FOR NATION'S POWER PLANTS

House Committee Told $130,000,000 Is Needed at Once.

Washington, Aug. 27.—More than $130,000,000 is needed at once to stimulate the nation's power plants as a war necessity, Lieutenant Stanley of the war industries board told the House interstate commerce committee, considering the emergency power bill.

The bill provides $200,000,000 for this work.

Greatly increased power is needed in practically every section of the country to cope with the flood of war business, Stanley said.

Of the appropriation, he said, it was proposed to spend $31,250,000 in the Middle West; $14,626,000 in New England; Southern states, $3,000,000, and the Pacific coast, $10,000,000.

Kansas Official in "Y" War Work.

Hutchinson, Kan., Aug. 27.—Lieut. Governor Wm. Y. Morgan announced he had entered the Y. M. C. A. service and would leave shortly for France, to remain "until we win the war." Lieutenant Governor Morgan is publisher of the Hutchinson News.

Seven Held for Sedition.

New York, Aug. 27.—Six men and one woman were arrested by federal authorities in a raid here on what is believed to be the hearquarters of distribution of seditious propagandist literature. The prisoners were held in connection with the circulation of pamphlets entitled "Hypocrisy of the United States and the Allies," which were thrown from housetops on the Lower East Side and distributed at a big Socialistic assemblage in Harlem. A large quantity of the circulars was seized.

VERMIN ATTRACTED BY FOOD

If No Scraps Are Around There Will Be Little Trouble With Ants or Roaches.

The surest way to keep a house free from ants is to leave no food lying about on shelves or in open places, where they can reach it. Ants go where they find food, and if the food supplies of the household are kept in ant-proof metal containers or in ice boxes, and if all foods that may happen to be scattered by children or others is cleaned up promptly, the ant nuisance will be slight. Cake, bread, sugar, meat, and like substances, are especially attractive to the ants, and should be kept from them.

Roaches will not frequent rooms unless they find some valuable food material, and if such materials can be kept from living rooms and offices or scrupulous care exercised to see that no such material is placed in drawers where it can leave an attractive odor or fragments of food, the roach nuisance can be largely restricted to places where food necessarily must be kept.

Limit in Snobbery.

"Those society leaders who go about administering snubs and insults," the late Barton Willing once said at the Philadelphia club, "remind me of Greens.

"Greens ran a little grocery in South Eleventh street. He was tremendously proud of it, though it was in reality a wretched hole. He used to stride up and down in front of it all day with his nose in the air and his chest puffed out.

"An humble hodcarrier passing Greens one morning said affably:

"How are you, Mr. Greens? It looks as if we'd have some rain, don't it?"

"'We'd?' snorted Greens. 'We'd?' Since when, young man, have you and I been partners?'"

Joy for Archeologists.

I was at Carchemish on the day the greatest Hittite find ever unearthed was revealed to the eye of man for the first time in three thousand years.

When the enthusiastic laborers had carefully uncovered the precious dolerite slab, and the overseer, bending over it like some near-sighted Silas Marner caressing his gold, had discovered that it bore the longest Hittite inscription ever found, ten shots from a big Colt revolver, fired as a backsheesh to the stone, echoed and reechoed across the Euphrates, and workmen and directors knew that a big find had been made.

Pandemonium was let loose. Laborers came running from all directions to share in the joy of discovery. I also shared in that joy. I shouted congratulations to Khall, the giant pickman.

"Praise be to God!" I cried. He grinned so I could see all his teeth, and answered, "God's blessing return to you!"—Christian Herald.

Editor Finally Turned.

"And this," said the alleged old soldier, pestering a long-suffering editor who was an old soldier, "is where the Arabs were massed in front of us. "Here"—pointing to another place on a dirty pocket map—"is where our division was drawn up in zareba.

"We deployed in this direction, and our left wing was attacked by the enemy on this knoll. Just at this point I was wounded on the left shoulder, and a hundred yards further on I got my right arm shattered by a piece of one of our own shells, and—"

"But," interrupted the bored editor, "where did you get your brains blown out?"—London Tit-Bits.

Poor Comparison.

Caroline was eating a green apple, and her mother said, "O, dearie, don't eat that. It will make you sick as a dog!" Caroline's reply was prompt and logical. "Our dog is the wellest one of the family."

Nothing Like That.

"Didn't Peggy marry a literary man?"

"Dear me, no; he's a magazine writer."—Life.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments, (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

SHE GOT COMPOSERS MIXED

Queen Victoria's Error Must Have Caused Mascagni to Pass an Uncomfortable Few Minutes.

Sometimes when a great personage essays musical criticism embarrassing errors arise. Once, Queen Victoria invited Mascagni, the composer of Cavalleria Rusticana, to play for her at Windsor castle. When the musician was at the piano her majesty said:

"I am passionately fond of one of the numbers of your opera."

Mascagni played the Intermezzo.

"No," said the queen, "that is not the melody I mean."

Mascagni played the Prelude.

"That's not it, either."

Mascagni played the dramatic Duet.

The queen became almost impatient. "I'll help you to remember it," she said, and hummed a few measures.

With increasing consternation Mascagni listened as the queen sang the Prologue to Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci!"

Le Gaulois, in telling the story, does not say whether the musician informed the queen that she had made a mistake.—Youth's Companion.

St. Paul.—Mrs. John Wulf and Henry Stroeh of Luverne have been forced to return to regular trade channels some excess canning sugar which they procured through a mail order house, under orders from C. H. Christopherson, food administrator of Rock county. In lieu of punishment under the food control act for hoarding, each made voluntary contribution of $15 to the Rock county Red Cross chapter.

St. Paul.—Grave labor conditions will confront Minnesota soon, it was announced by the State Public Safety commission following receipt of a call to furnish 18,390 of the 1,000,000 unskilled laborers wanted immediately by the government for its war industries. The state's quota was announced in a communication from Arthur H. Fleming, chief of the state council section, Council of National Defense.

St. Paul.—Minnesota not only has helped to win the war but has added a large figure to her own wealth through the war gardens planted in the state this year, according to a report just issued by the National War Garden commission, Washington, which placed the number of war gardens in the state at 80,000. The value of the produce in them, according to a preliminary estimate by the commission, will amount to more than $8,000,000.

St. Paul.—Potatoes at $1.50 a bushel to consumers and $1.20 a bushel to dealers is a fair price, according to the Minneapolis price listing committee of the United States food administration, which has quoted a flat rate of $2 a 100 pounds of home-grown potatoes to dealers and $2.50 for 100 pounds to consumers. Reports from Minnesota potato growing districts declare that potatoes grade better this year than for twenty years past, and that the state's potato crop will bring millions of dollars. Hennepin county alone values its potato crop at a total of $4,600,000. The great demand for Minnesota potatoes in the South and East also is given as a reason for the boost in price, the State Food Administration said.

Fairmont. — One major, three captains, twenty-eight lieutenants and a naval ensign in the service is the record of Fairmont. It is believed that no city of 5,000 in the state can equal it.

St. Paul. — Lieut. Edward Hatten of the aviation school here is missing. Hatten obtained a furlough and went to Lake Minnetonka. Here he went in swimming. In one of the bath houses the full uniform of a flying officer was found the next day while spectators report they saw a man answering Hatten's description in civilian clothes board the train for Willmar.

Fairmont.—A $1,400-a-year postoffice is at stake on the outcome of a civil service examination. The office at Truman is vacant.

Virginia.—Julius Misholin, arrested at Gilbert for seditious talk and brought here, has been returned to Gilbert for a hearing. Federal agents will investigate his case.

Mankato.—The rainy weather of the past two weeks has seriously interfered with the plans for shock threshing, and it is likely that there will be considerable loss from damaged grain.

Minneapolis.—Minnesota has fallen from third place to twenty-eighth in the sale of War Savings Stamps throughout the United States for the month of July, according to the official figures received by Postmaster Purdy. The July sales in Minnesota have amounted to $4,230,109.66, a per capita average of $1.81.

Crookston.—Lorne Darkom, 10-year-old son of Theodore Darkom, Crookston, was drowned in Red river while playing in a boat with two other youngsters. Though unable to swim the boy dived in the river and came up four times. He was rescued by his father half an hour later; the pulmotor being used, but to no avail.

Mankato.—Blue Earth county went dry by an estimated majority of 500 to 700 on returns received from the county outside of Mankato. Mankato, the county seat, gave the wets a majority of 42, its vote being 1,089 for license and 1,047 against. Thirty saloons will be closed as a result, 25 in Mankato and the remainder at Good Thunder, Madison Lake and St. Clair.

Crosby.—Local policemen state that Mrs. John Hill, who shot and killed her husband at Manganese, had been in jail here for drunkenness. Reports from Manganese say that the body lay out all night and that the woman went back to bed. In the morning the body was covered by a neighbor's wife. Just before the officers took the woman to Brainerd, her husband's body was taken to Crosby and as the undertaker passed her she waved her hand and yelled, "Good-bye, Jack."

St. Paul.—Minnesota is furnishing nearly 50,000,000 tons of ore to make steel and iron for big guns and many other war munitions, according to a statement by State Auditor Preus, custodian of state-owned mines, who has just returned from an extended visit on the iron range. "Minnesota iron mines are shipping this season the largest tonnage on record," Mr. Preus said. "It is estimated that the total will exceed 47,000,000 tons, and that more than 4,800,000 of the aggregate will be in shipments from state-owned mines."

St. Paul. — Raymond F. Schroeder, St. Paul, representing labor on the state board of arbitration, tendered his resignation to Governor Burnquist. In a communication to the governor, Mr. Schroeder explained that the unfriendly attitude of organized labor toward labor policies of the state made it impossible for him to continue in office. The governor announced he had not accepted the resignation. A conference to effect an amicable adjustment and prevent any disruption in the board probably will be held soon, it was said.

Hokah.—Dan Brown, who is the defendant in a damage suit for $5,000 started by Editor H. E. Wheaton because of a beating Brown is alleged to have given him, through his attorneys at La Crosse, has served notice that a suit for slander would be commenced.

St. Paul.—H. E. Carny received notice from Donald Cotton of St. Paul, regional advisor of the war industries board, that he has been appointed as vice chairman of the building material division for sub-region No. 1 which lies south of the Minnesota river.

PUT IT SQUARELY UP TO DAD

Young Son of Famous Member of "Vigilantes" Frankly Considered His Father a Slacker.

Ellis Parker Butler, the author, who lives at Flushing, and is devoting his energy to aiding in the successful prosecution of the war, does not bear an enviable reputation for patriotism in his own household. Mr. Butler has been writing for the Thrift and War stamps campaign.

Mr. Butler is the father of twin sons of tender age. Several nights ago he returned home tired after a day's work for the Red Cross and took his seat at the head of the table. After they had finished their dinner the twins produced their Thrift stamps and started to count them.

"Dad, look at all the stamps I have," said one of the youngsters. "I have 200. Look at brother's pile; he has more than I."

Mr. Butler nodded approvingly to Mrs. Butler and they both smiled. There was silence for a minute, then one of the twins looked up and exclaimed: "Dad, why don't you do something patriotic?"

Fewer German Socialists.

The membership of the socialist party in Saxony has decreased from 177,000 in 1914 to 23,000 paying members at present, according to a recent Dresden dispatch to the Berliner Tageblatt. The decrease was due to the number of socialists serving in the army and the split in the socialist party of Germany. Deputy Gradnauer, speaking at the convention of Saxon socialists, said that the circulation of socialist newspapers in Germany had increased from 618,000 copies on April 1, 1917, to 702,000 on April 1, 1918.

Three Million Spangles in Flag.

A flag of extraordinary beauty, composed entirely of spangles, was recently displayed in a Chicago store window. The brilliant emblem, flashing back the light from innumerable points, extended almost the full width of the panel at the back of the display area. Three and one-half million of the tiny metal disks, strung on threads, were used in fashioning this flag.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Not Rafferty's Feet.

At a parade of a company of newly called up men, the drill instructor's face turned scarlet with rage as he berated a new recruit for his awkwardness.

"Now, Rafferty," he roared, "you'll spoil the line with those feet. Draw them back at once, man, and get them in line."

Rafferty's dignity was hurt.

"Plaze, sargint," he said, "they're not mine; they're Micky Doolan's in the rear rank!"

Danger.

"How close are they to our splendid troops?"

"The sounds of battle are something terrifying," roared the lecturer. "Can you imagine the screaming of the shells, the roaring of the cannons, the yells of the men, the rattle of the rifles and machine guns?"

"Yes, sir, I think I can," said the meek little man in the front row, who thought the question was meant for him. "We got three singers, two trombone players, eight pianos, fourteen talking machines, a violinist and a cornetist in our block, all trying to get back in practice."

A Message to Mothers

YOU know the real human doctors right around in your neighborhood: the doctors made of flesh and blood just like you: the doctors with souls and hearts: those men who are responding to your call in the dead of night as readily as in the broad daylight; they are ready to tell you the good that Fletcher's Castoria has done, is doing and will do, from their experience and their love for children.

Fletcher's Castoria is nothing new. We are not asking you to try an experiment. We just want to impress upon you the importance of buying Fletcher's.

Your physician will tell you this, as he knows there are a number of imitations on the market, and he is particularly interested in the welfare of your baby.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out?" Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out," unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bilious? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

Hog Exhibit Unusually Large

Shortage of Fats Main Cause

The world faces such a fat famine that it is imperative for America to raise more hogs. Government specialists say the condition abroad is acute. It is for this reason, principally, that such an effort is being made to arouse interest in the big swine show at the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 7.

Farmers are being urged to raise more hogs not only because of the scarcity of fats but on account of the scarcity of meat. Hogs multiply five or six times as rapidly as any other meat animal. A sow will produce two litters of pigs in one year, or three litters in two years, each litter averaging from five to six pigs. The hog has no rival as a consumer of garbage, damaged grains, and other unmarketable foods which generally go to waste. They thrive on forage crops and pasturage.

Fatty Meats Needed.

It is because pork is a fatty meat, though, that it has become so essential. The human body must have fatty food in certain quantity, or health is certain to be impaired. Fatty foods have become so scarce in other parts of the world that the condition is getting serious. America simply must increase its production of hogs, or the loss of hundreds of thousands of lives elsewhere is certain to result.

In the face of this unusual demand for pork the production of hogs in America has decreased rapidly in the last few years. From 1913 to 1916 there was an increase of about 6,250,000 hogs in the United States, but since then there has been such a rapid decrease that we have fallen far behind in our efforts to meet the greater European demand. Last year America exported over 1,500,000,000 pounds of pork, or three times as much as was exported before the Great War opened.

Show a Stimulant.

The swine show will serve as a stimulant, interesting the public in the hog industry, demonstrating the superiority of hogs of excellent conformation and breeding, and furnishing prospective buyers with names of nearby breeders who have hogs for sale. Big premiums are offered to breeders of the best hogs exhibited, and every effort is to be made to popularize the hog industry locally. Inquiries indicate that an unusually large show is to result.—Copyrighted.

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

It is the duty of every man, woman and child in America to work and plan constantly to increase the output of food.

The Mud Lake Homesteads Again

Department of the Interior.
General Land Office
Washington, D. C., Aug. 22, 1918

Hon. Halvor Steenerson,
H. of R. Washington, D. C.
My dear Mr. Steenerson:-

In reference to your letter of Aug. 8th, 1918, relative to the disposition of lands in Mud Lake bottom.

The lands are within the ceded Chippewa Reservation and were opened to entry under circular of Feb. 19, 1916, in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act of Congress approved Jan. 14, 1889 (25 Stat., 642). Prior to the opening of said lands the Department obtained the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States, and in accordance therewith the lands were surveyed and opened to entry. This office is aware that in 1914, prior to the opening of the lands, the riparian owners obtained a decision in the county courts, but said case appears to have been between the riparian owners with the object of obtaining the judgement of the court as to the ownership of said lands, as between such riparian owners, but not as between such riparian owners and the United States, as trustee for the Chippewa Indians.

The office is now considering a proposition to bring suit to settle the matter of title to said land. It is believed that the entrymen are entitled to have the matter cleared up.

Very respectfully,
Clay Tallman,
Commissioner.

INCREASE CUT IN HINDENBURG LINE

Haig's Men Overcoming Enemy on Front From Arras to Peronne.

PUSH FOE FOR 30 MILES

Douai, Cambrai and St. Quentin Roads Invested by Allies—Hindenburg Line No More a Menace to Allied Arms.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Field Marshal Haig's forces have smashed the German front for a distance of thirty miles, from the region of Arras to Peronne.

The southern portion of the famous Drocourt-Queant switch line, which had been heralded as the impregnable bulwark of the German defense in the north, has given way under the British onslaught over its entire front from the Scarpe river to Queant, a distance of virtually ten miles, and Monday night saw the Canadian and English troops who carried out the maneuver hard after the defeated enemy three miles to the eastward.

Thousands of prisoners have been taken and at last accounts the enemy was fighting violently as he gave ground toward the Canal Du Nord.

By this victory seemingly is ended the menace of the Hindenburg line to the south, which the British are gradually approaching over its entire front. Already thoroughly outflanked on the north and with the French well upon its southern base, military necessity apparently will require that the Germans relinquish the Hindenburg fortifications and realign their front from Flanders to Rheims in order to avert disaster.

The roads to Douai, Cambrai and St. Quentin are thoroughly invested by the British and French armies, while north of Soissons the French and Americans are in positions from which to carry out turning movements which will outflank Laon and the Chemin Des Dames and Aisne lines. The situation of the enemy is the most perilous he has yet been in.

The Americans are now fighting well east of Voormezeele, and a few more strides by Haig's men in this region may soon threaten Armentieres and, successively, Lille.

Near Soissons the French have made another important crossing of the Canal Du Nord, east of Nesle, and well on the road to Ham; and French and Americans gains which are still being made north of Soissons give further assurance that the German line on the Vesle will have to be abandoned, as, in fact, it will probably have to be reconstituted from the northern portions clear across to Rheims.

BIG REVENUE BILL TO HOUSE

Eight Billion Provided as Bill Leaves the Committee.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The new revenue bill—greatest of all tax measures in the history of the nation—with a levy affecting every individual and business concern in the country, was approved unanimously by the house ways and means committee. The final committee estimate of the revenue to be yielded under the new bill is $8,012,792,000 as against $3,941,-633,000 last year under the present law.

YANKS FIGHT ON SOIL OF BELGIUM

Have Taken Voormezeele and Are Reported to Have Won Other Strong Points.

FOE STILL GIVES GROUND

The Allies Now at Door of Peronne, Which They Dominate from Mont St. Quentin, Taken in

With the British Army in Flanders, Sept. 2.—For the first time, American troops fought on Belgian soil Sunday. They captured Voormezeele and were engaged in operations elsewhere in the Somme locality.

London, Sept. 2.—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters says he hears that Americans, besides taking Voormezeele, have captured several strong positions between Voormezeele and Ypres.

All along the western battle front the Germans continue to give ground before the allies. The daily trend of events accentuates the insecurity of the German lines and the inability of the German high command to hold back the aggressors.

American troops operating in conjunction with the French have driven against the German line beyond Juvigny.

Allies Now Dominate Peronne.

Mont St. Quentin, dominating Peronne and the angle of the Somme river, has been taken by the Australians, together with Feuillau Court, lying to the west. In this operation, which was in the nature of a surprise attack, more than 1,500 prisoners were taken.

The way is now prepared for the occupation of Peronne and a further important advance to the east.

Simultaneously the French have broken down the resistance of the heavy German forces along the Canal Du Nord and north of Soissons.

In the Soissons area they are in complete possession of Juvigny and Crouy, and have reached the western outskirts of Leury.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Allied progress has slowed down somewhat, owing to the reinforcements, the Germans have rushed to the fore in an endeavor to hold the vital points on their line as long as possible, there has been no cessation of the allied thrusts along the entire 80-mile front, and with minor exceptions, these thrusts have been successful.

Spain Takes Over German Vessels.

Madrid, Sept. 2.—The Spanish government has decided to take over all German steamships interned in Spanish ports, in accordance with Spain's recent note to Berlin, because of the torpedoing of Spanish vessels by German submarines. Foreign Minister Dato announced at a meeting of the cabinet that the Spanish steamship Ataz-Mendi, carrying a cargo of coal from England to Spain, had been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine.

GERMAN "MANIA" FOR PEACE

Amsterdam Correspondent Alleges Changing German Viewpoint.

Amsterdam, Sept. 2.—The Germans have been seized with a sort of peace mania, according to the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf. The events in France have made such a profound impression that the Germans one meets along the frontier are indifferent to the prospect of the defeat of the central empires, and only wish to get peace as quickly as possible.

The correspondent declares that two German regiments in Russia refused to go to the western front, and that 130 of the soldiers were shot. Seven hundred of the body guards at Munich refused to go to the front and barricaded themselves in their barracks until they were compelled to surrender, the correspondent says.

LENINE IS SHOT; NOT KILLED

Two Bullets Fired at Russion Bolshevik Permier.

London, Sept. 2.—An official Russian government dispatch received by wireless concerning the attempt on the life of Nikolai Lenine, the Bolsheviki premier, says that Lenine was wounded in two places. One bullet penetrated a little above the shoulder blade, entering the chest and touching the upper part of the lung. This caused great loss of blood. The bullet stopped on the right side of the neck over the shoulder bone.

Another bullet penetrated the left shoulder blade and split the bone. It stopped directly under the skin. The dispatch says that the patient is perfectly conscious and that the best surgeons have been called in.

"Greaser" Claims Yank Fired First.

Nogales, Ariz., Sept. 2.—Mexican Consul Zertuche today obtained an affidavit from Refugio Garcia, a Mexican federal soldier in Nogales, Sonora, stating that he was fired upon by a white American in the uniform of a soldier Thursday morning at 6 o'clock while at customs station No. 6 on the Mexican side. Consul Zertuche stated that he had reported the incident to Ambassador Bonilas at Washington. The soldier who made the affidavit is now in the military hospital on the Mexican side.

PREPARE NOW TO REGISTER

Instructions for Men Who Are to Be Called On to Serve Their Country.

"To Insure a Safer World for Our Children.

"Since the beginning of our government it has been the law of this country that every able-bodied male citizen and declarant between eighteen and forty-five is subject to be summoned to its defense.

"The occasions have happily been rare when such a summons has had to be issued. We face the need now.

"Over 10,000,000 of our men of fighting age have already registered for selection for service. Out of this number many have been chosen, trained, and sent to battle across the sea, while others are in training or on the way. They have made us very proud of them, these splendid soldiers, and some have already given their lives for us. We shall not fail to support them and to re-enforce them.

"The remaining 13,000,000 are now called upon to register for selection. The only purpose of this extension of the selective service law is to bring a speedier end to the war and to insure a safer world for our children.

"Since the enemy has compelled the arbitrament of force, force let it be, force overwhelming. The registration of the entire man-power of the United States will be our unmistakable pledge to humanity that democracy is to be the regime of the future."

"NEWTON D. BAKER,
"Secretary of War."

4. DATE OF BIRTH.—If you do not remember the year, start to answer as you would if some one asked you your birthday, as "October 12." Then say, "On my birthday, this year, I will be (or was) ...... years old." The registrar will then fill in the year of birth. This may be obtained by the registrar by subtracting the age in years on this year's birthday from 1918.

RACE.

5. WHITE.—If you are white, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to the determination of your citizenship, leaving spaces 6, 7, 8 and 9 blank.

6. NEGRO.—If you are a negro, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to the determination of your citizenship, leaving spaces 5, 7, 8 and 9 blank.

7. ORIENTAL.—If you are an oriental, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to the determination of your citizenship, leaving spaces 5, 6, 8 and 9 blank.

INDIAN.

8. CITIZEN.—If you are a citizen Indian born in the United States, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to space 16, leaving spaces 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 blank. An Indian born in the United States is a citizen if (1) he, or his father or mother prior to his birth or before he attained the age of 21, was allotted land or received a patent in fee prior to May 8, 1906; (2) if he was allotted land subsequent to May 8, 1906, and received a patent in fee to his land; (3) if he was residing in the old Indian Teritory on March 3, 1901; (4) if he lives separate and apart from his tribe and has adopted the habits of civilized life.

9. NONCITIZEN.—If you are a noncitizen Indian born in the United States, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to space 16, leaving spaces 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 blank. An Indian born in the United States shall be classed as a noncitizen Indian unless he falls within one of the classes of citizen Indians described in space 8.

UNITED STATES CITIZEN.

10. NATIVE BORN.—If you are a native-born citizen of the United States, the register will place a check in this space and proceed to space 16, leaving spaces 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 blank. If you were born in the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, you are a native-born citizen of the United States irrespective of the citizenship of your parents. Any inhabitant of Porto Rico, who was a Spanish subject on April 11, 1899, and who resided in Porto Rico on that date, and continued to reside therein until April 11, 1900, is held to be a citizen of Porto Rico, except such inhabitants, natives of the Spanish peninsula, who elected to preserve their allegiance to Spain on or before April 11, 1900, by making a declaration, before a court of record, of their decision to do so. Any citizen of Porto Rico, as above defined, and any native of Porto Rico who was temporarily absent from the island on April 11, 1899, and has since returned, and is not a citizen of any foreign country, is held to be a citizen of the United States, provided he did not elect to retain his political status by making declaration under oath of his decision to do so within six months after March 2, 1917. If you were born abroad, you are still a citizen of the United States if your father was a citizen of the United States at the time you were born, unless you have expatriated yourself.

11. NATURALIZED.—If you are a naturalized citizen of the United States, the register will place a check in this space and proceed to space 16, leaving spaces 10, 12, 13, 14 and 15 blank. You are a naturalized citizen if you have completed your naturalization, that is, if you have "taken out final papers." But you are not a citizen if you have only declared your intention to become a citizen (that is, if you have only "taken out first papers"); in the latter case you are a declarant.

12. CITIZEN BY FATHER'S NATURALIZATION BEFORE REGISTRANT'S MAJORITY.—If you are a citizen by your father's naturalization (or your mother's naturalization in case your father died) before you attained your majority, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to space 16, leaving spaces 10, 11, 13, 14 and 15 blank. The children of persons who have been duly naturalized under the laws of the United States, being under the age of twenty-one at the time of the naturalization of their parents, are, if dwelling in the United States before attaining their majority, considered as citizens thereof. (Sec. 2172, U. S. Rev. Stat., and 34 Stat. L., pt. 1, p. 1228.)

ALIEN.

13. DECLARANT.—If you are a declarant alien, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to space 15, leaving spaces 10, 11, 12 and 14 blank. You are a declarant if, although a citizen or subject of some other country, you have declared before a naturalization court your intention to become a citizen of the United States. This is referred to as "taking out first papers."

14. NONDECLARANT.—If you are a nondeclarant alien, the registrar will place a check in this space and proceed to space 15, leaving spaces 10, 11, 12 and 13 blank. You are a nondeclarant alien if you do not fall within one of the classes described in spaces 10, 11, 12 and 13 and are not an Indian. In other words, you are a nondeclarant alien if you are a citizen or subject of some other country than the United States and have not declared before a naturalization court your intention to become a citizen of the United States, that is, have not "taken out first papers."

15. This need be answered only by declarant and nondeclarant aliens. Remember that a declarant is not yet a citizen of the United States. If you are an alien of either class, state the name of your country, which the registrar will write in this space, for example, "Great Britain," "France," "Italy." State also the name of the subdivision of your country in which you were ordinarily resident before proceeding to the United States, which will be written by the registrar in parentheses after the name of your country, as "Great Britain (Scotland)." In the case of Czecho-Slovaks, German or Austrian Poles, Alsatians, Lorrainers, and persons of like status, the registrant may answer "Czecho-Slovak, claimed as subject of Austria-Hungary," "Pole claimed as subject of Germany or Austria-Hungary," "Alsatian claimed as subject of Germany," etc., and such an entry shall be made by the registrar.

If not a citizen of the United States, of what nation are you a citizen or subject?

16. PRESENT OCCUPATION. — This means your present occupation, trade, or employment, which the registrar will enter in this space. Do not state what you once did, nor what you have done most of the time, nor what you are best fitted to do. Simply state what your job is right now. State briefly, as "farmer," "miner," "student," "laborer" (on farm in rolling mill, in automobile, wagon, or other factory), "machinist in automobile factory," etc. If you hold an office under State or Federal Government, name the office you hold.

17. EMPLOYER'S NAME.—If you are working for an individual, firm, corporation, or association, state its name. If in business, trade, profession, or employment for yourself so state. If you are an officer of the State or Federal Government, say whether your office is under the United States, the State, the county or a municipality. The registrar will make an appropriate entry.

18.—PLACE OF EMPLOYMENT OR BUSINESS.—This means where you work. Give the number and name of street first, then city or town, then county and State or R. F. D. number first, then town then county and State. The registrar will make the entries.

NEAREST RELATIVE.

19. NAME.—If you are married and your wife is living, her name should be stated. If you are single or your wife is dead, you should state the name of your nearest blood relative. If you are not married and have no blood relative, the name of a close friend should be stated. The registrar will make the entry.

20. ADDRESS.—In stating the address give the number and name of the street first, then the city or town, then the county and State; or R F D number first, then post office, then county and State. The registrar will make the entries.

HERE IS MEANING OF LIBERTY BOND

Buying It Is Merely Lending Money to Yourself for a Great Necessity.

U.S. GOVERNMENT MEANS US

Stupendous Amounts Are Needed to Pay for Work and Materials, So Our Old-Time Extravagances Must Be Dropped.

By JOHN PALMER GAVIT.

One of the good results that will accrue to the American people from their participation in the war is a better understanding of the purpose and function of money. Also, they will more fully appreciate their relation to the government and the fact that it is their government—as much theirs as their homes and farms and factories. For purposes of poetry and sentiment it is well enough to talk about "Uncle Sam," your devotion to him, your willingness to lend to him by the purchase of bonds, War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps, and to give your own life and the lives of your sons on the actual fighting front; but you must not lose sight of the fact that after all, the United States, "Uncle Sam," U. S., "Our Country," and so on—whatever poetic phrase we use to represent the nation in its united action and aspiration—is just US, ourselves in our own proper persons, working and saving and applying our joint strength, for ourselves, our children and our children's children.

Too much have we thought of the government, the nation, Uncle Sam, and so on, as something separate from ourselves; something to which we give and lend, eagerly or willingly or grudgingly or under compulsion, as the case may be. We have had too little of the practice of team work for a great common purpose—our own purpose.

The Liberty Bond campaigns furnish occasion for reminding ourselves that it is our country, ourselves in our organized capacity, that is engaged in the war to abolish autocracy; that "Uncle Sam" is us, in common determination to do and give all of ourselves to an enterprise as thoroughly worth while as the American Revolution or the war to preserve the Union and free the slaves. And one of the ways in which we can participate directly and actively in this enterprise is to turn our money—all of it that is not absolutely and honestly necessary to the essential purposes of living and keeping well and efficient for the other things we have to do to help along the enterprise—over to ourselves in our organized capacity; that is, to the government, for the work of the war which it is conducting for us.

Money Useful Only for Exchange.

Money is nothing in itself—just paper and metal. It is useless unless somebody else will accept it in exchange for something he has or something he can do. The measure of its value to you is the other fellow's need of the materials or the labor which it will in turn command for him. Spending money is the way we have of getting from other people the things they have or the work they can do—"Goods and Services." Our responsibility, therefore, lies in the question of the kind of things for which we choose to exchange money, and the time and circumstances in which we exert that choice.

Now, we have been a very wasteful and extravagant people; we have not thought much about the effect upon ourselves and other people and upon the nation as a whole, of the ways in which we spent our money, or the time and circumstances in which we spent it. But the war is compelling us to think about that. Not even the greatest nation, or the most powerful government, or the shrewdest financiers can make something out of nothing. And when war, the most ravenous kind of waste and extravagance that mankind has devised, comes along to take workers out of industry and off the farms, and to turn them from production to high-power consumption and destruction—no matter if the ultimate purpose of the war be quite worth its cost in life and property—there simply are not material and labor enough in the country to permit both the continuance of the old kinds of expenditure and the taking on of the new.

Why We Must Do Without.

For the purposes of the war the government of the United States must have stupendous amounts of materials and work, and there is not enough of these to give the government what it must have and at the same time allow the people generally to have as much material and work for their private uses as they have in ordinary times.

Therefore we must to the greatest possible extent keep out of the market for materials and labor, so as (1) to keep from making other folks sell us things and work for us instead of for the government, and so that (2) the things and the work that would be put into products and efforts for our personal use and enjoyment shall be compelled to turn to the kinds of products and work that the government must have to win the war. Every dollar, every cent, that we spend for something that we could go without competes in the market with the government, and by just so much impedes the big cause.

Even if we saved the money and buried it in the back yard we should be helping the government. But there is a better thing to do with it. The government must have money, in immense amounts, in order to buy materials and work. And we are asked to lend it to the government for that purpose, in addition to what we pay as taxes.

Bonds Are More Than Receipts.

The Liberty bonds are the receipts which the government gives us for this loan. But they are more than receipts; we get receipts for the taxes. A Liberty bond is not only the government's acknowledgement that you have loaned the money; it is its promise to pay it back upon a certain day, and to pay you in the meanwhile, at certain intervals, for the use of the money. All of the resources of the country in materials and the labor of the people—our own good faith toward each other, our permanence as a civilized nation—are pledged to the payment of principal and interest in strict accordance with the terms of the transaction as printed on each bond. There is not a safer or more valuable piece of paper in the world.

When this war is over there will be only two kinds of folks in the United States—those who did all they could and gave all they could, and those who didn't. Among those who didn't will be the ones who tried to keep on using and enjoying things and the work of other people, as they used to do; those who failed to do their utmost in the way of really useful work, and those who demanded for themselves unnecessary things and labor which might have been used for the purposes of the government in winning the war.

All You Can, Is the Measure.

Every man knows in his heart what he can do and whether he is doing it. He may be able to deceive the government; by loud-mouthed professions of patriotism, saluting the flag, cheering at meetings, and other noisy and conspicuous displays he may deceive his neighbors; but he cannot fool himself. He knows whether he has done all he could! And "all he could"—honestly, on the level, every man the judge of his own effort in the squarest kind of dealing with his own soul in a kind of Judgment day—that is the measure.

He is a poor creature who thinks of the Liberty bond solely as an investment—a grudging gift to his country, with a string on it. But no one need be ashamed to lend to the government. Uncle Sam will take what he needs without money return, in the form of taxes, and we shall pay in willingly, cheerfully. We are doing a work for the future—the world will be cleaner and better to live in for all time by reason of what we are doing now; therefore it is right that a part of this burden should be met by those who will come after us and reap the long-time benefits.

In the finest spirit our young men are going to the battle front to offer their utmost, their very flesh and blood, in unutterable toil and agony, in doing what must be done there. They hope to come back, but they are willing to die there if that must be. And thousands of our best are doing just that. In like unswerving spirit we who stay at home must do our part—going without things and making those we have serve to the utmost—and through this self-denial furnishing to the government—your government—which is taking care of our boys, the means to get the enormous amounts of materials and labor needed to take care of them and to equip them for what they have to do.

This is the meaning of the Liberty bond.

Uncle Sam Turns Tightwad.

The money which you are lending Uncle Sam by purchasing Liberty Bonds, and with which he in turn purchases foodstuffs for the boys in khaki, goes much farther than one at first realizes. Formerly all scrapings from plates and all refuse from camp kitchens was burned. The old order has changed. Garbage waste is now separated into various classes such as bread, raw fats and meats, cooked meat, cooked grease, bones and other garbage.

These materials are weighed after each meal, and a statement of the weights forwarded to the conservation and reclamation officer in each camp. In this way, the army has an absolute check on wastes of unit kitchens which enables it to prevent over-rationing and individual wastage. The garbage from these separations is turned over to reduction plants, which in turn utilize these wastes for the manufacture of nitro-glycerin and for fertilizers.

Get New Kidneys!

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poisons developed in the system, things begin to happen.

One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back; highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure.

Do not delay a minute. At the first indication of trouble in the kidney, liver, bladder or urinary organs start taking Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules, and save yourself before it is too late. Instant treatment is necessary in kidney and bladder troubles. A delay is often fatal.

You can almost certainly find immediate relief in Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules. For more than 200 years this famous preparation has been an unfailing remedy for all kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

It is the pure, original Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used. About two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Get it at any drug store, and if it does not give you almost immediate relief, your money will be refunded. Be sure you get the GOLD MEDAL brand. None other genuine. In boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

SONG FOR ALL ABLE TO HEAR

Trouble Is That All People Have Not Properly Attuned Themselves to Listen to It.

"There is ever a song somewhere, my dear," sings the poet. Let us go a little further and say that there is ever a song everywhere—if we have the ear attuned to it.

The cultured musicians will tell you that what the masters sing in their strange and complex studies is the highest music to those who are trained to catch it. But the simple heart finds the harmony in the simple, lowly melodies.

What to the one class is purest music is to the other meaningless noise. If we just knew how to listen we could love the songs of each. To some the jingle of money is the only music in the world. It deafens them to all other sounds. To some the melody of their own names spoken in praise is the only music worth hearing. The ears of these seem to open inward. The greedy and the vain shrink their whole world to their own size.

But to those who can hear it there is a song in every phase of life. Fortunate is he who can hear more than a very few.—Exchange.

WILSON CALLS MEN OF 18 TO 45

President in Proclamation Names Sept. 12 as Date on Which They Shall Register.

12,780,000 AFFECTED

Country to Devote Larger Part of Military Manpower of Nation to Bring Decisive Victory in War, Says Executive.

REGISTRATION FACTS

All men of 18 to 45 years, inclusive, must register.

Registration places open at 7 a. m. and close at 9 p. m. September 12.

If in doubt about registration places consult local draft boards.

Washington, Sept. 2.—President Wilson, announcing Sept. 12 as the date for the registration of all unregistered men between the ages of 18 and 45, inclusive, as provided in the manpower bill he has just signed, has issued a proclamation in which, after citing the law and the regulations for registration, he said:

"Fifteen months ago the men of the country from 21 to 30 years of age were registered. Three months ago and again last month those who had just reached the age of 21 were added. It now remains to include all men between the ages of 18 and 45.

"This is not a new policy. A century and a quarter ago it was deliberately ordained by those who were then responsible for the safety and defense of the nation that the duty of the military service should rest upon all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 45. We now accept and fulfill the obligation which they established, an obligation expressed in our national status from that time until now.

"We solemnly purpose a decisive victory of arms and deliberately devote the larger part of the military manpower of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose.

"The younger men have from the first been ready to go. They have furnished voluntary enlistments out of all proportion to their numbers. Our military authorities regard them as having the highest combatant qualities. Their youthful enthusiasm, virile eagerness, their gallant spirit of daring make them the admiration of all who see them in action. They have not only the distinction of serving in this great war but also the inspiring memories which hundreds of thousands of them will cherish through the years to come of a great day and a great service for their country and for mankind.

"By the men of the older group now called upon the opportunity now opened to them will be accepted by calm resolution to realize to the full the deep and solemn significance of what they do. Having made a place for themselves in their respective communities, having assumed at home the graver responsibilities of life in many spheres, looking back upon honorable records in civil and in industrial life, they will realize as perhaps no others could how entirely their own fortunes and the fortunes of all whom they love are put at stake in this war for right and will know that the very records they have made render this new duty the commanding duty of their lives.

Final Demonstration of Loyalty.

"They know how surely this is the nation's war, how imperatively it demands the mobilization and massing of all our resources of every kind. They will regard this call as the supreme call of their day and will answer it accordingly.

"Only a portion of those who register will be called upon to bear arms. Those who are not physically fit will be excused; those exempted by alien allegiance; those who should not be relieved of their present responsibilities above all those who cannot be spared from the civil and industrial tasks at home upon which the success of our armies depends as much as upon the fighting at the front.

"But all must be registered in order that the selection for military service may be made intelligently and with full information.

"This will be our final demonstration of loyalty, democracy and the will to win, our solemn notice to all the world that we stand absolutely together in common resolution and purpose.

"It is the call to duty which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause at whose summons every true heart offers supreme service."

12,780,000 to Register.

It is estimated that 12,780,000 men between the ages of 18 and 45 well be enrolled by this registration, which, added to the number previously enrolled, will raise the total number of Americans registered for military duty to approximately 24,000,000 men.

Regulations by Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder for classification and summons of the new classes of registrants to be enrolled Sept. 12 will be issued soon.

First Called About Oct. 1.

It is planned to begin classification immediately after registration so that the first men of the 18 to 45 class may be called to the colors soon after Oct. 1 and a steady movement of men to camp may be continued throughout the fall and winter.

7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Are Hours Set.

The proclamation fixes 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. as the hours of registration, and provides that persons who are ill may register by agent, persons absent from home may register by mail, persons without permanent residence may register at a place designated by the local board where they happen to be on registration day, and persons at sea or abroad may register within five days after their return, or as provided for other absentees.

While the draft law especially exempts certain public officials from military service, the only men between 18 and 45 exempted from registration are men in the military or naval service, men registered and awaiting call, men enrolled in army, navy or marine corps reserves and diplomatic and consular officials of foreign governments resident in but not citizens of the United States.

Industrial Furlough Planned.

"Industrial furloughs" are being planned in connection with the second draft. In a way this will serve as an antistrike antidote.

As now proposed, representatives of the labor and agriculture departments will sit with district boards to help jump exemption claims. In some cases, labor may be inducted into the service, but provided it is essential to the war industries, it will be furloughed and sent back to the factories.

There it can remain as long as it works properly, but it can be seen that the furlough can be ended and the man sent back to the army if he slacks on the job.

The prevailing rate of pay will be given the men thus furloughed and they will not be subject to army pay as long as they stay at their industrial tasks. This is held to be a fair system, which while it may be interpreted by some as conscription of labor, still it gives it every latitude as long as labor is loyal.

States' Estimated Totals.

Based on the ratio shown by the registration of men from 21 to 31 June 5, 1917, the shares of the new registrants expected in each state are estimated as follows:

Alabama, 243,271; Arizona, 49,794; Arkansas, 198,746; California, 398,552; Colorado, 112,139; Connecticut, 213,-329; Delaware, 29,489; District of Columbia, 4?,152; Nevada, 16,116; New Hampshire, 50,013; New Jersey, 405,-509; New Mexico, 44,652; New York, 1,345,457; North Carolina, 264,242; North Dakota, 87,929; Ohio, 739,427; Oklahoma, 227,884; Oregon, 84,404; Pennsylvania, 1,087,692; Rhode Island, 71,431; South Carolina, 170,649; South Dakota, 77,179; Tennessee, 251,865; Texas, 546,187; Utah, 58,863; Vermont, 36,316; Florida, 110,940; Georgia, 309,-972; Idaho, 55,461; Illinois, 859,834; Indiana, 340,920; Iowa, 287,847; Kansas, 200,413; Kentucky, 254,108; Louisiana, 212,580; Maine, 80,770; Maryland, 162,090; Massachusetts, 483,646; Michigan, 498,965; Minnesota, 296,856; Mississippi, 185,715; Missouri, 396,509; Montana, 117,703; Nebraska, 157,665; Virginia, 241,974; Washington, 146,853; West Virginia, 167,753; Wisconsin, 326,377; Wyoming, 30,520.

HAYWOOD HAS LITTLE HOPE

Convicted I. W. W. Leader Will Write Autobiography.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—"I fear we have not much to hope for even when the war is over," said William D. Haywood, convicted I. W. W. chief, in his cell at the county jail.

"If this were a war verdict there might be something to look forward to, but I don't look on it as a war verdict.

"What I can't understand is why some were given major terms and some short terms. I figure that if we were all guilty of conspiracy we should have received the same sentences."

Haywood declared he had decided to write an autobiography for one of several publishers who have made him handsome offers. He admitted he had little hope of gaining his freedom either by appeal or pardon.

Wilson's Tour May Reach Coast.

Washington, Sept. 2. — Plans for President Wilson's speechmaking for the Fourth Liberty Loan are taking shape. It is said his campaign might carry him to the Pacific coast. The president probably will make nearly a score of addresses in many sections of the country, calling on the people to subscribe to the nation's war fund and telling them what has been done with money already provided. The there will be no announcement for the present.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:
"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.
Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.
"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. Marie Boyd, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

The Navy Abroad.

The eight destroyers and less than 1,000 men that marked the beginning of American naval co-operation with the allies have been increased to 250 vessels and 40,000 men, with 3,000 officers, says the Manchester Guardian, in an appreciation of the magnitude of the American naval effort.

Health Was Shattered
South Boston Woman Tells How She Suffered Before Doan's Cured Her.
"I was in awful shape from kidney disease," says Mrs. W. F. Sterritt, 707 Dorchester Ave., South Boston, Mass. "My health was shattered and I would often fall in a heap. Had someone stabbed me in the back with a knife, the pains could not have been worse. "I lost thirty pounds, was terribly nervous and could not do my housework. Fainting spells came on and my feet and limbs swelled so badly I couldn't wear my shoes. Puffy sacs came under my eyes, my skin looked shiny and the impression of a finger left a dent that remained for some time.
Mrs. Sterritt
"My kidneys were in awful shape and it seemed that I had to pass the secretions every hour. The passages were scant and terribly distressing. I was feverish at night and perspired profusely.
"I was discouraged until told about Doan's Kidney Pills. They brought improvement from the first and about a dozen boxes cured me. My cure has lasted."

Another Optimist.

The optimistic man had been ejected from his room by the irate landlady. Out he went into the street, his belongings sailing after him. The white, blinding snow whirled in stinging masses and the wintry wind shrieked and moaned through the trees and wires.

The optimistic man sat him on his trunk to listen to the complaint of the elements and to consider where he should go. He recalled a blistering week of a past August. As a cutting blast almost whirled him from his seat and blew a hatful of snow down his neck he murmured gratefully: "Well, there seems to be a good breeze stirring, anyhow."

Didn't Clean 'Em.

There was a certain husky young soldier in a regiment of infantry. This young buck private was tall and extremely wide. Some time ago he sent a uniform to the cleaners. It was returned with a note: "Sorry, sir, but we don't clean tents."

It is to be hoped that the meek will inherit the earth before the other fellow gets through with it.

OPLE EQUAL O TASK, SAYS ARTHUR ROGERS

h Federal Reserve District Vill Buy Any Amount, Says Liberty Loan Chairman.

IVE BEGINS SEPT. 28

ing in Northwest to Be Completed Five Days—Local Organizations to Carry Out Details—Workers Behind Fighters.

The people of the Ninth Federal erve District will buy the amount Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds allotted them, whatever that amount may They would buy these bonds even hey did not bear any interest."

This strong statement w made by R. Rogers, chairman of the Liberty an Executive Committee of this dis- ct, after careful consideration. In plaining his confidence in the loy- y of the people of the Northwest, said:

"I am thoroughly convinced that the ople of this great part of the coun- y will do whatever their Govern- asks them to do in this crisis. believe this after working with these en through two Liberty Loan cam- aigns and having pretty well learned eir processes of reasoning and their clinations.

"I do not have this faith in the ople of the Northwest because I ink all of them are patriots, or are ywhere near perfect.

I do know, however, that a large ajority of the men in these North- est states understand what this war eans, what part the United States overnment must take in this war if is to be brought to a successful onclusion.

"They know that the people of the nited States, individually and collec- ively, must stand by their Govern- ent if it is to accomplish its great mbition and bring harmonious peace the world.

"They know that America must nance her Allies and that if America rnishes the money it means victory. ery American must do his full are. I know that the men and omen of the Northwest appreciate eir duty to their Government and ll perform it at whatever cost to emselves. They have learned that eryone in America must get under e load which America is carrying r the democracy of the world.

"Realizing all this and feeling ongly the righteousness of the ause, we are soldiers, and whatever e Government in which we are stock- olders asks us to do, we will do.

"The actual work of selling bonds the Fourth Liberty Loan drive in e Ninth District will begin Sept. and will be completed just five days ter. The work of organization roughout the district is being done ow. The county chairmen in all unties are perfecting local organiza- ions, making the allotments and ar- anging all the details that will make e actual selling of bonds comparatively simple. In a great many counties, probably in the majority of them, individuals will be notified where and at what time to buy the bonds allotted to them and their subscriptions will be promptly made without solicitation.

"How ever a county committee decides to carry out the details of its campaign will not be material so long as the results are obtained. All any county has to do is to subscribe the amount allotted to it and to secure it properly and without resort to any methods that cannot be justified.

"We have a great big task in front of us, but the people of these states are equal to it. They are not going to fail to loan the money necessary to their Government when millions of our young men are gladly giving the service which may mean their lives."

It is to prevent [illegible] of this cruel waste and help those who have suffered by it to regain their [illegible] that America's men are fighting in France and Americans at home are [illegible] to provide the money. These objects cannot be obtained unless everyone [illegible] his duty during the Fourth Liberty Loan, September 28th to October 3rd.

SOMETHING COMING TO THE GERMANS.

These stalwart Americans are only practicing, but a million or more of them [illegible] waiting a chance to practice in deadly earnest through the German [illegible] Our boys are proving daily that they are the best known exponents of [illegible] that requires brains, muscle and nerve. Every man, woman and [illegible] buys bonds in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign will be helping [illegible] world safe for democracy."

IF WE FAIL THE WORLD IS LOST

American Soldiers Can Crush the Hun Only If Equipped by American Dollars.

DUTY OF ALL IS CLEAR

War More Than Armies—To Provide Food, Clothing, Weapons and Hundreds of Other Things Is Opportunity of Those Who Do Not Offer Lives—Buy Bonds!

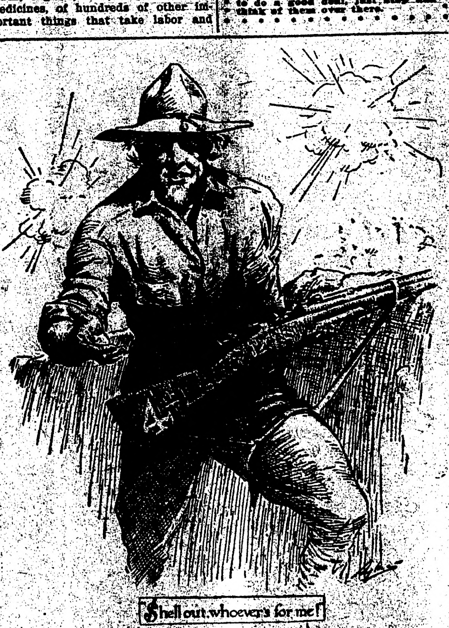
America is the Atlas on which the world is resting. Not only must American soldiers fight and win the war for democracy, but American dollars must equip and maintain American armies and, in addition, they must maintain the armies of the Allies.

Never has so colossal a task fallen to the lot of any nation; never before in the history of the world has any nation been in a position to accomplish such a task. America can do all that she is expected to do, but she can only do it if every citizen of this greatest republic does his full share.

The war in Europe is more than the splendid army of young American manhood fighting under our banners in Flanders; it is a matter of food, shelter, clothing, munitions, weapons, roads, engines, cars, ships, hospitals, medicines, of hundreds of other important things that take labor and money to produce. To provide these things is the opportunity and duty of those who do not offer their lives.

Winning this war is a matter of money. When you buy a Liberty Bond it means money for the United States treasury. During the coming year, this nation must raise $24,000,000,000. About $16,000,000,000 of this must be raised by loans and $8,000,000,000 by taxation. If we do not raise this money, the United States treasury will have failed. When the United States treasury fails, the war is lost. If the war is lost, democracy is lost—the world is lost.

Thus we get some idea of what each individual must do. He must save, do without luxuries, he must get along with what he has rather than buy things that are not absolutely necessary. He must do those things only which are of productive value. He must simplify and cheapen his diet. In short, he must in every possible way use for his own comfort as little of the nation's labor, time, and efficiency as possible. He must save every cent of money possible and loan it to the Government. In this way only can a citizen live up to his patriotic duty and do his part towards winning and ending the war.



Shell out whoever's for me!

VITAL STATISTICS

Your country is financing Democracy's war.

Your district ranks first in doing its full share.

Third Liberty Loan records show you responded promptly and generously oversubscribed your quota.

The Fourth Liberty Loan has been announced.

Subscriptions must be made between the dates of September 28th and October 3rd.

Interest and terms will be liberal, but they don't matter.

The amount will probably be double that asked for in the Third Loan.

Your allotment will be higher than ever before.

Your Government isn't worrying about you because your patriotism has been proved—you live in the Patriotic Ninth. It is up to you to see that this confidence is not misplaced.

You must not fail to do your full share.

If you individuals fail, your Government will fail.

If your Government fails, the Allies will fail.

If the Allies fail—freedom, justice, brotherly love, the spiritual ideals that make life worth while will fail.

None of these can fail.

You and a million and a half more like you, in the Ninth District, will buy Liberty Bonds on September 28th, 1918.

To loan your full share, you will sacrifice luxuries and comforts. You will work and save and when it is all over you will have proved your loyalty and increased both your spiritual and your material possessions.

When you think you are asked to do a good deal, just stop and think of them over there.

AGAIN IN CHARGE.

Many people insist that the Ninth District is the best organized of any group of states. Results seem to prove it. The active workers in the Third Liberty Loan campaign numbered over thirty thousand out of a little more than 5 million people.

The men responsible to Washington, the officers of the Northwest's financial army, are not taking the credit. They only directed this great territory's patriotic energies.

There have to be officers, however, and everyone should know who they are. The men and women who led to victory in the Third Loan will be in charge during the Fourth campaign, September 28th to October 3rd.

Isn't It Great?

The Northwest's crops are satisfactory. The money returns from them will be big. The Ninth District will do its full share towards feeding the armies of freedom and then will turn around and loan the Government its full share of dollars to make the Fourth Liberty Loan a great success. Surely this is a fine part of a wonderful country in which to live.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

State Auditor.

SENATOR HEGNES HAS CLEAN RECORD

Senator Hegnes has always been a consistent worker for the temperance movement and as a result his vote in the State Senate and his very effective work in favor of Co. Option and Prohibition was a foregone conclusion. The following laws which are of special interest to this district were introduced by him:—

Aid to Agricultural Societies.

Providing for Experiments on Peat Lands.

Maintenance of bridges over Public Ditches.

An Amendment to the Present Noxious Weed Law, so as to include the weeds common to this District, such as the Sow Thistle, etc.

A Law regulating the compensation of the Register of Deeds office in counties having a certain area. This law will mean a saving to Marshall county of several thousand dollars annually.

He was also instrumental thru his work on the Drainage Committee to pass several measures which have and will be of great benefit to this district, saving taxpayers thousands of dollars every year. It is a well known fact that the Drainage laws formerly were of such a nature as to invite graft and among other things made it possible for 1 man to have a ditch established no matter if it would be of any benefit to others or not. Now in order to have a ditch established it is necessary to have the petition signed by at least 25 per cent of the owners of the lands affected. No petition will be granted unless it contains at least eight signers.

He also introduced a bill to compel the elevator companies to furnish bonds to protect farmers having grain in storage. This bill was bitterly fought by the elevator interests.

He also voted and worked for the Deficiency School Aid Bill.

Sen. Hegnes in co-operation with the Roseau county representative secured $50,000 appropriation for the Roseau River Drainage project during the 1915 session. This however was found insufficient to complete the project, as it was found that more money was needed to rebuild bridges and make other improvements in connection with the work. It is a well known fact that at the last session appropriations of this kind were curtailed and very few members were able to get any money for their respective districts. Sen. Hegnes at the last moment succeeded in forcing thru the amendment to the Finance Bill which stipulated an appropriation of $10,000 for this purpose. Press comment at the time was made of the fact that Sen. Hegnes on this occasion made one of the shortest and most effective speeches on record in the senate.

Altho the appropriations for agricultural fairs also were curtailed at the last session, Sen. Hegnes was able to secure substantial funds for the respective fairs in the district.—Marshall County Banner.

PACKER FORMS NEW COMPANY

Plans to Separate South American and Australian Holdings.

A few days after the Federal Trade Commission had urged President Wilson to break up the packing trust, news came that Swift & Co., the largest of the Big Five, will segregate its South American and Australian properties. These concerns will be given to individual stockholders in return for surrender of domestic stock.

The report of the Trade Commission says that the Big Five own or control more than half of the export trade in South America and have large investments in Australia. It referred to the large holdings abroad of the American packers, [illegible] including the following companies thus far identified with Swift & Co.:

Australian Meat Co., Ltd.; Compania Swift de la Plata (Argentine); Compania Swift de Montevideo (Uruguay); Companhia Swift do Brasil; Compania Paraguaya de Frigorifico (Paraguay).

ATTEMPT TO BRIBE ORGANIZER FAILS

Minneapolis Manufacturers Offer Money to Stop Union Activities.

That Big Biz is not only trying to wreck the Nonpartisan league but also the growth of the labor unions, is proved by the case of a national labor organizer, which is somewhat similar to the case of "Rev." S. R. Maxwell.

The Old Gang, which was in the shape of a Minneapolis steel plant, whose profits are in the millions, tried to buy out, as they did Maxwell, A. G. Abbey of the International Order of Machinists. This was done through the agency of a Burns detective who attempted to negotiate with Abbey to prevent the organization of the steel workers of the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery Co. The difference between this case and that of Maxwell is that Abbey was too much of a man to sell out to the enemies of the organized producers.

[illegible] Abbey received anonymous notes which told him to meet a certain man who told him that certain interests wanted him to desist from organizing the workers at the factories. [illegible] was told that it would be made [illegible] while for him.

[illegible] as the Minneapolis Labor Review states it: "The attempted bribers had misjudged their man. They measured him according to their own ethics and [illegible] standards. They couldn't imagine any man would put [illegible] the cause close to his heart [illegible] sack of dirty dollars.

[illegible] at the steel plants [illegible] that when greedy employers [illegible] willing to spend money to prevent organization it is the best proof [illegible] that organization is what [illegible] and workers need."

Officials of the food administration in charge of the grain corporation are confident that the congestion of wheat at the seaboard which was experienced last year will be eliminated under the [illegible] plan.

Wisconsin Wheat.

The state food administration of Wisconsin has fixed the price which the [illegible] mills of the state will pay the farmers for their No. 1 wheat, at approximately $2.21½ per bushel. Prices at which the miller must sell his flour, bran and shorts, mixed feed and middlings in bulk were also fixed. Price [illegible] mills varies according to the [illegible], but the miller is required to post the official price in a conspicuous [illegible]

GOPHER STATE WAS POINTED TO

Minneapolis Attorney Says President Had in Mind Minnesota.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Bar association at Faribault, Charles B. Elliott of Minneapolis recently declared that President Wilson had Minnesota in mind when he issued his proclamation against mob violence.

Referring to the gross violations of the law permitted by the Burnquist administration, Mr. Elliott said:

"The president was not thinking of the lynching of negroes in the South as the only evidence of the mob spirit in this country. According to the New York Journal of Commerce, the president has been seriously concerned over the manifestation of the mob spirit in our own state as well as in North Dakota, Washington and Ohio.

"There is no justification for mobs or the mob spirit in executive or judicial officials."

LIVING GOES ABOVE INCREASE IN WAGES

In a pamphlet, "My Money Won't Reach," the New York Charity Organization reports that the high cost of living (the old H. C. L.) is rising higher than wages. The report says that 57 per cent of the workers investigated are receiving the same wages as last year, 12 per cent are receiving less, while only 31 per cent are earning more than last year.

Meanwhile, according to the United States bureau of labor statistics, the cost of living has gone up an average of 26 per cent. The laborer who received an increase of 31 per cent is really getting only 5 per cent more than he earned in 1917, while the 69 per cent who received no increase in wages are in a precarious condition. The committee says: "If wage increases have been as infrequent among similar family groups as among this group, is it any wonder that the struggle to make both ends meet is becoming acute in homes where previously there was a comfortable margin. It would seem that every effort should be made to keep living costs and income in more nearly their normal relationship."

TO SEND OVER GREAT QUANTITIES OF FOOD

During the next year America will send overseas enough foodstuffs to provide fighting rations for 40,000,000 men, so food administration officials declared. This is double last year's amount to make up the food shortage of the allied nations.

The United States will send over 15,000,000 tons, and Canada will augment this by 2,000,000 tons, which is over four times the normal pre-war shipments.

The pressure on American people will be lessened because of this favorable outlook, and reserves against famine can be built up. Herbert Hoover is expected to work out the greater system of distribution upon his return from Europe.

Retail Food Prices.

Retail food prices in the United States have increased 66 per cent since June, 1913, according to figures given out by the department of labor at Washington. During this 5-year period the price of milk alone has advanced 44 per cent, butter 45 per cent, and eggs 55 per cent. During the last year food prices have increased 7 per cent and during the month ending June 15, the average increase in prices for all was 20 per cent.

OFFICER WINS HIGH PRAISE

Second Lieut. John I. Conroy of the Marines Highly Commended by Commanding Officer.

The bulldog tenacity and nerves of steel which characterized the operations of the United States marines in their classic capture of Chateau-Thierry and Belleau wood in the second battle of the Marne earned unusual commendation for Second Lieut. John I. Conroy of the marines. The commanding officer of his regiment wrote to the brigade commander that Lieutenant Conroy was "conspicuous in his services to the battalions in line, carried on his duties at a storm center of bombardment by enemy high explosive, shrapnel and gas shells.

"Throughout this period he supplied the troops in line with ammunition, rations, water and engineer stores with tireless energy, marked executive ability, foresight and absolute fearlessness at all hours of the day and night. He never failed in a crisis and only bulldog tenacity and nerves of steel made it possible for him to discharge his multifarious duties. When enemy fire exploded an ammunition dump under his charge his energy and coolness confined the damage to a minimum."

Lieutenant Conroy's mother, Mrs. John Conroy, lives at 59 Livingston street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

What is a Branch House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless some one else can treat him better than we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY CLEANSES YOUR KIDNEYS

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach trouble, and all diseases connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers of your blood. If the poisons which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. All these indicate some weakness of the kidneys or other organs or that the enemy microbes which are always present in your system have attacked your weak spots. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are what you need.

They are not a "patent medicine," nor a "new discovery." For 200 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. The healing, soothing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and through the bladder, driving out the poisonous germs. New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue the treatment. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day; they will keep you in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not delay a minute. Delays are especially dangerous in kidney and bladder trouble. All druggists sell GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They will refund the money if not as represented. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form, are easy to take and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief. In three sizes, sealed packages. FRENCH NOW AT GATES OF LA FERE Stiffening Enemy Resistance No Safe Barrier to Force of Allied Blows.

FOE OPENS HEAVY FIRE

From Arras to Rheims Germans Seek to Halt Onslaught of Foch's Troops—Allies Still Make Gains.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The marked stiffening of the German resistance within the past few hours has not been sufficient to prevent the allies from making further encroachment upon their lines, further progress being reported at various points and especially at the French objectives of St. Quentin and La Fere. The British, too, have dug more deeply into the sector southwest of Cambrai, capturing important positions on the four-mile front between Havrincourt wood and Peizieres, and regaining their old french positions dominating Gouzeaucourt.

All along the front from Arras to Rheims the German big guns are now violently in action, giving color to the statement issued in a communication from enemy headquarters at Berlin to the effect that the German army had now reached its positions. The failure of these prepared positions to stop the force of the allied onslaught, however, seems to indicate that their permanence will be far less notable than the enemy would wish.

In the La Fere sector the French are daily enlarging their turning movement against St. Gobain forest, the conquest of which would remove the greatest barrier to an allied advance in force eastward towards Laon in an outflanking movement against both the Aisne and Chemin Des Dames.

Some Points of Sharp Resistance.

The Germans here and northwest of Soissons are offering most determined resistance against the French, realizing that should General Mangin's strategy prove successful, the entire German line eastward to Rheims necessarily would be compelled to undergo marked readjustment. Thousands of machine guns, and guns of larger caliber, are roaring away against the French both from the St. Gobain forest and the plateau above the Ailette river northeast of Soissons.

NEW $675,000 FUND SOUGHT

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 10.—At the preliminary conference of those in charge of North Dakota's share in the united war fund drive yesterday, plans for the state work were outlined and a temporary state executive committee selected.

The temporary committee chosen has one representative from each of the seven organizations doing welfare work for soldiers at home and overseas. These are: H. W. Gearey, Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. W. B. Hancock, Y. W. C. A.; [illegible] Keating, National Catholic War Council; Hugo Stern, Jewish Welfare Board; George E. Wallace, war camp community service; Mrs. M. C. FOE HAS NEW PEACE PLAN

Count Czernin Is Spokesman In Latest Scheme of Central Powers.

Amsterdam, Sept. 10.—Another shot from the Teutonic peace propaganda artillery has been fired by Count Czernin, the former Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, who, in a long article printed by the Vienna Neue Freie Presse writes in favor of the idea of a league of nations.

The count declares that an overwhelming majority of the German people, with the emperor at its head, honestly desires a lasting peace. He holds that the authoritative factors in the Berlin cabinet today openly favor the proposal of a league of nations, and that Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, is not antagonistic to this idea.

"Therefore," Count Czernin concludes, "there is nothing to prevent the central powers working out the fundamental principles of this new world order and in bringing them before the world."

Increase in Spring Wheat Seen.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Heavy loss in the prospective corn crop, but a considerable increase in the forecast of spring wheat production featured the September crop report just issued by the department of agriculture. Lack of rain during August in the principal producing sections of the corn belt caused a reduction of 371,000,000 bushels in the crop forecast, bringing the loss in prospective production since July 1 to approximately 487,000,000 bushels, representing more than 800,000,000.

He Couldn't Spell It.

In the spelling list for a class in a certain Indianapolis school were the words singing and singeing. The class was asked to write sentences using these words to show that they knew the correct meaning of each. One little fellow, Robert, wrote:

"The Italians are a singing nation."

"The allies will soon be singeing the beard of the kaiser."

With sideward glances he watched his teacher mark his paper and timidly asked:

"Is it all right?"

"Yes," she said, "but the kaiser has no beard; he has a mustache."

"I know, I know; but I wanted 100 on my paper, and I couldn't spell mustache."—Indianapolis News.

LOSSES DOWN TO MINIMUM

Warfare Mortality Statistics Should Give Comfort to Those With Loved Ones at the Front.

Great as the danger and large as the losses in the aggregate, the individual soldier has plenty of chances of coming out of the war unscathed, or at least not badly injured.

Based on the mortality statistics of the allied armies, a soldier's chances are as follows:

Twenty-nine chances of coming home to one chance of being killed.

Forty-nine chances of recovering from wounds to one chance of dying from them.

One chance in 500 of losing a limb.

Will live five years longer because of physical training, is freer from disease in the army than in civil life, and has better medical care at the front than at home.

In other wars from ten to 15 men died from disease to one from bullets; in this war one man dies from disease to every ten from bullets.

For those of our fighting men who do not escape scathless, the government under the soldier and sailor insurance law gives protection to the wounded and their dependents and to the families and dependents of those who make the supreme sacrifice for their country.

"Yanks"

By WILBUR D. NESBIT

There were 62 names in a recent casualty list.

Twenty-two of those names were of men who were obviously of foreign blood.

Joseph Maciejewski and George Verkoulas and Eggi Ganski and Thomas Villotto and Wesley Knutson and Toras Maximovitch were among them.

So it went—Greek, Italian, Swede, Dane, Russian, Jew, Pole, German—you could find as many nationalities as you knew.

Yet they were all "Yanks."

The casualty lists keep coming; the names keep pouring over the cable.

Oh, yes, the Smiths, and Joneses and Browns are all there.

All the boys whose great-great-grandfathers and great-grandfathers and grandfathers and fathers have fought for liberty right here—their names are in the lists.

Yet, somehow, one's hand involuntarily goes up in salute to Szysperski and Mente and Schwarz—to these "Yanks" whose fathers and mothers just a few years back stepped from deck to dock and blinked their eyes in the knowledge that at last their dreams of freedom had come true.

Why, we folks who have lived here all our lives and who can't remember when our folks weren't native Americans—here's a rich blessing for us!

These people who came to our shores believing in us are proving their belief. Their boys are fighting for our common country and for our common beliefs and principles.

They are "Yanks"—God bless them!

And every time you buy a Liberty Bond you put a newer and higher courage in the hearts of all our boys, but especially of those boys whose parents came here so that their sons might be free to fight for liberty if liberty had to be defended.

Every penny you lend our government in your investment in Liberty Bonds goes to give us a better army and navy.

There isn't a soul living who owns bonds of the first, second or third Liberty Loans who isn't proud of what he has helped to do for our country.

Now it is the Fourth Liberty Loan—bigger than was ever known before, and backed by greater resources than any investment you ever made.

Don't wait for the final "spurt;" don't wait for the fire of enthusiasm; don't wait for speeches and parades and bands.

Buy your Liberty Bonds now, for you know you are going to buy them.

You are not sacrificing a penny; you are not giving a cent.

You are lending your money; you get good interest for it; you get your money back.

Best of all, you are saying to Gerondo and Norvich and Nowatny and all the other boys who are fighting shoulder to shoulder with Smith and Jones and Brown:

"We Yanks are standing together! The old flag that our forefathers worshiped means more today than it ever did!"

* * *

With assurances from every section of the country that the registration of America's millions of men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one and thirty-two to forty-five, inclusive, had been accomplished on Thursday with precision. Provost Marshal General Crowder turned his attention to the great task of classifying this vast army.

An American troopship with 2,800 men on board has been torpedoed. All hands were saved by destroyers. The United States navy department announced that the vessel was the White Star liner Persic of 12,043 tons. None was injured.

* * *

American troops of all units have been instructed by General Pershing to kill on the spot any one who in time of battle urges surrender or attempts to persuade them that further resistance is useless. Baird, military aid to the secretary of war.

Under a new policy of reporting casualties in the American expeditionary forces adopted by the war department, the names of the men wounded will be sent to the United States by courier twice a week, and only the names of the dead and missing will be cabled by General Pershing when the system is fully in effect. General Pershing reported 20,000 slightly wounded Americans up to August 20.

* * *

Such a large proportion of the American casualties in recent actions has been due to gallant attempts to rescue wounded men by unwounded comrades that General Pershing has been compelled to issue a general order calling attention to the fact that the regulations prohibit members of the fighting force to leave their proper positions even for this purpose.

News of the State

Condensed for Busy Folks

Pillager.—The Pillager Cass county fair is to be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19, 20 and 21.

St. Cloud.—While farmers in this locality did not seem to have great difficulty in harvesting their crops, labor now seems to be scarce for threshing rigs.

Crookston.—Rev. J. O. Ensrud, who for three years was pastor of the Lutheran Synod church of this city, has been appointed chaplain of the naval training school at Great Lakes, Ill.

St. Cloud.—Sheriff Schoener took Norman Johnson and Henry Blaisdell to Fort Snelling to be inducted into the service immediately. These two men were picked up in the slacker raid here.

Brainerd.—The Brainerd Co-operative Creamery building has been completed, machinery is being installed and it is expected the creamery will be opened in ten days, which will be made the occasion of a farmers' rally here.

St. Joseph.—Chris Stich's threshing outfit, working at the Fred Schroeder farm, near here, is operated by women, with the exception of the engineer and separator man. The only other job on the machine which is not being filled by women is that of stacker. The women even have charge of the bagging of grain.

Stillwater.—"The Twin City Forge & Foundry company has received an order from the United States government to machine 375,000 additional 155 m.m. shells of 6.1 inches in size. This in addition to government orders already on hand gives us a contract for 600,000 shells," said President George H. Atwood of the company.

Tyler.—A plan for the resumption of retail business at Tyler, which was visited by a disastrous tornado on the night of August 21, has been approved by the business men and work has been commenced on a community store building. Each business firm will be given space in the new building. The three banks have already opened for business.

Minneapolis.—Increases over last year, 9,593,000 bushels in corn and 5,892,000 bushels in spring wheat, are indicated in the latest bulletin on Minnesota's 1918 crop, issued by the Department of Agriculture and based on crop conditions Sept. 1. Speaking generally, the report says: "Perhaps never, or at least not for many years, has Minnesota been blessed with agricultural prosperity as this year."

St. Paul.—The entire draft machinery of the state was turned loose in tracing one soldier's meal ticket with a value of 60 cents. The ticket, No. 2015025, is lost, or at least no record of it is on file in the Adjutant General's office. Local boards were told to search their records for the book containing the missing ticket. The search illustrates the thoroughness with which Uncle Sam keeps track of his property.

C. H. Eckles, of the college of agriculture, University of Missouri, has accepted the position recently vacated by H. H. Kildee, as head of the dairy husbandry division, department of agriculture, University of Minnesota. Professor Eckles has held a leading place among dairy husbandry men in the United States. Professor Eckles is 43 years old. He was born in Marshalltown, Iowa, and is a graduate of Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, class of 1895.

St. Paul.—The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission refused to approve telephone installation charges proposed by telephone companies, declaring them excessive and unjustifiable. The commission also forwarded a protest to Postmaster General A. S. Burleson against making the Federal order, which provides for a "readiness to serve" or installation charge of $5 to $15, depending upon the monthly rental of the service required by the subscriber, effective in Minnesota.

The age limit for students entering the school of agriculture, University of Minnesota, has been reduced from 17 to 16 years as a war measure. The reduction in the age limit has been made in order to open the way for more Minnesota boys to make special preparation for farm work, and was brought about by the new army law, cutting the draft age to 18 years. The school will open Oct. 28 for a five months' session. Special courses for shorter periods also will be offered.

"Consumers as well as some dealers seem to have misunderstood the new wheat flour regulations," says A. D. Wilson, Federal food administrator for Minnesota. "The statement that the 50-50 rule for the purchase of substitutes has been changed to an 80-20 rule seems to be the cause for the confusion. Many persons believe that they can now buy five pounds of standard wheat flour with every one pound of substitutes. This is not the case. The 80-20 rule means four pounds of wheat flour with every one pound of substitutes."

Winona.—E. G. Toan, principal of the Medford, Wis., schools for several years until last spring, now of Dover, Minn., was instantly killed and his wife fatally injured when a Chicago & Northwestern passenger train struck their automobile on a crossing near Dover.

St. Cloud.—Maurice Kohn, a Holdingford merchant, was arrested by State Food Inspector J. A. Anderson on the charge of shipping eggs unfit to use, brought here and fined $100 and $10.75 costs. Kohn blamed employees for not "candling" the eggs properly.

MRS. C. W. MILLER

Y. W. C. A. War Work Leader for Sixth District.

The district includes the counties of Clay, Becker, Hubbard, Cass, Crow Wing, Morrison, Todd, Ottertail and Wilkin. Mrs. Miller is one of the large group of Minnesota women who has enlisted in the war-time services of the Association.

Mankato.—Frank Oranger, a teamster of this city, was struck by an automobile while working on the road south of the city, knocked down and suffered severe bruises and injuries.

Little Falls.—Machine Inspector Morgan has condemned two threshing rigs in Morrison county. One machine was wasting grain and the other had not been repaired to do proper work.

St. Paul.—Dr. Egil Boeckman of St. Paul, son-in-law of the late James J. Hill, has been notified of his appointment as captain in the army medical corps. He will leave in a few days for Camp Grant, Ill., where he has been assigned to duty.

Bongard.—Mrs. J. D. Krause was instantly killed and her husband seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding overturned. Mr. Krause is not expected to live. He was formerly a member of the house of representatives from Carver county.

Stillwater.—All former records in turning out shells at the Twin City Forge & Foundry company plant here for an eight-hour period were beaten one day recently when 210 first-class shells were turned out by the shell department employes there on what is known as the "daylight" shift.

Red Wing.—Ed Crowley, La Crosse saloonkeeper, riding on the same train from the Twin Cities with some drafted men en route to Camp Grant, passed a bottle of whisky among the boys and was arrested when the train arrived here. As he was intoxicated he was allowed to go on paying a $5 fine.

Bemidji.—Fire originating in the store of Woods & Atwater destroyed the business section of Graceton, a village 12 miles west of Baudette. Besides the Woods & Atwater store, a restaurant and the store of Knutson & Lilua were burned down. The loss exceeds $10,000 and is partly covered by insurance.

Minneapolis.—James Jacobson, 42 years old, formerly a restaurant keeper, shot and killed his housekeeper, Mrs. Alma Smith, at his residence, and then turned the weapon on himself and inflicted two wounds in his head. At the Minneapolis City hospital it was said that his condition is serious and little hope is held out for his recovery.

St. Paul.—Rupert Kinney of Lamoure county, North Dakota, filed in United States district court suit for $50,000 damages on behalf of himself and $30,000 for his wife against 18 residents of Pine county, Minn., for injuries alleged to have been received in a "tar and feather party" at Willow River, Minn., last June. Attorneys for the Nonpartisan league filed the suit.

St. Paul.—The State Public Safety commission has referred to State Auditor Preus without recommendation proposals for the reclamation of state land in northern Minnesota, with a purpose of furnishing farms to returning soldiers. The action was taken in connection with a drainage project in Beltrami county, where much state owned land is located. Mr. Preus already has advocated that action by the state be deferred until definite plan for application to all states alike is worked out by a federal board.

Thief River Falls.—V. B. Vye, special investigator for the state food administration, has been in Thief River Falls looking into any case of violation of regulations. He found that nothing more serious than minor infractions, caused through a lack of understanding, could be reported.

Bemidji.—A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Mayne Stanton here Aug. 11. Mr. Stanton, at the time of the baby's birth, was at Quantico with the marines, getting ready to go abroad to fight. Mr. Stanton is the son of Judge C. W. Stanton and a well-known newspaper man.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER ONLY BASIS OF PEACE

Secretary Lansing Gives Allied Position on Austrian Note in No Uncertain Terms.

U. S. SENT QUICK REPLY

Document Formulated Within a Half Hour After Proposal Received—Tantamount to Reply for All Allied Powers.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The United States, as was fully expected, has unconditionally rejected Germany's peace feeler. In doing so the government has spoken for the cobelligerents.

Almost immediately after receiving the Austrian government's note from the minister from Sweden, Secretary Lansing issued this formal statement:

"I am authorized by the president to say that the following will be the reply of this government to the Austro-Hungarian note proposing an official conference of belligerents. The government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the imperial Austro-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

Reply Came Without Delay.

Mr. Lansing's statement was given out within half an hour after he had received the Austrian proposals. It would have been forthcoming almost immediately upon the delivery of the Austrian note had it not been found necessary, in order to avoid the possibility of grave error, to make a careful comparison between the official text and that which was received in news dispatches from Amsterdam.

Thus emphasis was added to the declination, if any were needed, the quickness of the reply indicating the existence of no shadow of doubt in the administration as to what it should be. As soon as Mr. Lansing's reply can be put in form it will be handed to the Swedish minister for transmission to Austria.

America Speaks for All.

The secretary's reply, under agreements previously existing between the belligerents, will be virtually effective for each of the allied powers, although each may issue its own note along similar lines.

AMERICANS DID HEAVY WORK

West Flank of St. Mihiel Salient Beset With Great Difficulties.

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 17.—Difficulties almost unbelievable were overcome by the Franco-American troops who attacked the Germans on the western flank of the St. Mihiel salient. The heaviest fighting occurred on this flank, as elsewhere along the line of last week's offensive the Germans retreated with little opposition.

The attackers had to storm and pass forests and thickets which were almost a solid mass of barbed wire. They had to traverse roads cut by many trenches and were opposed not only by men and all the machinery of war but by nature as well. However, they accomplished the almost incredible feat of breaking through. Behind them they left torn masses of wire, ruined roadways and wooded hills belted with concrete forts.

It probably is not an underestimate to assume that the Americans in obliterating the St. Mihiel salient reduced the enemy's strength by the equivalent of four divisions.

LIGHT DAY ON WEST FRONT

Patrol and Artillery Action Mark Monday's Work.

With the American Forces on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 17.—Aside from slightly increased artillery activity, yesterday was largely devoted to patrolling on both sides.

The Germans seemingly are holding the Hindenburg line, from which they are sending out patrols, while Americans and French continued to feel out the line by the same method.

German infantry has been observed consolidating positions at La Chaussee as if in preparation for a counter attack, but none so far has developed. Near this point the enemy is occupying shell holes.

The German artillery fire is limited chiefly to guns of the 77 and 105 millimetre calibre, but many of the shells are "duds."

Poles Would Help Siberia.

Harbin, Sept. 17.—A movement exceeding, perhaps, that of the Czeco-Slovaks, is being organized by Polish officers to form a Polish division to fight in Siberia westward to their oppressed fatherland as integral units in the American army. According to conservative estimates, an army of more than 100,000 trained militarists is immediately available in the regions of Harbin, Nikolsk and Vladivostok. Large corps of railway men also can be utilized if necessary to take over the Chinese Eastern railway.

AUSTRIA WANTS A PEACE CONFAB

Proposal for Tentative Conference Is Made to the Allied Powers.

NOT TO STOP THE WAR

Immediate Cessation of Fighting Not Contemplated in Note—"Confidential and Unbinding Discussion" Is Urged.

Amsterdam, Sept. 16.—The Austro-Hungarian government has invited all belligerent governments to enter into non-binding discussions at some neutral meeting place with a view to bring about peace.

The Holy See and all neutral nations also will be notified.

An official statement from Vienna, making the above announcement, has been received here.

In extending an invitation to all belligerent governments to enter into non-binding discussions at some neutral place, the Austro-Hungarian government stated that the object of the conference would be to secure an exchange of views which would show "whether those pre-requisites exist which would make a speedy inauguration of peace negotiations promising."

"No Interruption of the War."

The Austro-Hungarian proposal suggests that there be no interruption of the war and that "discussions would go only so far as considered by the participants to offer prospects of success." The proposal calls for all the belligerents to send delegates for confidential and unbinding discussion on the basic principles for a conclusion of peace, in a place in a neutral country and at a near date that would yet have to be agreed upon.

London Receives Note.

London, Sept. 16.—It is understood that the British government has received the Austro-Hungarian peace note, and also a proposal, previously referred to, that all powers should withdraw their troops from Murman territory. It is also learned that Germany has made a peace offer to Belgium.

PROGRESS ON WEST FRONT

Pershing Makes Gains, and French Advance at Laon.

Washington, Sept. 16.—General Pershing's army is making fine progress in its drive following the close of the St. Mihiel salient, and since yesterday afternoon it has advanced from two to three miles on a 33-mile front, and the guns of Metz have come into action against it. The enemy appears to be withdrawing to some further line which will protect railway communications in the vicinity of Metz, which at present are under the long range fire of American guns.

Marshal Foch followed up the incisive stroke of the Americans, which wiped out the St. Mihiel salient, by launching an offensive on the French front along the bend in the line around Laon.

The blow took immediate effect on the German lines, pushing them back from one to two miles at points in this important sector where it is well nigh imperative to hold fast if they hope to retain control of any considerable part of northern France during the coming winter.

BOLSHEVIK PLOT IN U. S.

Nation-wide Plan Disclosed in Confession of Russians at Detroit.

Detroit, Sept. 16.—Plans for the enrollment in Detroit of 20,000 Russians with Bolsheviki tendencies for the purpose of harassing the government war program and starting a country-wide revolution have been revealed by confessions of three Russians, arrested with five others at a Russian boarding house, according to federal officials. The Russians, in the alleged confessions, were urged to persuade their countrymen not to register for the draft, to hinder munition making, to withdraw their money from banks and to sell their Liberty bonds. Receipts found in the possession of some of the men show payments made to Bolsheviki banks in Russia.

Battle With Alleged Draft Evaders.

Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 16.—One man was killed and six were wounded tonight near Owen in a pitched battle between members of the Home Guard and farmers on one side and two alleged draft evaders. Hundreds of shots were exchanged. The house of the draft evaders was surrounded by a hundred Home Guards. The battle grew out of the attempt of officers to arrest three sons of Mrs. Louise Kreuger, who live on a farm at Withy, near Owen.

Influenza Spreads in Eastern Towns.

Ayer, Mass., Sept. 16.—One thousand cases of influenza have been reported at Camp Devens by the division surgeon, Lieut. Col. McCormack. Death has occurred in only one case and in that pneumonia complications were present. The influenza is also epidemic in towns surrounding Brockton in this state. Nearly 300 cases have been reported by physicians in North Abington and several hundred also are reported in Rockland and Holbrook. Production in shoe factories in all three towns is greatly hampered.

NOT REALLY WAR ESSENTIAL

Authorities Think Shoppers Can Get Along Without Toy Wagons in Which to Carry Home Goods.

R. L. Flood of the quartermaster's corps of the United States army, assigned to work with the Indiana state fuel administration in establishing coal shipment priority for industries engaged in the manufacture of materials essential to the carrying on of the war, recently sent questionnaires to each factory owner in the state, asking information regarding the nature of work being done at the factories. He asked the owners to give their reasons for believing their output should be classed as essential and receive coal priority.

One company engaged in the manufacture of little "express wagons" on which small boys may be seen coasting in every city, presented the claim that it should be placed on the priority list.

"Since the cash-and-carry plan went into effect and merchants have stopped delivering goods, the toy wagons such as we make have become essential to the shopping public," was argued in the company's questionnaire.

The company's claim was rejected.

Quite Right.

BALLOON IN WAR DOES GREAT WORK

"ELEPHANTS" USED FOR OBSERVATION AND TO DIRECT FIRE OF BATTERIES.

PILOTS PARACHUTE JUMPERS

Thousand Community Labor Boards Have Been Organized—Gun Production for Army Grows Rapidly—Iron Rations Ordered.

(From Committee on Public Information.)

Washington.—Up to a few years ago, in the public mind, all balloons were associated with parachute jumpers, county fairs and circuses. They were used very much like their rival the old side show, full of freaks, solely to draw a crowd. Today Uncle Sam is making balloons and training their operators for distinctly another purpose. The ungainly old balloon of circus days is now a rival of its smarter and more modern brother, the airplane, in the job of being eyes for the army and navy. A dead industry was revived when the war balloon was originated.

Swinging far aloft at the end of a cable, these "elephants," as they are now called, support trained observers who, by means of powerful field glasses and telephones, give range and direction to batteries. These in turn, with well directed shots, put enemy batteries out of business and break up infantry forming for attack. A stationary balloon four or five thousand feet in the air is an ideal place for an observer.

So Uncle Sam's parachute jumpers are being instructed today, not as entertainers to draw and thrill crowds by "leaps from the clouds," but for their own personal safety and the safety of their records made at high elevations, when a shell or an enemy airplane rips their balloon and they have to jump. For although their balloon may be destroyed, the men in the basket usually come safely to earth and bring their maps and photographs with them. It is a life full of excitement these men of the balloon lead, and to be a member one has to have plenty of nerve, courage and daring in his makeup.

Aviators take off their hats to the balloon men. One recently returned American air pilot told of an adventure he had on a trial trip in a balloon; how interested he was becoming in the work of the observer as the latter explained the great panorama outstretched below him; when suddenly the balloon man interrupted his talk to see that his parachute straps were O. K., climbed to the edge of the basket, shouted: "Beat it; follow me," and disappeared over the side. The aviator said he took one look at the windlass pulling the balloon to earth below, another at the oncoming enemy plane and said to himself, "Not for mine." He said he did not have the courage to jump and did not. Fortunately the enemy plane was beaten off by allied planes before it could get any nearer.

Provost Marshal General Crowder was requested by the British embassy to give notice to the fact that British subjects, including declarants, who had registered before July 30, 1918, may enlist voluntarily in the British or Canadian army up to and including September 28, 1918. Those who registered on August 24, 1918, may so enlist up to and including September 23, 1918. Those who register on September 12, 1918, may so enlist up to and including October 12, 1918.

During the period so allowed for voluntary enlistment, British subjects may apply for exemption to the British ambassador.

At the end of the period allowed for voluntary enlistment, British subjects, in each of these classes, may no longer enlist in the British or Canadian army; but unless exempted by the British ambassador, they become liable to military service and may claim exemption under the United States Selective Service law.

Experiments in laundering shoes are being conducted at various camps by the conservation reclamation division of the quartermaster corps. The method used is the same employed by the American expeditionary forces.

A solution composed of one quart of strong disinfectant to 50 gallons of water was used to wash about 200 army shoes in a standard laundry machine. The solution used is germicide, antiseptic and deodorant. After 14 minutes' washing, the shoes were removed, dried for about an hour and then resoled. The results were found to be highly satisfactory. After the shoes are laundered and repaired they are greased with dubbing to make them more pliable and at the same time to preserve the leather.

Save a nutshell to help save a life! Nuts, the shells of nuts and seeds and pits of several varieties of fruits are needed in quantity supply to make carbon for use in gas masks or respirators for our soldiers.

Coconut shells have furnished the material for this carbon, but the supply of such shells is wholly inadequate.

The seed and pits of peaches, prunes, dates, apricots, plums, olives and cherries, and English or native walnuts, hickory nuts, butternuts and their shells, and Brazil nut shells, are the best substitutes for the coconut shells.

Recent reports show that approximately 1,000 community labor boards of the United States employment service have been organized or are in final process of organization. Between 700 and 800 of them are ready to function and some already have begun work.

Full and partial returns from 39 states and the District of Columbia give a total of 915 boards completed or in formation while four other states, two of them large industrial commonwealths, report the organization of boards but not the number. The five remaining states failed to report.

Each community labor board is composed of three members, one representing the community's employers, the second it employees and the third, who is chairman, the United States employment service. The employers' and employees' members are chosen by their respective local organizations, their appointment being approved by the director general of the employment service. It is the work of the community boards to generally supervise the recruitment and distribution of workers for war production, the actual recruiting and distributing being done by the local offices and agents of the employment service, including the agents of the public service reserve.

The federal directors of employment for the states have been notified by the director general to rush the organization of the boards for their states and their functioning as quickly as possible in order to provide relief for short-handed war industries.

Some facts about guns and munitions told by the secretary of war:

We are constructing a big gun plant at Neville Island. We signed a contract with United States Steel corporation to build and operate without profit this plant for guns of the larger calibers. This is the biggest plant of this kind ever conceived and will build guns of not less than 14 inch. The site is just below Pittsburgh and covers about 1,000 acres. The housing will be on the hills south of the island. The amount of money involved is $150,000,000 which is being supplied by the United States government. This plant will handle a tremendous amount of material, and will be retained by the government after the war.

We have shipped two hundred and fifty 155-mm. howitzers to France.

We are producing between 25,000 and 30,000 machine guns per month. Of Browning heavy 6,000 to 7,000; Browning light automatic rifle from 8,000 to 9,000 per month.

We are making about 1,200 motor tractors per month.

We are turning out all the smokeless power we need now.

The production of rifles has been about 200,000 per month.

We produce more than 50,000 pistols and revolvers per month.

Orders have been given for the supply of one million emergency rations by the subsistence division of the quartermaster corps. The emergency ration corresponds to the iron ration of the British troops. It is carried in an air-tight, gas-proof container and is sufficient to maintain a man for one day, sustaining his full strength and vigor. It is strapped in the pack of the soldier going over the top and may be used only according to the instructions given when the emergency ration is issued.

The emergency ration is composed of ground meat and wheat compressed into a cake. There is also a block of sweet chocolate. The bread and wheat component may be eaten dry or, if possible, stirred into cold water. The cake, when boiled for five minutes in three pints of water, results in a very palatable soup, or when boiled in one pint of water for five minutes it makes porridge which may be eaten hot or cold. When cold, it may be sliced and fried, if bacon or other fat is available. The chocolate component of the emergency ration may be eaten dry or made into hot chocolate.

The quartermaster corps has just completed purchases of large quantities of foodstuffs for distribution by the American Red Cross. The food will be shipped to France, Switzerland and Denmark and used for civilian relief and at prison camps.

The order includes more than 2,500,000 pounds of hard bread; 250,000 pounds of oatmeal; 333,333 pounds of fresh beef and more than 500,000 cans of baked beans. Purchases also have been made for the Red Cross of 205,000 cans of fish flakes. These flakes are a combination of haddock and shad. About 350 pounds of fresh fish are required to make 100 pounds of fish flakes.

Purchases also are being made by the subsistence division of the quartermaster corps of foodstuffs for use at American rest camps in England and France. Purchase for rest camps include more luxuries than are issued in the regular ration. Owing to the shortage of tonnage, canned corn and peas and other fancy staples are not now being sent overseas for general use, but sufficient quantities are available for men in rest camps and for the wounded in the hospitals.

More than 400 colleges have responded to the war department's call for co-operation in training the new branch of the army, the students' army training corps. Plans are being made to convert fraternity houses and dormitories into barracks for the period of the war.

The S. A. T. C. has two branches, the collegiate, to which men qualified by high school graduation are eligible; and the vocational section, to which grammar school graduates are eligible. Recruits will be procured by voluntary induction.

HARDLY WHAT YOU EXPECTED

Story Reads Like Opening Lines of an Elinor Glyn Novel, but You Will Find It Isn't.

It would have been the night before Christmas—had Christmas fallen on the following day. However, it didn't. But no matter. She was expectant that he would come that night to make her a proposal. Things must be talked over. She wondered how her husband would feel if the worst came to the worst.

He arrived. She led him into the parlor and bade him be seated. Not a word was exchanged for a moment. She looked toward the door expectantly, but in vain. Then she turned her gaze on the man. How old he looked; how careworn.

He met her gaze. He did not flinch. He opened his mouth as if to speak, but his lips closed again as he heard footsteps approaching the door. The husband entered the room.

"I have been thinking it over," said the man, as the husband took a seat near him, "and I don't see how I can possibly paper the dining room and kitchen for less than $15."—Indianapolis News.

"At Belleau, with three of my men, we ran into a bunch of twenty Germans. They shouted 'Kamerad!' but changed their minds and began to shoot. We rushed them with bayonets. We brought back two prisoners."

"I know about the prisoners, but did you kill a German yourself?"

"Yes; I killed three, one with my bayonet, which broke; one with the butt of my rifle and one with this trench knife."

"Did they kill any of your men in the close in-fight?"

"No, they can't fight unless they're all together and have machine guns and grenades."—A Serbian Sergeant to Don Martin.

"Yes, it's mostly about automobiles."

FORTY LANGUAGES IN CAMP

Necessity of One Tongue Has Renewed Efforts to Establish Schools for Immigrants.

Recently an accurate census was taken concerning the different languages spoken by soldiers training in Camp Devens, Mass., which showed that 40 languages were spoken by the men in that camp. There were 2,269 men whose habitual speech is French; 1,354 who speak Italian, and so on down to the relatively few who speak Japanese, Serbian, Egyptian, Persian, Assyrian, Flemish and Arabic. Of special interest were the 625 men who speak German.

This is just one solution to a puzzle like that. There must be one language which all understand and of necessity that language is English. The facts disclosed by this investigation have renewed the efforts made to establish a system of schools to teach every immigrant the English language.

In the co-operative efforts in which the whole nation is engaged, such as war and many other things, one language is a necessity. Very little attention has been paid to that in the past, but the importance of it is being recognized among all classes of thinkers at the present time.—Omaha World-Herald.

Keen-Eyed Bellboy.

A keen-eyed bellboy at the Lincoln hotel and a man's hat prevented a serious loss to Mrs. D. Scott, 315 East Twenty-fifth street, one evening recently, relates the Indianapolis News.

Mrs. Scott was resting on the mezzanine floor with some friends after dinner, enjoying the music and trying to keep cool and comfortable. She was comfortable enough but not so cool. In wiping the perspiration from her hands she pulled off a diamond solitaire, which fell down in the lobby. Mrs. Scott and her party got downstairs hurriedly and soon guests, musicians, bellboys and all joined in the search for the missing ring.

The search revealed nothing until one of the bellboys became inquisitive about a man's hat that was leaning up against a column. There the ring was, inside the hat, and Mrs. Scott went away rejoicing.

George received a most wonderful tin soldier for his birthday present. It moved its arms up and down, holding a gun, and walked about when wound up with a key. I've got a real meat soldier in my family."

Suffered For Years

Back and Kidneys Were in Bad Shape, But Doan's Removed all the Trouble.

"My kidneys were so weak that the least cold I caught would affect them and start my back aching until I could hardly endure the misery," says Mrs. D. C. Ross, 973 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "In the morning when I first got up, my back was so lame, I could hardly bend over and any move sent darts of pain through my kidneys. It was hard for me to walk up stairs or stoop, and to move while lying down sent darts of pain through me.

"The kidney secretions were scanty and distressing and the water remained in my system, making my feet and hands swell. There were dark circles under my eyes and I became so dizzy I could hardly see. I had rheumatic pains in my knees and it was all I could do to get around. For years I was in that shape and I wore plasters and used all kinds of medicine to no avail until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. They rid me of the trouble and strengthened my back and kidneys. When I have taken Doan's since, they have always benefited me."

Germany's Terms

By Count Roon

Germany is entitled to the following terms because of its strength, and until they are realized there should be no armistice:

Annexation of Belgium. Annexation of the entire Flanders coast, including Calais. Annexation of the Briey and Longwy basins and the Toul, Belfort and Verdun regions eastward.

Restitution to Germany of all her Colonies, including Kiaochow.

Great Britain must cede to Germany such naval bases and coaling stations as Germany designates.

Great Britain must give Gibraltar to Spain, cede its war fleet to Germany, give Egypt and the Suez Canal to Turkey.

Greece must be re-established under former King Constantine, with frontiers as before the war.

Austria and Bulgaria will divide Serbia and Montenegro.

Great Britain, France, and the United States must pay all of Germany's war costs, the indemnity being a minimum of $45,000,000,000.

They must also agree to deliver raw materials immediately.

France and Belgium must remain occupied at their expense until these conditions are carried out.

How Are You Going To Answer Germany's Peace Terms?

THE greatest advertisement for the Fourth Liberty Loan of the United States of America has been written by a Prussian.

His name is Count Roon and he wrote it as a member of the Prussian House of Lords. It is printed above. Read it carefully.

Forty-five billion dollars or more indemnity!

This, then, is the price the world must pay for a victorious German peace. This, then, is the footnote to the Kaiser's prayer, expressed in the coldest terms of plainest business.

This is the meaning of war to the Prussian, as he proclaims his battles righteous, prosecuted in self-defense.

Oh, you men and women of America, is there a dollar in all this land to-day so tightly held that it will not now come forth to answer the swaggering arrogance of the Hun?

These days will tell, for as you place your name upon that subscription blank for Liberty Bonds you state the price your land, your liberty and democracy are worth to you today.

Now how are you going to answer the "peace terms" of the kaiser and his band of murdering buccaneers?

Why Dread Old Age?

It doesn't matter how old you are, if you keep well and active. Lots of folks are younger at 70 than others are at 60. Lame, bent backs; stiff, achy, rheumatic joints; bad eyesight and deafness are too often due to neglected kidney trouble and not to advancing years. Don't let weak kidneys age you. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made life more comfortable for thousands of elderly folks.

A North Dakota Case

Mrs. L. Westegard, Cando, N. D., says: "About three years ago my kidneys bothered me a great deal. There was always a dull constant ache through the small of my back and it made me so miserable I could hardly keep up at times. I was very nervous, and dizzy spells and frequent headaches bothered me. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me the best of results and cured me of the attack. I haven't had to use a kidney medicine since."

An old colored man, whose name might well have been Old Black Joe, was standing in front of the district building the other day, says the Washington Star. He was bent with age, but was singing as he walked slowly along.

Just then a young colored man and woman walked by. They were talking, and just a phrase of their conversation was to be heard as they went by.

"I think that Mr. Johnson," the young colored woman said, "has a premonition——"

That was all, but it was enough for Old Black Joe.

He straightened up, grinned, and said:

"What was dat Mr. Johnson hab, boss?"

U. S.—Teutonic War News

Friday, the 13th, was the fifty-eighth birthday of General Pershing, now leading the great American drive in France.

* * *

With assurances from every section of the country that the registration of America's millions of men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one and thirty-two to forty-five, inclusive, had been accomplished on Thursday with precision, Provost Marshal General Crowder turned his attention to the great task of classifying this vast army.

* * *

An American troopship with 2,800 men on board has been torpedoed. All hands were saved by destroyers. The United States navy department announced that the vessel was the White Star liner Persic of 12,043 tons. The troop ship was one of a large convoy approaching the English coast and was about 200 miles out. There was no sign of panic on board. Many of the troops were from Chicago and Cleveland. None was injured.

* * *

American troops of all units have been instructed by General Pershing to kill on the spot any one who in time of battle urges surrender or attempts to persuade them that further resistance is useless. These instructions were made necessary because some one in American uniform during a German attack on Fismette ran among the troops, calling upon them to cease resistance and declaring that the officers advised surrender.

* * *

Provost Marshal General Crowder announced that the first call to the colors of men who registered Thursday will include men in the nineteen and twenty-year-old classes, and in the classes from thirty-two to thirty-six years, inclusive. Questionnaires will go first to registrants within these specified age limits and local boards will be ordered to classify them first in readiness for calls beginning in October.

* * *

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker has arrived safely in France, the war department announced. The secretary's trip, the second he has made to Europe this year, was made aboard a transport. The secretary was accompanied by John D. Ryan, director of aeronautics; Maj. Gen. W. C. Gorgas, surgeon general of the army; Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, and Lieut. Col. George H. Baird, military aid to the secretary of war.

* * *

Under a new policy of reporting casualties in the American expeditionary forces adopted by the war department, the names of the men wounded will be sent to the United States by courier twice a week, and only the names of the dead and missing will be cabled by General Pershing when the system is fully in effect. General Pershing reported 20,000 slightly wounded Americans up to August 20.

* * *

Such a large proportion of the American casualties in recent actions has been due to gallant attempts to rescue wounded men by unwounded comrades that General Pershing has been compelled to issue a general order calling attention to the fact that the regulations prohibit members of the fighting force to leave their proper positions even for this purpose.

St. Paul.—Registration of 284,568 Minnesota men between 18 and 21 and 31 and 45 years is officially announced at state draft headquarters. The advance government estimate for the state was 297,430. Draft officials said that supplementary reports undoubtedly will bring the actual registration total to more than 285,000. Figures by local boards will be announced when the final report is forwarded to Washington. The falling off is largely in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and is attributed to heavy volunteer recruiting.

Hibbing.—Hibbing will have the first auto library in the state if present plans go through. The township of Stuntz called for bids for a two-ton auto bus, especially equipped for library purposes. At the present time the library is providing books for some ten or eleven locations within the township but because of the limited number of books which can be carried under present arrangements the library board appealed to the township and the request brought results. The library on wheels will carry 1,000 volumes and will be able to make several locations in a day. The bus will be fitted up with shelves and there will be quarters for the librarian.

St. Paul.—Chicken experts are being sought by the government department of agriculture to cull the flocks of poultry to separate the "slackers" from the layers. Milbrath was taken to Wadena to face the charge, waiving examination proceedings.

Minneapolis. — Official statistics received from Washington showed that the internal revenue taxes collected in Minnesota during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, increased $51,785,238.39 over the collections during the preceding year. The marked increase is due mainly to the income tax. In 1917 the receipts in Minnesota were $6,432,896.09, while in 1918 they were $58,218,134.48.

Duluth.—Applications for discharge are piling in on Captains Toutellot and Sherman of D and C companies of the Fourth Minnesota Infantry because of the order which reduces compensation by 50 cents a day. When soldiers were needed to guard Duluth industries the citizens subscribed to a fund to pay the men a bonus. Commissioner McGee claims the bonus was for one year only.

Hibbing. — Many Hibbing families will go without coal unless they turn in their orders at once, according to Deputy Fuel Administrator Cyrus Forsberg. There is a limited supply of hard coal coming here.

According to an order issued by the commission, it is unlawful for anyone to kindle or set any fire in grass, stubble, brush, slash or woods or kindle fire, except for domestic or industrial purposes, in any of the northern counties.

Moorhead.—Fewer men will hunt in Clay county this year than in many years, only 181 licenses having been issued up to Friday. Heretofore the license issue at this time usually has been about 500. In Cass county, N. D., over 700 licenses have been issued, the number there being about normal.

Duluth.—Oliver, Wis., is dry. John Kinny, special federal agent, in charge of the department of justice, and assistants went to Oliver and ordered the further sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors stopped. One saloon and six wholesale liquor houses are affected.

AVIATORS ARE ALWAYS BUSY

Americans on the Italian Front Take Advantage of Every Moment of Good Flying Days.

On good flying days, every moment of the day is utilized by American aviators in Italy. The men are up at five o'clock, and by six flying is in operaeion. Men go to breakfast in relays, so as to economize time, and sundown finds them grudgingly giving up for the day. One time-saving device I observed, says James H. Hare in Leslie's Weekly, was to make landings some 200 meters from the beach, and to have the next student ready in a boat to take his place, equipped with his life preserver and helmet. The exchange took usually less than two minutes from the time the engine was stopped until the propeller was in action again, and the flight started. This also eliminated the liability of damaging the hydroplane in beaching it, as sometimes the keel is grounded, or one of the wings strikes an object, putting the machine out of commission for a time, to say nothing of the engine overheating as it "taxis" (to use the technical term) to its landing place.

'Scuse Me, Mamma.

Ruth is just three years old. Recently she has been playing with the neighborhood children, and has learned to use words which until then had been foreign to her vocabulary. The other day she was on her back porch. The screen door came to with a bang, tipping over the chair in which were her playthings. "Darn!" she exploded, wrathfully. Immediately her mother, who had heard the expression, came to the porch. "What did you say, Ruth?" she demanded.

Ruth looked up from the scattered playthings and smiled her most alluring smile. "'Scuse me, mamma," she returned.

Jerusalem to Gaza by Rail.

The modern Ethiopian travels from Jerusalem to Gaza on the way to his home country far up the Nile by railroad train. Reports from Palestine indicate that since the British occupation of the country Gaza, the chief city of the Philistines in Old Testament days, and the scene of Samson's exploits, has become an important railroad center, the broad-guage railway having been extended from Gaza to a point 50 miles to the northward, and the old Turkish line from Ludd to Jerusalem, as well as the recently constructed branch line from Gaza to Surar Junction, has been restored and is now in operation.—Rochester Post Express.

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel, "brick dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

1,750,000 U. S. MEN OVERSEAS

So Reports General March, Who Says Allied Situation Is Continuously Good.

ALLIES TAKE NAZARETH

Good Work in Progress North of St. Quentin and Along Franco-American Front—Gen. Allenby Takes 18,000 Turks.

Washington, Sept. 23.—According to an announcement just issued by General March, chief of the American military staff, the United States now has 1,750,000 troops embarked for overseas service, and "the news from all battlefronts is continuously good." Six months ago, it is pointed out, the enemy flung his full power against the British lines in Picardy in the great drive that was to end the war in a smashing victory. Today he is fighting desperately to hold the Hindenburg line, the defensive system from which he struck that blow and back into which he has been hurled.

Already the American forces in France are more than half as strong as the whole German army, and the tide of American fighting men towards France is continuing at an even pace.

From reports received here the allied troops are progressing satisfactorily in breaking down the defenses of St. Quentin. On the north the British are fighting in the Hindenburg positions and pressing towards the canal between Stouentin and Cambrai, while on the south the French are moving forward steadily.

Germans Start Further Fires.

Southwest of Metz, where the French and Americans recently cleared the St. Mihiel salient, the Germans have started further fires. Soldiers and wagon trains have been seen moving northward and it is believed the Germans are preparing for a possible allied attack or retirement on their own initiative.

Gen. Allenby Takes 18,000 Turks.

In Palestine the Turks are receiving crushing blows from General Allenby's forces, which in less than four days have swept forward over a large area between the River Jordan and the sea and have taken the famous city of Nazareth, while their wings have closed in a swift enveloping movement around all Ottoman forces in the coastal sector, the plain of Sharon, the hill region and the western Jordan valley. The British cavalry at certain points have advanced as far as 60 miles.

Hedjas Balks Turk Rretreat.

To the northeast friendly Arab forces under King Hedjas have cut all railway communication in front of the fleeing Turks and are standing as a barrier to their escape by way of the eastern plains.

More than 18,000 Turkish prisoners and extensive war stores have been taken, including 120 guns.

U. S. TO START BIG PROTEST

Note Asks Joint Action Condemning Russian Outlawry.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Horrified by the bloody reign of terror in Russia, the United States has called upon all allied and neutral nations to consider what they may do to impress upon the Bolsheviki the aversion with which the civilized world regards their wanton crimes.

By direction of President Wilson, Secretary Lansing dispatched instructions to every American diplomatic representative in the foreign capitals.

The action aligns the United States with Great Britain and France in declaring the Bolsheviki responsible for the murders, crimes and excesses which have shocked the world, as outlaws and public enemies.

Whatever action may be decided upon by the nations, separately, or in concert, it is made clear, will be quite apart from the prosecution of the war against Germany.

The reported action of the Bolsheviki in effecting an alliance with Germany for offense and defense is an added cause for the step.

ALLIED AIR MEN ACTIVE.

Drop Bombs at Strategic Points Inside German Lines.

London, Sept. 23.—The entente allied independent air force on Friday dropped bombs on the German towns of Mannheim, Karlsruhe, Boulay, Frescaty and Horhange. Explosives were dropped on the Lanz works at Mannheim, on wharves and factories at Karlsruhe, on blast furnaces at the Bourbach works and on airdromes at Boulay, Frescaty and Morhange.

Steel Products Fall Short.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Shortage of more than 4,000,000 tons of steel is shown by a report transmitted to the senate by Chairman B. M. Baruch of the war industries board in response to a senate resolution. The demand for steel during the last six months amounted to 21,000,000 tons, the report shows, while the output was less than 17,000,000 tons. Statistics prepared by the board also show, the report added, that 30,000,000 tons of fuel are used annually in the production of building materials

TURKS ROUTED IN PALESTINE

General Allenby's Forces Have Eastern Foe on the Run in Holy Land.

GREAT STORES TAKEN

Turkish Lines Penetrated and Defeat Apparently Awaits Them from Jordan River to Mediterranean Sea.

London, Sept. 21.—British forces in Palestine, under command of General Allenby, attacked the Turkish positions on a front of 16 miles on September 19. The British broke through the Turkish lines between Rafat and the sea and pushed forward for a distance of 12 miles.

Three thousand Turks were taken prisoner by General Allenby's forces. The main Turkish forces in Palestine are now being closely pursued by the British.

The cavalry pushed through the Turkish front and was advancing in the rear of the Turkish armies in the direction of Nablus. Another body of cavalry was advancing in a northeasterly direction toward Elafula and Beisan to intercept the Turks to the north.

On Wednesday General Allenby's right wing attacked west of the Jordan and occupied El Mugeir.

Railway and highway junction points were captured and along the shores of the Mediterranean naval units were clearing the coastal roads of the enemy by their gunfire.

In addition to the large number of prisoners great quantities of war materials had fallen into the hands of the allied troops, and the pressure against the enemy was going on unabated.

HOUSE PASSES REVENUE BILL

Giant Measure Goes Through With No Dissenting Vote.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The house late yesterday passed the war revenue bill designed to raise by taxation approximately $8,182,000,000 of the 24 or more billions needed by the nation for the current year.

Passage of the bill was unanimous. A formal roll call, demanded by majority leader Kitchin, recorded 350 yeas and no nays, which, announced by Speaker Clark, was greeted by a roar of cheers and applause.

All possible speed in the bill's course through the senate is assured, according to leaders, the senate finance committee having concluded formal hearings. Desire for the bill's enactment before the November elections has been expressed by leaders of both houses.

FRENCH RETURN TO HOMES

Inhabitants of St. Mihiel Salient Seek Former Places of Abode.

With the American Armies in Lorraine, Sept. 21.—Although it is only a week since the Franco-American forces delivered the St. Mihiel salient, with its more than 150 square miles, from possession of the enemy, former inhabitants have already begun to flow into the liberated territory. Every day sees several truck loads of peasants or of dwellers in the towns and villages of the southern section of the salient returning to search for their former homes.

There are, of course, many towns in the old salient, especially in the southerly portion, which may never receive their original inhabitants again to any extent, while there are many others that cannot yet be reinhabited for military reasons.

Must Speed Up on Destruction.

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 21.—German troops recently were ordered to be more methodical in the destruction of property in the regions evacuated by them. An order from the commander of the 108th infantry brigade to the rear guards, dated September 3, says: "All soldiers are bound to assist to the best of their ability in the execution of this mission. The rear guard battalions will select groups to complete the work of destruction. These detachments will not set fire to things until the right moment. It will be remembered that there are means to defile all wells. Mines must not be exploded too soon."

Influenza Claims Many Lives.

Boston, Sept. 21.—More than 120 deaths from influenza and pneumonia, 55 of them in this city, were reported in New England during the 24 hours ends at 10 o'clock last night. Although the mortality was the greatest in several days, the health authorities said they were confident that the worst was past.

Woman's Day on Loan Drive.

Washington, Sept. 21.—In recognition of the war work being done by millions of American women, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has designated Saturday, Oct. 5, for observance in the Fourth Liberty loan campaign as "Women in War Work Day." "The women of America," Secretary McAdoo said, "are doing their share in the winning of the war, both by actual hard work and by the tremendous force of their moral influence. It is fitting that their service should be memorialized."

Which?

Down in Terre Haute the Franchise league has been polling for one of the political parties. The same week of their polling the men made their Thrift stamp canvass. And knowing this, some people were not at home—either to the canvassers or fair suffragists.

One young woman was met at a door by a boy about eight years old. "Please tell your mother I would like to see her," she requested.

The youngster shouted into the adjoining room, "Mom, a lady wants to see you."

Back came a staggering question: "Ask her if she's the Thrift stamp man."

And the little boy asked.—Indianapolis News.

It's time to fix up the buildings and wood shed for winter.

A hundred dollar Libery Bond, if bot now, will furnish the U. S. Government money enough to feed a soldier in France seven months, or give him a complete outfit of winter and summer clothing, shoes and socks, slicker, overcoat, blanket and a good revolver. It takes $85 more to arm him with a rifle and bayonet. If you buy a second bond of a hundred dollars the Government will have money to buy the soldier his rifle and a thousand cartridges, and still have enough left to buy a bomb big enough to demolish a machine gun and the Huns operating it.

You can multiply these facts by as large a figure as you wish, and then buy bonds accordingly on Tuesday October the First, which has been designated as Liberty Loan Day in Marshall County, at which time everyone is required to meet at a place previously designated and buy their allotment of bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan Committee.

Take Notice

On October 26th, 1918, every subscriber on our list who owes for THE HOLT WEEKLY NEWS more than three months will have their name crossed off said list. We are obliged to do this by order of the War Industries Board, and their orders are final.

The Government has unlimited powers during the time of war and they are using this power to save a part of the coal heretofore used for manufacturing paper, for war purposes, and to save the great waste of paper, which has been going on for years, despite the fact that the raw material is becoming very scarce and hard to get.

We urge all who are back on their subscriptions to pay up at once as it is not our wish to sever our pleasant relations of the past, and we trust also of the future.

BULGARIA QUITS; ALLIES STRIKE ON 250-MILE FRONT

Armistice Asked by Bulgars Is Agreed to on Allies' Terms.

GREAT ATTACK IN WEST

Dixmude Taken—British in Outskirts of Cambrai—100,00 Prisoners Are Captured in Week on All Fronts.

Paris, Sept. 30.—An armistice has been concluded between the allies and Bulgaria, on the allies' own terms. The announcement was made officially today. The Bulgarian delegates who are to discuss the proposed armistice and probable peace arrangements with the allied governments arrived at Saloniki Saturday. The delegates are General Lonkoff, commander of the Bulgarian second army; M. Liepcheff, finance minister, and M. Radeff, former member of the Bulgarian cabinet.

The German pretense that Premier Malinoff was acting on his own responsibility finds no confirmation. King Ferdinand's crowd apparently is at stake and he is trying to save his dynasty.

100,000 Prisoners Captured in Week.

London, Sept. 30.—The past week has been the most amazing of the war. The allies are advancing victoriously on practically every front. During the week they have taken prisoners far in excess of one hundred thousand, of whom nearly forty thousand were captured in the last three days on the west front.

Dixmude Falls to Allied Hands.

London, Sept. 30.—Dixmude has been captured by the Belgian troops, it was officially announced today. The Belgians have also taken Stadenberg, Passchendaele, Moorsledge and part of Westroosebeke. This means an advance of several miles.

Great Offensive on West Front.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The enemy is now faced on the western front with the greatest offensive undertaken by the allies since the war began—a line of 250 miles, on four wide and important sectors, being in the throes of the most intensive fighting, in which French, British, American and Belgian troops are all engaged.

At many points on the line the Hindenburg defenses have been taken and the famous line pierced. British forces are now at the outskirts of Cambrai, both on the southern side and on the northwest.

The troops of the four allied nations represented have captured 40,000 prisoners and 300 guns, according to estimates in London; bringing the total prisoners since July 18 to 200,000 men, with 3,000 guns, 20,000 machine guns and enormous quantities of material. This does not take into account the results of operations in Macedonia or Palestine.

Since Friday the entire department of the Somme has been liberated from the German invaders, and in the past three days the department of Ardennes has passed into French hands for the first time since the year 1914.

A London dispatch says that troops from the states of New York, Tennessee and North and South Carolina attacked the Hindenburg line on a front of nearly three miles, crossed the Cambrai canal and captured Bellecourt and Nauroy, as officially reported by Field Marshal Haig from headquarters.

One English division crossed the Scheldt canal on life belts, mats, rafts and improvised bridges, and stormed the main Hindenburg defenses around Bellenglise and captured the whole German position. Canadian troops and the sixty-third naval division have reached the southern outskirts of Cambrai. Canadians are also in the outskirts of the northwest.

Americans Advance Lines.

With the American Army on the Champagne Front, Sept. 30.—The American line Saturday night extended to the outskirts of Brieulles and Exermont. Additional prisoners had been taken. In three days more than 60 enemy airplanes have been brought down. The American loss in that period was less than 20.

Germans Retire Before French.

With the French Army on the Aisne Front, Sept. 30.—The Germans are evacuating the ravine between Vailly and Chemin des Dames. The French have occupied Jouy and Aizy and are advancing. Numerous fires have been observed behind the German lines in that region and farther south along the north bank of the Aisne.

Coal Flows Like Water.

In a great steel works at Pittsburgh powdered coal flows like water through 1,500 feet of four-inch pipe under a pressure of 40 pounds the square inch, and flows so rapidly that four tons have been put through a 500-foot line in five minutes.

Have Wrong Occupation.

"De reason," said Uncle Eben, "dat some young chaps is broke is dat dey keeps tryin' to pick race horses instid o' pickin' strawberries or cotton, or whatever's in season."

ENEMY LINE IS BENDING BACK

Great Western Battle Front Is Scene of Continual Crumbling of German Line.

SUB BASES THEATENED

Hindenburg Line Is Deeply Pierced From Belgian Flanders as Far as Verdun—More Progress Made at Cambrai.

London, Oct. 1.—The entente allied forces from Belgium to Verdun are registering victory after victory in the new thrusts being made on six battlefronts, according to all dispatches received here covering the fighting up to last night.

On all sectors under attack from Belgian Flanders to Verdun the German front is gradually bending back under the violence of the offensive which the allies are bringing to bear upon it. In Belgium the troops of King Albert and of Field Marshal Haig pierced so deeply eastward that Germany's submarine bases on the North Sea are in jeopardy. The famous Messines-Wytschaete ridge has been captured and the allied guns dominate the plains beyond. Both Menin and Roulers, important railroad junction points for the supply of the German armies north and south, are virtually in the hands of the British and Belgians, and seemingly soon must fall.

From Cambrai to St. Quentin the British and Americans again have delivered successfully hard smashes against the German strong points all along the front, including the remaining portions of the old Hindenburg line. The British are in the process of cleaning up the town of Cambrai, having penetrated its suburbs from the northwest and southwest.

In the region of St. Quentin, where the Americans are fighting with the British, the old Hindenburg line has been cut and penetrated to a depth of three miles over a front of eight miles.

In conjunction with the operations of the French northeast of Soissons the Germans have begun the evacuation of the Chemin Des Dames and the French now hold half of this famous defensive position. There is an indication that the enemy intends to give up the remaining positions held by him along the Vesle and Rheims.

Reports from Amsterdam are to the effect that Emperor William has accepted the resignations of Count Von Hertling and Admiral Von Hintze, respectively German chancellor and foreign minister.

BULGARS GIVE FREE PASSAGE

Surrender Includes Acceptance of All Allied Terms.

London, Oct. 1.—The armistice concluded with Bulgaria by the entente allies is a purely military convention and contains no provisions of a political character.

Bulgaria agrees to evacuate all the territory she now occupies in Greece and Serbia, to demobilize her army immediately, and surrender all means of transportation to the allies.

Bulgaria also will surrender her boats and control all navigation on the Danube and concede to the allies free passage through Bulgaria for the development of military operations.

All Bulgarian arms and ammunition are to be stored under the control of the allies, to whom is conceded the right to occupy all important strategic points.

Besides virtually cutting off Turkey from her central allies the new situation opens a back door for the invasion of Austria-Hungary.

U. S. THREATENS REPRISALS

Shotgun Protest of Germans Out of Keeping With Modern War.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The American government, in reply to Germany's threat to execute American prisoners of war found in possession of shotguns, has given notice that if Germany carries out any such threat suitable reprisals will be taken.

Secretary Lansing's reply declares that the use of shotguns is sanctioned by The Hague conventions, and that in comparison with other weapons now used in modern warfare the shotguns used by the American troops cannot be the subject of legitimate or reasonable protest.

"If the German government should carry out its threat in a single instance," says Secretary Lansing's reply, "it will be the right and duty of the United States to make such reprisals as will best protect the American forces and notice is hereby given of the intention of the government of the United States to make such reprisals."

U. S. Not a Participant.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Although gratified that Bulgaria has been eliminated from the war, American officials have carefully refrained from exercising any direct influence in the event. Since the United States never has declared war on Bulgaria, the government has not felt at liberty to make any suggestions at this stage. It is believed, however, that in the final adjustment of the important political questions involved the United States will be invited to discuss this subject with the entente allies.

His Father's Were Larger.

Tommie thought that his father was the best father, that his mother was the best mother, and that his house was the best house. Indeed, everything of his was best.

One day on a visit to a neighbor woman, he followed her upstairs to watch her make the bedrooms tidy.

"Are those your daddy's shoes?" he asked, as the woman put those articles in their proper place.

"Yes," she answered smiling. "They are pretty large, don't you think?"

"Oh, yes, but my daddy's shoes are larger," he said quickly.

Was Told He Couldn't Live Six Months

But Doan's Brought Mr. Clayton Health and Strength.

C. T. Clayton, 78 N. Broad St., Woodbury, N. J., says: "I had about the worst case of kidney complaint a man could have. My kidneys were in terrible shape. I had sharp, knifelike pains in the small of my back, and my back often gave out entirely. I couldn't stoop to lace my shoes. For two years I was in this helpless condition and didn't do a tap of work and no one thought I would ever be able to work again. In fact, I was told I couldn't live six months. But fortunately I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and after taking several boxes, I had better strength and health than ever before. I think Doan's are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them whenever I hear any one complaining of their kidneys."

WILSON OPENS LOAN CAMPAIGN

President Pointedly Answers Peace Overtures From the Central Powers.

MUST BE GUARANTEED

Terms Will Be Impartial Justice to All Nations and Germany Will Have Chance to Redeem Her Character.

New York, Sept. 30.—Impartial justice to all nations will be the price of peace, the instrumentality indispensable to secure it is a league of nations formed not before or after, but at the peace conference; and Germany as a member "will have to redeem her character, not by what happens at the peace table, but by what follows."

This was President Wilson's answer given before an audience of Fourth Liberty Loan workers here, to the recent peace talk from the Central powers, although he did not refer specifically to the utterances of enemy leaders.

Peace was not a question, declared the President, of "coming to terms" for "we cannot 'come to terms' with them," as "they have made it impossible."

Peace must be guaranteed for "there will be parties to the peace whose promises have proved untrustworthy and means must be found in connection with the peace settlement to remove that source of insecurity."

Unguaranteed Peace Folly.

"It would be folly to leave the guarantee to the subsequent voluntary action of the governments we have seen destroy Russia and deceive Roumania," he continued.

The President emphasized that the justice to be obtained by the league must involve no discrimination toward any people. This he set forth explicitly in a set of five principles which he enumerated as "the practical program" of America's peace terms and for the maintenance of which the United States is prepared to assume its full share of responsibility."

These principles were, he said:

"First, the impartial justice meted out must involve no discrimination between those to whom we wish to be just and those to whom we do not wish to be just. It must be justice that plays no favorites, and knows no standard but the equal rights of the several peoples concerned;

"Second, no special or separate interest of any single nation or any group of nations can be made the basis of any part of the settlement which is not consistent with the common interest of all;

"Third, there can be no league or alliance or special covenants and understandings within the general and common family of the league of nations;

"Fourth, and more specifically there can be no special, selfish economic combination within the league and no employment of any form of economic boycott or exclusion except as the power of economic penalty by exclusion from the markets of the world may be vested in the league of nations itself as a means of discipline and control;

"Fifth, all international agreements and treaties of every kind must be made known in their entirety to the rest of the world.

Issues of War Restated.

Mr. Wilson re-stated the issues of the war as follows:

"Shall the military power of any nation or group of nations be suffered to determine the fortunes of peoples over whom they have no right to rule except the right of force?

"Shall strong nations be free to wrong weak nations and make them subject to their purpose and interest?

"Shall peoples be ruled and dominated, even in their own internal affairs, by arbitrary and irresponsible force or by their own will and choice?

"Shall there be a common standard of right and privilege for all peoples and nations or shall the strong do as they will and the weak suffer without redress?

"Shall the assertion of right be haphazard and by casual alliance or shall there be a common concert to oblige the observance of common rights?"

He added: "No man, no group of men, chose these to be the issues of the struggle. They are the issues of it."

Hangman Ellis wired from Quebec he would be unable to leave for Winnipeg until Monday because of "pressure of business."

"It's no use to me," interrupted the boss, decisively. "Strange as it may appear to you, I do not own a car. I do not drive. I cannot use your book."

And you think this worried the book agent? Think again. For the little book was all a bluff, and the pretended book agent was an automobile salesman. And he promptly took advantage of the best opening he had had in weeks.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Irish Courtship.

An Irish sheriff got a writ to serve on a young widow and, on coming into her presence said: "Madam, I have an attachment for you."

"My dear sir," she said blushing, "your attachment is reciprocated."

"You don't understand me; you must proceed to court," said the sheriff.

"Well, I know 'tis leap year, but I prefer to let you do the courting yourself. Men are much better at that than women."

"Madam, this is no time for fooling. The justice is waiting."

"The justice waiting? Well, I suppose I must go, but the thing is sudden, and besides I'd prefer a priest to do it!"—Exchange.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer

Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach.

Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy Courage. It saps the strength of the strongest body—impoverishes the blood—causes untold suffering — makes millions weak, unfit and brings on premature old age.

Millions of people are weak and unfit, suffering all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity or acid-stomach.

They don't seem dangerously sick. Just ailing. Going through life weak, listless dragging one foot after another. They're nervous and irritable; lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of blinding, splitting headaches; subject to fits of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, even though many experience no actual stomach pains—digestion poor—never getting anywhere near the full strength from their food.

So, you see, it's just this—acid-stomach—that is holding so many people back — sapping up the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient.

Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of good health and is the only way to obtain good digestion and assimilation. It is the right way to be well and keep strong. Ordinary medicine won't do any lasting good. The best they can do is to spur up your appetite for awhile.

A modern remedy makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called EATONIC, in the form of pleasant tasting tablets. Their action in the stomach is a good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of ink—they literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines.

Begin using EATONIC right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, vibrant health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used EATONIC are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they never dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief.

EATONIC is fully guaranteed. Your druggist will give you a big box for only 50 cents with the distinct understanding that if you are not pleased in every way, you get your 50 cents back. If you can't get EATONIC where you live—send us your name and address; we will send you a fifty cent box and you can send us the 50c when you get it. Address Eatonic Remedy Co., Gunther Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. Crumling, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. Elise Heim, R. No. 6, Box 83, Lowell, Mich.

BELGIUM CALLS ON MINNESOTA FOR CLOTHING

Ten Million Patriots in Belgium and Northern France in Heart-Breaking Need.

AMERICANS ARE ASKED TO GIVE AID THIS WEEK

American Red Cross, With the Help of the Food Administration, at Work on Problem.

(Published by the Federal Food Administration for Minnesota. Prepared in part in the Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul)

The people of Minnesota and the other north central states this week—September 23 to 30—are being called on for a contribution of 400 tons of clothing to help make up a total of 5,000 tons to be sent by the American Red Cross, with the co-operation of the United States Food Administration, to the stricken, starving, shivering, dying people of Belgium and northern France, who have been stripped of everything by the Prussian robbers. The situation in occupied Belgium and northern France is desperate in the extreme. Ten million persons there are dependent on the Commission for Relief in Belgium for clothing and food.

This clothing can come from America only. Five thousand tons are needed to tide Belgium through the coming winter. Securing the clothing is a matter of life and death for this helpless, courageous population behind the German lines.

Four hundred tons of this must come from the north central states.

In Belgium it is impossible to buy shoes. There is no more leather of any description on the market. Every available substitute has been tried. For a time old belting from factories was used; and roofing paper, of which there happened to be a stock, was resorted to for re-soling shoes. But the Germans, after having seized all the leather, requisitioned these substitutes also, and soon not a single yard of belting was left in any Belgian industrial establishment.

Now the Belgians fasten pieces of old rags on to wooden soles and wear them for shoes.

And they make coats out of old blankets—and blankets out of anything.

Disease Follows Want.

Daily the ravages of tuberculosis throughout Belgium becomes more terrible. Deaths from this disease have increased 100 per cent, and cases of internal tuberculosis, 1,000 per cent. The doctors, in spite of their untiring devotion, can no longer cope with the rising tide of disease.

Today, two die where one died in peace times, while owing to undernourishment, the birth rate has been cut in half.

Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, puts the problem to Americans in this way:

"Every household in the land has some spare clothing, worn or outgrown, of little value here, but desperately needed by the destitute there. They have been reduced to fashioning garments from flour sacks, old blankets, sheets, and tablecloths, which have now almost disappeared, and shoes from scraps of carpet and jute sacks. Today it costs eight dollars to have a pair of shoes resoled. For bedding, sacks stuffed with dry leaves or moss serve as mattresses. Everywhere the need for blankets is tremendous. Hospitals and other institutions suffer for want of sheets. In some places whole families sleep together to share a single blanket."

Kind of Things Needed.

Garments of every kind, for both sexes, and all ages, are needed, according to the appeal. Also piece goods which can be made into sheets, blankets, and baby clothes. Only garments of strong materials will be accepted. Apparel of flimsy material or fancy clothing will not be taken. Prospective donors are reminded it will not be necessary to mend the garments as the repair work will give employment to the thousands of destitute women in the occupied regions.

What to Do.

In every county in Minnesota there is a Red Cross chapter, and in every community there is a branch or some other agency that can get into touch with the county Red Cross chapter. These agencies include the local representative of the Minnesota food administration. A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, urges Minnesotans to get their used clothing together and see that it gets to such an agency for delivery to the county Red Cross.

Do it before next Monday, September 30. Don't wait; do it now.

Bayberry Shrub.

The plant from which the bayberry candle is made is the shrub Myrcia cerifera, a plant which is common in New England, and especially along the coast of Maine. The bayberry shrub is not closely related to the Myrcia acris, or West India bay, from the leaves of which bay rum is obtained by distillation.

THE SECOND LINE OF DEFENSE

From the Mississippi valley to the flaming front in Flanders is not as far today as the distance from Paris to Berlin. The Atlantic ocean is not as wide as the River Somme. The girl in the munition factory in the middle West is very close to her brother in the front-line trenches. If her work falters, if one untrue torpedo passes the careful scrutiny of the inspector, the lives of American soldiers pay the price.

It is as necessary to keep the girl who makes the shells physically fit and high of courage as the man who fires the gun.

The glory and excitement of war are for the man in khaki. Grinding, monotonous labor far away from the flying flags and martial music is the portion of the girl who makes munitions.

One and a half million women and girls have marched into the service of the United States government, to take the places of the men who have been called to the colors. With every draft and with the opening of every munition cantonment the number is multiplied. These girls work long hours and the work is hard and monotonous. Furthermore, they work at high nervous tension. On the skill of their fingers and the accuracy of their eyes depends the lives of many soldiers, the winning or losing of many battles.

"I can't sleep at night because I'm so afraid I may have passed on something that was not quite true," said one young girl not yet in her twenties, who inspected hundreds of torpedoes every day.

Unless something can make this girl forget at night, and find some rest, her hand will lose its cunning.

"Nights and Sundays," said another, "I walk and walk, and I never go the same route twice until I have worn out all the others, and yet I can't forget that perhaps some time, somehow, during the day something may have gone through that was not quite right."

"I was just on the edge of going back home," said another. "I couldn't stand it. Then the recreation leader asked me if I played basket ball, and I told her I was too old. I'm twenty-eight. She insisted that I just try throwing the ball, and now I'm captain of the basket ball team. I play tennis and can 'set up' and 'wig-wag,' and they're going to make me forewoman of the room. That would have frightened me to death once. But everything is different now, that we have our War Service club."

The war department had seen the need of occupations for out-of-work hours if the employees were to work at their greatest efficiency, and through the ordnance department, asked the Young Women's Christian Association for recreation leaders, to line up the girls and direct their free-time pleasures.

The government reminded the Y. W. C. A. that as an organization it always had had an interest in the right housing of girls, in the right feeding of girls, and in the right education of girls, and that the intelligent care of these girls in the munitions factories was one of the essentials in the winning of the war. The government could house and feed them. It could put up recreation buildings, but when this was done it was as helpless as the father of a motherless girl. The government is a composite man. He didn't know what a girl should do when the six o'clock factory whistle blew. He only knew she needed looking after and he called to the one woman's organization that for half a century had made a study of the needs of girls. Vaguely, he had an idea that she should be encouraged to play, that she needed wholesome recreation, and some one, wise and sympathetic as a careful mother, to guide her social activities.

The Blue Triangle sent its play lady to salute and go to work. Workers are asked for in recreation buildings of all the 22 federal industrial reservations or munition cantonments which have been opened this summer in several of the states. These reservations sprung up out of the very fields in a few weeks. They are employing thousands of workers. Many of these women have come from far distant homes. The government provided dormitories and mess barracks. In some places it is putting up recreation buildings. Where such a building is not provided by the government, the Y. W. C. A. will furnish it, using one already standing when available, and building when that is necessary. All these buildings, whether government or association-owned, will operate under the sign of the Blue Triangle. They will have big living rooms, assembly rooms for entertainments, club rooms, and gymnasiums. The Blue Triangle will furnish a program of service work, educational classes, games and entertainments. Military and signal corps drills will be in charge of soldiers.

In Washington, the members of the Business Women's council, a Blue Triangle league of the Y. W. C. A., made up of girl government employees, drill twice a week under an army officer, and between five and six o'clock on these days long lines of motorcars are parked to watch the drill.

Wherever possible the recreation equipment includes a field somewhere for outdoor sports.

War clubs are a part of the plan and membership in these involves a pledge to serve to the best of the girl's ability in the ranks of the Woman's Industrial Army—the "second line of defense," and a promise of loyalty by promoting in every possible way the spirit of service.

How easily we lose poise, swept by the current of life! Our root is not deep enough. Consider the lily resting on the face of the waters, its roots far below. Holt Weekly News,
Holt, Minn.

Dear sir:

We desire to call your attention to the fact that John Einar Johnson, serial No. 1761 who gives his address as Holt, Minn. is 19 years of age. That he came to the United States in 1909 with his sister and has resided here ever since, and that he claims exemption from service in the United States Army upon the ground that he is not a citizen of the United States. This claim being well founded under the law must be granted and he has been placed in class 5f, but we think that your entire neighborhood should be informed of the fact that this man, tho willing to live in our country and derive his living therein, is not willing to help it in its time of need, and hence should be ostracized by all right thinking people. We know of no better way of informing the public than thru your newspaper.

SAY MINISTER WAS A FLIRT

Pastor Charged With Murder of Wife Had Many Love Affairs.

COURTS CHURCH GIRLS

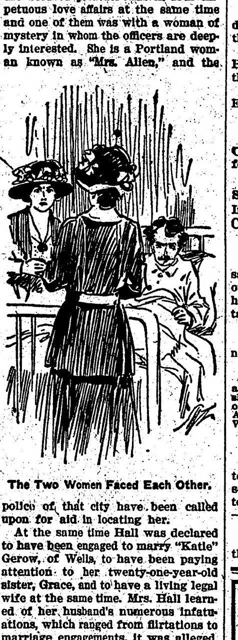
Accused Divine Said to Have Planned Marriage With One Girl After Paying Ardent Suit to Another.

Wells Depot, Me.—A cloak of mystery surrounds the death of Mrs. Minnie Stevens Hall, wife of the Rev. Henry H. Hall, pastor of the Union Baptist church here, who declared that she fell from a high bridge to a pile of rocks in a dry creek on the night of June 11. The minister has been lodged in jail at Alfred, Me., charged with the murder of Mrs. Hall. Numerous stories of the prisoner's flirtations have been circulated and detectives are securing considerable evidence in the most sensational case that has been brought to light in Maine in many years.

The body of the woman has been exhumed. The autopsy was made in the dimly lighted chapel of the little Baptist church where Mr. Hall had preached. Within three hours of the time that her body was disinterred and submitted to a critical official examination it was returned to its casket and grave, and laid at rest forever.

Had Many Love Affairs.

Developments of a startling nature have been made during the investigation. Among them was the fact that the accused preacher was in four impetuous love affairs at the same time and one of them was with a woman of mystery in whom the officers are deeply interested. She is a Portland woman known as "Mrs. Allen," and the police of that city have been called upon for aid in locating her.



The Two Women Faced Each Other.

At the same time Hall was declared to have been engaged to marry "Katie" Gerow, of Wells, to have been paying attention to her twenty-one-year-old sister, Grace, and to have a living legal wife at the same time. Mrs. Hall learned of her husband's numerous infatuations, which ranged from flirtations to marriage engagements, it was alleged.

When Hall was a patient at the Marine hospital at Portland, he received daily visits from another woman. She is said to have carried him flowers and it was thought that she was to marry him. Mrs. Hall went to the hospital one day to see her husband, and while she was at his bedside the woman appeared for her customary visit, but was informed that she could not go into the ward because at that time the patient's wife was with him. The visitor exclaimed that Hall had no wife, and insisting that he was engaged to be married to her, rushed into the ward where she demanded an explanation from Hall. Hospital attendants took a hand in the affair when the two women faced each other and realized the truth.

On the day of the funeral of his wife, Hall was almost blithesome. At the home of the wife's mother, when the funeral cortege was being formed, he beckoned to a woman to ride in the carriage with him and in which were his wife's mother and his daughter, Frances. There had been village gossip which linked the minister's name with the woman, and Mrs. Stephens was unable to withstand the added indignity of riding in the same carriage with the woman. She protested and her objectionable companion was removed.

Sentiment Is Divided.

The people of the community are divided as to the guilt or innocence of the minister. The members of his congregation believe him innocent and declare the charges preferred are the work of enemies whose ill will be secured by conducting a vigorous campaign against gambling. The Gerow girls indignantly deny that their relations with the Rev. Mr. Hall were other than proper and that they were interested in him only because of his religious activities.

Sheridan, Wyo., has passed an ordinance closing all places of business on Sundays and legal holidays.

I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. Heartburn, Belching, Indigestion, Food Repeating and Nearly All Kinds of Bodily Miseries

Caused By ACID-STOMACH

The first sign of stomach misery usually comes after over-eating. The doctors call it "superacidity". The people say—"sour stomach".

Millions of people who have lost their ambition, energy, courage, vitality and strength—who are weak, pale and listless—who go through life just dragging one foot after another—tired and worn out nearly all the time—nervous, irritable, subject to severe headache, insomnia, and a long train of physical ills—would be surprised, yes, dumbfounded, to learn that it is just an acid-stomach that is causing them all their misery. Yet in nearly nine cases out of ten that is just where the trouble starts.

Now a sour, acid-stomach, or "superacidity", of course, simply means too much acid in the stomach. You can now quickly rid your stomach of its excess acid. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC literally wipes it out. It does the work easily, quickly and thoroughly. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable. It helps you to get full strength out of every mouthful of food you eat; and unless you do get full strength from your food you cannot enjoy robust, vigorous health.

EATONIC is in tablet form. They are pleasant tasting—just like a bit of candy—and are absolutely harmless. Take EATONIC and find out for yourself how wonderfully different you will feel. See how quickly EATONIC banishes the immediate effects of acid-stomach—bloat, heartburn, belching, food repeating, indigestion, etc. See, too, how quickly your general health improves—how much you relish your food—how much more easily your food is digested—how soundly you sleep—how nervousness and irritability disappear. And all simply because, by taking EATONIC, you have rid your stomach of a lot of excess acid that has been holding back and making your life miserable.

So get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. He is authorized to guarantee EATONIC to please you and you can trust him to make this guarantee good. If EATONIC fails in any way, take it back—he will refund your money. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC write to us direct and we will send you a big 50c box and you can send us the 50c after you receive it. Address: H. L. SMALL CHANCE FOR ARMISTICE

With French Making Continued Gains, Wilson Confers on Peace Note.

"HINDY" QUITS, REPORT

Senate Leaders and Allied Press Say Armistice Should Not Be Considered Now—French Take Important Points.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Wilson confers with allied leaders; French make further smashing gains; Hindenburg resigns after telling the kaiser further retreats are inevitable; senate denounces armistice as unthinkable at this time—so runs the thread of the day's news following the announcement of Kaiser Wilhelm's new peace offensive which was designed to set all nations into a sudden spasm of aversion to further continuance of the war.

With his Macedonian front collapsed, by his own admission to his own people; and with continued disaster inevitable according to the dictum of his most trusted military leader, the kaiser has established a "government" under Prince Max which hopes to avert further war by a recitation of its willingness to quit and consider the fourteen suggestions of President Wilson as the basis for negotiations regarding peace. That these suggestions are not a basis for negotiations at all, but a minimum of the requirements that must absolutely be accepted by the enemy without question is the prevalent opinion here; in which not only senate leaders, but also the influential press of America and the allied nations appear to almost universally concur.

Wilson Confers With Allied Leaders.

Washington, Oct. 8.—President Wilson is conferring with the premiers of the entente nations over the form of an answer to be made to Germany's latest peace proposals. The indications are that it will not be dispatched for a day or two. While there may be some question as to the form of the reply, there is no question whatever as to its nature. It may not use the short and forceful term, "unconditional surrender" which would reflect the sentiment which has come from the spokesmen of the nation, but it is sure to convey to the German government very clearly the fact that nothing less than the terms already laid down can be accepted, and that those terms cannot be made merely "the basis for negotiation." As to an armistice, such a step would be looked upon as suicidal and not to be thought of.

Senate Leaders Oppose Armistice.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Immediate rejection of the German and Austrian proposal for an armistice and peace negotiations was demanded in the senate yesterday by the leaders voicing the common sentiment of the membership.

There was no dissent from the view that an armistice would defeat all that America and the allies have been fighting for.

Vin Hindenburg Resigns.

London, Oct. 8.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has resigned as chief of the German general staff after a heated interview with the emperor in which the field marshal declared that a retreat on a large scale was impossible to avoid, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam. The correspondent based his dispatch on reports from the frontier.

Beirut and Berry-Au-Bac Taken.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The troops of the French general, Berthelot, have delivered a successful blow against the Germans northwest of Rheims which adds materially to the menace that is hanging over the German front from the North sea to the Swiss border. This was the capture of Berry-Au-Bac, on the north side of the Aisne, about ten and a half miles northwest of Rheims and only a scant five miles from the eastern end of the famous Chemin Des Dames ridge at Craonne. A further advance northward across the railroad not alone will put the great stronghold of Laon in a pocket, but also will outflank Neufchatel, another enemy stronghold on the west.

The Turks also have suffered a serious blow in the loss to the French of Beirut, capital of the vilayet of Syria. The occupation of this seaport on the Mediterranean by a French naval division gives the allies a base for the landing of men who can operate in all directions against the Turks over the roads radiating from it.

Yanks Win Further Advance.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 8.—The Americans achieved another important but local success yesterday by forcing the Germans out of Chatel Chehery, north west of Apremont. Pushing forward they overcame the stubborn resistance of the enemy and settled themselves on the commanding heights west of the River Aire. Nothing of importance occurred on the other portions of the American front throughout the day. The troops in the center of the attack met the first obstacle in ten minutes.

CENTRAL POWERS "OFFER" PARLEY TO EFFECT PEACE

With Macedonian Front Collapsed and Western Lines Crumbling, Germany Would Negotiate.

14 POINTS AS "BASIS"

New German Chancellor Claims Government Now Favors Peace on Lines Set Forth by American President——Wilson Is Asked to Take Initiative and Ask Other Entente Powers.

Copenhagen, Oct. 7.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, the new German imperial chancellor, has announced in the reichstag that he has sent a note, through the Swiss government, to President Wilson in which he has requested Mr. Wilson to take up the question of bringing about peace and to communicate with the other belligerents regarding the subject.

The chancellor told the reichstag he had addressed his note to the president of the United States because Mr. Wilson, in his message to congress on January 8, 1918, and in his later pronouncements, particularly his New York speech on September 27, had proposed a program for a general peace which Germany and her allies could accept as a basis for negotiations.

Text of Chancellor's Note.

Amsterdam, Oct. 7.—The text of the note forwarded by the imperial German chancellor, Prince Maximilian, to President Wilson, through the Swiss government, follows:

"The German government requests the president of the United States to take in hand the restoration of peace, acquaint all the belligerent states of this request and invite them to send plenipotentiaries for the purpose of opening negotiations.

"It accepts the program set forth by the president of the United States in his message to congress on January 8, and in his later pronouncements, especially his speech of September 27, as a basis for peace negotiations.

"With a view to avoiding further bloodshed, the German government requests the immediate conclusion of an armistice on land and water and in the air."

It is announced that Turkey will take a similar step.

Kaiser Asks Continued Resistance.

Berlin, Oct. 7, (via Basel, Switzerland).—Emperor William yesterday issued a proclamation to the German army and navy in which, after announcing that the Macedonian front had crumbled, he declared that he had decided, in accord with his allies, to again offer peace to the enemy.

The text of the emperor's proclamation reads, in part:

"For months past the enemy, with enormous exertions and almost without pause in the fighting, has stormed against your lines. In weeks of struggle, often without repose, you have had to preserve and resist a numerically far superior army. Therein lies the greatness of the task which has been set for you and which you are fulfilling. Troops of all the German states are doing their part and are heroically defending the fatherland on foreign soil. Hard is the task.

"My navy is holding its own against the united enemy and naval forces and is unwaveringly supporting the army in its difficult struggle.

"Whether arms will be lowered is a question. Until then, we must not slacken. We must, as hitherto, exert all our strength unwearily to hold our ground against the onslaught of our enemies.

"The hour is grave, but, trusting in your strength and in God's gracious help, we feel ourselves to be strong enough to defend our beloved fatherland.

(Signed) "WILHELM."

Foe Still Withdrawing in Belgium.

Washington, Oct. 7.—While Germany and Austria-Hungary are clamoring for an immediate armistice with an "honorable" peace to follow negotiations in which President Wilson's pronouncements shall be accepted "as a basis," the allied armies are still pressing forward on all fronts and winning further victories. The Germans everywhere are being forced to give ground to the allied troops, and in Belgium the enemy is steadily being pushed eastward, and in anticipation of a forced final withdrawal, is continuing to make ready for that eventuality by removing his guns and otherwise lessening the value of his defensive works in the territory upon and adjacent to the North sea coast.

Austria Also Favors 14 Terms.

Amsterdam, Oct. 7.—The new peace note of Baron Burian, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, declares that all of President Wilson's terms have been accepted, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Frankfort Zeitung, which is quoted in the Dutche Press.

According to advices sent through Berne, Switzerland, by the Havas agency, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey have resolved simultaneously to ask President Wilson to make representation in their interest for a general armistice and negotiations for a general peace.

That is the way our men are going into battle. When the shrill whistle sounds the advance, out they go—their whole heart in the task before them. No power on earth can hold them back.

Forward!

The same sharp challenge to battle is sounding for us. We must answer in the same proud way—the way of our fighting men—the American way. We must lend the way they fight.

We must show the war-maddened Hun a united American people moving forward shoulder to shoulder, irresistibly, to Victory.

Our task is to supply the money, the ships, the guns, the shells that we must have to win. It is a tremendous task. We must do it as our fighting men do theirs—with the indomitable spirit of Victory.

We must work, and save, and lend with one thought only—TO FIGHT AND WIN.

Get into the fight—with your whole heart. Buy Bonds—to the utmost!

His Interpretation.

They were discussing the many interpretations of the mystic "P. F. 9-20." Each had had his fling except the meek little man.

"I thought it was a kinda slogan the profiteers had got up against us poor public, meaning 'Poor Fish.'"

"Well, but where does the '9-20' come in?" asked the guy with the furrowed brow.

"Why that means if sumpin's worth 9 cents we gotta pay 20."

Inconsistency.

"Did you ever notice," queried the almost philosopher, "that a man will stick his hand out to see if it's raining and then become peeved if he catches a drop on it?"

Strong Hope.

"That widower is all broken up."

"Oh, he'll soon be repaired."—Baltimore American.

Toasts and Roasts.

At a little luncheon recently held by a mutual admiration club, the following toasts were proposed:

"His highness, the hetman of Ukraine! Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!" —Kaiser Bill.

"His majesty, the German kaiser! Hoch, hoch, hoch!"—General Skoropadski of Ukraine.

Such outbursts of impassioned eloquence and expressions of undying fealty will probably go thundering down the ages and cause even President Wilson to shake in his shoes—with laughter.

Children should be seen and not heard, but the kaiser's six should neither be seen nor heard.

This is a wide world, but a lot of people in it live on a narrow margin

Marshall county has been called on for 53 men to be sent to Camp Cody, New Mexico, next week, also for 60 men to be sent to Camp Forest, Georgia. As there are only 35 men of class 1 of the 1917 registrants left in the county, the quota will have to be made up of this year registrants. The men will be sent south as the influenza does not give any trouble there.

Killed in Action.

A telegram was sent here Wednesday evening from Washington to Mrs. T. Sollom stating her son Adolph had been killed in action in France on Sept. 29th, but no particulars were given. He entered the army in March and was sent to Camp Dodge with the Pennington county contingent. He had been transferred from the artillery to the machine gun battalion.

Mr. Sollom was 32 years old and leaves to mourn his death, the widowed mother, 6 brothers, 6 sisters and other relatives. He is the first of thirteen children to pass to the other shore and the first Soldier from Holt to give his life that the world might be made free from the military rule of the Kaiser.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he gave his life for his friends."

Words fail to express the sympathy that is extended to the sorrowing mother and the other members of the family and relatives.

Terrific Fire.

One of the most terrible fires past thru the northern part of Mud Lake township last Saturday afternoon and those who saw it will not care to see one again very soon. The fire started northwest by the tamarack headed south east and burned up several tons of hay for A. S. Bornstein and some for John Doane. The Clyde Groner and E. E. Pechie places were both burned to the ground. John Mundhanke was attending a sale at Gatzke at the time of the fire and had left his cows in the barn while he was away. He lost 2 cows, 1 calf, barn, chicken-coop, and 25 tons of timothy hay. Leonard Dahl's barn burned and the fire partly got started in his house but was put out. The log cabin on C. R. Jenkin's place and also the buildings on Harry Brown's, Martin Johnson's and S. G. Vick's places are all burned. The home of Mrs. Fannie Wright is a total loss, her hay being burned some time ago. The saddest part of all was the death of the 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert who lost his life in the fire. The entire community extends their sympathy to the family in the loss of their son and brother.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that our subscriptian price will be $1.25 a year, after Nov. 1st. 1918, to all Marshall county subscribers. Now is the time to renew.

Died

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Dahl was gladened Sept. 27th by the birth of a bright little baby boy but their joys were soon turned to sadness when on Oct. 6th. the little one began to fail. Dr. Atkins was called and every thing possible was done to save the life of the one its parents loved so dearly but of no avail, the babe died Oct. 10th. The babe was baptised and given the name Elmer Rudolph at the age of 10 days. Its sudden taking away has left an aching void which time alone can soothe and heal. We sympathize with the parents in their sad bereavement and may the strength of the everlasting Arms enfold them and support them during this time of trial. The body was laid to rest in the Golden Valley cemetery Oct. 11th, at 11 o'clock A. M.

For Sheriff

The undersigned is a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Marshall County and respectfully solicits the support of the citizens of Marshall County and their votes at the general election on Nov. 5th. 1918.

If elected, I will perform the duties of the Office with fairness and impartiality to all concerned.

Justice Carlson.

To the Voters of Marshall County:

As a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, I respectfully solicit your support in this campaign and your vote at the Election November 5th.

I have sacrificed that each of the seven members in my family may have a Fourth Liberty Loan Bond, and I am Hooverizing in campaign cards but I assure you that I am in the race, ready to work or fight, and if I don't happen to impose upon you in person before the election I shall be pleased to shake afterwards.

Yours,
Lewis M. Olson.

For County Commissioner.

I wish to announce to the voters of the 5th Commissioner District of Marshall County that I am a candidate for County Commissioner for the district and respectfully solicit your support and your vote on Election Day, Tuesday Nov. 5, 1918.

If elected, I promise to look after the interests of the district the best I possibly can.

T. Aasland.
Thief River Falls, M. R.

For Sheriff

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Marshall County. I have had the honor of serving you one term and solicit your vote and support for a second term.

My opponent is a good man and would undoubtedly serve you efficiently, but as there is no brotherhood in politics, naturally, I want the office myself, but I leave it to your own good judgement, who should be elected.

I have no time to make a campaign as the work of the Local Board keeps me busy here in the office.

Respectfully
Hans C. Hanson.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Drop Freezone on a touchy corn, then lift that corn off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Suggestion on Patches.

All men who are wearing their pants on a win-the-war schedule must be careful that the attritive pressure be distributed so that the two rear patches may become necessary simultaneously. ONE YEAR COURSE FOR WEST POINT

MILITARY ACADEMY IS TO BE UTILIZED TO THE FULL LIMIT DURING THE WAR PERIOD.

TEACHING FLYERS "STUNTS"

Aviation Students to Learn the Acrobatics Quickly or Not at All—War Department Compels the Making of Clinical Thermometers.

(From Committee on Public Information.)

Washington.—The acting secretary of war has approved the recommendations of General March, chief of staff, to graduate the two upper classes at the United States Military academy on November 1, and to authorize a one-year course at West Point for the remainder of the war. It is proposed to utilize this valuable and expensive institution, the war department announces, to the limit during the period of the war. The number of cadets graduated each year from West Point is now only about 200. Under the new system it will be possible to graduate 1,000 officers a year.

Vacancies resulting from the graduation of the two upper classes will be filled by the war department, if possible, by the admission on November 1, 1918, of qualified candidates. Appointments will be made in the usual way—through senators and representatives in congress, and other customary channels. The war department desires that candidates to be admitted on November 1 shall be not under eighteen years of age on that date.

As the result of an investigation by the war department, following the failure of the medical department to obtain a supply of clinical thermometers except at what were considered exorbitant prices, the general staff has ordered 18 manufacturers in different parts of the country to furnish about 668,000 of the instruments, which are urgently needed here and abroad.

Under these orders the war department will not only take the entire stock of clinical thermometers now manufactured, but will require the factories to produce in large quantities for 20 weeks. The compulsory order specifies that the entire quantity must be delivered by February 10, 1919.

The price of clinical thermometers has advanced in the past year from 25 cents and 30 cents to 50 cents and 60 cents each. The investigations of the military authorities disclosed a combination between the glass-blowers and the makers of thermometers.

The prices to be paid by the government for the 668,000 thermometers which have been requisitioned will be fixed by the war department board of appraisers.

One undertaking in connection with the registration of more than 13,000,000 men for the draft, September 12, is illustrated by figures by Provost Marshal General Crowder. A statistician in the provost marshal's office has calculated that if all the printed forms distributed since August 7 in connection with the work of registration, classification and mobilization were placed in a pile ten feet square it would tower above the ground to a height of 887 feet, or more than one and a half times the altitude of Washington monument.

Altogether there have been printed and shipped out, since August 7, 224,000,000 forms of all kinds, weighing 4,300,000 pounds, and measuring, in the aggregate, 88,787 cubic feet. A total of 44,000 mail sacks were used to carry this vast quantity of matter. The largest number of sacks shipped in a single day was 1,828. These weighed about 83 tons.

If these forms were placed in one mail train 143 60-foot postal cars would be required and the train would be one and two-thirds miles long. Placed end to end, the forms would extend 68,044 miles—more than twice the distance around the earth.

Many sample cans of tomatoes such as are used in the army have been found by the inspection branch of the subsistence division, quartermaster corps, to be filled only to three-fourths of an inch of the top, although weighing the requisite amount. Instructions have been issued that regardless of weight, the cans must be filled to within three-eighths of an inch of the top. If the cans are not filled to within half an inch of the top there is to be a readjustment of prices and under no circumstances, it is announced, will underfilled cans be sent overseas.

It has been calculated that if this saving of three-eighths of an inch were made in all cans of tomatoes purchased by the army for a year, it would equal 417,000 cases, costing about $1,500,000. The saving of tinplate used in the can would equal about 7,000,000 square feet.

German prisoners are being used in the construction of homes for Belgian refugees in the village which the American Red Cross is building near Havre, France, for families who were driven from their country by the German invasion. Many such prisoners also have been put to work in the fields in the section surrounding Havre. They have harvested wheat and other crops, thus lessening the burden on the women and very old men who have been operating the farms while the young and vigorous males are fighting at the front.

Naval and military flyers who loop the loop at altitudes of 4,000 feet, who do nose dives, side slips and other thrilling and seemingly frivolous evolutions, learn to accomplish these feats in seven or eight hours—or they never learn them at all. For the mastery of airplane acrobatics does not require the time that is requisite to train a performer for a circus.

Cadet flyers receive this instruction which is called the acrobatic stage, toward the end of their training and after they have become masters of their machines and possess absolute control. Otherwise they could not acquire the knack of throwing their machines in and out of these whirls and loops. And, by the way, some of them never do. Because a cadet becomes master of his plane, it does not inevitably follow that he can "stunt." He may not be fitted for it temperamentally; he may lack the head or the heart or the stomach for it. If that be so then he must abandon acrobatics. Those who like it stick to it, and thus it happens that frequently these stunt flyers become the aces in actual combat in France, because fights in the air are more or less games of tag; and the more artful the dodger the greater are his chances.

The course in acrobatics is not chosen because it is showy or spectacular. It is as much a part of a cadet's training as pursuit work, reconnaisance or bombing. It is designed to inspire the student with confidence in his ship and in his ability; to teach him the feel of dangerous positions in the air; to actually get into them and out of them safely, and in general to demonstrate to him how much may be accomplished by the proper and skillful handling of his plane.

The greatest care is taken in choosing instructors for this work and in selecting the ships or planes to be used. Expert riggers are assigned to check the aligment of the planes used after each flight.

At Kelly field, Texas, there is a special stage for the instruction and to insure safety for the cadets and their instructors. Others not flying in this stage of instruction are required to keep entirely away from the territory over which the stunts are being performed. A severe penalty is attached to the slightest infringement of this regulation. No student or instructor is allowed to stunt under 2,000 feet, and practically all of the work in the acrobatic line is done between 2,000 and 4,000 feet.

When a student reports to the stage for instruction, he is assigned to a teacher who at the first opportunity takes him and performs the requisite evolutions. The student is then given the control and directed to repeat the maneuver. After the third or fourth trial he is usually able to perform in a creditable manner. However, in no case does the instructor allow a student to fly alone unless he shows himself well qualified.

When a student is sent into the air he is directed to follow a definite course in gaining his altitude; to turn over his sector, and, if at a sufficient altitude, to do his stunts. It may be that he will have been directed to do a one-turn spin, a two-turn, spin, five loops and three Immelmann turns. Upon returning to the ground he reports to his instructor, who has carefully watched the execution of the stunts and who offers appropriate criticism and suggestions. This is repeated several times, and before the student is transferred he again goes up with the instructor, who estimates whether the former is qualified to advance to the next stage.

Troops for the Slavic legion which is to be a part of the United States army will soon be recruited under regulations just promulgated by President Wilson. The officers and enlisted men in these regiments will be Jugo-Slavs, Czecho-Slavs and Ruthenians. If practicable, companies will be composed of members of the same race and this plan of organization will be followed as far as can be in the larger units—battalions and regiments.

Enlisted men for the Slavic legion will be obtained by voluntary induction from among the members of the races mentioned. They must be residents but not citizens of the United States and not subject to the draft. Enlistments in coal mining regions will not be authorized. Volunteers for this legion will be forwarded by draft boards to depots in the usual manner and will be sent from there to Camp Wadsworth, South Carolina.

The weather bureau will publish in its National Weather and Crop Bulletin a series of charts showing for the country east of the Rocky mountains the southward progression of the earliest killing-frost date line and the total area covered by killing frost to the date of each issue. These charts are expected to be of much interest and value, as they will indicate the time of the ending of the growing season for summer crops this year in the various sections of the country.

Much loss is caused at times by early frosts and interest is unusually great this year because of the possibility of frost damage affecting the food supply.

To test the present health of the nation's children, the child welfare committee of the council of national defense throughout the country has weighed and measured more than 6,500,000 babies. Hundreds of committees, endeavoring to meet the needs revealed by this test, have employed public-health nurses, opened infant welfare stations.

In England, since the beginning of the present war, the infantile death rate has been reduced nine points below the mortality among American children of the same ages.

A clue has been found but no arrests have been made.

As war workers, the members of the Minnesota Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense and Commission of Public Safety are vitally interested in the coming campaign for war funds for the seven organizations who are working together as directed by President Wilson. This drive takes place November 11-18 and is expected to raise $170,500,000, to be divided proportionately between the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. The farmers of the United States are being asked to pledge themselves to the conservative use of wheat-mill feeds in order to protect the dairy industries, not only of the United States but of the allied powers. The dairy industry is vital to the lives of the people of all the allied nations and for this reason the food administration is urging farmers to sign the following pledge: "In order to assist the food administration in the distribution of mill feeds, I hereby undertake on honor not to use wheat mill feeds for any other purpose than the feeding of dairy cattle, poultry, young pigs or young calves, or the preparation of a weekly bran mash for work animals. I will not feed any more wheat mill feeds than is customarily fed to such animals and I further agree not to have at any one time more than a 60-day supply of wheat feeds on hand."

John Boeke, father of the dead soldier, declared the body arriving here was not that of his son, but it was thought he was mistaken and the funeral was held. The body will now be disinterred and forwarded to its proper destination, and the body of Boeke will be sent here.

Bent Like an Old Man and Suffered Terribly—Quickly Cured by Doan's.

Jno. Bleumke, Jr., 2553 Courtland St., Chicago, Ill., says: "I was down with my back suffering from lumbago. I walked like an old man, all bent over. My back pained terribly and when I moved my arms my back hurt. I finally had to go to bed and just felt sick all over and was helpless as a baby. My kidneys acted too frequently, the secretions were scanty and highly colored. I had terrible pains in the back of my head and I felt drowsy all the time. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and soon felt one hundred per cent better. When I finished the one box I was entirely cured. The pains left my back and head and my kidneys acted normally. I am glad to recommend Doan's to other kidney sufferers."

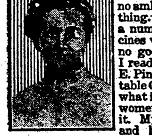
HOW TO AVOID BACKACHE AND NERVOUSNESS

Told by Mrs. Lynch From Own Experience.

Providence, R. I.—"I was all run down in health, was nervous, had headaches, my back ached all the time. I was tired and had no ambition for anything. I had taken a number of medicines which did me no good. One day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for women, so I tried it. My nervousness and backache and headaches disappeared. I gained in weight and feel fine, so I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is suffering as I was."—Mrs. ADELINE B. LYNCH, 100 Plain St., Providence, R. I.



Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience, and try this famous root-and-herb remedy, Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

ALL PUPILS IN LIFE'S SCHOOL

Each Day Gives Opportunity to Learn a New Lesson, Even Though End Is Near.

We did not ask to be born and have our names entered in the school of life—but here we are—willing or unwilling pupils, which is it? Are we learning life's lessons cheerfully, gladly, optimistically; or do we chafe and fume and fret and worry? There are so many lessons and life is so short.

Every day our wonder increases at our Father's never-failing goodness; at the discovery of new virtues and powers in some life where they have long been dormant, or in some new beauty of this wonderful world that we had long viewed with unseeing eyes. We need hearing ears and seeing eyes if we would acquire knowledge in the school of life. We need to open our hearts Godward every morning and say: "Lord make me teachable today."

"My aged grandfather often said to me: "George, I learn something new every day." Ah! is not every day a fresh age of life? Is it not half the charm of life to know that each dewy morning is a door opening into a wonderful field where we have not yet walked; where the flowers of knowledge bloom, and there are new tasks awaiting us and new lessons to be learned?—Exchange.

NO PEACE WITH HUN AUTOCRACY, SAYS PRESIDENT

Straight-From-the-Shoulder Reply of Wilson Gives Foe Subject for Thought.

ATROCITIES MUST STOP

Full Agreement Between America and Allies Is Also Made Plain by President as Necessary Condition to Peace.

Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson late yesterday afternoon answered Germany's peace proffer with a note declaring anew that there can be no peace with a German government controlled by a military autocracy, and no thought of an armistice while German atrocities continue on land and sea.

Text of the President's Note.

The text of the President's answer follows:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the reichstag of the terms laid down by the president of the United States of America in his address to the congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the president in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

Confident He Speaks for Allies.

"He feels confident that he can assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The president feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhumane practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their very inhabitants.

"The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

Must Be No Mistake About Autocracy.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the president should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the president delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last.

"It is as follows:

"'The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency.'

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The president's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves.

"The president feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment depend on the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter.

"It is indispensable that the governments aligned against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING.

Vienna Reports Turkey Out of War.

Amsterdam, Oct. 15.—The first step taken by the new Turkish cabinet, headed by Tewfik Pasha, says a dispatch from Vienna to the Weser Zeitung, was to dispatch a note to Austria-Hungary to the effect that owing to the military situation, Turkey was obliged to conclude a separate peace with the entente. The central powers requested Turkey to await the result of the exchange of notes with President Wilson, but no reply so far has been received from Turkey, according to the report.

FOE ABANDONS REGION OF LAON

German Forces Are Expelled From St. Gobain Forest and La Fere.

ITALIAN TROOPS ACTIVE

Americans Engage in Intense Artillery Duel Between Aire and Meuse Rivers, Blasting Machine Gun Nests to Bits.

Paris, Oct. 15.—The whole Laon front is crumbling. The French have captured a dozen additional villages. The railways leading from these are intact and great masses of shells and other war material have been seized.

The German retreat is being carried out with difficulty, owing to the bombardment of railroads by airplanes.

British troops are reported to have outflanked Bouchain and to be advancing on Densin, from which town they are only three miles distant.

American forces are advancing in the direction of Dun sur Meuse, in the Argonne sector, according to the Intransigeant.

London, Oct. 15.—German forces have abandoned Laon, La Fere, and the whole St. Gobain region. The French, after reoccupying Laon, have pressed on until their line now runs from the Oise river above La Fere to the eastern end of the Chemin des Dames.

Italian troops participated in the advance and are now engaged on the hills north of the Ailette river. At this particular point the German lines have been pressed back or have been withdrawn so that a sharp angle has been created.

Allies Reach Hunding Line.

French and British forces have virtually reached the Hunding line east of Cambrai and St. Quentin. British units are reported at Solesmes, while the French further south are within four miles of Guise.

The Hunding line runs from Antwerp to Ghent and thence to Tournai, Conde, Valenciennes, Solesmes, Guise, Rethel, Vouzieres, Dun sur Meuse and then down the base of the St. Mihiel salient to the Moselle, where it joins the old front running through Lorraine and the Vosges to the Swiss frontier.

On the Champagne front General Berthelot is less than five miles from Rethel, while further east General Gouraud has taken Vouzieres, but has not penetrated much further north of that place. Americans fighting in the Argonne region are through the Kriemhilde line, but their progress there is slow.

British Threaten Valenciennes.

Douai is virtually reached by the British, while to the north the line turns off sharply to the east. Should Douai fall, the British will be able to advance on Valenciennes.

The Oise river has been crossed by the French to the east of La Fere at Origny.

In Albania the Italians have captured Kavaya, a town 12 miles southeast of Durazzo.

Allied forces have occupied Nish, the Serbian stronghold, the German official statement admitting that the Teutonic armies had retired to the heights back of the city in face of the terrific Allied thrusts.

Americans Wreck Machine Guns.

With the American First Army, Oct 15.—An intense artillery battle is raging between the Aire and the Meuse It continued throughout the night and was growing in violence. The American guns apparently dominated the situation. The solid mass of machine gun nests which oppose our advance between the two rivers was rapidly being blasted to bits.

Heavy German attacks east of the Argonne were broken up by American counterattacks.

The Yanks met the Boches midway between the two lines, wielding the bayonet and tearing the enemy waves to shreds.

M'ADOO MAKES STRONG PLEA

Asks Rich and Poor Alike to Support Fourth Loan.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, addressed an appeal to the rich and poor of the nation alike to make a supreme effort to bring Liberty Loan subscriptions to their required $6,000,000,000 level, in a speech before more than 5,000 persons at a mass meeting.

"If our home army fails to put the Fourth Liberty Loan over," he declared, "it will contradict everything our soldiers are doing. It will be a new incentive to Germany to keep on fighting and it will be a confession in America of humiliating and disastrous failure."

Red Cross Ship at Archangel.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Arrival at Archangel of a relief ship which left an American port in August with 4,600 tons of food, drugs and other supplies for Allied soldiers and destitute civilians in Northern Russia, was announced by the American Red Cross The cargo was valued at a million and a half dollars, the amount originally appropriated for relief at that point Maj. C. T. Williams of Baltimore formerly a member of the Red Cross commission for Roumania, was in charge of the party.

AT LEAST 1,000 PERSONS PERISH IN FOREST FIRES

Flames Starting Near Bemidji, Minn., Cut Swath About Fifty Miles Wide.

MANY VILLAGES GONE

Property Worth Millions of Dollars Has Been Destroyed and More Than 15,000 Persons Are Homeless.

Duluth, Oct. 14.—Nearly 1,000 persons are now believed to have lost their lives in the blasts of flame that drove over Northern Minnesota forests in an area that spreads from Duluth to Brainerd, Bemidji, Aitkin, Cloquet and Moose Lake.

Property worth millions of dollars was destroyed, ten villages were obliterated, 15,000 persons were made homeless, many of them penniless. Duluth, itself heavily damaged by the flames, is a city of thousands of refugees, a dwelling-place of stricken people who had lost kinfolk, friends, neighbors in the flames.

Over all the countryside, on highways and by-paths, near farmhouse ruins and beside railway tracks, lay blackened corpses.

100 Bodies Brought In.

Cloquet, a city of 9,000 population and long a lumber center of the North country, is all but wiped out. Moose Lake, a village of 1,000 souls, is a waste of ashes, a relief-party headquarters which held more than 100 bodies brought in from the countryside which held none knew how many other victims stricken as they fled.

Brookston, Brevator, Corona, Adolph, Thompson, Arnold, Wright and Kettle River are in ashes—blackened, smoking wastes hardly distinguishable from the blackened fields that surround them. And all about, the forests of Northern Minnesota stand a great field of burned pine trees—blackened of trunk, ghosts of the great forest.

300 Dead at Moose Lake.

Rescue parties arriving on the scene, appalled at the completeness of the devastation wrought by the flames, hesitated, in view of their fragmentary knowledge of the actual scope of the disaster, to estimate the number of dead. In a temporary morgue at Moose Lake there were 103 bodies. Officials there say the total will exceed 300.

One Hundred and Ninety-six bodies have been borne to Duluth morgues. In other districts it was reported that several hundred more may be added. And in addition to these, remains the work of searching among the ruins of burned homes and along the sideroads, where hundreds more may be found, military authorities said.

Has Start Near Bemidji.

The fire started near Bemidji, where fire has been smouldering for weeks. Fanned by a high wind, the flames swept across the state toward Duluth, cutting a swath 50 miles wide through cutover lands bounded on both sides by a chain of lakes.

At Moose Lake the havoc wrought by the blaze was most complete, although the loss of life in the town itself was low, because the inhabitants, warned of the approach of the fire, took refuge in the icy waters of the lake.

Brainerd, Bemidji and Aitkin escaped destruction, partly because the wind died down and in part through heroic work of volunteer fire fighters.

Duluth and Superior, although suburbs were burned, were untouched by the flames and are serving as a place of refuge for a large number of the 15,000 homeless ones.

The heaviest loss of life was at Moose Lake and vicinity, Adjutant General Rhinow estimating that more that 300 persons died there. Duluth morgues have approximately 200 bodies and officials estimate that several hundred more dead men, women and children are scattered throughout the fire region.

Hibbing Ringed by Fire.

Hibbing, although ringed about fire, was unharmed Citizens of the iron range were last night hurrying for shelter at Carlton, and fires were blazing at the Morton location, Keewatin and other towns. Grand Rapids was reported on fire.

Five mills are all that is left in Cloquet of what was yesterday a city of 9,000 persons with varied business interests and many beautiful homes. The homes are a smouldering ruin, every residence being burned, but warning of the approaching fire came in time to allow the people of the town to depart

Postmen to Deliver Night Messages.

Washington, Oct 14 — Postmen within a few days will assume the task of delivering telegraph messages classed as night letters in cities and towns where postal deliveries are maintained. Officials of the postoffice wire control committee think such messages can be given quicker delivery by postmen in business sections, while even in residential sections the delivery will be quite as expeditious Delivery of telegrams other than night letters by telegraph messengers will continue for the present.

Indigestion, Bloat, Heartburn, Caused by Acid-Stomach

What is the cause of indigestion, dyspepsia, bloat, heartburn, food-repeating, belching, gassy, sour stomach, and so many stomach miseries? Just this—acid-stomach—superacidity as the doctors call it. It robs millions of their full strength, vitality and the power to enjoy life—to be real men and women.

It is well known that an acid mouth destroys the teeth. The acid is so powerful that it eats right through the hard enamel and causes the teeth to decay. This is fair warning of what excess acidity will do to the delicate organization of the stomach; as a matter of fact, excess acidity not only produces a great many painful and disagreeable symptoms that we generally name "Stomach troubles," but it is the creator of a long train of very serious ailments. Acid-stomach interferes with the digestion and causes the food to ferment. This mass of sour, fermented food passes into the intestines, where it becomes the breeding place for germs and toxic poisons, which in turn are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire body.

Wherever you go you see victims of acid-stomach — people who, while not actually down sick are always ailing—have no appetite, food doesn't digest, belching all the time, continually complaining of being weak and tired and worn out. It is this excess acidity that takes the pep and punch out of them, leaves little or no vitality.

Strike at the very cause of all this trouble and clean this excess acid out of the stomach. This will give the stomach a chance to digest the food properly; nature will do the rest.

A wonderful new remedy removes excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called EATONIC, made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. EATONIC literally absorbs the injurious excess acid and carries it away through the intestines. It drives the bloat out of the body—you can fairly feel it work.

Try EATONIC and see how quickly it banishes bloat, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, indigestion, etc. See too, how quickly your general health improves — how much more of your food is digested—how nervousness and irritability disappear. Learn how easy it is to get back your physical and mental punch. Have the power and energy to work with vim. Enjoy the good things of life. Learn what it means to fairly bubble over with health.

So get a box of EATONIC from your druggist today. We authorize him to guarantee EATONIC to please you and you can trust your druggist to make this guarantee good. If it fails in any way, take it back—he will refund your money.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA

By the Legislature at Its General Session, 1917, to be Submitted to the People of Said State at the General 1918 Election, Together with a Statement of Its

PURPOSE AND EFFECT

PREPARED BY
CLIFFORD L. HILTON
Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to
JULIUS A. SCHMAHL
Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

April 29, 1918.

HON. JULIUS A. SCHMAHL,
Secretary of State.

SIR:

As required by Section 46, General Statutes of the State of Minnesota for the year 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the Constitution, of the State of Minnesota by the Legislature of 1917, and which is to be submitted to the electors of said State at the General Election in 1918.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

Chapter 525 of the Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1917, proposes an amendment of Article 18 of the Constitution of said State by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

> "Section 4. The manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation, or keeping or having in possession for sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation of intoxicating liquor of any kind, in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific, or medicinal purposes, shall be forever prohibited within this state from and after the first day of July, 1920, and this amendment shall be self-executing. The legislature shall enact laws for the enforcement of this section and shall provide suitable penalties for the violation thereof."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to forever prohibit within the State of Minnesota after July 1, 1920, the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation, or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes.

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to make unlawful and forever prohibit the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes, within this state after July 1, 1920, and to place it beyond the power of any legislative authority to permit the doing of any such acts. If adopted, the doing of any of the prohibited acts automatically becomes unlawful after July 1, 1920, without any action on the part of the legislature or other legislative body. The amendment is made self-executing. A duty is, however, imposed upon the legislature to enact laws for the enforcement of this section, if adopted, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

Letter from France

The following letter was received by Mrs. T. T. Sollom from her son Adolph, a short time before the news of his death, an account of which was given in last weeks issue.

Co. B. 345 M. G. Bn.,
American Expeditionary Forces,
France,
July 16, 1918

My Dear Mother:

Well I am today enjoying my 32nd birthday here in France. We got here July 1st. Spent July 4th in Paris. We were quite a while getting here. We were on the road 30 days and 30 nights and out of that length of time we were 14 days on the sea. I did see lots of big ships. I was not sick on the boat at all. Have been well and enjoying good health ever since I came into the army. The way the boys say that have been in Norway, say this country is just like that country is. We don't see any farm houses here. They kind of live in small villages and it looks to be the same in England.

We are not so very far from the firing lines. We can hear the heavy guns at all hours of the day, but that is not saying I have seen it yet, and I don't think we will see them for quite a while. They are training us every day. I suppose you know I am learning to handle the heavy machine guns. I think it is the best branch of service in the army and I take very much interest in the work.

In about three month's more training I think I can do quite well. But I'm sure the war will be over by [illegible] the news from the front every day now. The Germans started a drive to-day but they can't do much to the Americans. It is good news to hear that the Germans have to go back and they are surely getting it. The people here in France seem to be so good but I can't talk to them. I understand that the boys here are signing up for three months' work here after the war. They will get $3.00 per day including board and clothing.

I am sure I will be home for Xmas.

How are you folks getting along anyway? I am feeling fine and I am glad I went to the army. I can do some good for my Country and Flag here. I have seen lots of flags waving here but our U. S. Flag looks the best of all. Well I must close my letter for the time hoping you are in good health. And don't worry about me as I am alright. If I should not see you here any more I will live such a life that I will meet you all "beyond the blue" where my dear Father is.

Hope you will write often.

I am Your loving Son,
Adolph.

Re-election of Chas. E. Grinder for Register of Deeds for a second term will mean the continuence of prompt and efficient service from that office in the future.

We are glad to report that Mrs. R. L. Olson received a letter Tuesday from their niece Miss Gladys Hagen at Grand Forks, stating that she was again able to be at work after a siege of the influenza.

Don't you want to keep your home paper?

To The Voters of Marshall County, Minnesota.

Having received the nomination at the Primaries for the office of Register of Deeds of this County, I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the election to said office.

Having served one term as your Register of Deeds, I respectfully solicit your vote for a second term at the General Election November 5th, 1918, and if elected will assure you as prompt and efficient service in the future as you have received during the past term.

For Sheriff

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Marshall County. I have had the honor of serving you one term and solicit your vote and support for a second term.

My opponent is a good man and would undoubtedly serve you efficiently, but as there is no brotherhood in politics, naturally, I want the office myself, but I leave it to your own good judgement, who should be elected.

I have no time to make a campaign as the work of the Local Board keeps me busy here in the office.

Respectfully
Hans C. Hanson.

Nervous and All Unstrung?

Feel nervous and irritable all the time? Continually worry over trifles? Then there's something wrong. Back of it all may be weak kidneys. Just as nerve wear is a cause of kidney weakness, so is kidney trouble a cause of nervousness. If you have backache, "blues," nervous spells, headaches, dizzy spells, kidney irregularities and a tired, worn feeling, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are recommended by thousands.

My back was always aching and was so lame, sore, and stiff, I could hardly straighten when I bent over. My kidneys acted irregularly, I was all run down and just moped around all the time. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured and I haven't had the slightest kidney trouble since and I surely place a lot of faith in Doan's."

CHAPTERS TOLD OF RED CROSS WORK

Annual Meetings Listen to Report Made by Organization's War Council.

ONE-FOURTH OF COUNTRY'S POPULATION IS ENROLLED.

Estimated That Approximately Eight Million Women Are Engaged in Canteen Work and the Production of Relief Supplies—Vast Sums Expended.

Red Cross chapters throughout the country held their annual meetings October 23, at which the following message from the War Council was read:

To the Chapters of the American Red Cross:

The War Council sends greetings to the chapters of the American Red Cross on the occasion of their annual meetings for 1918.

With these greetings go congratulations on the great work of the chapters during the past year and, above all things, on the wonderful spirit of sacrifice and patriotism which has pervaded that work.

The strength of the Red Cross rests upon its chapters. They are its bone and sinew. They supply its funds, they supply its men and women, they supply its enthusiasm. Let us, then, review together the Red Cross story of the past year.

Some idea of the size to which your Red Cross family has grown may be gathered from the following facts:

On May 1, 1917, just before the appointment of the War Council, the American Red Cross had 486,194 members working through 562 chapters.

On July 31, 1918, the organization numbered 20,648,103 annual members, besides 8,000,000 members of the Junior Red Cross—a total enrollment of over one-fourth the population of the United States.

Since the beginning of the war you of the chapters have co-operated with the War Council in conducting two war fund drives and one membership drive, in addition to the campaign on behalf of the Junior Red Cross.

The total actual collections to date from the first war fund have amounted to more than $115,000,000. The subscriptions to the second war fund amounted to upwards of $176,000,000.

From membership dues the collections have amounted to approximately $24,500,000.

Splendid Work Done by Women.

To the foregoing must be added that very large contribution of materials and time given by the millions of women throughout the country in surgical dressings, in knitted articles, in hospital and refugee garments, in canteen work, and the other activities the chapters have been called upon to perform.

It is estimated that approximately 8,000,000 women are engaged in canteen work and the production of relief supplies through the chapters.

For the period up to July 1, 1918, American Red Cross chapters, through their workrooms, had produced:

490,120	refugee garments.
7,123,621	hospital supplies.
10,786,489	hospital garments.
10,134,501	knitted articles.
192,748,107	surgical dressings.

A total of 221,282,838 articles—of an estimated aggregate value of at least $44,000,000.

These articles were largely the product of women's hands, and, by the same token, infinitely more precious than could have been the output of factories or machines. These articles going to the operating room of the hospitals, to homeless or needy refugees, and carrying comfort to our own boys in the field, convey a message of love from the women of this country entirely distinct from the great money value attaching to their handiwork.

Money Spent in Work.

By the terms under which the first Red Cross war fund was raised, the chapters were entitled to retain 25 per cent of the amount collected, in order defray local expenses, to carry on their home service work, to purchase materials to be utilized in chapter production and otherwise to meet the numerous calls made upon them. The chapters were thus entitled to retain nearly $29,000,000. As a matter of fact, their actual retentions amounted to only about $22,000,000.

Out of collections from annual memberships, the chapters have retained about $11,000,000.

From this total sum, therefore, of $33,000,000 retained by the chapters, they have met all the oftentimes very heavy local demands upon them, and in addition have provided for use by national headquarters products valued, as stated above, at upwards of $44,000,000.

The chapters have in effect returned to the War Council, not alone the $33,000,000 retained out of the war fund membership dues but, in value of actual product, an additional contribution of at least $11,000,000.

It will thus been seen that during the eighteen months which have elapsed since the United States entered the war, the American people will have either paid in or pledged to the American Red Cross for its work of relief throughout the world, in money or in material values, a net total of at least $325,000,000.

Revealed America's Heart.

It has been because of this spirit which has pervaded all American Red Cross effort in this war that the aged governor of one of the stricken and battered provinces of France stated not long since that, though France had long known of America's greatness, strength and enterprise, it remained for the American Red Cross in this war to reveal America's heart.

In this country, at this moment, the workers of the Red Cross, through its chapters, are helping to add to the comfort and health of the millions of our soldiers in 102 camps and cantonments, as well as of those traveling on railroad trains or embarking on ships for duty overseas.

The home service of the Red Cross, with its now more than 40,000 workers, is extending its ministrations of sympathy and counsel each month to upwards of 100,000 families left behind by soldiers at the front—a number ever growing with the increase of our men under arms.

But, of course, the heart of the Red Cross and its money and attention always move toward and focus themselves in Europe where the American Red Cross, as truly "the greatest mother in the world," is seeking to draw "a vast net of mercy through an ocean of unspeakable pain."

Red Cross Worth Recognized.

Nothing is withheld that can be given over there to supplement the efforts of our army and navy in caring for our own boys. The Red Cross does not pretend to do the work of the medical corps of the army or the navy; its purpose is to help and to supplement.

Nor does the Red Cross seek to glorify what it does or those who do it; our satisfaction is in the result, which, we are assured by Secretary Baker, General Pershing, General Ireland and all our leaders, is of inestimable value and of indispensable importance.

By the first of January your Red Cross will have working in France upwards of 5,000 Americans—a vivid contrast to the little group of eighteen men and women which, as the first Red Cross commission to France, sailed about June 1, 1917, to initiate our efforts in Europe.

Your Red Cross now has active, operating commissions in France, in England, in Italy, in Belgium, in Switzerland, in Palestine and in Greece. You have sent a shipload of relief supplies and a group of devoted workers to northern Russia; you have dispatched a commission to work behind our armies in eastern Siberia; you have sent special representatives to Denmark, to Serbia and to the island of Madeira.

Carries Message of Hope.

Your Red Cross is thus extending relief to the armies and navies of our allies; and you are carrying a practical message of hope and relief to the friendly peoples of afflicted Europe and Asia.

Indeed, we are told by those best informed in the countries of our allies that the efforts of your Red Cross to aid the soldiers and to sustain the morale of the civilian populations left at home, especially in France and Italy, have constituted a very real factor in winning the war.

The veil has already begun to lift.

What the Red Cross may be called upon to do in the further course of the war, or with the coming of victory, peace and reconstruction, it would be idle to attempt to prophesy.

But your great organization, in very truth "the mobilized heart and spirit of the whole American people," has shown itself equal to any call, ready to respond to any emergency.

Spirit of All Best and Highest.

The American Red Cross has become not so much an organization as a great movement, seeking to embody in organized form the spirit of service, the spirit of sacrifice—in short, all that is best and highest in the ideals and aspirations of our country.

Indeed we cannot but believe that this wonderful spirit which service in and for the Red Cross has evoked in this war, is destined to become in our national life an element of permanent value.

At Christmas time we shall ask the whole American people to answer the Red Cross Christmas roll call. It will constitute a unique appeal to every man, woman and child in this great land of ours to become enrolled in our army of mercy.

It is the hope of the War Council that this Christmas membership roll call shall constitute a reconsecration of the whole American people, an inspiring reassertion to mankind that in this hour of world tragedy, not to conquer but to serve is America's supreme aim.

THE WAR COUNCIL OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS,
Henry P. Davison, Chairman.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 10, 1918.

WHY RED CROSS IS LOVED.

Saving Life of Italian Soldier's Wife Incident of the Work.

His wife had been very ill, and was sent by the American Red Cross to recuperate in one of its country summer homes, unknown to "Gigi," who was doing his country's work in the trenches. This is the way he expresses himself when he learns what has been done:

"Most illustrious officers of the Red Cross:

"I feel that it is my duty to tell you how thankful I feel for your kindness to my wife. When I got a letter from her, in her own handwriting, telling me how your good people had picked her up and carried her off to a most comfortable home in the mountains, where she is feeling better every day, well—I just cried tears of joy and am not a bit ashamed of them. We Italians have a good friend in America. I salute you with gratitude and esteem. Adieu!"

There was never a time when the sacrifices and the help of women were more appreciated than at the present time. Women should learn war-nursing and nursing at home. There is no better way than to study the new edition of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—with chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, care of the Sick, Diseases of Women, Mother and Babe, the Marriage Relations—to be had at some drug-stores or send 50c. to Publisher, 654 Washington Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

If a woman suffers from weak back, nervousness or dizziness—if pains afflict her, the best tonic and corrective is one made up of native herbs and made without alcohol, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is the prescription of Dr. Pierce, used by him in active practice many years and now sold by almost every druggist in the land, in liquid or in tablets. Send Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c. for trial pkg. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are also best for liver and bowel trouble.

There is nothing that will bring comfort and renew hope to the invalid so surely as good news.

Doctor Pierce has good news for every suffering woman. Write him to-day and tell him your troubles, and he will send you just the right advice to restore you to health, and that without charge. His "Favorite Prescription" has been the rescue of thousands of suffering women. Many grateful patients have taken Dr. Pierce's advice.

UNNECESSARY CALLS MADE ON PHYSICIANS

Proper Treatment of Mild Cases of Spanish Influenza.

Use of Gauze Masks Is Recommended for Those Nursing Sick—Handkerchiefs Are Out of Place—Rest Is Important.

Washington.—In an effort to reduce unnecessary calls on the over-worked physicians throughout the country because of the present epidemic of influenza, Surgeon General Blue of the United States public health service calls upon the people of the country to learn something about the home care of patients ill with influenza. Physicians everywhere have complained about the large number of unnecessary calls they have had to make because of the inability of many people to distinguish between the cases requiring expert medical care and those which could readily be cared for without a physician. With influenza continuing to spread in many parts of the country, and with an acute shortage of doctors and nurses everywhere, every unnecessary call on either physicians or nurses makes it so much harder to meet the urgent needs of the patients who are seriously ill.

Present Generation Spoiled.

"The present generation," said the surgeon general, "has been spoiled by having had expert medical and nursing care readily available. It was not so in the days of our grandmothers, when every good housewife was expected to know a good deal about the care of the sick.

"Every person who feels sick and appears to be developing an attack of influenza should at once be put to bed in a well-ventilated room. If his bowels have moved regularly, it is not necessary to give a physic; where a physic is needed, a dose of castor oil or Rochelle salts should be given.

"The room should be cleared of all unnecessary furniture, bric-a-brac, and rugs. A wash basin, pitcher, and slop bowl, soap and towel should be at hand, preferably in the room or just outside the door.

"If the patient is feverish a doctor should be called, and this should be done in any case if the patient appears very sick, or coughs up pinkish (blood-stained) sputum, or breathes rapidly and painfully.

"Most of the patients cough up considerable mucus; in some, there is much mucus discharged from the nose and throat. This material should not be collected in handkerchiefs, but rather in bits of old rags, or toilet paper, or on paper napkins. As soon as used, these rags or papers should be placed in a paper bag kept beside the bed. Pocket handkerchiefs are out of place in the sick room and should not be used by patients. The rags or papers in the paper bag should be burned.

"The patients will not be hungry, and the diet should therefore be light. Milk, a soft-boiled egg, some toast or crackers, a bit of jelly or jam, stewed fruit, some cooked cereal like oatmeal, hominy or rice—these will suffice in most cases.

Comfort of Patient.

"The comfort of the patient depends on a number of little things, and these should not be overlooked. Among these may be mentioned a well-ventilated room; a thoroughly clean bed with, fresh, smooth sheets and pillowcases; quiet, so that refreshing sleep may be had; cool drinking water conveniently placed; a cool compress to the forehead if there is headache; keeping the patient's hands and face the forehead if there is headache; clean, and the hair combed; keeping his mouth clean, preferably with some pleasant mouth wash; letting the patient know that someone is within call, but not annoying him with too much fussing; giving the patient plenty of opportunity to rest and sleep.

"It is advisable to give the sick room a good airing several times a day.

"So much for the patient. It is equally important to consider the person who is caring for him. It is important to remember that the disease is spread by breathing germ-laden matter sprayed into the air by the patient in coughing or even in ordinary breathing. The attendant should therefore wear a gauze mask over her mouth and nose while she is in the sick room. Such a mask is easily made by folding a piece of gauze four fold, sewing a piece of tape at the four corners.

Observe Cleanliness.

"The attendant should, if possible, wear a washable gown or an apron which covers the dress. This will make it much simpler to avoid infection.

"It is desirable that all attendants learn how to use a fever thermometer. This is not at all a difficult matter, and the use of such a thermometer is a great help in caring for the patients. The druggist who sells these thermometers will be glad to show how they are used.

"In closing, and lest I be misunderstood, I wish to leave one word of caution: If in doubt, call the doctor."

His Sincere Hope.

She—I trust, Jack, dear, that our marriage will not be against your father's will.

He—I'm sure I hope not; it would be mighty hard for us if he should change it.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Intricate Reasoning.

"Aunt Belle, if you had your life to live over again what would you do?"

"I'd get married before I had sense enough to be an old maid."—Boston Evening Transcript.

I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Poor Dog Under Shell Fire.

In a letter describing the behavior of domestic animals under fire a soldier says: A big black mongrel came into our improvised trench late one afternoon. He had survived a terrific ten hours' bombardment of shell and gas and sank down by my side utterly exhausted. His body became inert and nothing, not even the tenderest bits of bully beef, would make him move. His brown eyes looked mournfully into mine as if longing to tell me something. Just then the Boche commenced strafing, and at every explosion a shiver ran through his body. I do not know what became of the poor beast. There was an engagement soon afterward and this big black mongrel disappeared.

What He Was Going to Say.

C. T. Williams of Toronto was compelled to make an unexpected business trip to Ohio. He entered a hotel in a small town in that state without baggage.

"Can I get a room here for the night?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," answered the proprietor, "if you can put up—"

Mr. Williams placed a bill on the desk.

"I started to say," continued the proprietor, "if you can put up with a room without a bath. Boy, show this gentleman upstairs."

Do You Think There is No Competition?

If anyone thinks there is no competition amongst the big packers he ought to go through a day's work with Swift & Company.

Let him begin at the pens when the live stock comes in; let him try to buy a nice bunch of fat steers quietly and at his own price without somebody's bidding against him.

Let him realize the scrupulous care taken at the plant that not one thing is lost or wasted in order that costs may be held to a minimum.

Let him go up into the office where market reports are coming in,—and reports of what other concerns are doing.

Let him watch the director of the Swift Refrigerator fleet, maneuvering it over the face of the country like a fleet of battleships at sea.

Let him take a trip with a Swift & Company salesman and try to sell a few orders of meat.

Let him stay at a branch house for an hour or two and see the retail meat dealers drive their bargains to the last penny as they shop around among the packers' branch houses, the wholesale dealers, and the local packing plants.

And then, when the day is over, let him have half an hour in the accounting department, where he can see for himself on what small profits the business is done. (Less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales.)

If he still thinks there is no competition in the meat business it will be because he wants to think so.

—that's what thousands of farmers say, who have gone from the U. S. to settle on homesteads or buy land in Western Canada. STATE BREVITIES

Renville.—The Renville school board yesterday closed the city schools for an indefinite period.

Brainerd.—Farmers have lost considerable hay in Daggett Brook township from peat bog fires.

Worthington.—The Minnesota Presbyterian synod closed its two days' session here with a prohibition rally.

Wheaton.—The public schools of Wheaton have been closed because of Spanish influenza. There are a few cases in the city, but no casualties.

Two Harbors.—Following a decision to close churches and other public places, the city council passed a resolution to direct the closing of the public schools on account of Spanish influenza.

Port Arthur.—The Port Arthur city council, at a special session, voted to send a fund of $500 to the Minnesota fire sufferers. It is understood the money will be sent to Cloquet.

Stillwater. — All employes of the Twin City Forge & Foundry Co. here working on the hour system were paid a 10 per cent bonus Oct. 12, the sum of $34,000 being distributed among the employes of the plant.

Mankato — The United States department of agriculture has permanently located an agent in this city to devote his time to combating tuberculosis among the pure bred herds in ten Southern Minnesota counties.

East Grand Forks.—Because of Spanish influenza here local schools have been closed. There have been 175 cases among the pupils and six deaths. The schools of Grand Forks have been closed for several days.

Fairmont.—More than half the schools of Martin county have been closed to curb influenza. There were no church services here Sunday. Theaters have also been closed and social gatherings postponed. The disease is believed to be abating in this county.

Pipestone.—Three persons were killed when an automobile in which they were riding left the King of Trails highway and turned over in a ditch about forty-eight miles south of Pipestone. The dead are Michael Nagel, wealthy farmer; Fred Husson of Luverne, Jack Donahue of Ellsworth.

Carlton.—The body of a soldier that had been received at Cloquet for burial, whose name is not known here, lay in a morgue when fire swept the town, and, according to reports received here, was not removed in the exodus, only the living being thought of, and was nearly cremated. A visitor to the ruined city brought the report here.

St. Paul.—Ten thousand boys between 16 and 20 are expected to rally to the aid of Uncle Sam on the farms of Minnesota next spring. The United States Boys' Working Reserve, in cooperation with the Department of Labor and the Council of National Defense, is beginning a concerted program for the mobilization of the entire boy force in the country.

St. Cloud, Minn.—To spend three hours in the icy waters of Moose Lake to escape death in the great fire in that stricken city, was the experience of Miss Gerda Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, Wilson avenue southeast. Miss Larson has arrived home, having gone through the ordeal without injury, excepting sore eyes from the smoke and the nervous shock due to the excitement.

Anoka.—Adam Schimbeno, 60 years old, a farmer living near here, was asphyxiated by fumes from the exhaust pipe of his tractor. Schimbeno and his son had taken the tractor to the field to do some plowing. While attempting to start the machine, Schimbeno got in front of the exhaust pipe and the fumes struck him in the face. "I'm gone," Schimbeno yelled to his son, as he fell to the ground dead.

Redwood. — Charles Struchmann, living near Morgan, has been placed under heavy bonds to appear in court here and answer to the charge of making seditious remarks. Among other things, it is alleged he said: "The government can go to hell with their bonds." Officials say that Struchmann has in his possession certificates showing that he has purchased $9,750 worth of German bonds of the date of 1916. They believe that not a dollar of the money ever went to Germany, but that it was used in this country.

Chicago.—Property damage caused by the forest fires in Minnesota amounts to $75,000,000 and the insurance will total $25,000,000, according to computations made today by insurance men here. Their estimate does not include the standing timber and the other property which was destroyed which was uninsured and the consensus of opinion in insurance circles is that the loss to insurance companies is the heaviest since the San Francisco fire in 1906. The losses to the fire risk companies will be greatest, it was stated, on the large lumber properties on which war-time values are high, and on which several of the risk concerns carry lines of insurance in excess of a million dollars.

Peter Houthimamos of Chisholm, a railroad section man, was held up by a highwayman at Lucknow and his pocketbook taken from him. In it were his complete draft registration papers. He asked the draft board for a new record, which was forwarded to him.

St. Paul.—Michael Kelly, former Minneapolis saloon keeper, was indicted jointly with Mrs. Alice Hanson by the Ramsey county grand jury for the murder of Mrs. Hanson's husband, Henry E. Hanson, at New Brighton, June 25. Both were charged with murder in the first degree.

MISS DICKERSON

Y. W. C. A. secretary who has gone through Russian terrors.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson of Minneapolis is one of the Young Women's Christian Association secretaries who have gone through the terrors that have infested Russia during the last year and a half. Miss Dickerson was one of the first of the secretaries to be sent by the Association when Russian women called for the assistance of the American workers. Twice she has been forced to flee Russia with the other secretaries, and twice the brave and persistent young women have gone back into the fray.

Moorhead.—Six deaths from Spanish influenza were reported here in one day.

Little Falls.—The city council has fixed the levy at $43,045, an increase of $9,000 over the last.

Little Falls.—Perry Smith was taken off a train here and is charged with desertion from Camp Grant, Ill. His home is in Hackensack.

Mankato. — Miss Emily Tannquist, who left Mankato last June as a Red Cross nurse, is seriously ill in New York. She was about to sail overseas.

East Grand Forks.—Superintendent of Schools F. E. Lurton has received a call from North Dakota to recommend teachers who have had two or more years of high school work.

Little Falls.—Joseph Pawlenty fell from a load of hay to the ground, striking on his head and sustaining a fracture of the spine in the region of the neck. He is paralyzed from the neck down.

St. Cloud.—Nine residents of the city were called into justice court before Judge Donahue by detectives for the Great Northern railway, charged with wasting wheat when sweeping out cars.

Pine City.—Supt. W. J. McAdam of the Pine City schools has been appointed Pine county director for the public safety commission, to succeed F. R. Duxbury, who has resigned to enter Y. M. C. A. work overseas.

Pipestone.—S. B. Duea has disposed of his stock in the Security Bank of Pipestone to Gus Boehmke, cashier of the Holland State bank. Mr. Duea, who is mayor of Pipestone, will enter Red Cross work in France and will go overseas the first of the year.

Winton.—The St. Croix Lumber & Manufacturing company's sawmill has finished the season's cut. It is expected that this is the last season for the mill, unless more timber can be bought. Many families are packing their household goods and will leave here in the near future. The planing mill is running a full force and expects to all winter.

Bemidji.—Because of the prevalence here of Spanish influenza Mayor Charles Vanderlius ordered all public meetings stopped and the closing of schools, churches, theaters, skating rinks and the public library. Chief of Police Essler says the order will be enforced to the letter. A trained nurse will be sent here by the Red Cross to help combat the disease.

Minneapolis. Returning a profit of $138,235, the Minnesota State Fair of 1918 was officially listed as the most successful on record. A remittance for that amount was received by J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, from Lester Banks, treasurer of the fair association. Secretary T. H. Canfield's accompanying report showed receipts of $351,076 and expenditures of $215,842.

Stillwater.—The Twin City Forge & Foundry company is employing a number of women as timekeepers, checkers and inspectors. Already a number of these positions are filled by residents of Stillwater, but quite a number of applications have been received and passed upon from out of town by Miss French, the Chicago expert, who is managing the women's department.

Ely. — Mrs. Matt Melttinnen of Brookston, formerly of this city, was killed while fleeing from the Brookston fire. The report reaching here is that she and her husband, who was engaged in the hardware business at Brookston, were hurrying towards Grand Rapids in an automobile when a falling tree struck them, Mrs. Melttinnen being killed and her husband injured. It is not known where the body was taken.

Sauk Rapids. A complaint has been made to United States District Attorney Jaques by the loyal citizens of Sauk Rapids against Nick Karels, saloonkeeper here for a number of years, who is charged with making seditious utterances in one of the places of business in Sauk Rapids shortly before the Fourth Liberty Loan drive started.

St. Cloud.—Supt. C. H. Maxson has announced that the Franklin school had been closed for the time being because of lack of attendance. The children who have been kept out are reported suffering from coryza or cold in the head.

Takes Time.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out?" Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out," unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bilious? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

How Acid-Stomach Wrecks Health of Millions

[illegible] make the mistake of thinking that acid-stomach—superacidity as the doctors call it—merely means an occasional attack of indigestion, bloat, heartburn, belching, sour, gassy stomach, or some other such minor ailment quickly remedied—or will cure itself—and leave no serious after effects. As a matter of fact superacidity is responsible for a long train of serious ailments that cause awful suffering and sometimes baffle the best medical skill. It is a well established fact that many cases of chronic stomach trouble, anemia, stomatitis, gastritis, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, cirrhosis of the liver, auto-intoxication, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, intestinal ulcer, cancer of the stomach, and frequently valvular heart trouble and heart failure can be traced directly to an acid stomach.

This is not at all surprising when you consider that even the acid formed in the mouth from fermentation of bits of food lodged in the teeth—an acid that is actually tasteless—is yet powerful enough to eat through the hard enamel of the teeth and decay them. Is it any wonder, then, that an excess amount of acid in the stomach causes so much misery, undermines the strength and wrecks the health and happiness of so many people? Is it not a fact, within the range of your own observation that nine people out of ten are victims of acid-stomach?

If you ever hope to be well and strong you must get rid of that [illegible]. Nothing is gained by taking medicines which merely stimulate and give one a false sense of strength and that leave the excess acid still in the stomach. You must depend upon your food for your strength — and unless you keep your stomach free from excess acid, pure, sweet and strong, it cannot properly digest food; your whole body suffers.

What you want is relief — yes — and here is the way—absolutely guaranteed—you take no chance. It's been tested tens of thousands of times with universal success. Go to your druggist and get just one package of EATONIC, a wonderful preparation that will literally wipe the excess acidity out of your stomach. The results obtained are nothing short of marvelous. Almost instantly it relieves that painful, puffed up feeling after eating, belching, heartburn, sour stomach, etc. Makes the stomach feel cool and comfortable.

If you need this help it's your own fault if you suffer another day.

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed, so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eatonic Remedy Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

He moved to Argyle nearly twenty years ago and has lived there ever since. He has always enjoyed the respect and confidence of his home people, an evidence of which is the fact that he has served several terms as president of the village council, is now a member of the Argyle Better Farming Association, secretary of the Farmers Elevator Co., etc. He owns and operates several farms in the Argyle vicinity.

His work and vote for County Option and Prohibition during his term in the state senate should entitle him to another term. Besides valuable appropriations for his district he also introduced and passed the following laws: Aid to Agricultural Societies; Providing for experiments on Peat Lands, Maintenance of bridges over Public Ditches; an Amendment to the Noxious Weed Law; also thru his work on the Drainage Committee he was able to pass several measures which have saved the taxpayers of the district several thousand dollars. PURPOSE AND EFFECT

PREPARED BY
CLIFFORD L. HILTON
Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to
JULIUS A. SCHMAHL
Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

April 29, 1918.

HON. JULIUS A. SCHMAHL,
Secretary of State.

SIR:

As required by Section 46, General Statutes of the State of Minnesota for the year 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota by the Legislature of 1917, and which is to be submitted to the electors of said State at the General Election in 1918.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

Chapter 515 of the Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1917, proposes an amendment of Article 16 of the Constitution of said State by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

> "Section 6. The manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation, or keeping or having in possession for sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation of intoxicating liquor of any kind, in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific, or medicinal purposes, shall be forever prohibited within this state from and after the first day of July, 1920, and this amendment shall be self-executing. The legislature shall enact laws for the enforcement of this section and shall provide suitable penalties for the violation thereof."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to forever prohibit within the State of Minnesota after July 1, 1920, the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation, or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes.

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to make unlawful and forever prohibit the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes, within this state after July 1, 1920, and to place it beyond the power of any legislative authority to permit the doing of any such acts. If adopted, the doing of any of the prohibited acts automatically becomes unlawful after July 1, 1920, without any action on the part of the legislature or other legislative body. The amendment is made self-executing. A duty is, however, imposed upon the legislature to enact laws for the enforcement of this section, if adopted, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

Marshall County Farmers Endorse Nels S. Hegnes for State Senator

We, the undersigned farmers of Marshall Co. have known Sen. Nels S. Hegnes for many years and can vuoch for his general attitude as regards the welfare of the farmer. He has always proven himself interested in the upbuilding of our agricultural enterprises and to be on the side of the farmer whenever any proposition affecting their good was at stake.

He is a man in the prime of life, 40 years of age, possessed of mature judgement and able to adapt himself to the constantly changing condition of our civic, economic and political life. Is actively interested in farming, owning and operating farms in Marshall and Kittson Counties, consequently is familiar and knows as much about the problems & needs of the farmer and common man as anyone in the district. During his residence in Marshall Co. for nearly 20 years, he has proven himself to be honest and trustworthy in all his business dealings. He is unassuming and a man who has always tried to do what he considers right & just. His record in his first term of the state senate speaks for itself and shows that he constantly had the interests of this district in mind & did accomplish fully as much as any of his predecessors. While he may have failed to get into the limelight as a speaker at public gatherings, he has accomplished what he was sent to the legislature to do, which in our judgement counts for a good deal more to the farmer constiuency of this district than if he had been the hero of many oratorical contests.

Politically he owes allegiance to no party or cliques and is strictly his own man in every sense of the word. In view of his record in the state senate, as neighbor, friend, citizen, we heartily recommend him to the farmer voters of Marshall, Roseau & Kittson counties and we would consider it a serious mistake if he is not re-elected.

We Must Re-Elect

Our HOME MAN For Senator

Regardless of party affiliations it becomes the duty of every Marshall County voter to consider the matter fully before they cast their vote for senator. A certain faction of Roseau county politicians are trying to secure the senatorship for their county, and are using space in the Roseau county papers to impress upon the voters to stay by the home man.

Roseau county is not entitled to the senatorship as the county has been well represented during Sen. Hegnes first term, and even the opposition can not find anything the matter with his record. Furthermore Mr. Holmstrom has lived in Roseau county and the district only three years, and for that reason if for nothing else, could hardly expect to be able to represent this, one of the largest districts in the state, in an efficient manner.

As a result, in order to be fair to Marshall county, being that it is as large as the other two counties combined, re-elect our home man, Nels S. Hegnes at the polls, Nov. 5.

John R. Naeseit.

To the Voters of Marshall County:

As a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, I respectfully solicit your support in this campaign and your vote at the Election November 5th.

I have sacrificed that each of the seven members in my family may have a Fourth Liberty Loan Bond, and I am Hooverising in campaign cards but I assure you that I am in the race, ready to work or fight, and if I don't happen to impose upon you in person before the election I shall be pleased to shake afterwards.

Announcement.

To The Voters of Marshall County, Minnesota.

Having received the nomination at the Primaries for the office of Register of Deeds of this County, I hereby announce, that I am a candidate for the election to said office.

Having served one term as your Register of Deeds, I respectfully solicit your vote for a second term at the General Election November 5th, 1918, and if elected will assure you as prompt and efficient service in the future as you have received during the past term.

Hoping that I may again receive your generous support and vote, I beg to remain for another term,

Your faithful servant,
Chas. E. Grinder.

For Sheriff

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Marshall County. I have had the honor of serving you one term and solicit your vote and support for a second term.

My opponent is a good man and would undoubtedly serve you efficiently, but as there is no brotherhood in politics, naturally, I want the office myself, but I leave it to your own good judgement, who should be elected.

I have no time to make a campaign as the work of the Local Board keeps me busy here in the office.

Respectfully
Hans C. Hanson.

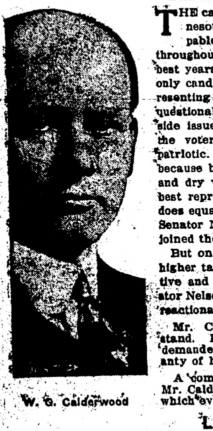
TWO STRONG MEN FOR U. S. SENA

BOTH HONEST, PATRIOTIC AND SINCERE, THEY REPRESENT OPPOSING SCHOOLS OF POLITICAL THOUGHT.

Senator Knute Nelson, Running for Re-election, Has Been a Prominent Figure in Public Life for More Than a Generation.

W. G. Calderwood, His Only Opponent, Is More Widely Known in the Field of Progressive Civics Than Any Other Minnesotan.



W. G. Calderwood

THE campaign for United States Senate in Minnesota presents an ideal situation. Two capable, honest, loyal men, both well known throughout the state, both of whom have given the best years of their lives to public service, are the only candidates. There is no third candidate representing a party-tag or a fanatical extreme or a questionable compromise policy. Nor is there any side issue to befog and becloud the judgment of the voters. Both men are intensely loyal and patriotic. The wet and dry question is eliminated because both men are dry. This leaves both wet and dry voters free to choose the man who will best represent them on the decisive issues. Nor does equal suffrage enter in the contest; for while Senator Nelson voted against suffrage in 1916, he joined the suffrage ranks in 1918.

But on questions involving conservation, labor, higher tariff, public ownership of railroads, initiative and referendum, and on similar issues, Senator Nelson has been consistently and emphatically reactionary.

Mr. Calderwood takes exactly the opposite stand. His years of public advocacy of measures demanded in his platform are the abundant guaranty of his honest devotion to them.

A comparison of Senator Nelson's record and Mr. Calderwood's platform will give a basis upon which every voter may intelligently cast his vote:

LABOR

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
Voted against the Adamson 8-hour bill, Sept. 2, 1918.	For maximum 8-hour day, with one day's rest each week.
Voted against Clayton bill, called "Labor's Magna Charta," Sept. 2, 1914.	For equal economic and industrial opportunity.
Voted for child labor bill (a progressive and commendable vote).	For prohibition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories.
Voted against exempting labor and farm organizations from "combination-in-restraint-of-trade" prosecutions, May 7, 1913, and July 8, 1914.	For laws promoting just division of wealth which labor and capital jointly produce.
Opposed employers' liability bill and tried to amend the bill unfavorably to labor.	For employers' liability, insurance against sickness, death and unemployment.
Voted against confirmation of the appointment of Brandeis, labor's friend, to Supreme Court.	Extension of labor bureau system.

TRUSTS AND BIG BUSINESS

Voted against anti-trust bill, September 2, and Oct. 5, 1914.	For anti-trust legislation.
Voted against extension of parcel post.	For postalization of telephones and telegraphs.
Voted against Federal Trade Commission.	For public ownership of railroads.
Voted against the government railroad in Alaska.
Voted against limiting railroad dividends.

CONSERVATION

Voted for the Shields waterpower grab, which would give the hydro-electric monopoly control of 50,000,000 water horse power.	Conservation of natural resources for all the people.
Voted to sell coal deposits to monopolies at $10 per acre.	For public ownership of mines. For conservation for all the people.
Helped whitewash Ballinger, in his attempt to give Morgan-Guggenheim group millions of coal and timber wealth.	For laying the burdens of taxation in proportion to the ability of each to pay; against the exemption of special classes of private wealth; stocks, bonds and corporate excess to pay same rate as other productive property.
Voted against equitably high tax on war profits.

ECONOMY

Has voted for pork barrel legislation and supported the spoils and patronage system.	For an executive budget, with pork, spoils and patronage eliminated.

AGRICULTURE

	Abolition of gambling in grain and farm produce.
	Agricultural development through loans to actual settlers; legislation making it unprofitable for speculators to hold "slacker land" out of cultivation.

Let it be understood that there is no intention of any criticism of Senator Nelson. He and his friends both believe that these votes were the right kind of votes. He is honestly proud of his record and if he is returned to congress will vote the same way every time the same questions come up and in every instance will be satisfied with and proud of his record on these issues.

While we believe in Senator Nelson's honesty and patriotism, we believe that he is much mistaken. His votes were votes that were not in the interest of the highest public good, and they represented a reactionary instead of a progressive attitude.

These policies of reconstruction are to come before congress during the next six years. This war will probably be ended in the next twelve months. Then comes the building of the new world from the wreckage of the old, and the man elected to the senate from the state of Minnesota this fall for a six-year term will have five years of that term to be devoted to reconstructive measures.

Don't vote for a political label or from habit or prejudice. Make your vote count for progressive reconstruction of the nation and the world.

Get New Kidneys!

The kidneys are the most overworked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poisons developed in the system, things begin to happen.

One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back; highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure.

Do not delay a minute. At the first indication of trouble in the kidney, liver, bladder or urinary organs start taking Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules, and save yourself before it is too late. Instant treatment is necessary in kidney and bladder troubles. A delay is often fatal.

You can almost certainly find immediate relief in Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules. For more than 200 years this famous preparation has been an unfailing remedy for all kidney, bladder and urinary troubles.

It is the pure, original Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used. About two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Get it at any drug store, and if it does not give you almost immediate relief, your money will be refunded. Be sure you get the GOLD MEDAL brand. None other genuine. In boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

WILSON INSISTS GERMAN FORCES LAY DOWN ARMS

President Tells Berlin Surrender Is Only Way Peace Can Be Secured.

WRITES POINTED NOTE

Answer to Germany Says Nations of World Do Not and Cannot Trust Word of Those Dictating German Policy.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The answer of President Wilson to Germany definitely "leaves it to Foch."

The answer is on the lines of the advice given to the Senate by Senator Nelson of Minnesota and precludes the possibility of an armistice, unless the Allied commanders deem an armistice desirable. If they deem it desirable, they can state the guaranties they will require, and they will be such that Germany will be disarmed.

The President's answer probably will come nearer satisfying the American people than anything that has been uttered from the White House since the German peace negotiations were started.

Its context continues to develop the policy which President Wilson has pursued all along namely, the furthering of the disintegration of the house of Hohenzollern.

The President is not caught by the specious announcement of a constitutional reform in Germany, which on the face of it was no reform at all, but was merely a promise of a possible reform after the war and "when a league of nations shall have been practically effected."

The President makes his position clear. With the house of Hohenzollern there will be no negotiation. So long as it remains at the head of the German government, the terms demanded will be unconditional surrender.

Surrender Is Demanded.

The word unconditional is not used, but the President comes nearer voicing it than in any other communication. This note is not afraid to use the word "surrender," and it is spoken clearly and decisively.

Two things are now clearly up to the German people. If they are sincere in their desire for a cessation of hostilities, they can approach the Allied commander and say to him: "we are willing to give you any guarantee you may wish. What we want is an opportunity to lay down our arms."

If they do not do this, the responsibility for carrying on the war is clearly on the German government.

If they want to approach the Allied powers with a proposition of negotiation, they can do so, but after having thrown the kaiser overboard.

This suggestion that a negotiated peace is possible after the German government has shown convincing evidence of its reform and democratization, opens up the only possible opportunity for further discussion. But no policy is settled upon as to the nature of these negotiations.

Truce and Parleys Denied.

The two questions uppermost were that of the armistice and of the acceptance of the German plea that their government had been democratized. In effect, President Wilson refuses one and denies the other.

The decision to leave the question of a truce to the Allied military commanders was one that was inevitable in the nature of things, as the question is purely military.

If Germany wants peace she wants it for one or two reasons. If she wants it because she is beaten, she will submit to the conditions which the Allied commanders impose. If she asks for an armistice merely as a trick, she cannot and will not submit to these conditions and the war will go on.

Free and open discussion among the Allies preceded the publication of the President's note.

GERMANS REPLY, AWAIT ARMISTICE

Rejoinder Understood to Contain Little but Reiterations of Previous Note.

LUDENDORFF RESIGNS

Emperor William Has Accepted Withdrawal of Man in Supreme High Command, It Is Alleged.

> GERMANY AWAITS ARMISTICE
>
> Washington, Oct. 28.—Dispatches unofficially received here state that the German government has prepared a rejoinder to President Wilson's last note, in which, after again referring to the far-reaching changes which have been carried out and are being carried out in the German constitutional structure, to which the military powers have been made subject, it declared that Germany is now awaiting proposals for an armistice.

Allied Leaders in Conference.

London, Oct. 28.—Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour have gone to France with British military and naval advisors, it is supposed, for conference with French and allied leaders upon the conditions upon which an armistice might be allowed. It is stated, however, that it may be authoritatively understood that the allied governments will not reveal their armistice terms until Germany has replied to President Wilson's last note, which, it was probably expected, would contain more than the mere fact that Germany was waiting for terms of an armistice.

General Ludendorff Out.

General Ludendorff, the reputed brains of the German army, the man who promised that he would crush Great Britain and France before the United States could get under way in a military sense, has resigned his position as first quartermaster general, and Emperor William has accepted his resignation.

British Gain in Asiatic Turkey.

While continued gains are being reported for the allied cause in all areas of the western front and on the Piave, where the Italian and British forces have scored great success, the British in Asiatic Turkey have captured Aleppo in Syria and are driving ahead on both banks of the Tigris in Mesopotamia, with the Turks unable to check them.

STEAMER SUNK: 343 LOST

Sinking of Princess Sophia Worst Disaster on Pacific Coast.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 28.—Three hundred and forty-three persons, most of them out-bound Alaskans and residents of the Yukon territory, lost their lives when the Canadian Pacific steamship company's passenger steamer Princess Sophia was battered last Thursday by storms, dragged across Vanderbilt reef and dropped to the bottom of Lynn canal, an arm of the inside passage not far south of Skagway, Alaska.

"No survivors," read the wireless message today from Juneau, Alaska.

Shipping men said the loss of the Sophia with all aboard was the worst marine disaster in the history of the Pacific coast.

The vessel, 2,300 tons gross, has been plying in western Canadian and southwestern Alasak waters.

Lists of passengers and details of the wreck were not available tonight. The vessel, it was thought, was carrying a capacity load of passengers, nearly all northerners, who had taken the last steamboat up the Yukon river before the ice formed and had boarded the Sophia at Skagway.

First-Known Envelope.

The first envelope of which there is any knowledge inclosed a letter sent in 1696, by Sir William Turnbull to Sir James Oglive. The epistle, with its coverings, is still preserved in the British museum.

On to Him.

"I can't live properly on $75 a week," complained the young man. "Yes, you can," said his guardian. "The real trouble is you want to live improperly."

Favors Absolute Abstention.

A recent report of British experts favors absolute abstention from strong drink, but supports the use of light wines and liquors.

Ruthenians.

Ruthenian is the name given to Christian inhabitants of what was formerly known as "Little Russia," living in what is eastern Austria, and also in southeastern Poland. They use the ancient Greek liturgy translated into the old Slavonic tongue, though Roman Catholics professing obedience to the See of Rome. They have a married secular clergy, following what is known as the use of St. Basil. It should, however, be noted that the name is sometimes loosely applied in Canada to several Russian sects living in the West.

WAR WORK

American women nurses are installed eight miles in the rear of the fighting lines "over there." Right here at home many women should learn nursing to take care of the sick or, in emergencies, the wounded. You can learn a great deal by obtaining the "Medical Adviser" a book of 1,008 pages, bound in cloth, containing chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, Sex Problems, Mother and Babe. 200 prescriptions for acute and chronic diseases; profusely illustrated by wood cuts and colored plates. Ask your druggist or send 50c. to Publisher, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

If a woman is nervous or has dizzy spells, suffers from awful pains at regular or irregular intervals she should turn to a tonic made up of herbs, and without alcohol, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which can be procured at any drug store, in either liquid or tablets. If you wish to obtain a ten-cent trial package, send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel Buffalo, N. Y.

The restorative power of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription speedily causes womanly troubles to disappear—assists the organs to properly perform their natural functions, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women. Then, for the liver and bowels nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The Chief Interest.

At an official reception a congressman talked in a windy and grandiloquent way about our war aims, appealing every minute or two to Secretary Baker.

Secretary Baker nodded good-humoredly until the sixth or seventh appeal, when he lost patience.

"Congressman," he said, "it's not our aims that interest me. It's our hits."

Largest French Cargo Boat.

On April 24 last the largest steamer ever built for the French merchant marine was launched from the Chantiers de France at Dunkirk, France. The vessel measures 444 feet in length, displaces 19,000 tons, and has a total carrying capacity of 12,000 tons.

The Germans tried to destroy the ship by aerial bombs, with long-range guns and by destroyers. The successful completion of the work is a wonderful tribute to French determination in the face of almost insuperable obstacles.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

Honesty or Fear—Which?

A fleeing thief threw away $7,500 on Broadway, New York, the other day and the finder returned every cent of the money to the bank which had been robbed. Did the finder act through honesty or through fear that he couldn't make use of so large a sum without being caught? Some years ago a bank messenger lost, or claimed he lost, a $10,000 bill on the street in the financial district. It was never discovered. Some have speculated as to what the finder or thief did with such an unwieldy piece of money.

ENEMY DEFENSES BEGIN TO CRACK

Steady Pressure of French and American Forces Is Telling on Meuse Line.

20,000 ARE CAPTURED

New German Divisions Being Poured In Have Been Insufficient to Stop the Steady Allied Advance.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The German defense lines on the most vital sector in France—the Argonne-Meuse front—are beginning to crack under the strain of steady pressure by French and American troops. An early breaking of the German resistance and the advance of the French and American armies on a wide front toward the great trunk railway which is the immediate objective of allied operations is predicted by many officers here.

Since the Americans began the present battle they have inflicted more than 70,000 casualties on the enemy, freed 40 villages and 487 square kilometers of French territory, and have captured 20,000 prisoners besides the German wounded who fell into their hands.

Official statements indicate that new German divisions are being poured into this sector and show the anxiety of the German high command over the situation. General March, commenting today on the military situation, brought out very clearly the efforts the enemy is making to meet the American advance.

"In front of our own troops in the Argonne," he said, "a very large mass of German troops has been concentrated, since it is imperative for the enemy to protect the railroad line which runs from Mezieres to Metz."

ZEEBRUGGE MOST DESOLATE

Important Buildings and Great Centers Are Heaps of Ruins.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Zeebrugge is the picture of desolation, according to dispatches received at the Belgian legation. The Somaphore, the buildings of the Compagnie Maritime and the Solvay Chemical Works are a heap of ruins. On the Mole itself all the buildings have been destroyed and the system of railway tracks and overhead cranes is out of commission. After the passage between the Mole and the shore had been partially closed by a British submarine during the raid of April 23, the Germans set up two heavy guns, commanding the approaches to the harbor. A great deal of sand has dropped into the harbor, between the passage back of the Mole and the entrance to the Bruges canal, where the wreck of the British cement-laden vessel, sunk in April, still is lying.

FALL OF OBJECTIVE IS NEAR

Pressure on Valenciennes Gives Promise of Early Capture.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The fall of Valenciennes is imminent, if it has not already occurred, the Petit Parisien says.

"The chief stronghold of the second German line is gone, its center invested. It is the object of direct assaults and local outflanking movements which will soon smash it," the paper continues. "The operations of General Debeney's army north of Guise and those of General Mangin in the direction of Marle constitute an increasing danger. The Escaut line may be considered as lost; the Sambre line will be taken shortly. We can foresee that the enemy will retreat to the Meuse."

The Matin says that all information tends to show that the Germans cannot long resist the allied offensive.

Germans Fear Insolvency.

Amsterdam, Oct. 28.—Public anxiety over the solvency of the empire apparently is becoming acute in Germany. The hoarding of money has become so rampant as to cause great inconvenience. There has been a general run on banks to close accounts and the theft of hidden funds is of daily occurrence.

The German government is turning out new currency at top speed, but, according to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin, it melts like snow when the sun shines, and the customary back flow into the state coffers has ceased completely. The Reichbank in the third quarter of the year issued the unprecedented amount of four billion marks in new money, or nearly twice the amount issued in the same period of the last. In the first three weeks in October alone the bank issued one and one-quarter billions of marks in new money.

Nothing Official in Peace Talk.

Washington, Oct. 28.—There is no official information here of the various interesting rumors coming out of European neutral countries regarding developments in Austria-Hungary and Turkey. An offer of surrender from Constantinople has been expected momentarily for days but no notice of a new proposal has reached the state department. Likewise the department heard only through the press the reports that Vienna newspapers were publishing announcements of preparation for Austrian demobilization.

MORE PROGRESS ON ALL FRONTS

Italians Make Sharp Thrust in Monta Grappa Region—Take 3,000 Captives.

YANKS PUSH FORWARD

Great Encircling Movement About Valenciennes Is British Plan for Reconquest of That Region.

Washington, Oct. 26.—With progress less rapid than in the recent past, but being continued on all fronts, the recent expression of General March that "the news is continuously good" seems still entirely applicable to the allied cause.

British in Big Circling Drive.

The British forces about Valenciennes continue to push their lines further to the fore, and have developed a movement by which the total investment of that city appears to be imminent.

Their chief attacks are now to the south of Valenciennes, with the purpose of caving in the salient between that city and La Quesnoy and moving on toward the important junction of Maubeuge.

Italians Attack at Monta Grappa.

The sudden attack of allied forces in the Brenta and Piave regions of Italy also marks the notable military activities of the day, and netted substantial gains, including 3,000 prisoners. Authorities here are disposed to predict a continued or further sharp onslaught of the Italian and allied troops in that theatre of the war, although there is nothing in the day's dispatches definitely indicating that the thrust just made is an essential part of any further immediate program.

Americans Advancing.

On both sides of the Meuse river the Americans have advanced their line notwithstanding the strong resistance of the enemy. North of Grand Pre, which lies in the valley above the famous Argonne forest, several hills of the utmost importance from a strategic standpoint have been taken from the desperately resisting enemy machine gunners and artillery. Numerous violent counter attacks have been launched by the Germans against the Americans but all these have been successfully sustained. The Germans in this region now are badly outflanked by the French standing on the left of the American line at Vouziers and it is probable they soon will be compelled to readjust their entire line from the north of Vouziers to the region of Etain.

French Take 2,000 Prisoners.

The French today advanced their lines at all points, despite the most stubborn resistance of the enemy. More than 2,000 prisoners with cannon and machine guns were captured, according to the official statement.

Steel Supply Threatened.

An order signed by the German General Von Denmarwitz, dated October 1, which was taken from a German prisoner, warns the Fifth German army fighting east of the Meuse that the enemy was about to attack with the object of cutting the Longuyon-Sedan railroad and making the exploitation by the Germans of the Briey iron mines impossible. The order says that on these mines "our steel production is largely dependent and the fate of a great part of the western front, and perhaps of our people, depends on firm resistance along the Verdun front!"

Rumanian Liberation Begun.

It would seem that the liberation of Rumania has also been begun by entente forces after a year's occupation by the Germans. Across the northwestern portion of Bulgaria at Lompalanka, southeast of Iron Gates, French patrols have forced a passage of the Danube and entered upon Rumanian soil, and further activities in that field would appear to be definitely foreshadowed by the movement.

N. D. GETS QUOTA OF 110

State to Have Good Representation in Officer's Training School.

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 26.—Major M. F. Steele of the United States army, in charge of military training at the North Dakota Agricultural college, has received notice that this state will be entitled to a quota of 110 men for induction into an infantry officers' training school to be opened at Camp Fremont, Cal., on December 1. All draft registrants will be eligible, subject to personal, physical and educational qualifications, except registrants in Class I who registered before September 12, and registrants in deferred classifications on account of industrial occupation including agriculture.

American Gas Most Deadly.

New York, Oct. 26.—Gas shells prepared in America are more deadly than any so far made in Germany and their fumes can penetrate even the most modern gas masks, Major H. W. Duffy of the British-American gas service declared here in a lecture before the Society of Chemical Industry. Major Duffy said that in tours of the battle fields in France he had observed hundreds of Germans, all of whom wore masks of the latest German design killed by American gas.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels needs a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

Wanted—More Geese.

Geese hold a sector in the line of the poultry army that makes war against waste. When the facts are taken into consideration that the demand for geese is strong, steady, and extends over practically the whole year, that geese excel all other kinds of poultry as producers of fat, a thing of which the world stands at present in dire need, and that their value as egg producers is considerable, the importance of an adequate number of geese in the poultry scheme becomes apparent. Geese take their living in large part from grasses of the pasture and from otherwise helpless refuse.

Using "Cut-Over" Land.

Agricultural possibilities of "cut-over" lands in Louisiana have been once more demonstrated by Ed Strain, a farmer living a mile and a half north of St. Benedict, producing a bale of cotton an acre on cut-over land broken and prepared in the fall and planted in cotton in the spring of the next year. The fact that Mr. Strain is a blacksmith by trade and has taken to farming only recently renders the agricultural feat the more remarkable.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer

Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach.

Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy, Courage. It saps the strength of the strongest body—impoverishes the blood—causes untold suffering—makes millions weak, unfit and brings on premature old age.

You know what acid-mouth does to teeth and gums—how the acid literally eats through the hard enamel, causing the teeth to decay. Just imagine, then, what havoc an acid stomach must do to the delicate organization of the stomach.

Millions of people are weak and unfit, suffering all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity or acid-stomach.

They don't seem dangerously sick. Just ailing. Going through life weak, listless, dragging one foot after another. They're nervous and irritable; lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of blinding, splitting headaches; subject to fits of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, even though many experience no actual stomach pains—digestion poor—never getting anywhere near the full strength from their food.

So, you see, it's just this—acid-stomach—that is holding so many people back—sapping up the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient.

Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of good health and is the only way to obtain good digestion and assimilation. It is the right way to be well and keep strong. Ordinary tonics won't do any lasting good. The best they can do is to spur up your appetite. When the stimulating effects wear off, you are worse off than ever.

A modern remedy makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called EATONIC, in the form of pleasant tasting tablets. Their action in the stomach is a good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of ink—they literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines.

Begin using EATONIC right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, vibrant health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used EATONIC are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they never dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief.

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eatonic Remedy Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

Lizards May Save Crops.

Lizards are used in Trinidad to combat millions of froghoppers that are now infesting the sugar-cane fields. These insects, which work devastation by sucking sap from the roots and leaves, have been known in the island for some time, but of late they have increased so rapidly that scientists have undertaken to find a means of exterminating them. One planter has established a special breeding place for lizards, which feed freely on the froghoppers. Special precautions are taken to prevent the destruction of the reptiles by birds or other creatures that might feed on them.

Re-ELECT HEGNES

What He Stands For

America First
State and National Prohibition
Fair and Equitable Taxation.
All Progressive Legislation favoring the development of our Agricultural interests along Co-operative lines.
A "Square Deal" for all.

Senator Nels S. Hegnes was born in Nerstrand, Rice County, Minn., forty years ago. His early life was spent the same way as thousands of other farm boys, who had to fight against poverty and adverse circumstances. He moved to Argyle nearly twenty years ago and has lived there ever since. He has always enjoyed the respect and confidence of his home people, an evidence of which is the fact that he has served several terms as president of the village council, is now a member of the Argyle Better Farming Association, secretary of the Farmers Elevator Co., etc. He owns and operates several farms in the Argyle vicinity.

His work and vote for County Option and Prohibition during his term in the state senate should entitle him to another term. Besides valuable appropriations for his district he also introduced and passed the following laws: Aid to Agricultural Societies; Providing for experiments on Peat Lands, Maintenance of bridges over Public Ditches; an Amendment to the Noxious Weed Law; also thru his work on the Drainage Committee he was able to pass several measures which have saved the taxpayers of the district several thousand dollars. He owes allegiance to no man or party and pledges himself to a "SQUARE DEAL" For All The PEOPLE, District and State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA

By the Legislature at Its General Session, 1917, to be Submitted to the People of Said State at the General 1918 Election, Together with a Statement of Its

PURPOSE AND EFFECT

PREPARED BY

CLIFFORD L. HILTON

Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to

JULIUS A. SCHMAHL

Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.
April 29, 1918.

HON. JULIUS A. SCHMAHL,
Secretary of State.

SIR:

As required by Section 46, General Statutes of the State of Minnesota for the year 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota by the Legislature of 1917, and which is to be submitted to the electors of said State at the General Election in 1918.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

Chapter 515 of the Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1917, proposes an amendment of Article 15 of the Constitution of said State by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

> "Section 6. The manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation, or keeping or having in possession for sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation of intoxicating liquor of any kind, in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific, or medicinal purposes, shall be forever prohibited within this state from and after the first day of July, 1920, and this amendment shall be self-executing. The legislature shall enact laws for the enforcement of this section and shall provide suitable penalties for the violation thereof."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to forever prohibit within the State of Minnesota after July 1, 1920, the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation, or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes.

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to make unlawful and forever prohibit the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes, within this state after July 1, 1920, and to place it beyond the power of any legislative authority to permit the doing of any such acts. If adopted, the doing of any of the prohibited acts automatically becomes unlawful after July 1, 1920, without any action on the part of the legislature or other legislative body. The amendment is made self-executing. A duty is, however, imposed upon the legislature to enact laws for the enforcement of this section, if adopted, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

Loyal citizens will win this war.

D. B. Bakke was a business visitor in Holt Wednesday.

Vote "Yes" to Vote Dry on the little Pink Ballot, next Tuesday.

W. A. Silbaugh shipped a big car of potatoes to the markets Tuesday. They were big nice potatoes, and all of his own raising and will bring him a good bunch of money, which he has rightly earned, as lots of hard work goes with the successful raising of potatoes.

Marshall county can have a candidate for speaker by electing the present representative in the state legislature. But a new man would have to serve at least two terms before he would be considered a candidate. Marshall county will gain prestige by returning C. L. Stevens to the legislature.

We nearly lost out when we offered to bet a cookie that a dozen would'nt vote at the school election. This time we'll bet two cookies that a dozen women in the village of Holt won't show their colors Nov. 5th by voting to re-elect Co. Supt. David Johnson, for another term.

Now ladies, if you really want to vote as badly as many of you claim, now is your chance to prove your claim, by voting Nov. 5th for Co. Supt., and your choice by all means should be David Johnson.

All boys of earning age are expected to give $5.00 next week to the United War Work Campaign. This notice reached us last week Thursday, too late for the paper then. We wish we could get it into the minds of the people that copy for the paper must reach us on Tuesday. E. Damon's boy had left word at the telephone office that his father was sick and they wanted the first doctor that came to Holt. Before the doctor could get to Mr. Damon's place he was stopped to see R. L. Olson and Willie Rux, both of whom were taken sick quite suddenly. Then after his return from seeing Mr. Damon, he was called to see Joe Nelson, who had been sick a few days.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

"Every Step a Torture," Says Mrs. Whitenack—But Doan's Cured Her

Mrs. Florence Whitenack, 84 Armstrong Ave., Jersey City, N. J., says: "I suffered with rheumatism for six or seven years. My limbs and joints were so stiff and swollen, I could walk only with difficulty and the pains in my hips were so severe, I could hardly bear them. Every step I took was torture. My feet and limbs were swollen and so sore, I could hardly bear my weight on them. During the night I would lie awake for hours and become so nervous, I would have to get up. Dizziness came over me suddenly and my sight blurred. I was never free from the miserable backaches and rheumatic pains. I used different remedies, but I didn't get any better. Then I commenced to use Doan's Kidney Pills. The swellings began to leave right away and I continued to use them. The pains and aches left my back and hips and I am cured of the rheumatism and all signs of kidney trouble."

TERMS PREPARED FOR GERMAN FOE

Armistice Requirements Argeed Upon by Conference at Versailles.

AUSTRIAN TERMS GIVEN

Armistice Granted Austria Under Provisions Which Exact Complete Surrender—Army Nearly Wiped Out.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Terms upon which Germany may obtain an immediate armistice and end the war have been completed and signed in Paris, Secretary Lansing has announced. He adds only that complete diplomatic harmony has been achieved by the allied and American conferees at Versailles. It is stated that the terms follow closely along the line of those under which Austria-Hungary has surrendered.

Stipulations, it was believed last night, would be in the hands of the German government in less than 24 hours.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Austria-Hungary, the last and most powerful ally of Germany, passed out of the war yesterday under terms of the most complete surrender.

Not only have the armed forces of the once powerful Austro-Hungarian empire laid down their arms to await peace terms dictated by the allies and the United States but Austro-Hungarian territory is open for operations against Germany. Even the munitions of the former ally are to be used against the kaiser's armies.

The terms which stopped the victorious Italian advance were accepted by the Austro-Hungarian commander in chief in the name of the Vienna government. Even the terms imposed upon Bulgaria and Turkey were hardly so drastic. In addition to all other military precautions, the Austrians are compelled to retire from a wide strip of territory within their own borders and to surrender all of Italia Irredentia, thereby losing all the advantage of a possible parley over boundaries around a peace table. The geographical survey of territory evacuated by the Austrians shows it to be even greater than that demanded by Italy.

Navy Surrendered or Disarmed.

Austria-Hungary's navy which either must be delivered to the allies or disarmed under the terms of the armistice, consists of approximately 215 ships according to latest official information reaching the navy department. The total of submarines is placed at 45, with 15 battleships, an equal number of cruisers, 21 torpedo boat destroyers, 10 torpedo gunboats, 67 torpedo boats, 45 mine layers, 11 river monitors, seven patrol boats, six armed steamers, six scouts, one river torpedo boat, and two trawlers.

300,000 Austrians Captured.

Three hundred thousand Austrian soldiers and not less than 5,000 guns had been captured by the victorious Italian armies before the armistice went into effect. This includes all captures since the offensive began Oct. 24.

The soldiers of the once powerful Austrian army continued to flee in disorder. Since the offensive started 63 Austro-Hungarian divisions were put out of combat.

YANKS MAKE FINE ADVANCE

Extensive Territory Cleared by General Pershing's Men.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 5.—In the face of stubborn opposition the Americans have taken and held the wooded heights south of Beaumont, the last German stronghold west of the Meuse. The advance carried the line forward for an average gain of five kilometers. The number of prisoners captured early yesterday was about 5,000.

Almost 40 villages were occupied by the Americans in the territory reconquered from the Germans. There were indications at the beginning of yesterday's pursuit that the Germans would be unable to make any immediate stand.

PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS GREETINGS TO ITALY'S KING

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson yesterday dispatched the following message by cable to the king of Italy:

"May I not say how deeply and sincerely the people of the United States rejoice that the soil of Italy is delivered from her enemies. In their name I send your majesty and the great Italian people the most enthusiastic congratulations.

"WOODROW WILSON."

Austrians Loyal to Former Ally.

Amsterdam, Nov. 5.—The German-Austrian state council, says a Vienna dispatch, adopted a resolution taking cognizance of the announcement of the armistice with Italy and declaring continued loyal friendship with the German empire and its decision to conduct peace negotiations in close accord with Germany. Finally the resolution declares that the council regards the German region in southern Tyrol as an inseparable part of the German-Austrian state.

(SIMPLE, OR EXTERNAL GOITER)

NO KNIFE—NO STAIN—NO ALCOHOL—NO OPIATES
WARNER'S GUARANTEED
SIMPLE GOITER REMEDY
HAS NEVER FAILED TO REMOVE GOITER WHEN USED ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE KNOW THE REPUTATION OF DR. H. H. WARNER, of "WARNER'S SAFE CURE" FAME. HE PERSONALLY, AS WELL AS THE COMPANY (WHICH IS COMPOSED OF BANK OFFICIALS AND PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN OF MINNEAPOLIS AND ST. PAUL), GUARANTEES TO RELIEVE YOU OF EVERY APPEARANCE OF GOITER OR REFUND YOUR MONEY.

The GUARANTEED TREATMENT consists of a sufficient amount of medicine to relieve the patient of all traces of simple goiter without danger to health or the necessity of an operation. It is reliable, but gentle, and surely restores the thyroid glands and affected parts to their normal condition.

One treatment lasts about three weeks and consists of two kinds of medicine: Tablets, taken three times a day, which contain no opiates or narcotics and act as a tonic to the system. The other, a harmless solvent, applied at bed time, gently but thoroughly rubbed on and about the goiter—Does not irritate or discolor the skin and is easily washed off in the morning with warm water.

THE BENEFIT WILL BE REMEMBERED LONG AFTER THE PRICE IS FORGOTTEN.

Upon receipt of price, which is $20, we will send you four, three weeks' treatments, of Warner's Guaranteed Simple Goiter Remedy.

Another GUARANTEED OFFER: We will forward you the four treatments for $17, provided you send us the names and addresses of five or more people, 35 years of age, or under, who have simple, or external goiter. Warner's Guaranteed Goiter Remedy will remove most cases of long standing, but our guarantee applies, only, to persons 35 years of age, or under. This emphasizes the importance of early treatment.

The quantity of medicine sent under our guarantee will effectually and permanently remove the goiter, but YOU must co-operate; YOU must assist us by using the required four full treatments if necessary. If, after using the four treatments, you are not satisfied, we will, on application, refund your money.

SPECIAL OFFER: Good only until January 1st, 1919. Send us $3.00 for the first treatment (with five or more names as above), and $5.00 each for the other treatments, as needed. Two or three treatments will often remove simple, or external, goiter in its early stage.

ORDER TODAY: Goiter often grows, slowly at first, but is liable, at any time, to take new life and increase rapidly, or take the form of internal, or exophthalmic goiter, thus making it very difficult to remove.

You can obtain this remedy from any leading druggist. If he hasn't it in stock he will order it for you. Do not be misled by worthless and harmful substitutes. Be sure it is Warner's Guaranteed Simple Goiter Remedy.

We PREPAY DELIVERY charges to any part of the United States. Canadian points duty paid, 50 per cent higher. When remitting, state your age, how long you have had goiter, and condition of your heart and nervous system; also do your eyes protrude, showing more of the whites than usual?

ONE OF MANY AFFIDAVITS.
For several years I was afflicted with a Simple (or external) Goiter. It was a large swelling and annoyed me very much besides depriving me of my rest; many times causing me to sit up in bed suddenly at night and gasp for breath. It also caused me to suffer a great deal with palpitation of the heart. I took three treatments of Dr. Warner's Goiter Remedy and every vestige of the Goiter is gone. In fact, I have almost forgotten I ever had a goiter. To those afflicted as I was, I would say: "By all means use Dr. Warner's Remedy—The sooner the better. Do not be afraid, the medicine will also benefit your general health; at least it benefited mine and did the same for several of my friends who used the treatments." Signed, Miss Lottie Jonas, 65 W. Morton St., St. Paul, Minn.
State of Minnesota, County of Hennepin—ss.—Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of September, 1918.

All these indicate some weakness of the kidneys or other organs or that the enemy microbes which are always present in your system have attacked your weak spots. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are what you need.

Acid-Stomach Makes Millions Weak and Miserable

For years dentists have been telling us that it's acid mouth that ruins the teeth, yet this acid that is powerful enough to eat through the harder than bone enamel of the teeth and decay them, is tasteless. Its presence can be detected only by chemical tests.

No chemical test is needed to tell you that you have acid-stomach.

Indigestion, belching, heartburn, sour stomach, food-repeating, that miserable puffed up feeling after eating, intestinal pains, headaches, etc. These are all Nature's warning to you. They are sure signs of superacidity.

Acid-stomach prevents proper digestion and assimilation, thus causing the blood to become thin and impoverished as a result of which people become sallow-skinned, emaciated, sick and bad looking.

Acid-stomach causes stomach and intestinal fermentation, producing poisons and toxins which, absorbed into the blood and carried throughout the system, cause auto-intoxication, insomnia, nervousness, irritability, mental depression, melancholia, dizziness, vertigo and oftentimes, valvular heart trouble and heart failure.

Acid-stomach causes irritation all along the intestinal tract—irritation so severe and aggravating as to frequently result in catarrh and even cancer of the stomach.

What chance, then, has anyone for robust health, happiness or success if this acid-stomach is allowed to tear down and use up day after day your strength and vitality faster than you can get it out of food you eat. Life is indeed dark and dreary for a person with acid-stomach.

You crave health, strength, the power and will to think and act—don't you? You want to feel full of pep and energy, fine and fit, always eager for work or pleasure.

Then you must rid your stomach of its excess acid. You can start doing it right now. A wonderful modern medicine has made it possible to literally wipe out the excess acid. This remedy is called EATONIC. It is made in pleasant tasting tablets and you take them just like a bit of candy.

And, my, how good EATONIC makes you feel! It banishes acid-stomach miseries like magic! Makes the stomach cool, sweet and strong. Helps you to get full strength out of your food so that, in turn, your body and brain are vigorous, alert and keen.

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed, so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eatonic Remedy Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

AUSTRIA QUITS; GETS ARMISTICE

Council at Versailles Concedes Request—Hostilities Stop Monday Afternoon.

KAISER OUT, IS REPORT

Geneva Reports Abdication of William II as Already an Accomplished Fact—Announcement Due Soon.

London, Nov. 4.—An armistice between Austrian and Italian forces has been signed and will come into operation through the cessation of hostilities at 8 o'clock this afternoon. Conditions of the armistice, it is said, will be published Tuesday.

Official announcement of the signing of the Austrian armistice reached the premiers, in session at the apartment of Colonel House, President Wilson's personal representative, Paris reports, late Sunday afternoon, and gave the greatest satisfaction. Conditions of the armistice, which are to be made known promptly, are in accordance with the demands of the allied representatives and will guarantee that all allied interests be fully safeguarded.

Austrian Defeats Continued.

Pending the putting into effect of the armistice agreed upon, the work of pressing the Austrian forces back from the Italian front continues unabated. Italian cavalry patrols have crossed the Tagliamento river at Spilimbergo, which city has been occupied, according to a dispatch from Rome.

The battle continues with the Italians and their allies completing the destruction of Austria's mighty army. It is estimated that 3,000 cannon will be the total taken in the present movement, besides great quantities of supplies.

The entire Italian front is moving forward, with the left wing already occupying Rovereto, and is pushing on towards Trieste. In fact, a Rome dispatch says Italian land and sea forces are already being landed at Trieste, which is the principal Austro-Hungarian seaport on the Adriatic. An official Italian announcement is quoted in confirmation of this report.

Austro-Hungarian troops are being withdrawn from the western front and the Germans, fearing the allies will march through Austria, are digging trenches and erecting fortifications along the Bavarian frontier, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Politiken at Copenhagen.

Are Hohenzollerns in Flight?

Paris, Oct. 4.—Two dispatches from Geneva, Switzerland, bear news of apparent significance when read in the light of their possible relation together. According to one, received and published by the Temps here, "the abdication of William II may be considered now as an accomplished fact. Official publication is delayed for an opportune moment."

The other dispatch, bearing a Geneva date line, says that dozens of trunks bearing the royal Hohenzollern monogram have been arriving in the past week at the luxurious chateau name Buonas, on the lake of the Bug. The chateau in question flies the German flag, and is the property of Baron von Kleist.

ALLIES SWEEP MINE FIELD

Large Fleet to Attack German Vessels in Black Sea.

London, Nov. 4.—A large fleet of the latest type of British mine sweepers yesterday began the tedious task of clearing the Dardanelles of mines and other obstructions. This work, together with other safeguards which the allies consider to be necessary before the allied fleet enters the tortuous waterway leading past Constantinople and through the Bosphorus to the Black sea, will take several days.

The allied fleet, it is believed, is sure to come to grips with the German warships. There is every reason to believe that the Germans have put this fleet in good order. It consists of seven pre-dreadnaughts, two cruisers and 12 submarines, besides at least 26 other types of war craft. The enemy has the advantage of three good bases in the Black sea—Odessa, Sebastopol and Nikolaiev—but it is likely they are short of ammunition. At Nikolaiev four cruisers are being built. One of them is nearly completed.

British Storm Steel Works.

London, Nov. 4.—British troops stormed the steel works held by the Germans southeast of Valenciennes and advancing one and one-half miles to the east, completed the capture of the village of St. Vaulve, the war office announced.

Enemy Must Say If Beaten.

Washington, Nov. 4.—In commenting on the rumored terms of armistice to be submitted by the allies and the United States, the Germans "must say whether they confess that they are beaten," Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner to the United States, declared. "Should they confess it," said Commissioner Tardieu, "the war will end and through the acceptance of our conditions. Should they not we shall enforce that acceptance by means of a last resort, the outcome of which cannot be doubtful."

GERMAN CROWDS ASK ABDICATION

Surround Imperial Palace at Stuttgart Shouting "Abdicate Immediately!"

"DOWN WITH WILHELM"

Hungarian Revolt Gains Force as Soldiers Declare Allegiance—Budapest in Gala Attire.

Amsterdam, Nov. 4.—Shouting "Down with Wilhelm," and "Abdicate immediately," a crowd of several thousand persons, despite the efforts of the police to disperse them, succeeded in reaching the royal palace at Stuttgart. Some mounted the palace railings clamoring for the deposition of the emperor, according to the Weser Gazette.

Police Shoot to Disperse Mob.

After several scrimmages and an exchange of shots mounted police managed to drive the mob away.

The demonstration was the sequel of a meeting of independent socialists at which resolutions were passed demanding the establishment of a socialist republic.

At a meeting of the progressive party at Munich, Professor Quidde, a deputy in the landtag, declared:

"The vital interests of the German people demand the emperor's abdication."

A resolution was adopted demanding that the emperor abdicate in order to attest the sincerity of Germany's conversion into a people's state.

Bankers Would Capitulate.

German banking and commercial men after a meeting have sent the government a declaration in favor of acceptance of the entente's armistice conditions, according to the German papers.

The declaration presents an argument against those who hope for an improvement of the situation from a continuance of the war and demands measures for facilitating peace, even if sacrifices are required.

Soldiers for Freedom of Hungary.

Amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm regiment after regiment is appearing before the national council at Budapest to take the oath of allegiance, while high military officials are calling upon the council to offer their services, according to advices received from the Hungarian capital. The Danube monitor flotilla has acknowledged the council as the military authority.

The council has been informed of the appointment of Count Michael Karolyi, president of the Hungarian independent party, as premier.

Budapest Celebrates.

Budapest is beflagged and many public demonstrations of brotherly feeling are occurring. Troops sent by the national council have liberated troops which were locked in barracks by the gendarmes.

Lejtner, who recently attempted to kill Count Tisza and who was arrested early in October, has been set free by a mob.

German-Austrian State Revolts.

The German-Austrian state council, according to a dispatch from Vienna, has issued a proclamation to the soldiers at the front, saying that the government has been taken over by the national assembly. The assembly will immediately conclude peace and begin the orderly demobilization of the army, the proclamation declares.

The Vienna grain reserves are virtually exhausted. According to a Zurich dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company Vienna has only three days flour supply.

Belgrade Entered by Serbians.

Part of Belgrade, the Serbian capital, has been recaptured, according to a dispatch from the London Evening News, which says it has unofficial advices to this effect.

Serbia to Be Evacuated.

A Vienna report, via London, says the evacuation of all Serbian territory by the Austrians is imminent. The announcement is made in an official statement from the war office.

An Amsterdam report says the governor of Trieste has handed over the commune's affairs to the "Committee of Action," composed of socialists, national liberals and Slovenes.

Pershing's Men Advance 4 Miles.

With the American Forces Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 4.—General Pershing's forces continued their attack in the region west of the Meuse Saturday afternoon, capturing Fosse. This represents an advance of four miles from the starting line through Bayonville.

Enemy Superdreadnaught Is Sunk.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The Austrian superdreadnaught Veribus Unitis, the flagship of the Austro-Hungarian fleet at the naval base at Pola, has been torpedoed and sunk by an Italian "naval tank" which, manned by two officers, succeeded in penetrating the mine field at the entrance of the harbor. An official dispatch from Rome received tonight said it is believed the two officers survived, although they probably were captured by the enemy.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread," or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products—less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

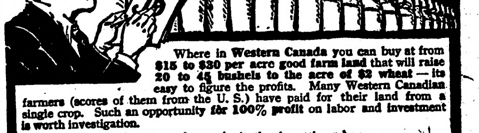
Easy to figure the Profits



Where in Western Canada you can buy at from $15 to $30 per acre good farm land that will raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre of $2 wheat—its easy to figure the profits. Many Western Canadian farmers (scores of them from the U. S.) have paid for their land from a single crop. Such an opportunity for 100% profit on labor and investment is worth investigation.

Canada extends to you a hearty invitation to settle on her

What shall he carry to Your Boy tonight—out there in No-Man's Land?

OUT in the open, across the border of No-Man's Land, the Soldiers of Cheer are going tonight. In their packs they are carrying the comforts which your fighter wants. In their hearts they are carrying a message of cheer and hope.

To the most advanced positions they are crawling with those little things which loom up big in France—their bars of chocolate, their cigarettes, their rolls of cookies and cans of fruit. Yes, and sometimes, letters from home!

Under the very eyes of German snipers they are crossing open fields, dropping flat to the ground as each flare goes up, then creeping further forward.

Soon they will reach the gun-nests where a handful of fighters will whisper:—"Good for you, old boy! What would we do without you?"

Off in another sector an advance will begin at dawn. In the thick of it will be these men—perhaps of the Knights of Columbus or Y. M. C. A., perhaps the Jewish Welfare Board or Salvation Army.

Whatever uniform they wear, the hot chocolate which they serve tastes just as warm and comforting. The cigarettes they light and hand the wounded will be as good first aid.

"These men need smokes much more than what we give them," say the surgeons.

When daylight comes the wounded will be streaming back. The cigarettes and chocolate may be nearly gone—given away. But your money will replace them. Meanwhile these men will say:—"Put us to work!"

The surgeons will give them the arm-bands of the army's stretcher-bearers.

Then up beyond the front lines they will go, to bring back those too badly hit to walk.

Once, twice, three or four times they will make the trip before they too are hit.

Wherever there are fighters, the Soldiers of Cheer have their canteens, scores of them under shell fire.

Throughout the days they serve the crowd a mile or so behind the lines. At night they go forward, packs on their backs, to reach the men who occupy the outposts of civilization.

When the order comes to go over the top, they follow too. Wherever the troops go, there go these men who serve.

No wonder their names are in the casualty lists. No wonder they are cited. No wonder the fighters elect them honorary members of their outfits.

Keep the supplies coming! Help the Soldiers of Cheer to help your fighters! Give now—all together!

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3600 Recreation Buildings	2500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

WHO CAN REFUSE TO GIVE THEM TEN CENTS A DAY

Ten cents a day, used through the United War Work Campaign agencies, means the comfort of a soldier or sailor for a day. The organizations participating in the United War Work Campaign are recognized by the United States Government as part of the military machinery that is to render the Hun helpless. The Government, raising its own necessary funds by bonds and taxes, cannot in this manner finance the work done by the United War Work Campaign agencies.

Out with your ten cents a day!

GIRLS CAN DO MUCH GOOD

To Earn and Give $5 Is the Pledge of Victory Girls.

"Every girl pulling for Victory." This is the slogan of the Victory girls.

"Everybody is doing something to win the war but me," a fourteen-year-old girl said. "I'm left out. I can't buy Liberty Bonds or go to France as a nurse."

It is for the "left-out" girl who wants to make a real sacrifice for the men at the front, that Victory Girls "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign has been established.

Victory Girls is as much an army at home as the men in the service are an army wherever they are called. Like Victory Boys, they are an "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign. When a girl enrolls she pledges herself to earn a stated sum for war work. This means that no girl, or boy either, can give any money that she or he has not earned. The Department of Campaign Divisions in the National Organization, of which A. H. Whitford is director, has appointed Miss Gertrude Gogin, Girls' Work Secretary of the National Y. W. C. A., secretary of the girls' division of the Victory Girls. Both are working in the campaign in which seven national organizations are co-operating—the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

To insure the greatest understanding and co-operation in the work done with Victory Girls and Victory Boys, a director has been appointed to act for the National Catholic War Council and representatives of Catholic Women have been appointed in various local committees.

UNITED LEADERSHIP WILL BRING VICTORY

Lansing and Lane Endorse Campaign for Funds for Welfare of America's Fighting Forces.

Washington, Nov. 6. — Hearty endorsement is given today by Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, to the United War Work Campaign, in a statement urging support of the drive for $170,500,000 for the continuation of soldier and sailor service work by the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (K. of C.), War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

"The wise policy for a united campaign, which has been adopted by the patriotic men who are directing the various organizations charged with the welfare of our fighting forces, has my hearty approval," said Mr. Lansing.

"While they, acting separately, have done and would continue to do splendid work, combination will greatly add to their efficiency and usefulness. I am sure that the American people will give to the united effort the same support which they gave in the past to the separate organizations. It is enough to say that it is for our boys across the sea."

Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, summed up as follows: "Under a united leadership in France our men are making a drive for us, and under a united leadership in America we are making a drive for them. May we be as successful as they have been!"

—Keep Them Smiling—

YOU'D GIVE YOUR LAST CENT!

If you came across a man dying for the want of a cup of hot chocolate or coffee, what would you do? You'd spend your last dollar to see that he got it!

Supposing your boy or one of his pals lay on a foreign field, wounded, needing help that money could buy.

You'd beg every last one of those within a dozen miles to do all that they could for the poor lad—and hang the expense!

That's exactly what it means when you donate to the United War Work Campaign fund which goes to the various war welfare agencies with which your son is in constant contact. You are ministering to some neighbor lad if not your own—or perhaps to many of them—in the only way that can really help them in those trying times when every bit of comfort is the saving grace that makes the horror and hardship endurable and keeps them steady and sane.

Send home and the human touch to the lads "over there" in the only way that is left for you—

Through the Army Welfare Agencies!

HELP THE HOME TO FOLLOW FLAG

Campaign for Funds for Service That Wins the Soldier's Heart and Keeps Him Smiling.

OPEN PURSE STRINGS

Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council, K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Assn., Salvation Army to Benefit.

By Temple Bailey.

Not all of war is fighting. The soldier is not always going over the top or killing Huns. A lot of times he is just tired or homesick or lonely. It is then that he thinks of you. It is then that he longs for home. And if you can't be with him, you can help the home to follow him. Let others do it through you who pay for it.

With the slogan, "We help the home to follow the flag," the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (K. of C.), Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army, all have to do with the comfort and happiness of our fighting men in camp or at the front, and I am constrained to discover, if I can, some of the reasons why modern misers shake their heads and tighten their purse-strings when they are asked to contribute. These agencies give the cup of cold water. Can't you see? You aren't there to do it. You wouldn't be a bit of use if you were. But along comes a Salvation Army angel with a piece of pie—and there's a bit of home. Or a pleasant middle-aged woman smiles over the counter of a canteen as she pours his coffee—and there's home and mother. Or Mary Pickford smiles at him from a moving picture screen, and there's darling America in every line of her. Or Sothern recites or Elsie Janis dances and he's back home beside you, eager and excited.

Let me say this to you who have been tempted to shake your heads and pull your purse-strings tight—the men over there haven't any home. A trench isn't a home, or a tent, or even a French farmhouse where one is billeted and sleeps on straw. And for a youngster who has always had a soft bed, two pillows, a hot bath, grape fruit for breakfast, a whole pleasant American house to be happy in, you can imagine what it means to be homeless, with not a desk nor a chair which belongs to him, nothing but a kit bag and a casual sleeping place.

Oh, loosen your purse-strings! Pray for a vision! Let some dream come to you of what it would mean if you were transported suddenly from the softness and ease of your life to a world of fire and flame and horror.

Wouldn't you want the light of a little hut to shine out for you? Wouldn't you want the smiling woman's face, the touch of a friendly hand, wouldn't you think of that hut as the only oasis in a Desert of Dreadful Things?

Put yourself in his place and if you can't fight with him, at least spend your money for him. He's worth it, and he's worth it not only because he's your lad and my lad, but because he's fighting for the honor of your country, and for the world's need of freedom from the Hun!

—Keep Them Smiling—

BOOKS MAKE THEM HAPPY

Alice Hegan Rice, author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and an ardent member of the American Library Association, is working in the interests of military libraries for the United War Work Campaign. Asked why soldiers should be supplied with books, since their mission is fighting, Mrs. Rice replied in true Mrs. Wiggs style:

"When some soldiers in the Civil War was lyin' around camp tryin' to keep from freezin' to death a preacher come along and when he got up to preach he sez, 'Friends, my text is Chilblains. They ain't no use a preachin' to men whose whole thought is set on their feet. Now you fellows, git some soft soap and pour into them shoes and jes' keep them shoes on until yer feet fit well and next time I come around yer minds will be better prepared ter receive the word of the Lord.'"

Fighting men who are made happy when not fighting, fight better, Mrs. Rice believes.

—Keep Them Smiling—

THEY CAN'T COME HOME, SO SEND HOME TO THEM

The Poilus and the Tommies can go home for their furloughs. The American soldier in France is 3,000 miles from home. His best makeshift home is the welfare hut of the allied war welfare agencies participating in the United War Work Campaign for funds to maintain their work "over there." When he goes on a furlough he goes to one of the huge rest resorts that have been established for this purpose by the Y. M. C. A.

This is but one of the many phases of service for which the big drive will be held all over the country, November 11 to 18.

Now that the great war is over, the soldiers will find the time going mighty slow, with that excitement gone that they have always looked forward to. Many will be anxious to get back to private life now and many, many others will be awful homesick. From now on, more than ever before, if that is possible, they will need recreation and all the help that can be given them by the Y. M. C. A. and kindred organizations. Everyone can give something to help the boys keep smiling.

Death of Carl Engebretsen.

Our community has been greatly saddened by the death of Carl Engebretsen, at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon.

All the family had the influenza, and Mr. Engebretsen was getting better but as his help got sick, he did the chores himself which was too much for him. He took cold and pneumonia set in about a week ago, and but slight hopes were entertained for his recovery from that time. The funeral will be held at the home this afternoon and interment will be made in the cemetery here.

We join the friends in extending sincere sympathy to the sorrowing family and relatives.

Obituary next week.

Obituary of Clarence Kolden

Clarence S. Kolden was born in Neilsville, Minn., August 18, 1893, and died at his home in Mentor, Minn., on Sunday morning Nov. 3rd at the age of 25 years, 2 months and 15 days.

His parents moved to Crookston while he was a small child and in 1903 the family moved to this county. The mother died at their home in Middle River in 1909.

The deceased leaves to mourn his early death, the sorrowing widow and two children, his father and step-mother, the elder brother Selmer who is in France and a younger brother Peter who is in the navy and Thorval who left Monday for the training camp, two half brothers, a half sister and other relatives and a host of friends who sympathise with the bereaved ones.

Clarence Kolden had a fine position in which he was making good and his prospects for the future were bright and his death after only a few days of sickness shows the uncertainty of life here below.

Card of Thanks.

In our great sorrow we cannot find words to express our feeling to all who showed their sympathy to us at the funeral of our beloved husband, father and son. Especially to those who sent so many pretty flowers which were so dear to us. Kindly accept our thanks.

Mrs. Clarence Kolden
and children.
S. S. Kolden and family.
P. A. Risberg and family.

Thorval Kolden went to Warren Monday Monday to join the Marshall county boys who left that day for Ft. Riley, Kansas. Manuel Larson and Rudolph Anderson left here Saturday for Warren. Marshall county furnished 28 men in this call. Now that the war is over, there will not be any more calls.

—Later: The Local Board received notice Monday afternoon that all draft calls had been cancelled, and the men were sent home, subject to call if needed later.

Give for the sake of the soldiers.

The best medical authority states that whiskey or alcohol in any form is the worst possible thing that can be given to influenza patients. Tea, pasteurized milk and lemonade are good beverages, but alcoholic drinks, it is stated, will only make the patient more subject to the disease, according to Dr. Hill, of the Minnesota Public Health Association.

The current story that alcoholic drinks are administered in excessive amounts in army cantonments and hospitals as a remedy, is false and the source is probably due to the activity of German propagandists.—Ex.

Rhinehart Reierson Sick.

Word was received Saturday from Reinehart Reierson who is stationed at Camp Oglethorpe, Ga., that he had an operation on Monday for appendicitis and that he was getting along fine, but was awfully tired of lying on his back.—Later A telegram was sent to his father that Rhinehart was critically ill. His many friends hope that the worse stage is past and that he will speedily recover health and strength.

Letter From Rev. Parish.

Kellogg, Idaho, Nov. 8th.

Friend Young:

This is to let you and our Holt friends know that we are well located here in Kellogg, and we like it very much. This is a fine little city of about 6000. We are told by people who know that in 5 years after the war is over our city will have 10,000 people. This is a lead mining community, and in fact we have the largest lead mines in the world here. We also have one of the largest smelters and it will be much larger soon. We have four churches and ours is the strongest with a great opportunity. They pay me $2,000.00.

I hope you folks have missed the flu. We are closed on account of it and have been for four weeks. We are all well and happy yet.

I often think of the good people at Holt. Remember me to them all. I will be glad to hear how you all are getting along.

Sincerely yours,
G. O. Parish.

All the old officers of Marshall county were re-elected. Following are the majorities, where there were contests: Berve 292, Lundgren 603, Bakke 1487, Hanson 1246, Grinder 34, Eckstrom 28, Johnson 762, Olson (Com. 5th Dist.) 52. Hegnes carried the county by 458 and the district by about 60 voters.

The Holt Red Cross Auxiliary recently sent a shipment of goods to Warren that were made up by the following ladies:

Two pairs of socks were knit by Mesdames Hagberg, Paul Olson and M. B. Fitch, one pair each by Mesdames R. L. Olson, Bennes, Adams, Ordahl, Nelson, Gunheim, Docken, Sandberg.

Sweaters: Mesdames Nelson, Docken and Fitch each one, and there were also two others without names. The ladies also made 18 chemise, one pair pjamas and one hospital shirt.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv.

Something Wrong Somewhere.

Mr. Clout read in a paper that digestion is stimulated by talk and laughter at meal times; he cogitated over the idea, and finally addressed his family thus:

"Now, this keeping mum at meals has got to stop. You hear me, you girls. You begin to tell stories, and keep up agreeable sort of talk like; and you boys, laugh and be jolly or I'll take and dust your jackets with the strap till you can't stand. Now begin!"

And yet, somehow the jollity seemed forced.

WHY WOMEN DREAD OLD AGE

Don't worry about old age. Don't worry about being in other people's way when you are getting on in years. Keep your body in good condition and you can be as hale and hearty as your old days as you were when a kid, and every one will be glad to see you.

The kidneys and bladder are the causes of senile afflictions. Keep them clean and in proper working condition. Drive the poisonous wastes from the system and avoid uric acid accumulations. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and you will find that the system will always be in perfect working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles made strong and your face have once more the look of youth and health.

New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue this treatment. When your first vigor has been restored continue for awhile taking a capsule or two each day. They will keep you in condition and prevent a return of your troubles.

"You don't seem to pay any attention to these germs."

"I don't talk about 'em any more than is necessary," answered Doc Braney. "I take all possible precautions and then try to ignore 'em. The meanest thing about a germ is that if he can't attack you anywhere else, he tries to get on your mind."

WAR ENDED MONDAY, 5:00 A. M. CENTRAL TIME; ARMISTICE SIGNED

German Envoys Affixed Signatures to Famous Document at Early Morning Hour—News Reached State Department at Washington About 2:50 A. M.—Given Out at Once.

Armistice Is for 30 Days But Terms Agreed Upon for Its Enforcement Are Such as to Make Renewal of the War Impossible—President Wilson Proclaims Cessation of Hostilities and Reads Terms to the Assembled Congress.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The world war ended this morning at 6 o'clock Washington time, 11 o'clock Paris time. The armistice was signed by the German representatives at midnight. This announcement was made by the state department at 2:50 this morning. The announcement was made verbally by an official of the state department in this form:

"The armistice has been signed. It was signed at 5 o'clock, Paris time, and hostilities will cease at 11 o'clock this morning, Paris time."

President Wilson has formally proclaimed the signing of the armistice, and has read before congress its terms and provisions.

The president said, by way of introduction:

"Gentlemen of the Congress:

"In these times of rapid, stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

"The German authorities who at the invitation of the supreme war council, have been in communication with Marshal Foch, have accepted and signed the terms of armistice which he was authorized and instructed to communicate to them."

The president then recited the terms at length, a brief synopsis of which is as follows:

TERMS OF THE ARMISTICE

Immediate retirement of the German military forces from France, Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine.

Abandonment by Germany of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

Disarming and demobilization of the German army, occupation by the allied and American forces of such strategic points in Germany as will make impossible a renewal of hostilities.

Delivery of the German high seas fleet and 160 submarines to the allied and American naval forces.

Disarmament of all other German warships under supervision of the allied and American navy, which will guard them. Occupation of the principal German naval bases by sea forces of the victorious nations.

Release of allied and American soldiers, sailors and civilians held prisoner in Germany without such reciprocal action by the associated governments.

Many Big Guns Will Be Surrendered.

The surrender by the Germans of 5,000 guns, (2,500 heavy and 2,500 field guns); 30,000 machine guns; 3,000 minnenwerfers; 2,000 airplanes, including both fighting planes and day and night bombers.

The surrender of 5,000 locomotives; 50,000 wagons; 10,000 motor lorries; the railways of Alsace-Lorraine for use by the allies.

Wide Neutral Zone Provided.

The evacuation of all country on the left bank of the Rhine, to be administered by local authorities under the direction of the allied and American forces; also Coblentz and Cologne and the bridgeheads approaching them; and a neutral zone 30 kilometers wide to be established on the right side of the river.

In all territory evacuated by the enemy there shall be no evacuation of inhabitants, and no injury or harm of any kind shall be permitted to their persons or property.

Must Give Up Pilfered Cash.

Among financial terms are restitution for all damage done by the German army, including restitution in cash for funds taken from the banks of Belgium, and restitution in gold of all funds taken from Russia and Roumania. The surrender of all stores of coal and iron is also demanded.

The German troops are to retire at once from all territory occupied in Russia and Roumania, and the allies are to have access to such territory. The enemy must also evacuate territory held in East Africa within 30 days.

Turkey is also to be evacuated by the Germans.

German troops which have not left the invaded territories within 14 days, including Alsace-Lorraine, become prisoners of war.

The repatriation within 14 days of the thousands of unfortunate civilians deported from France and Belgium is also demanded.

Baltic and Black Seas Opened.

Freedom of access by the allies to the Baltic is agreed upon, with power to occupy the German ports in the Cattegat. The Germans must also reveal the location of all mines, poisoned wells, etc. All German ports of the Black sea must be surrendered, as well as the Russian fleet recently taken over by the Germans in those waters.

Germans to pay for upkeep of allies' occupation troops in Germany.

Allied and American troops to occupy all land evacuated by the Germans.

The armistice is for 30 days, but President Wilson made it clear that the war might be considered as ended because the means of pursuing it had been taken from the enemy.

The president indicated that having secured this victory, the allies and American forces would now undertake to restore order in Germany under conditions of freedom and democracy.

Von Hindenburg Would Help Reconstruction.

A London dispatch says that Field Marshal von Hindenburg has asked delegates of the soldiers' and workmen's councils to meet with him in the interests of avoiding anarchy. London also reports that English recruiting has been discontinued.

There was no information as to the circumstances under which the armistice was signed, but since the German courier did not reach German military headquarters until 10 o'clock yesterday morning, French time, it was generally assumed here that the German envoys within the French lines had been instructed by wireless to sign the terms.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

"It looks to me," said Senator Sheppard, "as if he were trying to dig himself in."

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels needs a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

MONDAY A DAY OF CELEBRATION

"Victory Day" as Observed in American Cities Was Carnival of Good Will.

JOY ALSO IN TRENCHES

Pending Completion of the Holiday Official Washington Unable to Give Much Information Regarding Future.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Monday, November 11, "Victory day," was celebrated spontaneously but almost universally throughout the United States and in the American trenches, as well as at many points in allied countries. In the cities and villages of America the celebration, while wholly informal, took on the nature of a carnival of good feeling, in which flag waving, torpedo firing, marching crowds with horns, and joyous processions of automobiles were characteristic features. Local organizations assisted the merrymaking in their own ways, and business places were very generally closed, as there was neither disposition nor opportunity for business.

News Reaches Fighting Front.

News of the armistice reached the various sections of the American fighting front early in the day and resulted in the most intense satisfaction on the part of the American fighters.

It was among the boys in the foremost lines who had been under shell fire for days that there was the most genuine rejoicing.

There had been so many rumors of peace lately that the boys in the front lines were not inclined to believe the report of the signing of the armistice until their officers informed them that it was a fact. Then there was general rejoicing.

Motorcycle couriers tore along the road shouting:

"It's over, boys!"

Marching columns, tired and mud-spattered, were galvanized into new life. They shouted, laughed and sang. The cheers rang from column to column.

Few Announcements Made.

So much was official Washington engrossed with the celebration that few facts could be gleaned regarding future plans through the day. It was said that in the insufficiency of time to assemble a great peace conference within 30 days it seemed probable that the armistice would require to be extended. Preparations for this great gathering, and for the tacit agreements of America and the allied nations which will no doubt precede it will begin without delay.

What happens in Germany and in what once was Austria-Hungary and in Russia during the meantime probably will govern the solution of many of the complex problems awaiting the conference.

Soldiers Not to Return at Once.

It is pointed out that whatever happens it is hardly conceivable that the return of American soldiers can be at once or soon. There will be extensive reconstruction work to perform and the maintenance of order required, not only in each of the former enemy countries, but also in Russia and Rumania as well. Naturally not all, nor perhaps even the most of this work, can be turned back to the forces of our allied nations, already weary with years of war.

Draft Calls Cancelled.

However, Provost Marshal General Crowder has issued telegrams cancelling all immediate calls for entrainment of draft men, and it seems quite probable that these may be permanently annulled. In various parts of the country 252,000 men had been under orders to entrain this week.

Hoover Makes Statement.

Immediate dropping of food prices as a result of the conclusion of an armistice cannot be expected, Food Administrator Hoover declared last night.

"With the war effectually over," said Mr. Hoover, "we enter a new economic era, and its immediate effect on prices is difficult to anticipate. The prices of some food commodities may increase, but others will decrease, because with liberated shipping, accumulated stocks in the southern hemisphere and the far east will be available.

All activities of the food administration will be continued through the armistice period, said Mr. Hoover, adding that "there will be no relaxation of efforts to keep down profiteering to the last moment."

Marshall Praises President.

Vice President Marshall said:

"The president's address sets a high water mark in the annals of the justice of English-speaking peoples and of all the allies."

Congressmen Praise Terms.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Unanimous approval of the armistice terms imposed on Germany is being voiced by members of congress.

Unconditional surrender was the interpretation of most senators and representatives, although some expressed disappointment that demobilization of the German armies was not required. Sentiment for punishment of those responsible for atrocities was voiced, and the president was commended for the assurance of help to inaugurate a democratic government in Germany.

HEALTH TALK

Spanish Influenza or Grip

BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of saleratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Irontic" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Patriotic.

Patience—I saw Harry at the patriotic meeting last night. He was in khaki.

Patrice—Oh, you saw him, did you?

Patience—Yes, and he was so patriotic that he stood up during the entire meeting.

Patrice—Oh, that wasn't altogether patriotism. He's joined the cavalry, you know, and yesterday was the first day he'd tried to ride a horse.—Camp Lee Bayonet.

A Frenchman, an Englishman, an Irishman and a German prisoner were in an argument as to which was the bravest.

A Yank overheard the controversy and decided to settle it. Pointing to a near-by poultry house, he told them that there was a skunk inside and asked the Irishman to step inside and see how long he could stand it.

Pat did as he was told. In five minutes he came out. The Englishman followed, but he stood it only four minutes. The Frenchman next tried it, but five minutes was enough for him.

It was the German's turn. He went in and the others waited. The minutes passed — one—two—three—four—five—six—seven, but no German. Eight minutes—ten—the skunk came out.

Acid-Stomach Makes Millions Old Before Their Time

What is it that robs so many people of their vitality, youth and good looks—makes them all in and decrepit, years before their time? Some say it's rheumatism that is ailing them. Others complain of chronic stomach or liver trouble. Others are bilious. Life is a burden to multitudes of dyspeptics. Severe headache, extreme nervousness, insomnia, mental depression, melancholia, anemia, dizziness, vertigo, heart and chest pains, constipation, etc., claim other multitudes.

Sometimes these people are downright sick. More frequently they are just weak, sickly and unfit, not knowing exactly what is the matter with them. Nearly always they resort to medicines of one kind or another in the hope of getting back their health and strength. And nearly always they are disappointed, because medicines don't build strength unless they set the stomach free from acidity, allowing it to take full strength out of the food eaten.

What is it that causes teeth to decay? Dentists say—acid mouth—that the acid formed by the fermentation of small particles of food lodged in the teeth is powerful enough to eat right through the hard enamel. An acid-stomach presents a similar condition. Excess acid retards digestion. Food in the stomach sours and ferments, causing pain. Gases affect the heart action. The intestines become the breeding place for countless millions of deadly germs or toxic poisons. These poisons are carried by the blood into every part of the system. The famous scientist, Metchnikoff, said — if the system could be kept free from these toxic germs, people might easily live a hundred years or more.

The only safe thing to do is to rid the stomach of its excess acid at once. A way has been found in the wonderful preparation, called EATONIC—a compressed compound that absorbs the excess acid and carries it away through the bowels. Thousands upon thousands now know of EATONIC and its amazing power to clean out the excess acid and leave the stomach sweet, cool and strong—giving it a chance to properly digest food so that you get full strength of what you eat and in this way help Nature build up vigorous health, strength and vitality to take the place in a few days, of sickness, lassitude, weakness.

EATONIC is worth your trial. Its possibilities for restoring health, vigor, energy and vitality are beyond telling you in mere words—you must "just try it."

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed, so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC, send your name and address to the Eatonic Remedy Company, 1018 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., and they will at once mail you a 50c box and you can send them the money for it after you receive it.

BURNQUIST WINS BY WIDE MARGIN

Minnesota Governor Secures Big Plurality Over Evans and Wheaton.

SENATOR NELSON SAFE

W. G. Calderwood Receives Only a Light Vote for Seat in Senate—Clarence B. Miller Is Beaten for Congress.

Minneapolis, Nov. 7.—Senator Knute Nelson, Minnesota's grand old man, is running far in the lead of W. G. Calderwood of Minneapolis, who was backed by the Nationalist party and a few Democrats. It is estimated that the Nelson majority will run far in excess of 100,000 votes.

Burnquist Leads by 40,000.

Governor Burnquist has a lead of 40,000 votes over David H. Evans, in 1,178 out of 3,119 precincts in the state. The vote in those precincts follows: Burnquist, 113,067; Wheaton 52,777; Evans, 71,139.

In 188 out of 204 precincts in Hennepin county the vote on governor was: Burnquist, 28,555; Wheaton, 14,193; Evans, 12,865. Burnquist's lead in Hennepin county will run approximately 16,000 votes.

All of the other Republican candidates on the state ticket have apparently been elected by heavy majorities or pluralities. For some time there was doubt about Herman Mueller, Republican nominee for clerk of the supreme court.

Mueller was repudiated by the Republican state central committee, but the repudiation came too late. In 793 precincts out of the 3,119 in the state Mueller polled 45,677 votes and Charles A. Letheart, Democrat, indorsed by the Republican committee, polled 33,668.

Returns from 816 out of 3,119 precincts in the state indicated the reelection of sitting members of the state supreme court.

Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown received 43,042 votes against 35,884 for his opponent, Benjamin Drake, in the available figures.

Associate Justice Oscar Hallam and Andrew Holt received in the same precinct 29,227 and 34,534, respectively, for re-election, while W. H. Vanderburgh received 13 247 and Thomas Frazer received 25,226.

Returns for attorney general from 1,112 precincts out of 3,119 in the state give Hilton 64,575; Davis, 36,114; Gislason, 17,916, and Haugh, 3,924.

Returns for lieutenant governor from 709 precincts increased Frankson's lead. The lieutenant governor received 39,666; Helweg got 17,912, and Haggard polled 9,552.

The secretary of state, 652 precincts, gave Schmahl 65,165 and Indrehus 27,425.

Minnesota will send eight Republicans and two Democrats to the national House of Representatives for the next session.

The big feature of the election was the defeat in the Eighth district of Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, Republican, generally regarded as one of the strong men of the House. W. L. Carrs of Proctor, who was filed at the last minute, defeated Miller.

In the First district Sydney Anderson, Republican, was elected without opposition. In the Second, Franklin F. Ellsworth defeated his Democratic opponent by an overwhelming majority. In the Third, Charles R. Davis, Republican, was returned, although he was pushed hard.

In the Fourth district Carl C. Van Dyke, Democrat, was returned by a large vote.

In the Fifth district Walter H. Newton, Republican, was elected over W. C. Robertson, Democrat.

In the Sixth, Harold Knutson of St. Cloud was re-elected by a smashing majority.

Andrew J. Volstead, Republican, defeated his National opponent, E. E. Lobeck, by a large vote in the Seventh district.

In the Ninth district Halvor Steenerson, Republican, was re-elected by a heavy majority, as was Thomas D. Schall, Republican, in the Tenth district.

With the drys leading by approximately 1,000 votes on the prohibition amendment to the state constitution in one-third of the precincts in the state, the fate of the amendment will remain in doubt for several days.

In 998 precincts out of the 3,119, the vote stands—yes, 72,735; no, 71,905.

HERR EBERT, REGENT

Wilhelm's Regretful Withdrawal From Power Is Followed by That of Other Kingly Potentates—Crown Prince Is Also Out.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The turning of events in Germany within the past 48 hours has moved with dramatic swiftness. Following on the heels of Bavaria's declaration of a republic and the revolutionary uprisings among workmen and soldiers at Kiel, Hamburg and other important centers, the announcement of the kaiser's abdication of the throne reached here from official sources late Saturday afternoon. Accompanying this came word of the imperial crown prince's renunciation of his rights of succession. The Duke of Brunswick, also, who is a son-in-law of the kaiser, renounced his dukedom. Later the official retirement of King Lundwig III of Bavaria was announced, thus bringing a close to the Wittelsbach dynasty at Munich.

Withdrawal of the Emperor.

London dispatches assert that Emperor William signed a letter of abdication Saturday morning in the presence of the crown prince and Field Marshal Hindenburg. The crown prince's renunciation followed soon afterward. The news of the kaiser's abdication was received with general approval in Germany, tempered by the fear that it had come too late to preserve order for the distressed country.

The emperor is said to have received a note from Philipp Scheidemann, socialist leader, and then signed his abdication with a shiver, saying, "It may be for the good of Germany."

Fled to Holland.

A later report received here states that the kaiser arrived Sunday morning at Maestricht, Holland, and was proceeding to Middachten castle in the town of Desteeg, near Utrecht. This information was received by the American army general staff.

Ebert Appointed Chancellor.

Friederich Ebert, Socialist party leader, has been appointed chancellor and has undertaken the difficult job of restoring order in the country already torn with revolutionary movements of the most radical kind. He has issued a proclamation saying that he plans to form a people's government which will endeavor to bring about a speedy peace.

A train filled with soldiers has been sent out from Bremen for the purpose of persuading other towns to join the revolution, says a dispatch from the Danish frontier.

War Ministry in Ebert's Hands.

It is officially announced from Berlin that the war ministry has placed itself at the disposal of Herr Ebert, whose appointment as imperial chancellor was announced by Prince Max.

Virtually all the North sea coast and parts of the Baltic littoral are now in the hands of the revolutionists.

Armistice Report Delayed.

Meantime the German courier entrusted with the task of returning to Spa with armistice conditions from behind the allied lines was having most serious difficulty because of the German barrage fire at the point where he essayed to enter within the German lines. A Sunday dispatch states that he arrived at the German grand headquarters at 10 that morning, only 25 hours in advance of the hour that a reply is expected to be in Marshal Foch's hands. At 3:50 p. m. Sunday it was said the armistice conditions had not yet reached Berlin.

Prince Max Issues Decree

Announcing the emperor's abdication, Prince Maximilian issued the following decree:

"The kaiser and king has decided to renounce the throne. The imperial chancellor will remain in office until the questions connected with the abdication and the setting up of a regency have been settled. For the regency he intends to appoint Ebert as imperial chancellor and he proposes that a bill shall be brought in for the establishment of a law providing for the immediate promulgation of general suffrage and for a constitutional German national assembly that will settle finally the future form of government of the German nation and of those peoples which might be desirous of coming within the empire."

News Bureau Taken Over.

The Wolff bureau, the semi-official news agency of Germany, announces in a dispatch from Berlin that it has been taken over by the soldiers' and workmen's council.

Leipzig, Cologne, Frankfort Out.

Leipzig, the largest city in Saxony; Stuttgart, the capital of Wurtemburg, and Cologne and Frankfort have joined the revolution, according to reports from the Danish frontier. The frontier is being strictly guarded by the German soldiers' council. This is being done, it is stated, in order to prevent the escape of rich people, generals and other high officials. All national cockades and the eagle on the helmets of soldiers have been removed, being replaced by a red band. The wearing of the Iron cross has been strictly prohibited.

Clansmen.

A Slovak butcher, working at some German headquarters in the St. Mihiel salient and blissfully unconscious of impending doom, had breezed into Thiaucourt, where there was the equivalent of a depot quartermaster, to buy him some supplies, when he found himself gazing on three Yankee sharpshooters.

"I was mighty scared at first," he said, "but they had no sooner spoken than I found they were Slovaks, too. You must have all nationalities in your army. Well, they gave me an orange, they gave me a piece of chocolate, they gave me a cigarette, and here I am." -Paris Stars and Stripes.

The New Suit.

The country boy had come to visit his city friends, and before leaving home his mother had spent much time on his wardrobe, but he soon saw that things were not quite right.

At a small party given in his honor he remained firmly fixed in a corner. At last his hostess, thinking to make him feel more at ease, said: "How nice you look, William; who made your suit?" From the depths came the reply: "Mother, blame it!"

GIVE LIKE THEY ARE GIVING

Following is the Appeal of a Returned K. of C. Man, Who Knows the Needs of Our Boys in France.

"Do what needs to be done November 11 to 18, when the United War Work drive is pulled off, like an American soldier! It's the finest simile I know," said a returned K. of C. man who spent a year with the boys "over there."

"Walk up to do your share for them, with your head high, your step firm and a cheerful smile on your lips—as our boys march into the hell of flame in France!

"Then give as they give on the battle-field—without a thought of self, gladly, whole-heartedly, gloriously!

"The more generous we are now, the more joyous will be their home-coming after peace is declared," said this returned welfare worker. "These boys of ours will probably be needed overseas for at least two or three years. And God only knows how vital is the need that this saving welfare service be extended during that period. It means health, sanity, all that is wholesome in their lives.

"Stay with them with your wholehearted support until they come walking down the gang-plank.

"And thank God you've got a chance to do something concrete for them!"

HEARTY ENDORSEMENTS OF FOUR LEADING JEWS

Give Full Approval to United War Work Campaign for Funds to Help American Soldiers.

Following are endorsements of four leading Jews, prominent in public affairs of the United States, who give their full approval to the United War Work Campaign for funds with which to bring the touch of home to American soldiers:

Louis Marshall: "The union of all these organizations in making a joint appeal to the American people for the funds necessary to carry on their essential activities, is the most inspiring demonstration of a homogeneous people that the world has ever witnessed. It will not only result in securing the means for effective work, but every dollar contributed will help every man who is fighting under our flag for the entire American people."

Dr. K. Kohler, president of Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio: "It seems as if out of this cruel warfare a new spirit of humanity is evolving. Here is our great opportunity to manifest the broad humanitarian spirit of Judaism; let us not miss it! Let the Jewish Welfare Board lead in this great campaign!"

Henry Morgenthau: "American boys of every race and religious belief are fighting shoulder to shoulder in trench and field, and war workers representing every faith are working together behind the lines to give the boys home comfort and good cheer and spiritual guidance. Support of the United War Work Campaign is support for our own."

Abram I. Elkus: "Military experts I have talked with attribute the indomitable spirit of our troops largely to the efforts of the seven great organizations which co-operate for the morale and happiness of the fighters. They are as important as the big guns and airplanes. Every dollar given to the United War Work Campaign is a dollar invested in morale. Let us all stand behind the war workers behind the men behind the guns!"

A READING ARMY IN FRANCE

Made Possible By Work of American Library Association.

"I found your books everywhere, from the seaport bases to the front line trenches," so Raymond B. Fosdick, Chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, reported to the authorities of the American Library Association on his recent return from France. "I found them in dugouts thirty or forty feet below ground, in cowbarns where shrapnel had blown parts of the roof away, as well as in substantial huts and tents far back from the firing line. I found them also in hospitals and dressing stations; in scattered villages in the training area where our men are billeted, and even in remote parts of France where our forestry units are carrying on their lonely but essential work.

"And they were all well worn books that I saw, showing signs of constant usage. Indeed, the books are in continual demand, and I am sure that it will be a reading army that we shall welcome home from France when the war is done."

The continued service of this organization is one of the purposes of the United War Work Campaign.

Death of Rhinehart Reierson

R. Reierson received a telegram Friday evening containing the sad news of the death of their son, Rhinehart which occurred at 8 o' clock Friday morning Nov. 15th at the age of 22 years and one day, in the hospital at Camp Oglethorpe.

He had previously undergone an operation for appendicitis and apparently was recovering when attacked by pneumonia which caused his death. The news came as a great shock to the family and friends and the mother is prostrated with grief.

We join the many friends in extending heartfelt sympathy to the family and other relatives at this time of their great sorrow.

The remains were shipped from Camp Oglethorpe Monday and are expected to arrive in Holt to day, when the funeral arrangements will be made.

Rhinehart Reierson was born on the old farm near Holt and always lived here until called into the service of his country, only a short time ago.

He leaves to mourn his death, the aged parents, four sisters, a half sister, an adopted sister, one brother and other relatives and numerous friends.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cordwood Rates Down

After two months of conference with the Federal railway authorities, the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission is in position to announce a decided reduction in freight rates on cordwood. The new rates will place wood in direct competition with coal and other fuels as soon as the Fuel Administrator has fixed a price on the former commodity.

The new rates substantially are on a parity with those originally ordered by the Minnesota Commission and are from 20 to 40 per cent below the prevailing scale. A distinct benefit to the public in the new tariff is a rule providing that the rate will apply equally over a single line or two or more lines of railroad, the only basis being continuous mileage.

Having been successful in obtaining from the Federal authorities a radical reduction in lignite rates from North Dakota to Minnesota points and now a substantial reduction in cordwood, thus enabling fuel dealers to obtain ample stores of both classes of fuel at a moderate expense, the Minnesota railroad commissioners believe that the fuel situation in the Northwest will be generally satisfactory even though the coal supply should prove to be deficient.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

By DR. L. W. BOWERS.

Avoid crowds, coughs and cowards, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armour against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Irontic (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Government financial needs for many years are almost certain to run about $4,000,000,000 annually, Washington treasury experts estimate, and most of the money will be raised by taxation. WILSON TO BE AT PEACE MEETING

President Leaves for France Immediately After Opening of Congress.

SETS TWO PRECEDENTS

Attendance of President First Instance of Such Action by Executive—First President to Leave North America.

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson will attend the opening sessions of the peace conference. This has been announced officially. He will go immediately after the convening of the regular session of congress Dec. 2.

This official statement was issued at the White House:

"The president expects to sail for France immediately after the opening of the regular session of congress, for the purpose of taking part in the discussion and settlement of the main features of the treaty of peace. It is not likely that it will be possible for him to remain throughout the sessions of the formal peace conference, but his presense at the outset is necessary in order obviate the manifest disadvantages of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty about which he must necessarily be consulted. He will, of course, be accompanied by delegates who will sit as the representatives of the United States throughout the conference.

"The names of the delegates will be presently announced."

To Establish Two Precedents.

In visiting Europe the president will establish two precedents. He will be the first chief executive of the United States to participate in a peace conference for the settling of issues growing out of a war in which this country participated, and likewise he will be the first president to leave North America during his term of office.

ENORMOUS ALLIED WAR DEBT

Figures Now Available on Obligations Incurred to May 1.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The direct cost of the war for all belligerent nations to last May 1 was reported at about $175,000,000,000 by the federal reserve board bulletin, just issued, and it is estimated that the cost will amount to nearly $200,000,000,000 before the end of this year. These calculations were compiled by the board from various sources, and while their accuracy is not vouched for, the board believes the figures are substantially correct.

For purely military and naval purposes it is estimated all belligerents had spent about $132,000,000,000 to May 1, or about three fourths of the total war cost. The balance represented interest on debt, and other indirect war expenses.

Cost Largely Raised by Loans.

About $150,000,000,000 of the total war cost has been raised by war loans. The public debt of the principal entente allies is calculated at approximately $105,000,000,000 or more than twice as much as the aggregate debt of the central powers, set at $45,000,000,000. This does not take into consideration debt incurred since last May.

The enormous size of the war costs and debt is illustrated by comparison with the ante-war debt of the seven principal belligerents, which did not exceed $25,000,000,000. The cost of supporting this debt was only about $1,000,000,000 a year. Hereafter the annual burden to pay interest and sinking fund allowances will be not less than $10,000,000,000 and probably much more.

U. S. Troops in England First Home.

London, Nov. 11.—The first American troops to depart homeward as a result of the signing of the armistice will be 18,000 men stationed in England. The American army expects to start the first shipload of these soldiers homeward within a week and to have all the men on their way back to the United States ten days later. The plans for clearing England of American troops are incomplete, but it is desired to remove these men immediately as some shipping is available for this purpose. Most of the men are helping the British force.

Government to Take Cable Lines.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Government control and operation of all ocean cable lines owned in America under Postmaster General Burleson is ordered by President Wilson in a proclamation dated Nov. 2, which has just been made public through publication in the government's official bulletin.

Congress Adjourns Thursday.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Adjournment of the present session of congress Thursday was arranged today by Democratic and Republican leaders of the senate and house. This will enable members to secure travel mileage allowances and also will prevent the present session, which began last Dec. 3, from merging with the third and final session of this, the 65th congress, which will open Dec. 2. The senate financial committee will remain in session for work on the revenue bill.

YANKS HONORED; ADVANCE GUARD

Allies Led by American Forces in Occupational Advance Early Sunday A. M.

FOCH TO ENTER METZ

Demobilization Plans Being Rapidly Advanced—Gompers Warns Against Wage Decrease—English Elections Coming On.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The events incident to the closing of the world war continue to move with speed—military, political and industrial conditions all being immediately and visibly influenced by the oncoming tide of peace which, to use a paraphrase, appears to have its crises "no less renowed than war."

Honors for American Army.

Not as a crisis, however, but as a matter of momentous interest, is the fact that yesterday, Sunday, November 15, there was begun by the American first army under General Pershing the first movement towards the allied occupation of Alsace-Lorraine. At 5:30 a. m. the great movement began, and the plans call for an advance of 12 miles each day. Announcement has been made that Marshal Foch is to enter into Metz in solemn state, the event marking, in a way that will be ever remembered in France, the termination of Germany's long grasp upon soil that by all ties of kinship and association is purely French. In assigning to Americans the honor of being first on guard of this recovered ground, the Marshal has paid to General Pershing and his men a subtle compliment that is no less certain because expressed in deed and not by word. The honor bestowed will be a lasting memento of France's gratitude to the United States and will insure, in return, a long continued friendship between the two peoples.

U. S. Demobilization Plans.

In this country the news of most interest is that of America's demobilization plans, the tremendous importance of which lies in the bearing it will have upon the effort to restore normal industrial conditions throughout the states. In a statement made Saturday, General March, the American chief of staff, outlined the war department's plans and said that orders already issued will send 200,000 men back to civil life within about two weeks, and that when the program is in full swing about 30,000 would quit the army daily. Fighting divisions of General Pershing's army in France would be demobilized as fast as possible, the chief of staff said, but he would make no predictions as to when the first divisions would start home.

No Wage Decrease, Says Labor Head.

From Laredo, Texas, comes a premonition of one of the factors that must be reckoned with in the efforts to readjust the industrial situation in the United States following the war. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in the closing of the pan-American labor conference there served formal warning that no general reduction of wages nor increase in working hours would be accepted without a bitter fight by organized labor.

Statement an Answer to W. H. Barr.

He issued a statement, inspired by recent public utterances of William H. Barr, president of the National Founders' association, that a reduction of wages and longer hours would be the only means to enable American manufacturers to continue to cope with foreign industry after the war. "Notice is given here and now," Mr. Gompers said, "that the American people will not be forced back by either Barr, his associates, or all the Bourbons in the United States."

British Elections Coming On.

One of the crises of returning peace is to be seen in the tense interest surrounding the general election campaign just opening in England, in which Lloyd George and other leaders of the coalition ministry appeared before their constituents Saturday with statements showing a full realization of the grave and vital problems before them. At a meeting in Central hall, Westminster, presided over by the premier, Mr. George said the new parliament would be the most important ever elected in the history of the country.

War Revealed Defects, Says George.

"The war has revealed the defects of the old system and we will be wise to take note of and remedy them," he said. "We cannot return to the old conditions. If parliament rises to the level of its great opportunities then the empire and the throne will be firmly established on the only solid basis—that of a contented and happy people."

Tense Crisis in Holland.

A most acute crisis has been precipitated in Holland by the activity of socialists under the leadership of Pieter J. Troestra, who with utter frankness denies both the power and the right of the "government" to longer control, and asserts that the "historic moment" has arrived for Dutch Socialists to emulate the example of their German brethren and take the reins of authority into their own hands. Troestra denied that either the police or the soldiers would be loyal to those now in power.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. Godden, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Relieved the Tension.

A little boy at school saw his teacher faint and fall. In the confusion it was impossible to keep so many heads cool, and the little ones flocked 'round the prostrate lady and her sympathetic colleagues. But this small boy kept both his color and his coolness.

Standing on a bench and raising his hand, he exclaimed: "Please, teacher, can I run and fetch father? He makes coffins." The peal of laughter which greeted this unconscious humor roused the teacher from her short trance, and nobody enjoyed the youngster's saying more than she did when the circumstances were explained to her afterward.

The Healthiest Way.

A company commander received an order from battalion headquarters to send in a return giving the number of dead Huns in front of his sector of the trench. He sent in the number as 2,001. H. Q. rang up and asked how he arrived at this unusual figure.

"Well," he replied, "I'm certain about the one, because I counted him myself. He's hanging on the wire just in front of me. I estimated the 2,000. I worked it out all by myself in my own head that it was healthier to estimate 'em than to walk about in No Man's Land and count 'em."

"There's a Reason"

1 Ton of Beef Value $400.00 Profit $5.00 or 1¼%
1 Ton of Coal Value $7.00 Profit $.25 or 3½%

Why Compare Beef and Coal Profits?

Swift & Company has frequently stated that its profit on beef averages only one-fourth of a cent a pound, and hence has practically no effect on the price.

Comparison has been made by the Federal Trade Commission of this profit with the profit on coal, and it has pointed out that anthracite coal operators are content with a profit of 25 cents a ton, whereas the beef profit of one-fourth of a cent a pound means a profit of $5.00 a ton.

The comparison does not point out that anthracite coal at the seaboard is worth at wholesale about $7.00 a ton, whereas a ton of beef of fair quality is worth about $400.00 wholesale.

To carry the comparison further, the 25 cent profit on coal is 3½ per cent of the $7.00 value.

The $5.00 profit on beef is only 1¼ per cent of the $400.00 value.

The profit has little effect on price in either case, but has less effect on the price of beef than on the price of coal.

Coal may be stored in the open air indefinitely; beef must be kept in expensive coolers because it is highly perishable and must be refrigerated.

Coal is handled by the carload or ton; beef is delivered to retailers by the pound or hundred weight.

Methods of handling are vastly different. Coal is handled in open cars; beef must be shipped in refrigerator cars at an even temperature.

Fairness to the public, fairness to Swift & Company, fairness to the packing industry, demands that these indisputable facts be considered. It is impossible to disprove Swift & Company's statement, that its profits on beef are so small as to have practically no effect on prices.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

Had to Give Up Work

Mr. McMurray Was In a Bad Way Until He Used Doan's—They Brought a Quick Cure.

P. E. McMurray, 48 W. Hickory St., Chicago Heights, Ill., says: "I was always a strong man until I was taken with kidney trouble. I worked many years as a blacksmith and this work brought the trouble on. When I stooped over there was a grinding pain in my back and I couldn't straighten up for four or five minutes. Sometimes it took me half an hour to put on my shoes. I got so bad, I had to lay off work for days at a time. Often I would have to get up a dozen times at night to pass the kidney secretions, and they burned like fire. My feet swelled, and at times they burned so that it seemed I was standing on a hot stove. I had spells of gasping for breath and dizzy spells, too, and my health failed rapidly. I was told that my working days were over, but Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and before I had used one box, I began to feel relieved. I kept on and by the time I had used ten boxes, I was absolutely cured. All pains left my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble disappeared and I felt as well and strong as ever."

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of July 1917."

Dr. Joshlyn was sentenced several months ago. Later he was paroled to a farm near Sleepy Eye and failing to keep his parole there was taken back to the poor farm here, where he remained several months. At the poor farm, however, the prisoner seemed unable to observe the rules of his parole and it was decided to enforce the sentence hanging over him.

Selvog, in charge of the fisheries, and his assistants, has been devoted to taking whitefish eggs for the state hatchery in St. Paul and about 3,000,000 were secured. The season at the fishery has been a great success, many tons of fish being taken from the lake and shipped to all parts of the state to combat the high price of foods, the fish being sold at actual cost. The first season of taking fish in this manner from Red Lake has proved such a success it is expected the state fish department will continue it next year.

Acid-Stomach Victims Sickly, Weak, Unfit, Depressed

Maybe you have an acid-stomach—and don't know it! There are millions of such people—weak, ailing, tired, worn out and "all in" before the day is half gone—listless and indifferent to their surroundings—often with aches and pains all over the body—woefully lacking in physical power and mental vigor—pale, emaciated—just dragging out a weary existence. Nine out of every ten of these people are unconscious victims of acid-stomach.

Thousands upon thousands of people who are subject to attacks of indigestion and biliousness; who are nervous, melancholy, mentally depressed; who suffer from rheumatism, lumbago or sciatica—yes, even many of those who have catarrh, ulcer or cancer of the stomach—if the trouble is traced to its source, it will often be found to be just acid-stomach. For these are only some of the ailments that are caused by what the doctors call superacidity, which is another name for sour or acid-stomach.

What you want to know above all else is how to quickly rid yourself of excess acid. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC literally wipes it out. It does the work easily, speedily and naturally. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable. It helps you get full strength out of every mouthful of good you eat; and unless you DO get full strength from your food you cannot enjoy robust, vigorous health.

You eat to LIVE. Your life depends on the strength you get from your food. There is no other way.

EATONIC is in pleasant-tasting tablet form—just like a bit of candy. We urge you—no matter what you have tried—take Eatonic just one week and find out for yourself how wonderfully improved you will feel. See how quickly EATONIC banishes the immediate effects of acid-stomach — bloat, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, sour, gassy stomach, indigestion, etc. See too, how quickly your general health improves—how much more you relish your food—how much more easily it is digested—how soundly you sleep—how nervousness and irritability disappear. And all simply because by taking EATONIC you have rid your stomach of a lot of excess acid that has been holding you back and making your life miserable.

EATONIC is absolutely harmless. It can be taken by the most delicate. Tens of thousands of people who have used it are enthusiastic in its praise.

EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed, so get a big 50c box from your druggist. If it does not help you your money will be refunded. QUESTIONS ANSWERED

CORN.

What American crop is most valuable measured by its food value and production per acre?

Corn. One acre of corn gives nearly 150 pounds of digestible protein and more than 3,000,000 units of energy.

Why did we not send much corn to the Allies at first?

Partly because they lacked the facilities to handle it, and partly because they were unfamiliar with it and unready to take a strange foodstuff.

Are we shipping much corn now?

As much as possible.

Is it true that corn meal does not keep well?

It does not keep as well as wheat.

Why do the Allies take corn now?

Because they have been educated to the use of corn.

What has this education accomplished?

In 18 months they have learned to use more corn products than we have learned to use in years.

In what form is corn shipped?

In the grain, as flour, and as meal.

How much is used by the Allies in their breadstuffs?

From 25 per cent to 40 per cent.

Why is corn so important?

Because it is valuable food with food by-products such as corn oil, sugar, and starch; it is a good substitute for wheat, and a splendid feed for live stock.

Is corn as nutritious as wheat?

Yes.

What are the various corn foods?

Corn, corn meal, corn flour, cornstarch, corn syrup, corn oil, hominy, grits, samp.

DEALERS.

Does the Food Administration ask the co-operation of dealers and handlers of foodstuffs?

Yes; every one from producer and middleman to consumer is asked to co-operate.

What have food merchants done?

Representatives of all branches of food merchandising in the country have conferred with the administration and pledged their loyal support.

How is the problem of distribution dealt with?

By conference and by licensing.

What is accomplished by conference?

The members of a trade agree on fair prices and practices; they agree to make short stocks go as far as possible, and to keep supply steady and prices even.

What are the six trades that are called upon to bear the brunt of food saving?

Grocers, butchers, bakers, hotel and restaurant men, dealers in confectionery and ice cream, flour millers.

How have these classes helped in food conservation?

1. Grocers have limited sales and urged use of substitutes.
2. Butchers have limited sales and have meatless days.
3. Bakers have had profits kept down to pre-war basis. They have been cut in fancy breads, pastries, etc., and they are making Victory products. The prices of the ingredients of bread have risen 150 per cent, but price of bread less than 60 per cent.
4. Hotel men have helped to observe wheatless, meatless, and porkless days and have conserved in every way.
5. Confectioners were cut down to 50 per cent of their normal amount of sugar, since raised to 80 per cent.
6. Flour millers have done away with all gradings and done away with "fancy" flours. They all mill on the same basis.

What methods of economy have been successfully practiced in these businesses?

The "cash-and-carry" plan; standardizing prices and profits; eliminating waste; eliminating duplication of service; shortening store hours.

How can the housewife help the merchant in other ways?

By patronizing stores which display the merchants' pledge, by reporting unreasonable charges to her county or state Federal Food Administrator, who will take action under the law.

What is the merchant's pledge?

"We pledge ourselves to give our customers the benefit of fair and moderate prices, selling at no more than a reasonable profit above cost to us."

How to Save on Two Pounds of Sugar a Month.

Seven Ways for Daily Sugar Saving:

1. Use fresh fruits without sugar.
2. Cook dried fruits without additional sugar; they already contain sugar.
3. Can more fruit without sugar; put up fewer jams and jellies.
4. Use less sugar in tea and coffee; you will soon learn to like it better.
5. Avoid such sugar luxuries as candy, cakes, chewing gum, sweet drinks and sodas.
6. Use honey, maple sugar and syrups and other sweeteners when available.
7. Cut out all desserts or other dishes that require much sugar.

SUGAR RATION IS INCREASED

The Food Administration Adds Another Pound to Monthly Supply Per Capita.

NEW HOTEL REGULATIONS

Owners and Patrons of Public Eating Places Are Given New Rules for Sugar Service.

The food administration has made good on its promise to add to the sugar allowance for home consumption as soon as supplies warranted an increase. With the advent of November came an order from Herbert Hoover authorizing the increasing of the monthly per capita allowance from two to three pounds. At the same time the hotels, clubs, restaurants and other public eating places have had their supply increased from two to three pounds per every ninety meals, giving this class of consumers the relative increase accorded the householder.

The new regulation means the changing of the hotel rules concerning the serving of sugar. A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, and Walter A. Pocock, chairman of hotels and restaurants for the food administration in Minnesota, have issued the following rules:

Sugar will not be served unless patron requests it.

To aid in interpreting a teaspoon of sugar, according to the three-pound ration, we suggest that 60 teaspoons to the pound will be considered a reasonable amount.

Sixty teaspoons to one pound—three pounds per every ninety meals—equals one hundred eighty teaspoons per ninety meals or six teaspoons of sugar per day per person.

Six level teaspoons for three meals equals one and one-half ounces.

Two teaspoons per meal equals one-half ounce, the allowance.

One teaspoon of sugar for a cup of tea or coffee.

One teaspoon of sugar for cereals.

One teaspoon of sugar for grapefruit.

Discourage the use of sugar on sweet fruits.

Do not serve sugar with sliced bananas or oranges. (Most places discontinuing the service of these fruits sliced.)

Cut down sugar in pies, pastries, puddings, etc., to one-half the amount usually used, or less.

Do not serve sugar with cocoa or chocolate.

Do not serve sugar for sliced tomatoes or for baked apples, pies, pastries, puddings and other prepared sweet dishes, that already have had sugar added to them in their preparation.

Concerning this latest order Mr. Pocock says:

"The new regulations are made up of the better parts of two previous bulletins issued here, including the new regulations. The order is still in effect that the sugar bowls and large containers must be kept off the table and lunch counter, nor may they be brought to the table or lunch counter. Officials of the United States food administration say that Minnesota hotels, restaurants and clubs have made the best record in the country on handling the sugar bowl proposition. This reputation we must maintain. The food administration has allowed the public eating places a ration of three pounds of sugar per every ninety meals—this allowance, which is effective at once, to cover sugar used in cooking and otherwise. The above rules, which are being issued throughout the state to hotels, restaurants, clubs and boarding houses, may seem in kindergarten form, but experience has taught us that we cannot be too explicit in the explanations of and suggestions for the carrying out of these orders."

Peace and the Food Problem.

The coming of peace will bring no relaxation in the food saving campaign for Americans. Peace will mean added responsibilities. Bear this in mind. Instead of 120,000,000 of the Allies and the additional population of our own country to be fed, America, on that day, must send food to another group of 180,000,000 victims of German treachery—the people of Poland, Roumania, Serbia, Armenia, European Russia and elsewhere. They will come to our doors, this starving horde, and they must not be denied. Ours will not be the role of the Good Samaritan, stopping by the roadside to give succor to the robbed and injured—we will be asked to share with those who have fought our battles for us. The division should be share and share alike.

No Turkey Raffles.

The federal food administration says "no turkey raffles this year." Just how general this one-time general practice in Minnesota is today is not known, but two reasons enter into the decision of the food administration to oppose any "shooting match, game of chance or contest of skill that might put into the hands of persons any quantity of foodstuffs for which they have no actual need." One reason is the need of the saving of every ounce of food this year, and its division with those who are hungry, and the other is the scarcity of turkeys. There is a national shortage of the holiday bird this year.

The best medical authority states that whiskey or alcohol in any form is the worst possible thing that can be given to influenza patients. Tea, pasteurized milk and lemonade are good beverages, but alcoholic drinks, it is stated, will only make the patient more subject to the disease, according to Dr. Hill, of the Minnesota Public Health Association.

The current story that alcoholic drinks are administered in excessive amounts in army cantonments and hospitals as a remedy, is false and the source is probably due to the activity of German propagandists.—Ex.

At Rest

The funeral of Rhinehart Reierson was conducted Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Ordahl and was made as much of a military funeral as was possible under the present restrictions. The casket was covered with the American flag and on that was placed the beautiful flowers furnished by the relatives and friends of the deceased and by the Red Cross. Dehard Johnson, in the uniform of the navy, held the flag at the head of the casket during the ceremony and carried the flag at the head of the procession to the cemetery. The sides of the grave were beautifully trimmed with the colors, flowers and evergreens arranged by the President of the Red Cross Mrs. Fitch and her helpers.

All possible honor was given to one of our home boys who died in the service of his country.

Rhinehart was one who was liked by all, young and old, faithful in his work, enthusiastic in all clean sports and kind and good to his mother which speaks volumes for any young man. He will be missed by all.

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Do Not Fear When Fighting a German or a Germ!

By DR. M. COOK.

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practice the three C's: A Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels. Such a one is made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and is to be had at any drug store, and called "Pleasant Purgative Pellets."

If a bad cold develops, go to bed, wrap up well, drink freely of hot lemonade and take a hot mustard foot-bath. Have the bedroom warm but well ventilated. Obtain at the nearest drug store "Anuric Tablets" to flush the kidneys and control the pains and aches. Take an "Anuric" tablet every two hours, together with copious drinks of lemonade. If a true case of influenza, the food should be simple, such as broths, milk, buttermilk and ice-cream; but it is important that food be given regularly in order to keep up patient's strength and vitality. After the acute attack has passed, which is generally from three to seven days, the system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Irontic" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

CHILE AND PERU ON VERGE OF WAR

Near-by South American Countries at Breaking Point From Unfriendly Acts.

CONSUL IS FORCED OUT

Senor Hosa, Peruvian Consul at Iquiqui, Is Forcibly Deported by Riotous Crowd of Angry Chileans.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 26.—It is officially announced that Peru has withdrawn her consuls from Chile as a result of the renewal of anti-Peruvian rioting in Iquique and Antofagasta.

The Tacna Arica controversy apparently is approaching a critical stage, following the anti-Peruvian demonstrations in Iquiqui Sunday night. The residences of Peruvians and their business houses are reported to have been stoned and looted. The Peruvian club was closed and the Peruvian consul was forcibly placed aboard the Chilean steamer Palena, bound for Callao.

Hostilities Seem Imminent.

The possibilities of war between Peru and Chile was the one topic of discussion yesterday. It is reported the Peruvian government has cancelled all Chilean consular exequaturs here.

Iquiqui dispatches indicate no attempt was made by Chilean authorities to prevent the anti-Peruvian outbreak. Lima is quiet.

Anti-Peruvian Demonstrations.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 26.—A special dispatch to LaRazon from Santiago says:

"The government has received dispatches from Iquiqui confirming the reports that the entire province of Antofagasta is in a state of agitation against the Peruvians. The arrival of two steamers at the port of Antofagasta from Callao with many Chilean families aboard who seek refuge from Lima, caused the report to be spread that they had been expelled from Peru. Crowds immediately organized great demonstrations against the Peruvians and in spite of the efforts of the police, took possession of several commercial houses and Peruvian clubs.

Chilean Crowds Deport Consul.

The Peruvian legation here has received the following dispatch from the Peruvian minister of foreign affairs:

"After the extraordinary outrages at Iquique Saturday, during which the property of several Peruvians was sacked, Chilean crowds on Sunday attacked the Peruvian consul at Iquique, Senor L. Hosa, while he was on his way to the mayor to protest against the riots.

"He was carried by force aboard a small steamer anchored in the port. The authorities and the police consented to the outrage and notified the consul that they would not permit him to disembark."

FOUR BILLION REVENUE LIMIT

Senate Finance Committee Approves Administration Request.

Washington, Nov. 26.—By a strict party vote the senate finance committee has decided to recommend that the yield from the 1920 revenue bill be limited to $4,000,000,000. Ten Democratic members who voted for the amount suggested by Secretary McAdoo were opposed by the seven Republicans.

Before adopting the $4,000,000,000 limit the committees voted down a proposal by Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Democrat, to leave the $6,000,000,000 bill of 1919 unchanged for 1920 and use the $2,000,000,000 surplus for paying outstanding government obligations.

Vail Selected as Wire Head.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Theo. N. Vail, president of the American Telegraph & Telephone company, is to become the personal advisor of Postmaster General Burleson in the organization of telegraph and cable systems under government control. In making the announcement Mr. Burleson said Mr. Vail would prepare for the department's assistance in directing wire control a comprehensive report upon the wire service with a view to the more extended use of the telephone, telegraph and cable during government control.

M'ADOO RESIGNS CABINET PLACE

Secretary of Treasury Sees Chance to Withdraw Now Peace Is Assured.

WOULD QUIT JANUARY 1

Business Reasons Assigned for Resignation of Secretary Who Has Been One of Cabinet's Most Active Men During War

Washington, Nov. 23.—William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, director general of railroads, and often discussed as one of the presidential possibilities of 1920, has resigned his offices to return to private business.

President Wilson has accepted his resignation. Mr. McAdoo will give up the treasury portfolio as soon as a successor has been selected. He wished to lay down his work as director general of railroads by January 1, but will remain if the president has not then chosen a successor.

Big Job Ahead of New Secretary.

Upon the new secretary of the treasury, whoever he may be, will devolve the task of financing the nation through the transition period of war to peace, which probably will include at least two more Liberty loans and possibly also a further revision of the system of war taxation.

Letters between President Wilson and Mr. McAdoo, made public yesterday with the announcement of the resignation, gave Mr. McAdoo's reasons for leaving the cabinet solely as a necessity for replenishing his personal fortune, and express the president's deep regret at losing his son-in-law from his official family.

Armistice Paves Way for Change.

The secretary's letter of resignation, written November 14, but which has just been made public, approaches the subject by saying: "Now that an armistice has been declared and peace is assured, I feel at liberty to advise you of my desire to return, as soon as possible, to private life."

KOLCHAK ASKS RUSS HELP

With Co-operation Will Rebuild a Stable Government, Asserts.

Vladivostok, Nov. 23.—The first proclamation of Admiral Alexander Kolchak as dictator and commander of the all Russian army and fleet, is dated at Omsk November 19, and declares the aims of the dictatorship are as follows:

"The creation of a fit army, the conquest of Bolshevism, the organization of right and order so that the people can select the form of government they desire without hindrance and be able to achieve their liberty."

Asks United Action.

The proclamation appeals for united action in the struggle against Bolshevism and continues:

"The all Russian government has gone to pieces. Having decided to bear the burden of the cross, I declare I will not follow the road of reaction, or the road of a party struggle which would lead to oblivion."

Lieutenant General Horvath has issued an appeal to the people to remain quiet during the transition period, assuring that "a single firm authority will bring a return of the former glory of our ruined and exhausted country."

LUXEMBURG CHEERS YANKS

City Pays Enthusiastic Homage to Pershing's Men.

Luxemburg, Nov. 23. — General Pershing entered the city of Luxemburg Thursday afternoon ahead of his troops. The American commander and his staff drove into the capital in automobiles. The general was greeted by thousands of cheering Luxemburgers and with the blowing of sirens and the ringing of church and school bells.

The eighteenth infantry of the first division were the first American troops to enter the city.

The Americans were greeted by thousands of civilians, who lined all the streets through which the troops marched. School children tossed flowers in their pathway, and each soldier was presented with a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Says Germans Would Kill Ex-Kaiser.

London, Nov. 23.—From a special investigation in western Germany, the correspondent of the Daily Mail at The Hague has ascertained that there is considerable hostility against the former emperor and his eldest son. The correspondent says that after William Hohenzollern entered Holland a thousand German soldiers arrived at the frontier and demanded that they be allowed to pursue and kill him. They were turned back by the Dutch frontier guards.

Vice President May Visit State.

New York, Nov. 23.—Vice President Marshall and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, have accepted invitations to speak at a series of ten conventions to be held by state branches of the League to Enforce Peace from November 30 to December 13, according to an announcement tonight by the league. The purpose of the conventions is to stimulate favorable sentiment for a league of nations. Conventions will be held in North Dakota and Minnesota early in December.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Adv.

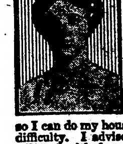
HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION



Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Airplane Equipment.

There are several kinds of airplanes used in the military service and their equipment varies according to whether they are intended chiefly for scouting, for bomb dropping or for gun fighting. On most of the machines of the last named or battleship type, a machine gun is so fitted as to point along the axis of the machine. The pilot, who is alone, directs the nose of his airplane at the enemy and fires across the propeller. Two plans were tried for preventing the propeller from being broken by the bullets. The first consisted of stopping the machine gun whenever the propeller came within the field of fire, but experience showed that frequent stopping of the gun with the propellers making 1,200 revolutions a minute ends in putting the gun out of order. Designers then placed steel plates on those parts of the propellers likely to be struck and these plates turn the bullets that strike the propeller. It is mathematically calculated that only one bullet in 18 is wasted in that way.

Pearson, state superintendent of banks, from statements of condition of state banks at the close of business October 19.

Pick and Shovel Important.

When the American infantryman landed in France, particularly those who had not been taught modern methods of trench warfare before leaving the States, and was handed a pick and shovel to be included in his fighting equipment he was astonished at first. But the young man was adept at learning, even with a pick and shovel, although many of them at home had been clerks and held similar positions, and now those tools are the most highly prized of all.

Food

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

CONSERVATION

What does conservation mean?

"The preservation of our natural resources for economical use, so as to secure the greatest good to the greatest number."

How can we conserve food?

By reducing consumption; by cutting out waste; by using some other foods in place of the foods we are asked to save; by using local products and thus saving transportation.

It is true that many people eat too much?

Probably 80 per cent of American people either eat or take into their kitchens much more food than is necessary.

Does the Food Administration object to teas and refreshments at parties?

Not if conservation rules are observed; but as a general principle of thrift it does not encourage the habit of eating between meals.

How can those people who neither waste nor eat too much help the Food Administration?

By substituting foods that are plentiful for the wheat, meat, fats, and sugar that are needed for shipping overseas.

How can I find out about these problems?

By writing to the Federal Food Administrator in your state for the free publications of the United States Food Administration.

What are these publications?

A list of them is given at the end of this primer.

Is food conservation really necessary?

So necessary that we may lose the war unless we conserve.

Why is food conservation necessary?

Because men have been withdrawn from farm and field in Europe to fight; because bad weather had made bad crops; because great food supplies have been sunk by submarines; because there is vastly increased demand for food for soldiers, and people working in war supplies.

How has the wheat crop in France been affected?

It has fallen off more than half.

What is the bread ration in France?

10½ ounces daily per person, with constant possibility of being lowered.

What is the situation in France in regard to other supplies?

France is producing 1 gallon of milk where she formerly produced 2½. Oils, fats, eggs, and meat are scarce.

What is the present situation in Italy?

There is extreme need of cereals, meat, and fats.

How dependent is England on foreign countries for cereals?

She has to import three-fifths of the cereals needed.

What are the present needs in England?

Meats, fats, and cereals are urgently needed.

Why is American help vitally necessary?

Because America is nearest and best able to supply food with the least exposure to submarines.

Is not the seriousness of the food situation exaggerated?

It is not; food is essential to winning the war. A 1-ounce slice of bread wasted is a bullet thrown away; to waste food is treason to cause and country.

Have the other warring nations been forced to practice food conservation?

Yes; if Germany had not done so she would be defeated today.

Why is the housekeeper asked to shoulder the burden of conservation?

Because so large an amount of the food raised in this country passes through her hands.

How can the little that one person can do help?

The little that one person can do, multiplied by the millions of helpers, mounts up to vast sums.

What are some figures showing the results from small daily savings?

One 1-ounce slice of bread saved each day in the 22,000,000 homes of the country would total 9,625,000 pound loaves saved a week—approximately 35,648 barrels of flour saved. One ounce of sugar saved a day would total about 26,786 barrels saved a week.

Will the small individual savings actually get to the Allies and help win the war?

Unquestionably, yes. Every time you eat a wheat substitute it is exactly as if you stretched out your hand and gave the wheat you have saved to some fighter or worker in trench or field or factory "over there."

Why does the Food Administration ask a person with plenty of money to refrain from buying more food than is absolutely necessary for health?

Because it is a patriotic duty to eat only what is needed for health so that food may be saved to help win the war.

What are the foods which we must especially save?

Wheat—Meat—Sugar—Fats.

Why must we send these particular foods?

Because they contain the most concentrated nourishment in the most easily shippable form.

The cost of the United States Food Administration for its first year's work has been less than two cents for every person in the United States.

THE BLUE TRIANGLE ON BABEL'S TOWER

Lucia pulled her shawl farther across her face and shrank down on the station platform bench as the solid blue figure suddenly bent down over her. Excitedly she shook her head in answer to the question that she could not understand. She searched through her red plaid waist for the paper that Tony had folded into a little square and given to her. The writing on it, in the English that Tony knew and she did not, told the house where she lived. Tony had explained it all to her that morning. He had told it to her again at the station. Then, waving his hat, he had disappeared into the train with the rest of the men, and Lucia had been left standing outside the gate. There were crowds of women pushing all about her. They were weeping. So Lucia wept, too.

Lucia had been betrothed to Tony in the old country. Five years before, with a long ticket for New York pinned into his inside pocket, her lover had left her. He wrote in every letter that he had made her a home in the new country. Her dowry money had finally provided her own transportation, and for two months Tony and she had been married. Then he had drawn a ticket with a number on it, and this morning he had gone off to war.

To the policeman Lucia told all these things in rapid Italian. But the policeman only talked back to her as rapidly in a language that was not Italian. She followed him dumbly to headquarters. An hour later a woman wearing American clothes gently began talking to her in beautiful Italian.

Italian Lucia was only one of thousands of foreign-born women, Syrians, Italians, Armenians, Russians, Lithuanians, Polish, who, when the draft called their men folk to the American colors, asked in helpless confusion what it was all about. When would their men be back? What did people mean when they told them they would receive money through the mail? Where could they find work that they knew how to do? Was there no one who could explain it all to them in their own language?

The Y. W. C. A. was ready to offer assistance, but it would be of no value to offer it in English. Consequently it had to supply a corps of women who could talk to the foreign-born woman at her own door in the language that she was used to hearing in the homeland. To teach her English was as essential a factor in her Americanization as to find her a job. Therefore the war council of the Y. W. C. A. set out to find her English.

A year before the war began in Europe, the leaders of the Young Woman's Christian association foresaw just such a situation, and made ready to meet it. They studied the needs of the immigrant. They trained skilled American social workers to become familiar with the home habits and to speak the language of the Lett and the Hungarian and the Greek and the other foreign mothers who brought babies and bundles over from Ellis island to Battery park.

The organization into which this experiment has developed was named by the Y. W. C. A. national board, "The International Institute for Young Women." In terms which these women can understand, it is teaching the foreign-born how to sew and cook and care for the baby.

To girls like Italian Lucia, who confusedly lingered on the station platforms when the draft trains pulled out, the W. Y. C. A. is giving direct assistance. Educated European women, appointed to the regular staff of workers at the camp Y. W. C. A. Hostess Houses are able to talk to the drafted men in their own language, assist them in writing letters home, and in arranging furloughs and little visits to the camp.

"The Home Information Service for Foreign Families of Enlisted Men" is doing practical relief work for the wives and mothers. The purpose of the board is to help the women folk left behind to understand where their boys are and how they are being treated; how they need home support and cheer, how to send them comforts, and to keep pace themselves by learning English and other things, so that when the boys come home they will not find their women still very un-American and out of sympathy with them.

Food conservation bulletins have been translated into 18 or 19 languages. At the factories and munition plants interpreters are available for the non-English speaking women by whom the real war industries of the country are being largely carried on. In 25 important cities International Institute Bureaus are training American and foreign women for full time social service work with foreigners. Twenty-four trained women are employed on the national and district field staff of the Y. W. C. A. On June 15 there were 105 trained women working at Americanization.

When more than 75,000 Chicago men filled out their blue cards for the September 12 draft, Gang Luo Wong appeared at one precinct bringing with him Mrs. Gang Wong and the three children. All five wished to register. The enrolling clerk explained, but the Gang Luo Wongs make many broken Chinese remonstrances before the master of the family was induced to sign a card without his wife. Mrs. Wong could not speak English. What would his family do in a strange country if Gang Luo went to war? All over the United States Chinese and Poles and Serbs were asking the same question. It is to just such needs that the War Council of the Y. M. C. A. is organized to give assistance.

Army and Navy News

Injured and Missing

A letter from P. L. Anderson received recently by B. Docken, contains some interesting news which his many friends in Holt will be anxious to hear. Pete writes that he was under machine gun fire, for forty two days and was about to be relieved when the enemy laid down a gas barrage which strucka bunch of soldiers including Pete, before they could adjust their masks. Mr. Anderson had been in the hospital four days when this letter was written and he also says he don't care to receive another dose, if he ever entirely recovers from this.

August Hoffman received a telegram Wednesday stating that his son, Frank, had been officially reported missing in action since Nov. 6th and that no farther information had been received.

Soldiers Return

Hilmer Davidson received an honorable discharge from Camp Grant and returned home Monday, surprising his folks. Altho Hilmer has had an attack of the Flu, he is now looking well. He spoke highly of the discipline and training one receives at the camps and is especially enthusiastic over the work which the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross are doing for the soldiers.

Axel Ring was honorably discharge from Camp Dodge, returning home Tuesday. Axel as with the other soldiers and sailors returning home, shows the good effects of the training and discipline given them while in the service of Uncle Sam.

An International Service Built on Tiny Profits Per Pound

Some industries have been able to get in step with war demands more quickly than others.

In many cases mighty plants have sprung up—but at a prodigious cost.

The packing industry was able to adapt itself to unheard of demands more quickly, perhaps, than any other industry. And this was because the vast equipment of packing plants, refrigerator cars, branch houses, etc., had been gradually developed to its present state of efficiency, so that in the crucial hour it became a mighty international system for war service.

And how had this development taken place?

Not by making vast inroads into the capital wealth of the country, but largely by using, from year to year, a portion of the profits, to provide for expansion.

Swift & Company's profits have always been so tiny, compared with sales, that they have had practically no effect on the price of meat (amounting to only a fraction of a cent per pound).

And yet the owners of the business have been content with reasonable returns on their capital, and have been able, year after year, to put part of the profits back into the business to provide for its expansion.

These fractions of tiny profits have been repaid to to the public many fold in the form of better service, and better and cheaper meat, and made it possible for Swift & Company to meet, undaunted, the sudden cry for meat for overseas.

Could any other method of financing a vital industry involve less hardship to the people of the country? Could there be a better instance of true "profit-sharing" than this return in added usefulness and in national preparedness?

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

Back Feel Achy After Grip?

COLDS and influenza leave thousands with weak kidneys and aching backs. The kidneys have to do most of the work of fighting off a cold or a contagious disease. They weaken—slow up. Then you feel dull and draggy, irritable or nervous, and have headaches, dizzy spells, lame back, backache, sore joints and irregular kidney action. Give the kidneys quick help and avoid serious kidney troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills are always in unusual demand after grip epidemics as so many people have learned their reliability. Doan's are used the world over. They are recommended by your own friends and neighbors.

Personal Reports of Real Cases

A NORTH DAKOTA CASE. Mrs. Albert Pribbernaw, R. No. 4, Box 49, Hankinson, N. D., says: "Straining at my work brought on kidney trouble. I had pains in the small of my back when stooping or lifting. My back ached at night and mornings was stiff. I tired easily, was languid and nervous. I also had headaches and dizzy spells and my sight was blurred. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were too frequent in passage. Every time I caught cold it settled on my kidneys. Finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me."

A NORTH DAKOTA CASE. Jacob Staska, farmer, Cummings, N. D., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for some years and have found them a good reliable remedy. Sometimes my back and kidneys give me considerable trouble, caused by overwork, or colds, settling on my kidneys. My back pains and aches dreadfully across my kidneys. The kidney secretions also pass too frequently and are highly colored. A box or two of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to remedy these troubles and I have a lot of faith in Doan's."

RECEIVING WAR CROSS

The patriotic spirit and devotion with which American women have so far performed war-service work and made sacrifices has never been equalled in the history of any country. Mothers, wives and sisters support this burden with strength and fortitude. But those who are already miserable from the complaints and weaknesses which are so common to women, should take the right tonic for the womanly system.

If a woman is borne down by pain and sufferings at regular or irregular intervals, by nervousness or dizzy spells, by headache or backache, "Favorite Prescription" should be taken. If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she's overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's a powerful, invigorating herbal tonic and nervine which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. "Favorite Prescription" can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid at most drug stores. Send to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a ten-cent trial package of tablets.

DID WORK OF HIGH ORDER

Designs Wrought by Ancient Peruvian Dyers Have Been Given Much Praise by Experts.

The ancients of Peru, by a curious coincidence—for there could not possibly have been any intercourse with their contemporaries in India and Egypt—seem to have used much the same kind of processes in printing their designs upon the fabrics they manufactured. Both Herodotus and Pliny, among early historians, have told us about the cloths of vegetable fiber made by the ancients; but in all likelihood the fabrics of the Peruvians were of even a more remote date. In some respects the methods of today bear strong resemblance to the older practice. The chief difference consists in the patterns now being engraved upon copper rollers and several colors being printed at one time. Just as today the coloring matter of dyes is not affixed by merely printing it on the material, but is secured by means of a substance known as mordant, so did the Peruvians make use of property which caused the dye to adhere and to withstand a test of thousands of years' wear and tear. Experts have declared that in the direction of technical and artistic value the designs in question have no equal.

Too many men attempt to pass through this world on the reputation of their ancestors.

NEWS OF STATE TERSELY TOLD

Recent Happenings In Minnesota Given In Brief Items For Busy Readers.

Pine River.—Supt. Watschke announces that the Pine River school will reopen on Monday, Dec. 2, and that there will be no Christmas or Easter vacations.

Red Lake Falls.—Seventeen carloads of live stock were shipped from this city in three weeks, showing that Red Lake county is fast becoming an important stock-raising center.

Stillwater.—Because of the prevalence of influenza at the Minnesota State Prison, the Washington county grand jury, in session in Stillwater, decided not to make an investigation of the institution.

Minneapolis.—Believing that the name was a disgrace, the citizens of the town that used to be called New Germany have changed its name to Motordale. Motordale is on the Great Northern railroad, east of Hutchinson.

Red Lake Falls.—After a month's illness of influenza-pneumonia, Rev. Father James John Hawkes, since last month pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here, died, aged 31, being the second Red Lake county priest to die of the epidemic within a month, and of the other three priests, Rev. E. J. Lemire of this city is recovering.

Red Lake Falls.—The Red Lake county board has established a county road five miles in length in Gervais and River townships, running through the Pennington county line, which opens up considerable country and will make the territory easier of access to the county seat. Of the sixteen land owners along the way, all but one favored the road and were allowed no damages by the reviewing committee of the county board.

Minneapolis.—There will be no need for reimposing lightless nights in Minnesota, Judge John F. McGee, Minnesota fuel administrator, said on his return from a conference with fuel administration officials at Washington. Judge McGee's statement followed that made by Dr. H. A. Garfield, national fuel administrator, that lights might burn again unless state administrators had some special reason for restrictions.

Hibbing.—The destruction by fire of hundreds of tons of hay in pasture lands, considered the best in the state, has set the price of hay on the Mesaba range to soaring heights, according to Con Kepple, local feed dealer. The forest fires licked up many tons of hay which normally would find a market on the range, and feed dealers are forced to again import hay from Michigan and Wisconsin. The transportation costs add to the consumer's price in Hibbing.

Brainerd.—Cod Kimball, a farmer, declares onions saved his family from the influenza and next year proposes to put in ten acres to guard against a recurrence of the epidemic. Far from a doctor, with the disease all around the farm, the Kimball family, consisting of the father, mother and two children, luxuriated in onion poultices, onion broth, onion syrup, fried onions, baked onions, boiled onions. They were all saved. And now Cod takes off his hat every time he sees an onion.

Hibbing. — Hibbing's library on wheels, purchased by the township of Stuntz at a cost of over $6,000, has arrived. The car was made by the White company. It has shelves for hundreds of volumes of books, has its own heating and lighting systems, has space for readers in the rear and is modern in every respect. It will be used by the library for distribution of books in the locations. Some of the locations to be visited will be the Mahoning, Stevenson, Kittzville and Brooklyn.

Stillwater.—The funeral of Mrs. Margarette Anderson, wife of Olaus, also known as Olavus Anderson, who was mysteriously murdered at her home a few miles from the village of Forest Lake Nov. 18 by being shot through a kitchen window, was held from her late residence. "No trace of the party who killed Mrs. Anderson has been found," said Sheriff T. H. Maher. "The case is as great a mystery as it was when the body was found by her husband lying on the kitchen floor in a pool of blood."

St. Paul.—Since its first loan was made in July, 1917, the Federal Land bank of this district has extended aid to the farmers of Minnesota and the immediate Northwest to the total amount of $19,773,300. For October this year $1,053,500 was loaned. The average loan is $2,000, so that approximately 10,000 farmers have been aided. Between 50 and 60 per cent of the money was used to retire previous indebtedness and the balance was for the three other purposes on which loans may be made, namely, the opening of land for agricultural purposes, purchase of farm equipment, livestock, etc., and for construction and extension of farm buildings.

Brainerd.—Brainerd will have to make provision for the paying of $10,000 to Arnold Kalland, who suffered a broken back when his automobile was wrecked on a faulty street and bridge. A verdict was obtained against the city for the amount on account of alleged negligence in not properly safeguarding the street and bridge when the case was tried before Judge C. W. Stanton June 17, 1917. A new trial was denied and the state supreme court has just affirmed the verdict. It is believed to be the largest verdict against a municipality in Minnesota for negligence.

Duluth. — Clarence Anderson, 40 years old, of Duluth, is dead as the result of a hunting accident, which according to the police occurred near Two Harbors.

St. Cloud.—The cold has frozen over the Mississippi river for the first time this year. This is a later date than in 1917, when an early cold spell covered it on Oct. 30.

Staples.—The front of a local pool hall was painted yellow because the owned did not close up his place of business on Victory day and help to celebrate the end of the war.

Hibbing.—Joseph Chatich was arrested here by Indian agents, charged with importing liquor into dry territory. Fifteen quarts of whisky were found in his possession, the police charge.

Rochester.—A. C. Gooding of Rochester, former state treasurer, senator-elect from Olmsted county and a banker of prominence in Southern Minnesota, is seriously ill at his home in this city.

Keewatin.—M. Harrison of Stevenson, while here Monday, related a thrilling experience he had while hunting, when he encountered a she bear and three cubs. He opened fire and killed all four.

Hibbing.—The twelfth gold star was added to city service flag with the announcement of the death in action on October 31 of John E. Kalahar, aged 24, who left Hibbing to train at Camp Dodge, April 26.

Shakopee.—The action commenced against William F. Tobin, a St. Paul broker who was charged with selling valueless oil stock to the Rev. Van Boersch, a Catholic priest of this city, has been dismissed.

Fergus Falls.—The "flu" epidemic is still serious in this city and the closing order of Mayor G. W. Frankberg is still in force. There has been a clash between the mayor and Dr. J. G. Vigen, health officer, who attempted to countermand the closing order.

Two Harbors. —'An organization called the Lake County Potato Growers' association was formed at a meeting held here. The purpose of the organization is to help farmers in marketing their potatoes and to standardize the potato crop of this county.

St. Paul.—State Auditor J. A. O. Preus announces dates for a series of county sales of timber on state-owned land: Dec. 18, International Falls; Dec. 17, Two Harbors and Duluth, and Dec. 18 at Grand Rapids and Bemidji. All lots of timber on about 120 tracts of state land will be offered for sale.

Little Falls.—Clayton Bennett, arrested in St. Paul as one of a gang selling opium and other "dope," was identified by Hubert Friesinger as the man who broke into a local doctor's office about three years ago and stole some drugs. He went to the penitentiary from Little Falls and it was thought he had been cured of the habit when released.

St. Paul.—Hearings on the applications of the Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph and Northwestern (Bell) Telephone companies for permission to increase charges for telephone service in Minnesota are being held before the state railroad and warehouse commission. Tourtelotte of Duluth and a small detail from the headquarters department to pack and ship equipment to St. Paul.

Stillwater.—Mrs. Mary Johnson, mother of Miss Myrtle I. Johnson of Stillwater, who was killed in an automobile accident a year ago while riding with Harold Smith, was given a verdict for $2,250 against Smith and his father, Swan Smith, by the jury which heard the case in Judge F. N. Dickson's court. Mrs. Johnson brought suit against the father and son for $7,500, based on alleged recklessness in driving the automobile on the part of young Smith. The mother lives at White Bear.

Stillwater.—In addition to the $21,025.10 now deposited with the banks of the city derived from the ten market days held in all of the towns and villages of Washington county, it is expected that the donations made by the farmers of the county to the Washington county Red Cross society will be augmented by an additional $2,500.

It acts quickly. It does the work. It cleanses your kidneys and purifies the blood. It makes a new man, a new woman, of you. It frequently wards off attacks of the dread and fatal diseases of the kidneys. It often completely cures the distressing diseases of the organs of the body allied with the bladder and kidneys. Bloody or cloudy urine, sediment, or "brickdust" indicate an unhealthy condition.

Do not delay a minute if your back aches or you are sore across the loins or have difficulty when urinating. Go to your druggist at once and get a box of imported GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are pleasant and easy to take. Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill. Take a small swallow of water if you want to. They dissolve in the stomach, and the kidneys soak up the oil like a sponge does water. EAT PRODUCERS DID FULL DUTY

Increase in American Hogs Will Help to Meet World Fat Shortage.

FARMERS SAVE SITUATION.

Government Justified in Stimulation of Pork Production—Sevenfold Increase Over Pre-War Exports.

Through increased production and conservation we will be able this year to export seven times our pre-war average exports of pork products. With the heavy demands added in caring for the millions who have been freed from German oppression, the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration are justified today in our every action of stimulation of hog production. In the coming year the greatest world shortage will be in fats, and pork will help to save this situation. The efficacy of the policy of stimulated production has built up in this country supplies which will enable us to supply a very large part of the fat deficiency of the world. In fact there must be a shortage in Europe, due largely to limited refrigerator ship capacity. All freezer ships available, however, will be filled by America, Argentine and Australia.

The contribution made by the producers of this country to the war program as applying particularly to animal food products is illustrated by the following:

Reports compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate an increase in cattle of 10,238,000 head and 12,441,000 hogs. These figures were compiled to January 1 last.

In this period there was a decrease in sheep of 819,000 head. The indications are that this decrease will show an increase, according to recent reports.

Since January 1 unofficial information indicates an increase in hogs of not less than 8 per cent. and not more than 15 per cent. as compared with one year ago, with an increase in the average weight.
